

Physician Wife 1831

Chapter 1831: What Is Wrong With You?

With that, Qi Huiyin slapped Mu Qingling's face. Her eyes were so wide that they looked like they were going to pop right out of their sockets. Her eyes bulged as she roared. "What did you do!? What's wrong with you? Your father has treated you so well, yet you do this to Qingxuan. You've really disappointed me! Now, because of you, your father wants to divorce me. Are you satisfied? Mu Qingling, from now on, you're no longer my daughter. I don't care whether you live or die!"

"Sob sob sob..."

Mu Qingling cried pitifully. She hated Mu Qingxuan with a burning passion, and her plan had been found out by the person she had once liked.

She wanted to retort, but her mother winked and then began scolding her furiously.

Was her mother cutting her off to protect her own image?

Did her mother want to get rid of her so she could maintain her marriage and continue to be Mu Qingxuan's mother?

"Mother..."

"Don't call me mother! No daughter of mine could ever be as evil as you! How dare you steal my card to pay for this crime? Mu Qingling, how did you end up like this? You've really disappointed me!" Qi Huiyin slapped Mu Qingling a few more times.

"Boo hoo hoo..."

"Crying!? You've put Qingxuan into this position, yet you still have the face to cry? Mu Qingling, I've finally seen through you. You're an ungrateful wretch who doesn't deserve a family! If a person like you stays by my side, you'll become a scourge to the Mu family sooner or later! If I hadn't given birth to you, I'd strangle you right now! Scum like you should kneel in front of your sister and apologize sincerely! Get lost! Get lost! I, Qi Huiyin, do not have a daughter like you!"

Qi Huiyin scolded Mu Qingling very fiercely. After two more slaps, Mu Qingling's face immediately swelled up.

If she had not noticed the very reflective glass of the wall clock on the wall across from her, and if she had not winked at Mu Qingling so clearly, someone more soft-hearted might have believed her act. However, everyone in the room had seen the truth.

"Dad, I was wrong! Please forgive me this one time! I know this is my fault. I've been possessed by a demon, but... But I've also been your daughter for 15 years. How can you just stand by and watch as my mom chases me out like this? Dad, you said that I'm also your daughter. Since I'm your daughter, how can you chase me away just for making a mistake? Dad, you're getting old. You'll need someone to take care of you in the future. When my sister becomes an actress, she'll definitely be very busy and travel a lot. Without me, you'll have no one to take care of you in the future. Just let me stay, and when you're cold, I'll certainly take good care of you!"

Mu Xigui was a governor and could be said to be quite reserved. However, facing this black-hearted mother and daughter pair, not only was he unlike a governor in his rudeness, he was even unlike an old man with his lack of concern for ethics. He raised his leg and kicked Mu Qingling.

“Ah!”

Mu Qingling and Qi Huiyin shouted at almost the same time.

Qi Huiyin instinctively rushed forward to catch Mu Qingling, who was about to fall.

Ning Wenhao, who was watching the situation unfold from the side, was very happy. He could not help but smile.

“What are you talking about? Haven’t you already severed your mother-daughter relationship? She was so heartless. Didn’t you say that you wanted her to kneel in front of her sister to atone for her crime? She’s only been kicked once, and you’re already so angry.”

Chapter 1832: Polluting the Ward

“Uncle, did you see that? Her daughter did such an evil thing to your daughter. All you did was kick her—yet your wife screamed. If you weren’t here, wouldn’t she have already boiled Mu Qingxuan’s blood and bones for her daughter to drink?”

“You’ve already called the police?” Mu Xigui asked.

“Then let them come in and take her away. They’re polluting my daughter’s ward.”

When Qi Huiyin heard this, she knew that Mu Xigui was serious. She immediately knelt down and threw herself at his feet. She hugged his thigh and begged for mercy.

“No, no! Old Mu, for the sake of my only daughter, please don’t let anyone take Qingling away! She’s still young. She doesn’t know anything! It’s my fault! I didn’t teach her well! I’ve already chased her out. I promise I’ll never acknowledge her again. From now on, I’ll only be Qingxuan’s mother. I’ll definitely treat her well! Please believe me! Give me another chance!”

Mu Xigui kicked his leg out, shaking off Qi Huiyin who was clinging to it and making her fall to the ground.

“Get lost!”

“Hehe, Auntie, based on what you’re saying, not only do you want to protect your daughter from being taken away by the police after the incident, but you also want to stop her from receiving the legal punishment she deserves. Do you still expect to continue being Mrs. Mu? Aren’t you asking for too much?”

“Shut up, you shameless soldier! Where the hell did you even come from? Don’t think that just because you’ve blackmailed us out of the Mu family, you can become a son-in-law and inherit the Mu family’s property. A poor, stinking soldier like you isn’t even fit to be the Mu family’s watchdog!”

With that, Qi Huiyin tried to turn the tides. She pointed at Ning Wenhao and said, “Old Mu, can’t you see? This Chen Ye has bad intentions. He apparently saved Qingxuan once, so now he’s here to ruin my reputation and sow discord within our family. Can’t you see that he wants to seize the Mu family’s property?”

“This dignified young master, the son of a first-class noble family in Emperor District, the Ning family, needs to seize the Mu family’s property? Aunt, do you not understand how first-class noble families in Emperor District live, nor what the Mu family’s property is?”

Suddenly, the door outside opened, and Nangong Nuannuan and Chi Yang walked in.

As members of the Mu family, Mu Qingling and Qi Huiyin knew very well that Mu Qingxuan had befriended the daughter of a first-rate noble family, the Nangong family.

Not only did they know that, but they also knew that Nangong Nuannuan was not only the daughter of the Nangong family, but her fiancé was also someone big within Jiang District. In fact, he was the head of the Eagle Special Forces and had become a lieutenant general at a young age.

Mu Qingling had wanted to get to know Nangong Nuannuan through Mu Qingxuan. After becoming friends with Nangong Nuannuan, she would ask her to introduce her unmarried brother to her. That way, she could become the young madam of a first-rate noble family.

Even if the young master of the Nangong family did not like her, so she could not become the young madam of a first-rate noble family, she could still get to know the young masters of second- and third-rate noble families through Nangong Nuannuan.

It was a pity that Nangong Nuannuan had not come back after leaving for Emperor District.

Now that she was back, they had to meet in such unfortunate circumstances.

Chapter 1833: Who Wants Two Scumbags?

“You... What did you say? Who did you say he was?” Qi Huiyin sat on the ground. The glare of the reflected light blocked her vision, so all she could focus on was what Nangong Nuannuan had said about Ning Wenhao’s identity.

Nangong Nuannuan smiled. “What? Didn’t you hear me clearly? Let me repeat myself. Listen carefully this time. The person that you claim is trying to take over the Mu family’s property is named Ning Wenhao. He was a top-notch soldier of the Eagle Special Forces as a senior captain. He is also the young master of the Ning family—a first-rate noble family in Emperor District. Aunt, do you think that the young master of a first-rate noble family is so desperate to take over the little property the Mu family owns?”

When they heard what Nangong Nuannuan said, Mu Qingling and Qi Huiyin were flabbergasted.

Qi Huiyin, in particular, felt her heart begin to palpitate. She clutched her chest in pain and could not say a word.

Mu Xigui also looked up at Ning Wenhao in surprise. He never expected to have been neighbors with the young master of the Ning family for two years.

However, despite his surprise, Mu Xigui still walked over to greet Chi Yang upon seeing him.

“Lieutenant General Chi, Miss Nangong, we meet again!”

Looking at the young faces in front of him, Mu Xigui sighed.

He had met Chi Yang before. When Nangong Nuannuan was framed by Ou Chenghe, Chi Yang had not only helped Nangong Nuannuan out of her predicament, but he had also been determined to take Ou Chenghe down—and he was definitely strong enough to do it.

At that time, Mu Xigui thought that Chi Yang might not have been an ordinary person. If he was, how could he dare to behave so recklessly when the commander-in-chief, Leng Jinpeng, could stop him at any point? After leaving the police station, Chi Yang had been so consumed with love that he actually forgot about his immediate superior, leaving him at the entrance of the station as Chi Yang drove away with his girlfriend.

At that time, he thought that Chi Yang was very unreliable.

Later, upon discovering Chi Yang’s true identity, he had sighed, clearly holding back some emotions. It turned out that Chi Yang and Leng Jinpeng, who was the chief commander of the Jiang District military base, were actually colleagues of the same level. Furthermore, Chi Yang was the only grandson of Camino’s only grand marshal, Chi Yuancheng!

“Uncle Mu, you’re treating me like an outsider. I’m Nuannuan’s fiancée, and Nuannuan is your daughter’s friend. Uncle Mu, just call me Chi Yang.”

“Uncle Mu, you can just call me Nuannuan,” Nuannuan added.

She had not forgotten that when Ou Chenghe wanted to kill her because of Ou Mingxi, the governor, Mu Xigui, had protected her. Thanks to his efforts, Ou Chenghe had been unable to carry out his plan and get what he wanted.

Moreover, if she remembered correctly, Mu Xigui was about to be transferred to Emperor District to be governor. If Mu Qingxuan had been hurt by Ling Xuyao, Mu Xigui would have lost all motivation to move forward. If he had stopped in his tracks, his bright future would have dimmed.

After all, being the governor of Emperor District would mean that he had a foot in the door to be ranked as the head of the administrative department.

“Okay, okay, okay.” Mu Xigui quickly nodded and responded awkwardly. “I’m really sorry. It’s hard to have my family’s dirty laundry aired out. Sorry for making a fool out of myself.”

“Who would want two scumbags in the family? Uncle Mu, it’s the Mu family’s fortune to see the detestation of this mother and daughter before they got even worse.”

Mu Xigui was very upset. It was not because he was going to divorce Qi Huiyin soon, nor was it because he was going to send his stepdaughter, whom he had raised for 15 years, to the police station. Instead, it was because... his daughter, whom he loved so dearly, had suffered for so many years because of his carelessness.

Chapter 1834: Forgive Daddy

The hatred in his heart could not be described in words.

Noticing that Mu Xigui was very upset, Ning Wenhao interjected with a smile. "Fortunately, the little girl is fine, right? As long as Uncle cuts off that snake by his side."

Nuannuan Nuannuan smiled. "Yes."

Mu Xigui glanced at Nangong Nuannuan, then at Ning Wenhao, before quickly returning to his senses.

"You're Ning Wenhao? The captain of the Eagle Special Forces? The young master of the Ning Family? You and Chi Yang..."

"He's my chief," Ning Wenhao answered with a smile.

"I'm also his brother," Chi Yang added.

Qi Huiyin and Mu Qingling stared blankly at Ning Wenhao, Chi Yang, and Nangong Nuannuan, who seemed to be getting along rather well. The two women felt as if they had been struck by lightning.

Ning Wenhao's surname was Ning, and he was actually the young master of a first-rate noble family of the Emperor District.

How could they have said the things they had to Ning Wenhao just now?

Mu Qingling was now especially filled with regret.

When she was young, she had been able to snatch everything from Mu Qingxuan. However, her favorite thing—the tall and handsome Brother Ye, was something she could not snatch away no matter how hard she tried.

Therefore, instead of Brother Ye becoming a rose in her life, he became a thorn by her side.

If not for Mu Qingxuan, Brother Ye would not have been washed away by the river. One of the things she could not accept even after all these years was that when Mu Qingxuan fell into the river, Brother Ye was washed away instead of her.

She thought that if Mu Qingxuan had fallen into the river and gotten washed away without Brother Ye seeing, he would not have jumped into the river to save her without hesitation—and he would not have gone missing. Then, she would have been the one to grow up with Brother Ye.

Then she might have been the future young madam of the Ning family.

However, it had all been ruined by Mu Qingxuan.

Brother Ye... No, Ning Wenhao, was back.

The one he fancied and cared for was still Mu Qingxuan.

Mu Qingling's face, already twisted up from jealousy, twisted up more. Looking at Ning Wenhao standing in front of Mu Qingxuan's bed and holding her favorite sunflowers, she got so jealous she almost lost her mind.

Mu Qingxuan had only been drugged and knocked out. She had not lost her virginity. However, there were still so many important people lining up to see her.

Why was Mu Qingling the one standing at the side, not receiving a single glance from any of these people?

“Qingxuan, I’m sorry. It’s all Daddy’s fault. It’s Daddy who let you down.”

Mu Xigui’s heart ached terribly. He sat beside Mu Qingxuan’s bed and reached out to hold his daughter’s hand. He placed his hand on her forehead, feeling extremely regretful.

“Dad, it’s not your fault. It’s mine. I should have told you earlier.”

Mu Xigui shook his head. “Back then, I married Qi Huiyin because I helped her. She came to the house to thank me. You noticed her treating Mu Qingling well, and your eyes filled with envy. I knew that you missed your mother very much, and I was too busy with my business to properly take care of you. That’s why I wanted her to be your stepmother. Initially, Daddy didn’t plan to marry again. He married her purely for you. But I didn’t expect her to mistreat you even though I had already set clear expectations. Qingxuan, it’s all Daddy’s fault. Please forgive Daddy.”

Mu Qingxuan thought about how she had been threatened by Qi Huiyin when she was younger. She thought about the things that Mu Qingling had snatched away and how Brother Ye was washed away by the current when he saved her. She felt so wronged. Tears began rolling down her cheeks.

Chapter 1835: Mu Qingling Is Arrested

“Dad, I’ve already said that I don’t blame you. Even though I don’t have a mother, you’ve worked so hard all these years to take care of me. I know that you’ve done your best. Don’t be sad. I’m really fine! Now that Brother Ye has returned in one piece, I’m really happy. Don’t feel guilty! Nuannuan and Brother Chi Yang are still here!”

Mu Xigui felt very sad and guilty. After all, she was the child that he doted on so much, yet she had been wronged for 15 years due to his carelessness.

Thinking that there were still matters to be settled and that Nangong Nuannuan and Chi Yang were still around, Mu Xigui raised his head and patted Mu Qingxuan’s head. “Leave the rest to Daddy. Daddy will explain later.”

Mu Qingxuan smiled. “Okay.”

Mu Xigui looked at Ning Wenhao and said, “The police may enter now.”

“Okay.” Ning Wenhao retrieved his phone and made a call.

Mu Qingling and Qi Huiyin were clearly upset—especially Mu Qingling, whose face had shifted from twisted jealousy to pale fear.

“Old Mu, you can’t do this. Qingling is my only daughter! How can you hand her over to the police?”

“She’s your only daughter, yet you can hurt my only daughter? Who gave you the right to do that?”

“Old Mu, Qingling is still young and immature. Anyway, isn’t Qingxuan fine? Qingling isn’t just my daughter, she’s yours too. She’s the daughter you raised as your own for 15 years. How could you be so cruel to her?”

Mu Xigui laughed in anger. “My daughter is lucky to have been saved by Ning Wenhao. Does that mean that your daughter didn’t break the law? If that’s the case, are you saying that one should not be charged for attempted murder just because no one died?”

“That’s not what I meant. Old Mu...”

Qi Huiyin was about to say something when a group of police officers walked in.

Mu Qingling did not expect it to actually happen. Not only had Ning Wenhao come by himself, but he had also called the police and instructed them to wait for her outside.

Feeling the cold handcuffs on her wrists, Mu Qingling felt shame rise up in her.

She had dared to harm Mu Qingxuan, but she had not dared to let her father know. Now, she did not even dare to face Mu Xigui, let alone the police.

“Ah! Let go of me! Let go of me! I don’t want to go to jail! Father, how can you be so biased? I’m your daughter too! My surname is also Mu. How can you only care about my sister’s life and not about mine? Just because I’m not your biological child? How can you be so biased?”

Nangong Nuannuan was thoroughly amused by this mother and her daughter’s words.

In the past, she thought that Zhong Qianqian was very strange and that the Jiang family’s mother and daughter were despicable. Now that she had seen Mu Qingling, she realized that there were people even stranger than Zhong Qianqian in the world.

After all, Zhong Qianqian was Zhong Kuijun’s biological daughter and her own half-sister. Mu Qingling was an outsider who happened to join the Mu family when her mother married in. Now, she was shouting about how things were unfair and biased, after harming someone else’s biological daughter.

“I gave you the surname Mu and adopted you as my daughter. I only treated you well so your mother would treat my daughter well too. Do you really think I genuinely think of you as my daughter? In my heart, you’re not even worth one-thousandth of my daughter. If it wasn’t for your mother being my daughter’s stepmother, I wouldn’t care even if you died in front of me. After what you did to my daughter, who are you to talk to me about favoritism? Take her away!”

Chapter 1836: I Was Very Wrong

Once the governor gave the order, the police immediately used force. Mu Qingling struggled desperately as they tried to drag her away.

She clung to the foot of the bed with both hands, refusing to leave. Qi Huiyin was crying and holding her daughter’s hand, begging for mercy.

Right now, the mother and daughter pair really regretted their actions.

They felt so guilty that it made them sick.

At this moment, Qi Huiyin realized that what Mu Xigui said before had not been just to scare her. If he found that she had abused Mu Qingxuan or treated her poorly in any way, he was indeed going to ask her to leave.

She was a divorced woman with a child and no one to rely on. Back then, she had had a difficult life in Jiang District. At night, she walked the streets with her daughter. One day, a group of immigrant workers noticed her and wanted to humiliate her while the police were off duty. She thought she was going to die, but she was found by Mu Xigui, who was passing by.

At the time, Mu Xigui was already a young and promising governor.

She initially thought that since she had been saved by the governor, if she got to know him, she could create a small business. Then, no one would dare bully her and her daughter.

However, not long after she went to the governor's house to thank him, she received a call from him when she returned home. He said that she mildly resembled his child's mother. He said that his child missed her mother very much, so he wanted her to step in as the child's stepmother.

However, he would only marry her in name, not with any of the usual emotional ties. He would merely marry her to tend to his daughter's needs and emotions.

Only God knew that upon hearing that, she was overcome with joy and agreed without hesitation.

As a result, she went from being a single mother with no income whatsoever, just trying to find a job in Jiang District, to being the governor's wife, a woman everyone respected.

At first, she was really grateful to Mu Xigui for giving her the opportunity to be Mu Qingxuan's mother—she sincerely wanted to be a good mother.

However, she soon came to realize that no matter how much she tried to seduce Mu Xigui after their marriage, he was unmoved. When she found out that Mu Qingxuan was a compassionate and well-behaved young lady who was very considerate of her father, she changed and no longer held her tongue.

Bit by bit, her heart went from feeling gratitude to feeling anger and dissatisfaction. Her feelings for Mu Qingxuan also went from being maternal to being selfish. She only wanted her own daughter to prosper. Eventually, once her daughter grew up, Mu Qingxuan became a thorn in her side. She was afraid that once Mu Qingxuan became an adult, Mu Xigui, who had never properly been with her, would divorce her.

Once they divorced, even if she could get some property, she would definitely not get close to half of it.

That was why she wanted Mu Qingxuan to die.

Once Mu Qingxuan died, her Qingling could inherit more.

At this moment, as Qingling was handcuffed, Qi Huiyin felt extremely regretful.

Thinking back to the time when she used to have nothing, she realized that she had gotten everything she wanted—but had not known how to cherish it.

Even if Mu Qingling did not get as much as Mu Qingxuan, she would still get an objectively large sum of wealth.

“Mom! Mom, save me! Mom, save me!”

“Old Mu, I was wrong! I understand my mistakes! Just let Qingling go! It’s all my fault, it’s all my fault. I shouldn’t have taken your money and been so harsh toward Qingxuan. Can you forgive me?”

Qi Huiyin returned to her senses and grabbed Mu Qingling’s hand tightly, pleading desperately.

Chapter 1837: A Real Tragedy

Who could have known that her pleas would be met with Mu Xigui’s questioning?

“Why did you only handcuff Mu Qingling? What about Qi Huiyin? The card used was hers. I don’t believe that she wasn’t involved in Mu Qingling’s plan to harm my daughter.”

Qi Huiyin, “...”

Shock!

Panic!

Unbelievable!

Although Mu Xigui had never slept with her, he had been the most competent husband in the world in all other regards.

That was why she had never been willing to reveal to anyone that Mu Qingling was not the biological child of the Mu family.

In her heart, he was her first husband and Mu Qingling was her daughter from her.

However, such a good man had turned so cold after falling out with her.

After receiving his order, the policemen handcuffed Qi Huiyin.

Looking at the handcuffs around her wrists, she burst into tears.

“How could you be so heartless? How could you be so heartless? We’ve been married for 15 years! How can you arrest us just like this without even giving us a chance?”

“Heartless? Are you talking about yourself? What is a 15-year marriage? In these 15 years, I have treated you as a woman who is my daughter’s mother—but I never touched you. I stayed with you for 15 years, and all I wanted was for you to be a good mother to my daughter. I gave you all the power and wealth you wanted, but you couldn’t even do the one thing I asked of you. You want to talk about love? If this was not a society of law and order, I would strangle both you and your daughter to death with my bare hands! You don’t have to worry about the divorce for now. Once you’ve been charged and sentenced, I will file for divorce so you won’t have to go through the procedures yourself.”

Upon saying that, Mu Xigui instructed the police, “Take them away together.”

“Yes.”

Qi Huiyin and Mu Qingling were completely dumbfounded.

They could not believe it. All they had done was drug Mu Qingxuan, and it had led to their family breaking up.

If they were given another chance and the courage to take it, they would not dare bully Mu Qingxuan ever again.

Qi Huiyin and Mu Qingxuan were taken away. What awaited them was the punishment of the law.

Although they did not deserve to die for their crimes, the target of their crimes had been the daughter of the governor.

The prosecution and the law would likely give them harsh sentences and not allow any plea deals.

Even if they were to be released after 15 years, it would still be a hell of a lot of their lives gone.

During that time, they would probably realize that going to jail was not the scariest thing. At least in prison, they had food and accommodation—though the lack of freedom would still make things unpleasant.

However, once they were released, they would no longer be the madam and miss of the Mu family. They would be unimportant figures and the scum of the city—anyone could do anything to them. No one would support them anymore. They would no longer have a large villa to live in—or even be able to rent a cheap house. Renting a house was very difficult for women like them who had been to prison, had criminal records, and had been out of touch with society for a long time. Their beauty would also be worn down in prison. Even if they tried to sell their bodies, no one would take a fancy to them. It would be an extravagant hope to even be able to eat their fill when that time comes.

At that moment, as they watched Mu Xigui bring his grandchildren out, accompanied by a luxurious car surrounded by bodyguards which made it impossible for them to get close, they truly felt the full intensity of their regret.

Chapter 1838: The Little Girl Has Grown Up

People were often like this. When they wanted something, they would work hard to get it, but once they got it, they would not know how to treasure it. Only when they lost it would they know how to regret it. When they fully understand that they had lost what they got because they did not know how to treasure it, they would regret it so much that even cutting off their stomach would not be enough to quell their hatred for what they did back then.

However, did it matter?

Not everyone was as lucky as Nuannuan to have been blessed and generously rewarded for being a good person in her past life.

There were no 'ifs' in the world.

After Qi Huiyin and Mu Qingling were taken away, the room fell into a short awkward silence.

Mu Qingxuan realized that almost everyone was looking at her.

She could ignore the other gazes, but Brother Ye's gaze was like a laser beam that bore into her, making her ears turn red.

Nuannuan, on the other hand, looked calm and composed. She had no intention of helping her friend out.

Mu Qingxuan could only awkwardly tuck her hair behind her ears and pretend not to care. "Nuannuan, how did you find me yesterday? Did Fangfang tell you that I hadn't come back?"

Nuannuan shook her head. "Fangfang is so unreliable. She spent half an hour playing with her phone in the bathroom. By the time she would have come to tell us, Ling Xuyao would have been finished with you already."

"Then?" Mu Qingxuan was stunned. "Then how did you find out that something happened to me?"

"Because of your Brother Ye!" Nuannuan smiled wickedly. "Your Brother Ye did indeed lose his memory back then. After his memory recovered, he went on a mission again. After the mission was concluded yesterday, he told Big Brother Chi Yang that he was coming to Jiang District. Big Brother Chi Yang told him that we were all there already, so he came over immediately. When he arrived, you weren't around. I told him to wait for you while you were in the toilet, but he couldn't wait, so he hacked your phone to see which toilet you were in. He said he would go wait for you at the entrance of the toilet. When he accessed your phone, he realized that you weren't in the toilet. Instead, you had run to a private room on the second floor. So he went down to look for you. Fortunately, he found you in time. Otherwise, something would have really happened to you."

Mu Qingxuan's mouth was slightly agape.

...Brother Ye had tried to hack into her phone so he could wait for her at the entrance of the toilet yesterday?

Ning Wenhao was a little annoyed. He glanced at his sister-in-law.

He thanked her clearly expressing his heartfelt feelings, but... should something like looking for girls in the toilet not be omitted from the story?

However, before his resentful gaze could land on his sister-in-law, Young Master Ning received a cold and eerie glare from his boss, who was like a mother hen protecting his little chick.

Was that necessary? Was that necessary? Was that really necessary???

He was a little resentful. Could he not even express his resentment? His sister-in-law was not some innocent little bunny. She was the sister-in-law of the Eagle Special Forces, a femme fatale nicknamed White Steel Bunny by the team!

However, in the face of his boss's overprotection of his wife, Ning Wenhao could only secretly withdraw his gaze.

Mu Qingxuan's face was flushed red from Nangong Nuannuan's words, and she had a shy expression on her face. Ning Wenhao's Adam's apple could not help but bob.

His little girl... had grown up.

The little girl whom he had held in his arms all day long back then had now blossomed into such a beautiful girl.

He really did not know what she would feel like in his arms now.

Feeling Ning Wenhao's gaze on her, Mu Qingxuan's face turned even redder. She could not say the words of thanks that were stuck in her throat.

Chapter 1839: Big-Tailed Wolf

After all, her father was still in the ward.

At this moment, Mu Xigui felt like he was an extra in a romance play centered around the two leads.

He looked at the way Ning Wenhao looked at his daughter and then at her flushed face. As someone who had experienced love once before, he understood what was going on.

In an instant, Mu Xigui felt a severe sense of suffocation.

For the past 15 years, his daughter had been his. Now that he found out that his daughter had been wronged, he wanted to make up for it. However, he suddenly realized that after sending away those two tigers, a wolf had crept into the room.

A wolf with a super big tail!

He subconsciously wanted to object, wanting to keep his daughter by his side for a few more years. However, this big-tailed wolf had a powerful background and powerful backers. Even if that was put aside, just his identity alone as a top-notch special forces soldier of the Eagle Special Forces... Mu Xigui knew it would not be right to break them up.

Therefore, he could only watch as this big-tailed wolf looked at his daughter as if looking at its next prey. Meanwhile, his silly daughter was the prey, a little white rabbit that knew nothing about the world, jumping around in front of the wolf.

Could it be that his silly daughter did not know that the expression on her face right now was especially attractive to hot-blooded men?

Mu Xigui was furious. His rage was practically bubbling out of his pores, but he could not let it out.

"Young Master Ning, I only know the rough details of what happened to Qingxuan. Can you tell me the details?"

Ning Wenhao smiled slightly. "Uncle, you can call me Hao. That's what my mother calls me."

Mu Xigui smiled slightly, but in his heart, he could not help but swear.

Hao? What?!

Was he his mother?

Was he his father?

What did he mean by asking Mu Xigui to call him Hao? Did he want Mu Xigui to give up his daughter with both hands and place her in the hands of a big-tailed wolf?

He was so angry!

Ning Wenhao completely ignored the gloominess in Mu Xigui's eyes. His mood was especially good as he said, "Uncle, don't worry. When I arrived yesterday, Ling Xuyao had just been about to do something bad to the little girl. The little girl was drugged with a mixture of a knockout drug and an aphrodisiac. The drug in question has already been tested. It's a new type of drug from Sab. It's absorbed very quickly by the body. When I found the little girl, her mind had already given up all defenses. Later, Sister-in-law helped me and quickly concocted a drug to dissolve the chemicals in the little girl's system."

Mu Xigui clenched his fists tightly when he heard that.

If Ning Wenhao had not arrived in time, his daughter would have been harmed by that vicious mother and daughter.

Since that Ling Xuyao was capable of attempting such a thing, one could imagine how he would cling to the Mu family after sullyng his daughter's reputation.

Compared to Ling Xuyao, Ning Wenhao was indeed a much better man.

"Nuannuan, thank you so much. If it weren't for you, our Qingxuan would have..." Mu Xigui could not bring himself to say the words, 'lost her virginity'.

"Uncle Mu, you're being too polite. Qingxuan and I are friends. Helping her is nothing."

"Yes, Uncle. Even if they weren't friends, Sister-in-law is very gracious, so there's no need to thank her," Ning Wenhao said with a smile.

Mu Xigui was so angry that his chest tightened.

His daughter was actually basking in this guy's glory!

Although Mu Xigui did not dislike Ning Wenhao, and he was grateful for him helping his daughter out, Mu Xigui had not invited him to become part of the Mu family yet! How could he act like he was already part of the family with such a big smile?

Mu Xigui chuckled. "Then thank you, Young Master Ning."

Chapter 1840: Making a Grand Entrance

Ning Wenhao was stunned. It was only then that he realized that his future father-in-law did not seem to like him.

There were many noble girls in Emperor District who wanted to climb into his bed, but they had not been given the chance. He had been so gentlemanly, yet the little girl's father still did not like him. Young Master Ning was a little depressed.

Ning Wenhao cast a pleading gaze at his boss. After meeting his brother's gaze, Chi Yang immediately shifted his gaze away.

Sorry, Brother. Chi Yang had six brothers-in-law to deal with, so even if he had the energy to try, he would not know how to help you.

“Nuannuan, Qingxuan is fine now. Let’s go back. Grandpa and the others saw that we didn’t go back last night, so they’re a little worried.”

“Okay.” Nuannuan nodded and said, “Uncle Mu, Qingxuan, we still have things to do, so we’ll be leaving first.”

Mu Xigui stood up and prepared to send Chi Yang and Nangong Nuannuan out. However, Nuannuan refused. “Uncle Mu, you should stay and interrogate this pig. He wants to eat your prized cabbage!”

Mu Xigui, “...”

Mu Qingxuan, “...”

Ning Wenhao, “...!!!”

Was this really his good sister-in-law and boss? How could they take advantage of him like this?

The next day was the college entrance examinations.

On this day every year, countless students held the greatest expectations for themselves and put in great effort to take on the biggest test in their new grown-up lives.

Although academic qualifications were not the end-all-be-all in this era where even being a nanny required one to have driving knowledge and know several foreign languages, for students without a background, this examination was a chance to prove themselves.

After passing the exam, students with decent qualifications could go on to higher education institutions to continue their studies. After graduation, they might join a company that they were very satisfied with and well-paid at, becoming white-collar workers in the city. They could forget about their difficult past lives.

However, there were certain people in society who were born winners in life. Even if they did not do well in the exams, their futures would not be affected.

Most of Jia Yong’s students were such people.

The venue of the college entrance examinations was not in Jia Yong, but in another school. Everyone gathered around the entrance. Almost all of the third-year students from other schools were holding books and taking advantage of the last ten minutes or so to memorize more. Only Jia Yong’s students were gathered in groups of two or three, talking and laughing amongst themselves.

Suddenly, several luxury cars suddenly drove over from the street and stopped at the entrance of the examination venue.

The driver, who was wearing white gloves, got out of the car and walked to the backseat to open the car door.

At the same time, the drivers of the few cars behind opened their car doors too.

The normal students were still poring over their books and reciting information, while the rich students from Jia Yong were laughing in their pairs or trios. At this moment, everyone turned their heads to the place where the luxury cars were parked.

This was because a group of extremely handsome men with an average height of over 5-foot-10 stepped out of the cars.

There were six of them.

After that, the six handsome men walked to the front of a car together and opened the door.

A seventh handsome man walked out of the car.

This seventh handsome man's looks beat those of the initial six handsome men.

Thus, when the seventh handsome guy walked out of the car, countless girls at the scene burst into screams and exclamations.

In an instant, the nervous college entrance examination atmosphere was completely shattered by the appearance of these seven handsome guys.
