

Physician Wife 1891

Chapter 1891: You Should Steal Bai Liyue!

Elder Wu thanked her and hung up.

“What’s wrong?” Chi Yang had overheard the call and could not help but ask with concern.

“Elder Wu’s granddaughter, the Wu Pingting you met before, suddenly went delirious due to a huge shock. Elder Wu has hired many people to treat her to no avail, so he called me to ask for help. Big Brother Chi Yang, can you accompany me to Sea District tomorrow?”

Chi Yang did not need to think about it at all. He simply nodded. “Sure. I’ll accompany you wherever you go.”

“Yay!”

Seeing his grandson and granddaughter-in-law being so affectionate with each other, the old man in front of them could not be happier.

Chi Zeyao, on the other hand, turned to Feng Shengxuan.

Sensing Second Uncle Chi’s gaze, Feng Shengxuan immediately turned away.

He thought Chi Zeyao would immediately avert his gaze with a guilty conscience at being caught out. Who could have guessed that Zeyao would continue to look at him so openly, with such a sincere look on his face? Was he warning Feng Shengxuan off?

Feng Shengxuan was in a bad mood from head to toe, so he immediately confronted Chi Zeyao. “Why are you looking at me like that? Do you think I want to steal someone from your Chi Yang?”

“He’s asking you to steal Bai Liyue instead!”

Second Uncle Chi, Chi Yang, and Old Master Chi spoke in unison in the room.

Feng Shengxuan, “...!!!”

“I have always loved Nuannuan. Even if she doesn’t accept me, I will stand by her side as her big bro for the rest of my life. Don’t even think about trying to sow discord between me and Nuannuan!”

Seeing that Second Uncle Chi was about to continue speaking, Feng Shengxuan felt more frustrated and turned around to leave.

Before he left, he angrily lunged toward Second Uncle Chi to take back the pastries he had just confiscated.

Who could have guessed that although Chi Zeyao was disabled, he was a disabled person who was very skilled at controlling a wheelchair?

He turned his wheelchair, making Feng Shengxuan’s hit miss.

“Lil Xuan, your stomach has just recovered. You should control your eating,” Grandpa Chi said as he laughed.

Feng Shengxuan, "..."

This feeling of being controlled by his father's enemy like he was his own blood grandfather made him very irritated.

Failing to snatch the pastries back, Feng Shengxuan snorted coldly and turned to leave.

After the elevator dropped him off on the upper floor, Nuannuan heard him slam his door.

"Grandpa, Second Uncle, you..."

"Nuannuan, we've already talked about this. You're our granddaughter-in-law, and your elder brother is also our child. You don't have to feel sorry for your parents and grandfather's wayward children."

"Okay." Nuannuan nodded. She felt like her second uncle was amazing!

Nuannuan and Chi Yang booked a flight for the next morning. It was noon when they arrived at Sea District Airport.

They saw the Wu family's fleet as soon as they left the terminal.

Nuannuan had not told Elder Wu which flight she was on. The Wu family needed Nuannuan's help, and Nuannuan and Chi Yang were special people. If Elder Wu knew which flight she was on, he would go personally to greet her.

A smile grew on Nuannuan's face when she saw Elder Wu.

"Hello, Elder Wu."

"Hello, hello!"

When Elder Wu saw Nuannuan, he almost burst into tears. He tried his best to hold back his sobbing and immediately greet Chi Yang.

After exchanging pleasantries, Nuannuan and Chi Yang got into Elder Wu's car and drove to the Wu residence.

In the car, Elder Wu explained to Chi Yang and Nuannuan what had been happening to Wu Pingting these past few days.

A week ago, the college entrance examination results were released. Wu Pingting, the daughter of the Wu Family, was accepted into the Military Medical Hospital that she wanted to go to with an excellent score of 643 points.

Chapter 1892: Wu Pingting's Disappearance

The whole family had been very happy and held a banquet to celebrate her acceptance.

At noon, the guests ate at home. After dinner, a group of Wu Pingting's friends invited her for a night out. Wu Pingting was a racecar driver who was very interested in racing, so a group of wealthy heiresses and young masters in Sea District wanted to race with her to celebrate.

Although racing was a relatively dangerous hobby, Wu Pingting and her friends knew their limits. They chose to race in the remote countryside and always remembered that when racing, safety came first.

Therefore, her family only gave her a word of advice before letting her go out for the night. To ensure her safety, they specially appointed two bodyguards to protect her.

The friends' competition was divided into three rounds, and Wu Pingting was meant to be the final opponent.

When their race began, Wu Pingting held first place. However, she was soon overtaken by a young master of the Hua family—but the distance between them was not much.

In her attempt to overtake the young master of the Hua family, Wu Pingting drove her car into a building parking lot.

The plot of land where the building was located had been bought by the Wu family. It was the Wu family's company that was responsible for its demolition. Only three businesses had yet to sign the demolition agreement.

However, because these three families were so greedy, the demolition company was wasting time waiting on them. To make the best use of this time, the property management had repurposed the unused areas as a parking lot, charging a fee to those using it.

Wu Pingting was very aware of the parking lot's situation. She drove her car straight through it, trying to take a shortcut and come back to the race by rushing out of the other side of the parking lot.

However, after her car drove in, it never came back out.

Even after the competition ended, her friends did not see her come out.

Thus, under the instructions of the young master of the Hua family, everyone immediately rushed to the parking lot to look for her. However, they could only see Wu Pingting's racecar. She herself had disappeared without a trace.

The Wu family immediately cast a wide net to look for her, and fortunately found her the next day. However, they found her under a bridge in a forest park, completely naked and covered in bruises.

The evidence of her mistreatment was all over her body. Her beautiful and soft body had been torn to pieces and severely damaged.

What was even worse for the Wu family was that Wu Pingting, who was typically a versatile, cheerful, and outgoing girl, completely changed after this vicious incident. No matter who was talking to her, she ignored them. If they got close to her, she would fight them back with all her might.

Elder Wu had asked the most authoritative brain specialist in Haizhou to examine and treat Wu Pingting, but it was found that Wu Pingting had not sustained any brain injuries. She was in the state she was in due to shock, which had created a mental block.

The specialist told Elder Wu that in such a situation, he could only send her to the psychiatric department for treatment.

However, upon going to the psychiatric department for an examination, the specialist was very sorry to tell them that this kind of mental disorder caused by shock had a very low chance of recovery. Even if she recovered, her mind would be crippled forever. He asked Elder Wu to mentally prepare for this.

The Wu family had been elites for generations, but unfortunately, the family had very few people. Elder Wu had two sons and a daughter. Besides his second son giving him a son and a daughter who then gave them two grandsons, his eldest son and third daughter had fertility problems. Therefore, Old Master Wu treasured these two grandchildren greatly.

Wu Pingting being accepted into the Military Medical Hospital and getting the opportunity to become an amazing military doctor in the future had made Elder Wu very happy.

Chapter 1893: Wu Pingting's Idol

However, the happiness did not last long before tragedy struck. Old Master Wu seemed to have aged ten years in one night.

"Ever since that girl, Pingting, saw you at the auction, she's seen you as her idol. Knowing that you were going to apply to the Military Medical Hospital, she also applied, hoping to join the same university as you. When she got her results that day, she couldn't have been happier. Who could have guessed this would happen? Even though I wasn't in Emperor District when this happened, I rushed back to Pingting and learned about the entire incident. Miss Nangong, I've met countless people in my life, but the moment I first saw you, I knew you weren't an ordinary person. I know it's a lot to ask for, but I hope you can help me and Pingting. She's still so young. She should have a good life. She shouldn't have to live in a world of fear at such a young age."

Seeing Elder Wu so sad and so desperate, already in tears as he explained to her what happened to Wu Pingting, Nangong Nuannuan comforted him. "Elder Wu, don't be sad. Since you've come looking for me, I'll do my best."

"Thank you, Miss Nangong!"

Elder Wu was a highly respected man, but right now, he was crying like a child.

If Wu Pingting continued to remain in this state of shock, with her life ripped away from her, she might as well be dead.

"Elder Wu, we know each other now. You may call me Nuannuan."

"Thank you so much! Thank you!"

An hour later, the car finally arrived at the Wu family's residence.

The Wu family was the most wealthy family in Sea District. In this district where every inch of land was precious, the Wu family owned a manor-like mansion.

The car drove straight through the mansion entrance, entered the courtyard, and stopped at the door.

When the bodyguards saw the convoy returning, they immediately went forward to open the front door.

Led by Elder Wu, Nuannuan followed a group of people into the house.

“What—”

Suddenly, an ear-piercing scream came from inside the house. Nuannuan knew it was Wu Pingting the moment she heard it.

She recalled the time she and Big Brother Chi Yang went to the Jiang District auction. Zhong Qianqian and Huang Yuhan, the two idiots, had mocked her in front of the guests, and Wu Pingting had stepped forward to defend her. Later, during the explosion, Wu Pingting had abided by Elder Wu’s instructions and followed her closely.

It had only been half a year since then. She did not expect to meet Pingting again like this.

It really proved that the world was unpredictable.

When Elder Wu heard Wu Pingting’s scream, he quickened his steps. However, due to his old age, he was unsteady. If not for the help of his bodyguards, he surely would have fallen.

When she entered the hall, Nuannuan saw Wu Pingting shivering in the living room, her hair messy. Her once bright eyes seemed to be masked by fog. Her pupils were large and dark, without any luster. She seemed to be seeing something terrifying and screaming at it.

In front of her, a man holding a Barbie doll was trying to approach her. He looked like he was trying to help her regain her senses. However, Wu Pingting only responded to him with shrill screams.

“Zongxu, what are you doing?” Elder Wu half-shouted.

The man who was holding the Barbie doll turned around.

His eyes were red. He looked at Elder Wu and called out, “Grandpa.”

“I told you that your sister shouldn’t be approached or provoked. Why did you bring her out?” Elder Wu asked, his heart aching.

“I just figured that I knew Pingting best. This was her favorite Barbie doll that I gave her when she was young. I thought she would calm down when she saw me.”

Chapter 1894: Nuannuan Agrees To Help

The man was clearly holding back his sadness as he spoke. Elder Wu’s eyes reddened.

“Master, it’s my fault! It’s all my fault! I was the one who went in to serve the young miss a meal, and when I saw that she wasn’t resisting, I wanted to approach her. Who could have guessed that even though she was okay when I first approached her, she would suddenly start screaming and pushing me away after a minute of calmness? The second young master saw Miss rushing out and running around. He was afraid she would get hurt, so he tried to persuade her to go back.”

The servant explained the situation as she cried. As she spoke, she kept looking over at Wu Pingting. Her eyes were filled with worry and self-blame. She was not lying.

Seeing how sad she was, Nuannuan said, "In the future, everyone should avoid her. Stay far away from her, and don't talk to her. Leave her alone."

The maid blinked and looked at Nangong Nuannuan, her tears filled with rebellion already.

Wu Zongxu frowned. "Grandpa, she's..."

"She's your sister's idol."

Wu Zongxu was stunned for a moment before his face turned red in delight.

"Y-you're Miss Nangong?"

"Nuannuan, Chi Yang, allow me to introduce you two. This is my second grandson, Wu Zongxu."

Nangong Nuannuan and Chi Yang nodded slightly at Wu Zongxu, who politely greeted Chi Yang first.

"Hello, Lieutenant General Chi Yang!"

After greeting him, Wu Zongxu looked at Nangong Nuannuan and asked, "Miss Nangong, you're the person my sister admires most in the world. Our family paid close attention to the time you saved those poisoned people. C-can you help my sister?"

Nangong Nuannuan looked at Wu Pingting, who was looking at her in horror through the television cabinet, and nodded. "I can only guarantee you that I'll try my best."

"Thank you!"

"Now, everyone, please leave. Don't bother her."

Nangong Nuannuan gave her orders. Wu Zongxu looked reluctant. "But..."

"Everyone, get out."

Elder Wu called Nangong Nuannuan over. Even if he did not completely believe in her yet, he tried his best to give her his full trust. After all, other than death, there was no outcome worse than her current state.

After everyone abided by her orders and left, Elder Wu brought Nangong Nuannuan and Chi Yang to their rooms.

These two were important guests, so their visiting the Wu family was a big deal. Therefore, the Wu family received Nangong Nuannuan with the highest standards.

After Elder Wu brought Nuannuan and Chi Yang to their residence, a few days passed before Wu Pingting's brother, Wu Zongyang, returned.

Wu Zongyang and Wu Pingting were the children of Wu Jingcheng, Elder Wu's second son. This was the second time Nangong Nuannuan was meeting Wu Jingcheng. Previously, at the Jiang District auction, Elder Wu had brought his two grandchildren with him.

After exchanging pleasantries, Wu Zongxu could not help but say, "Pingting has been alone in the living room for a long time. Should we go and take a look at her?"

Wu Zongyang said, "Since grandfather asked Miss Nangong to help, let's do everything Miss Nangong says."

"But..."

"I know you and Pingting have a good relationship, but I'm her biological brother. How could I ever harm her?"

Wu Zongxu could only remain silent.

Nuannuan and Chi Yang stayed in a secondary building next to Master Wu's villa. Their surroundings were beautiful, and there was a pond filled with koi fish nearby. Nuannuan paid close attention to what was happening in the main hall of the villa as she invited Old Master Wu, Wu Zongyang, and Wu Zongxu to have some tea with her.

Chapter 1895: Two Possible Outcomes

Looking through the hall's thick walls, Nuannuan stood up when she saw that Wu Pingting was walking out.

"You guys stay here and chat. I'll go in and see her."

"I'll come too." Wu Zongxu immediately stood up.

"Sit down!"

Wu Zongxu was interrupted by his old man's displeased voice. He could only sit back down obediently.

Wu Zongyang, on the other hand, was relatively calm and remained silent.

Chi Yang had also barely spoken upon entering the Wu residence. His cold demeanor garnered awe and respect from everyone who came across him.

Nuannuan entered through the villa's main entrance and quickly darted behind Wu Pingting. A silver needle was quickly and accurately pierced through the center of her forehead, blocking the chaotic central nervous system activity in her brain.

Wu Pingting was stunned. Soon, her entire body went limp.

Nuannuan carried her to the sofa and carefully examined her body.

Her body had been severely violated. Even though it had already been a week, there were still serious injuries visible on her body and chest.

However, these were not the most serious injuries that Wu Pingting had suffered.

Her most serious injuries were to her brain and heart.

Due to the intense stimulation, her central system had gotten messed up. She was depressed, and her qi and blood were congested—resulting in her current state. In laymen's terms, she had lost her mind.

However, it would not be impossible to cure her. After removing the memories that had caused her such severe trauma, Nuannuan could use acupuncture to remove the thick phlegm that had accumulated in her heart. This way, although she would lose her memory, she would be able to recover.

Upon seeing Nangong Nuannuan returning, Elder Wu and his two grandsons immediately stood up.

“Miss Nangong, is it possible... for Pingting to recover?” Elder Wu asked cautiously.

“Yes.”

Nuannuan’s reply made the eyes of the three men from the Wu family instantly brighten.

“Really? Then how should we treat her? How long will it take? What medical equipment do we need? If it’s available on the market, I can get it. Even if it’s not available on the market, if you say that we need it, I can contact people to find a way to get it.”

“Elder Wu, you’re worrying too much. If she can be treated, it won’t take long—at most, an hour. We don’t need any medical equipment either. I can do it with just a silver needle.”

Elder Wu and Wu Pingting’s two brother’s eyes lit up again.

“But as you know, her current condition is the result of intense overstimulation. To get better, she’ll have to lose all memories of the incident. Do you guys mind?”

“No, of course not! If she can forget this incident that makes her wish she was dead, that would be the best thing for her.”

A voice rose from behind Nuannuan. She turned around and saw a man and a woman walking over.

The man and the woman looked very similar. Wu Zongyang looked like a carbon copy of the man, too. Thus, it was easy to guess that this man was Wu Pingting’s father, Wu Jingcheng, and the woman was her aunt, Wu Jingmin.

After the two of them greeted Nuannuan and Chi Yang warmly, they began discussing Wu Pingting’s condition with Nangong Nuannuan.

Wu Jingcheng and Wu Jingmin were very grateful to know that Nangong Nuannuan would be able to help Wu Pingting regain her sanity.

“But you have to know that humans are not machines nor are they videos. Their memories can’t be so easily cut and edited. So, this acupuncture could have one of two possible outcomes.

“The first being that along with erasing her memory of this incident, her previous memories may be erased too.”

Chapter 1896: Erasing Her Memory

“The other possible outcome is that her memory of the incident may not be completely erased, but the memory of the aftermath will be. Either way, she will wake up from her shock state.”

“Then... what should we do if we get the second outcome?” Wu Jingcheng could not help but straighten his back and ask with a worried expression.

"If we get the second outcome, we can only persuade her that she should do her best to move on. As life moves forward, the wounds left in her heart by this tragic incident will one day fade."

Wu Jingcheng glanced at his father, then at his younger sister, Wu Jingmin. Seeing the two of them nod, he then turned to Nuannuan and said, "Alright, then I'll have to trouble Miss Nangong with this. I have to give Pingting's mother a call to inform her about the situation now."

Nangong Nuannuan nodded. "Please do."

Wu Jingcheng stood up and excused himself to make a phone call. When he returned, he looked gratefully at Nangong Nuannuan and said, "Miss Nangong, my wife can't make it due to work commitments. She asked me to thank you on her behalf. We'll remember your great kindness for the rest of our lives."

"You're too kind. Elder Wu and I are fated. I'm very happy to be able to help Wu Pingting."

Nuannuan then asked the Wu family members to discuss how they would respond to Wu Pingting's possible reactions when she woke up.

After deciding on a foolproof plan, Nuannuan prepared for Wu Pingting's acupuncture treatment.

Initially, the Wu family members thought that Nuannuan would keep her acupuncture techniques a secret. Who could have guessed that when Wu Jingmin asked if they could watch the treatment, Nangong Nuannuan would tell everyone that they were welcome to watch if they wanted to?

All the Wu family members were eager to spectate.

Wu Zongyang carried his sister to the bed and laid her down. The Wu family members stood around the bed. With their full attention, they watched as Nuannuan pulled out a long and thin silver needle from her bracelet and pierced it into Wu Pingting's head, straight into her brain. Wu Zongxu was concerned and opened his mouth to speak, but he was stopped by Wu Zongyang. Wu Zongxu's mouth was covered with his hand.

"It's not sterilized!" Wu Zongxu pulled Wu Zongyang's hand off his mouth and said in a depressed and disdainful tone.

"Since she knows acupuncture, she wouldn't have forgotten such a necessity. Don't talk! Don't disturb Miss Nangong."

The two whispered in each other's ears so as to not disturb Nangong Nuannuan's treatment. They both received a warning look from the old man.

After that, Wu Zongyang and Wu Zongxu both kept quiet.

When the long and soft silver needle was pulled out of her bracelet, the tip shook. It was clear how soft it was. However, in Nangong Nuannuan's hands, this soft silver needle, which could not remain straight even when held up in the air, seemed to be strong. It was slow, but it was also strong enough to pierce through Wu Pingting's skin, through her skull, and directly into her brain.

The chaotic neurons in her brain were blocked by the silver needle. With the stimulation of the silver needle, the neurons began to make new connections and break old ones.

Another silver needle was pierced into her brain from a different point. Both ends of that region of the brain were then sealed off. A third silver needle was then inserted, directly piercing into the information in the middle of the chaotic neurons. This needle was the most crucial for completing the treatment. With one stab, the overactive information centers in the middle of the neurons seemed to start to shake, before they shattered into pieces.

With the needles still in her head, Nangong Nuannuan asked Wu Zongyang and Wu Zongxu to help Wu Pingting up. Once they helped her up, before everyone could ask Nuannuan what she wanted to do, she pierced another silver needle into the meridians next to the major arteries in Pingting's neck.

Chapter 1897: Pingting Throws Up

With Nangong Nuannuan's quick hands, four silver needles were pierced into Pingting's brain at nearly the same time.

After the few needles were inserted, Wu Pingting's neck and face instantly flushed, and the veins on her forehead bulged.

Everyone's gaze was solemn and nervous as Nangong Nuannuan carried out the treatment.

Nangong Nuannuan reached out and gently turned the silver needles. Wu Pingting, who was nestled in Wu Zongyang's arms, bellowed as Nuannuan did this. It sounded like there was some phlegm congesting Wu Pingting's chest that she could not seem to spit out.

As the silver needles in Nangong Nuannuan's hands turned, the bellows from Wu Pingting grew increasingly more pronounced, and her face grew redder. At some point, her face had almost turned from red to purple, and her entire body went stiff.

Everyone held their breath and watched Wu Pingting with rapt attention, while also observing Nangong Nuannuan closely at the same time. Although they were all concerned, they suppressed the uneasiness in their hearts when they saw Nuannuan's calm expression.

"She's going to throw up. Bring her a basin."

"I'll go!"

Wu Zongxu quickly rushed out. After searching the villa for a while, he finally found a plastic basin in a servant's room.

"Place it in front of her. If she needs to throw up later, she can easily reach it."

"Okay."

Wu Zongxu earnestly placed the basin in front of Wu Pingting, keeping his eyes fixed on her.

Finally, with Wu Pingting's face having turned completely purple and her throwing up a few times, she seemed to calm down. When Nangong Nuannuan removed a silver needle from her neck, Wu Pingting threw up the substance that had been churning around in her body for a long time.

It appeared to be yellow phlegm accompanied by a strong fishy smell.

The thick phlegm mixed with vomit made the entire room immediately stink.

Elder Wu immediately ordered someone to open the window while Nuannuan ordered for the basin to be taken away.

“Nuannuan, what exactly did Pingting throw up? Was it poison?” Elder Wu could not help but ask.

“It wasn’t poison, but it was still hurting her. Even though it wasn’t poison, her body did not like it. It was what caused the blockage in her heart. It’s said that these things can’t be seen or touched, but they actually can be. In traditional Chinese medicine, if these blockages can be cleared, many people who suffer from mental disorders due to overstimulation will certainly improve—even if they’re not completely cured.” Nuannuan explained patiently.

“I see. You helped her throw up so much of it. Does that mean that she has removed most of what was causing the blockage in her heart? When she wakes up, will she still be depressed?”

“Yes, most of what was causing the blockages has been thrown up. When she wakes up, she’ll still have a vague memory of what happened. But even though she may be upset, she won’t lose her mind again.”

Lose her mind?

Did Wu Pingting not look like she had already lost her mind?

“Miss Nangong, how long will it take for my daughter to wake up?” Wu Jingcheng could not wait any longer to ask this.

“If you guys are mentally prepped, I can wake her up now.”

The members of the Wu family looked at each other in dismay. When Elder Wu saw the anticipation in the eyes of his family members, he said to Nangong Nuannuan, “Nuannuan, we’ve already mentally prepared ourselves. You may wake her up!”

Nuannuan smiled slightly. She reached out and removed the three silver needles that were still in Pingting’s brain. Then, she inserted them back into her bracelet.

Wu Zongyang had yet to react when Nuannuan removed the needles. He just continued to hug Wu Pingting tightly.

Chapter 1898: Pingting Wakes Up

When Nuannuan was done, Wu Zongyang asked, “Do you need me to lay her down?”

Nuannuan smiled. “Do as you wish.”

“Then I...”

As Zongyang was deciding whether to lay his sister down or to continue holding her, he suddenly saw his family members’ eyes light up. They called out in unison, “Pingting!”

He was startled and immediately turned his head to look at his sister, who was still nestled in his arms.

Wu Pingting’s eyes slowly opened. Her eyes, which had previously lost their luster and had been covered with fog, were now very bright.

She was a little confused when she opened her eyes. Still, everyone realized that once Wu Pingting opened her eyes, she was able to look at each person in the room closely, one by one.

She was able to really see them for the first time in a long time!

Seeing the happiness in everyone's eyes, Wu Pingting felt like something was wrong.

"Grandpa, why are you smiling? What's wrong with me? Why does my body hurt so much? Why does it feel like it's about to fall apart?"

Upon hearing Wu Pingting speak, everyone in the room became even happier.

For the past seven days, the entire Wu family had been enveloped in a cloud of misery as they were tortured by Wu Pingting's insanity. Now that she had recovered and was even able to speak coherently, the Wu family could not have been happier.

"You're awake! You're really awake! Miss Nangong, thank you so much!"

Nangong Nuannuan smiled. "I'm glad to be of service. After all, I've met Miss Wu once before."

Wu Pingting suddenly recognized Nangong Nuannuan's voice. Ignoring the pain in her body, she quickly sat up and turned around to look behind her.

She was greeted with Nangong Nuannuan's extremely beautiful and assertive face.

"My idol!!!"

Wu Pingting was so excited that she knelt down and reached out to grab Nangong Nuannuan's hand. Her eyes lit up.

"Idol, why are you here? My dad thanked you just now. Did you save me? What happened to me? Why can't I remember what happened?"

"Something so serious happened to you, yet you don't know what it is?" Wu Zongyang was shocked. He was acting like a typical overprotective older brother.

"Last night, Yunyun asked me out for supper. I-I forgot what happened afterwards!!!"

Wu Pingting tried hard to think about the supper, but she could not remember anything about it.

"You and Xu Yunyun?" Wu Zongyang asked.

"Yes."

"You haven't seen Xu Yunyun recently, besides during the banquet. It's been a month since you last saw her. I remember you saying that you wanted to celebrate the end of the college entrance examinations with her."

Wu Pingting nodded in a daze. "Ah, that's right! I did want to celebrate with her. Brother, what did just say? What do you mean by that being a month ago?"

"Pingting, don't you remember that you were kidnapped a week ago?"

Wu Pingting said, "...I was kidnapped?"

Everyone looked at each other in surprise, before turning to look at Nangong Nuannuan.

“Miss Nangong, Pingting, this is...”

Nangong Nuannuan looked at the room full of esteemed actors and actresses, then looked at Wu Pingting, who seemed confused and was asking many questions in earnest.

“It’s normal for patients to forget what happened after suffering a severe shock. This is a way for the brain and body to protect itself.”

“Grandpa, who kidnapped me?” Recognizing the discomfort and pain in her lower body, Wu Pingting’s face turned pale. “Did... Did someone...”

Chapter 1899: Don’t Give Them What They Want

Elder Wu sat beside Wu Pingting, held her hand, and said, “Little girl, don’t worry. Grandpa will definitely find the person who harmed you and make them suffer the most severe punishment. he can think of. Grandpa will certainly not let the pain you suffered go unpunished. However, little girl, you are the granddaughter of the Wu family. Grandpa also hopes that you can pull yourself together and learn to deal with your emotions about the tragedy you’ve suffered.”

Previously, the Wu family had planned to tell Wu Pingting that she had been in a car accident. However, Nangong Nuannuan told them that the mastermind behind her incident had yet to be caught and that they had most likely done what they did in an attempt to get revenge on Wu Pingting. Now that Wu Pingting had recovered, they could try to find this mastermind. Instead of having Wu Pingting suddenly face a dangerous situation without mentally preparing herself first, the Wu family figured it would be better to rip the band-aid off quickly and ensure that she understood the situation. That way, she would be ready to face the enemy’s attack when it came.

Teardrops rolled down her cheeks. Even though she did not have a clear memory of what had happened, it was still an unfortunate event that anyone would find difficult to face.

After all, for the past 18 years, Wu Pingting had been living the life of a proud daughter born with a silver spoon in her mouth who had never experienced any hardships. It would be especially difficult for her to accept the fact that she had been kidnapped and raped.

“Who is it? Who did this to me? Grandpa, have you caught the culprit yet?”

Wu Jingcheng held his daughter’s hand and answered, “Pingting, don’t worry. No matter how long it takes, I won’t rest until we catch who did this. I won’t allow anyone who harms you to just get away with it.”

Wu Pingting was extremely upset. Hot tears continued to stream down her face.

“But I-I’ve already...”

Nangong Nuannuan walked up to her and said, “You were accepted into the Military Medical Hospital with your exam score of 643 points. From now on, we’re classmates.”

Wu Pingting’s face was still scrunched up, but her tears stopped falling at this.

“I...”

“Soon, you will be a military doctor. We can work together to save people.”

“Then...”

“My fiancé is a soldier. The special forces are made up of all the best soldiers in our country. However, due to the dangerous nature of their missions, they could be smiling at you one moment and be a mutilated corpse the next.”

“...”

“Don’t you feel that compared to losing your life, anything else that happens to you isn’t a big deal?”

Wu Pingting nodded. Only then did another tear roll down her cheek.

“Then, don’t you agree that instead of remaining heartbroken, it would be better for you to live every day happily and get revenge on the enemies who wished for you to never recover from this incident?”

Wu Pingting took a deep breath, then sharply exhaled. She nodded heavily, her expression reflecting intense hatred and anger. “Idol, you’re right! The person who kidnapped me wanted to hurt me, not kill me. They only wanted to find a way to ruin my reputation. To put it bluntly, they just didn’t want to see me live a better life than them. If I were to continue to live in sorrow because of what happened, wouldn’t that be giving them exactly what they want? I want to live as you said. Not only will I live a good life, but I also want to live a happy life! I want to live my best life, one much better than theirs. Even if our family isn’t able to catch them anytime soon, at least this will piss them off! Let them see my amazing, happy life! Let their vicious hearts be shattered by their failure!”

Chapter 1900: A God of Medicine

Nuannuan smiled. Although she had only met Wu Pingting once, she could tell that she was a very brave girl. Nuannuan had taken a liking to her personality.

It was difficult to see her have to face such a challenge.

“You’re right! Your family is definitely richer and more powerful than the mastermind’s. You have a better life than he does. Your future achievements will be greater than his, too. Later on, you’ll find and marry an outstanding man who loves you. You’ll go on to live a happy life, while he can only watch you from afar. This is the greatest revenge you can take against the person who harmed you.”

Wu Pingting nodded vigorously. “Yes, yes, yes. Idol, you’re absolutely right! The more I think about how they harmed me, the more I want to live a life of victory.”

Wu Pingting’s eyes sparkled with fighting spirit.

The Wu family felt that this was simply too unbelievable.

After all, ever since Wu Pingting woke up mentally disturbed the day after the accident, they had been doing everything in their power to find the best neurologists and psychiatrists from all over the world. However, they had still not been optimistic about Wu Pingting’s recovery. All medical test results indicated that she would need at least three to five years of systematic treatment and psychological counseling to even have a chance of getting better. Even then, she would have to live a very sterile life.

It could be said that Wu Pingting's entire being had been shattered by this disaster.

The old man had invited Nangong Nuannuan to treat Wu Pingting because, knowing that she could create an antidote that could cure such a serious virus, he figured that she might be able to prescribe something to treat Wu Pingting's illness. Hence, everyone had welcomed Nangong Nuannuan warmly, not wanting to discourage her from helping Pingting.

However, they had still not been very optimistic.

After all, Nangong Nuannuan was only a third-year high school student who was about to apply to the Military Medical Hospital. Even if she only concocted a medicine that could snap Wu Pingting out of her daze, she would be even more capable than all the neurologists and psychiatrists they had hired before. If she was so amazing, why did she even need to apply to the hospital?

Looking at Pingting's state right now... She had not only woken up from her daze and forgotten the inhuman pain she had previously experienced, but she was also able to face the suffering she now knew she had endured with her best foot forward. The Wu family felt that Nangong Nuannuan was not merely a doctor—she was a God, or rather, a god of medicine!

It was just a few sentences, but every word made its way into Wu Pingting's heart. It woke her up from her stupor and ignited a fire in her heart.

Not only was Nuannuan an extremely capable neurologist and psychiatrist, but she was also undoubtedly the best doctor in the world.

At this moment, the Wu family looked at Nangong Nuannuan with a gaze that reflected even more respect than the eyes of one looking at a god.

"Miss Nangong, you really are amazing. My sister has been examined by all the top neurologists and psychiatrists in the world, and they all said that it would take at least three to five years for her to recover from her illness and return to normal. However, you were able to treat her so easily. You're already so incredible that you can easily be hired as a visiting professor at the military hospital. Why do you still want to be a student there?"

Wu Zongyang felt like Nangong Nuannuan was a mystery. Although he knew that some questions were inappropriate to ask, he could not help himself. He idolized Nangong Nuannuan too.

Ever since he saw Nangong Nuannuan drive a car engulfed in flames and leap over a high-rise building, he had fallen madly in love with her.

Initially, he had been nervous to talk to her. After all, she was stunning and had a fiance like Chi Yang. He was afraid of what she would think of him.