Chapter 191: Spying

When she arrived, Chi Yang was already waiting at the entrance.

As the car came to a steady halt, Zhong Nuannuan immediately got down from the car and ran toward Chi Yang. She originally wanted to give him a hug, but she glanced at the haystack inside the gate, the corner of the wall, and beside the trash can... There were even heads sneaking under the house beams, so Zhong Nuannuan decisively gave up on her idea and stopped half a step in front of Chi Yang.

In next moment, her body was gently held by a warm, large hand, and she planted herself firmly in Chi Yang's embrace.

After hearing his reassuring and strong heartbeat, Zhong Nuannuan, who was originally still a little shy, became enchanted by the warmth of his arms, causing her to push all her worries to the back of her mind. Greedily, she deeply inhaled his clear breath into her nasal cavity before letting it settle in her lungs where it proceeded to envelop her entire being.

This was the first time that Chi Yang had taken the initiative to embrace his fiancée in front of so many people.

Initially, he did not dare to do such a thing.

After all, she strongly rejected his touch in the past, so even after she had already told him that she no longer rejected him, he was still very cautious around her.

He was afraid that one moment of inattentiveness would spark her resentment and cause an insurmountable loss.

However, when she got out of the car and ran toward him, and he saw that he was the only person reflected in her eyes, he could no longer hold back.

Moreover, this was Nuannuan's first visit to the military base. Although she was here to treat the commander-in-chief's illness, this was where he lived and fought every day. When he saw her step foot on this piece of land, a ball of fire seemed to burn within his chest, and he wished that he could rub her into his body and assimilate her into his bones.

Feeling the force of his hug, Zhong Nuannuan also reached out and hugged his lean, strong waist tightly.

"Phewitt~"

A few whistles came from nearby. Zhong Nuannuan knew that those were his soldiers teasing them.

When they saw that the director-general did not fly off the handle, the surrounding wolf-whistles became louder. Some of the soldiers, who were holding bowls and getting ready to eat, blushed crimson with excitement when they saw their director-general actually embracing a girl in public at the main entrance. His current gentle appearance was nothing like his usual demon king persona.

After a while, everyone started knocking on the plates, bowls, trash cans and walls, and Zhong Nuannuan felt as if she had been brought into a bandit den by their leader.

The deafening sounds made her unable to continue resting in Chi Yang's arms, and she pushed away his chest. It was only then that Chi Yang hesitantly and reluctantly released his fiancée from his embrace.

Zhong Nuannuan glanced at the main gate ahead...

Oh my goodness!

Only

There were only 10 or so people a while ago. How could more than 100 people suddenly appear in the blink of an eye?

After being watched by so many people, no matter how thick-skinned Zhong Nuannuan was, she still started to feel slightly embarrassed.

Before the embarrassment faded, the soldiers behind them laughed and shouted in unison—"Hello, sister-in-law!"

This time, Zhong Nuannuan was completely red-faced. Her body shrank slightly, and she hid behind Chi Yang, leaning against his chest, too ashamed to face anyone.

Looking at his fiancée, who was relying on him like a small rabbit and snuggling beside him, the love in Chi Yang's eyes almost overflowed.

He felt that his entire heart had been totally filled by the single movement of his fiancée. The look of her snuggling beside him, wholeheartedly trusting and depending on him, made him feel as if the whole world was his oyster.

"Big Brother Chi, I'm leaving now, approximately how long do you think it will take before you and Nuannuan head over to the commander? This way, I can tell Dad when to expect you."

Chapter 192: Call "Sister-In-Law"

The fact that Ye Hai had addressed her as "Nuannuan" made Chi Yang frown slightly. Although he knew that Ye Hai would not dare to have any inappropriate intentions toward Nuannuan, he still did not like other men referring to his Nuannuan so intimately.

"Nuannuan and I still have to eat dinner, we'll go to his place in about an hour."

"Tell him not to take his nighttime medicine dosage yet." Zhong Nuannuan quickly added.

"Okay. You two go for your meal, I'll leave now."

"Wait a minute." Ye Hai had already turned around when he was stopped by Chi Yang.

"Big Brother Chi, is there anything else?"

“Did you hear how the boys referred to my significant other earlier?”

“...I heard.” Ye Hai was a little dazed, unsure of where Chi Yang was going with this.

“Most of them are older than you, but they all called my significant other ‘sister-in-law’. Why did you call her ‘Nuannuan’? Are you well acquainted with her?”

Ye Hai reacted immediately and explained breathlessly, “Big Brother Chi, you’re being oversensitive, I definitely wouldn’t have any inappropriate thoughts toward sister-in-law.”

Ye Hai was a cunning person. He had said “Nuannuan” very smoothly a moment ago, but after Chi Yang confronted him, he immediately changed his tone to “sister-in-law”. It sounded extremely pleasing to the ear, and showed absolute humility.

Chi Yang nodded with satisfaction, and he was just about to pull Zhong Nuannuan in when Ye Hai suddenly changed the topic of conversation. “As for Lil Rui, I’ll help Big Brother Chi to keep a close eye on him. That child is still immature, I hope that Big Brother Chi won’t take him too seriously.”

Chi Yang’s body froze, and his eyes narrowed slightly. “What did you say?”

Ye Hai was stunned, and he looked toward Zhong Nuannuan with a gaze of blank inquiry. His gaze seemed to ask, ‘Does Big Brother Chi not know about Lil Rui’s intentions?’.

Zhong Nuannuan thought to herself that things were getting interesting. This person was a male double-dealer; he was a good match for Zhong Qianqian.

“I asked you something, why are you looking at your sister-in-law?”

At this moment, the normally two-faced, gentle, elegant, and charismatic man stood there awkwardly, saying nothing.

However, his expression not only expressed his embarrassment at exposing Zhong Nuannuan’s private matter, but also clearly and incisively gave Chi Yang the answer he was looking for.

Zhong Nuannuan realized that Ye Hai’s ability at being two-faced was much better than Zhong Qianqian. No wonder Leng Qirui was so angry before this. That honest and frank child had probably suffered many losses from Ye Hai in the past.

Chi Yang did not press Ye Hai any further, and simply said, “Okay, you can go back first.”

Ye Hai nodded very awkwardly and looked at Zhong Nuannuan apologetically. In the end, he turned and left without saying a word.

After Chi Yang found out that Leng Qirui was interested in Zhong Nuannuan, his mood seemed to drop.

Despite this, Zhong Nuannuan felt that Leng Qirui was very pitiful. Not only had he been beaten by her and ripped off by his brother, he now had Chi Yang to deal with. Thus, as a classmate and fellow friend in the last row, she should help put in a good word for Leng Qirui.

Only

However, her Big Brother Chi Yang was unhappy, and she had no choice but to coax her Big Brother Chi Yang and make him happy first.

Zhong Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang with a smile. "Leng Qirui likes me. Are you angry?"

Chi Yang squeezed his thin lips shut, and put on a serious expression. "No. Are you hungry? Let's go to have dinner."

This man!

He was obviously very bothered about it, but he did not say it out loud. He would rather secretly seek out his love rival to engage in a decisive battle than ask her more about it.

Typical machismo!

Therefore, she held Chi Yang's arm with one hand, and held his other hand with the other, forcing him to look her in the eye.

Chapter 193: I Like You

"Leng Qirui and I have never met before, I sat on his seat at school today, and in the end, he tried to pick a quarrel with me when he arrived. Hence, I beat up his butler. Despite this, he not only did he not get angry, he unexpectedly even confessed to me after school in the afternoon. What can I do? I'm innocent! However, I told him that I have a fiancé and I love my fiancé very much, while he's not my cup of tea."

Chi Yang's thin lips tightened and his expression remained serious. However, after hearing her say that she loved her fiancé very much, even though he clearly still had a serious expression, the cold draught around him disappeared.

"What did you just say?" Chi Yang looked at Zhong Nuannuan intently, hoping that she would repeat what she had just said.

Zhong Nuannuan jumped up, hugged Chi Yang's neck, went close to his ear and whispered, "I said, I love my fiancé very much, and that he's not my cup of tea."

With her fragrant, warm breath spraying against his most sensitive auricle, Chi Yang's ears rapidly turned red at a rate visible to the naked eye...

After feeling his body go stiff, Zhong Nuannuan did not let go, and continued to speak softly in his ear.

"I don't like men who are too young, they're not mature or steady at all. I like tall men, of a height just about 180, which is not much taller than me. Besides, he's too childish, a moment ago he asked me to scam and bullied me, but after I beat up his butler, he confessed to me. I seriously suspect that he has masochistic tendencies. Apart from that, although his height is 180, he looks like a submissive person.

"I don't like submissive men at all, I like men who are tall, mighty, upright, mature, steady, righteous, reliable, masculine and are able to make people feel secure like Big Brother Chi Yang."

Chi Yang had always been the “trophy child” in the courtyard ever since he was young. He had been showered with praise since childhood and as well awarded numerous medals after he grew up—all of which he had accepted with indifference.

However, at that moment, when he heard his fiancée’s praises, for the first time in his life, Chi Yang felt light-headed. It was as if he was on cloud nine, and he felt like he was floating even though he was planted firmly on the ground.

Looking at Zhong Nuannuan’s beautiful, watery, and slightly upturned doe eyes, he asked, “Really? Do you really think I’m that suitable for you?”

“Of course! There might be many outstanding men in this world, and they might be taller than you, have a better personality than you, be more mature and stable than you, or even more powerful than you... but, none of them are you. The only person I like is you, I only want to live with you, and complete the rest of my life with you.”

Chi Yang felt like his fiancée was his intimate small cotton-padded jacket. She knew exactly what he wanted to hear.

Watching the ice and snow melt from Chi Yang’s eyes, which was then replaced by blooming flowers, Zhong Nuannuan could not help but shout at Chi Yang, “Big Brother Chi Yang, I like you——!”

Chi Yang was shocked, and he watched in surprise as his fiancée confessed to him in front of so many people. Her smiling eyes seemed to be embedded with all the stars in the universe, and his heart leapt with joy.

Only

Immediately afterward, more than 200 special forces started to cheer.

“Sister-in-law is mighty!”

“Sister-in-law is domineering!”

“Sister-in-law, director-general is yours, carry him home!”

“Hahahaha...”

‘Oh my, I forgot that there’s still a bunch of men watching from behind.’

After she heard the men’s roar, Zhong Nuannuan, who had been extremely proud as she boldly expressed her love to Chi Yang earlier, immediately blushed. Like a frightened little white rabbit, she exclaimed “Oops”, and jumped into Chi Yang’s arms to hide, no longer willing to raise her head.

Chapter 194: Wasted Youth

“What are all of you doing here instead of going for your food? Are you guys so free?”

Chi Yang hurriedly supported his little white rabbit and shouted at the group of men.

“Director, we came to see sister-in-law.”

“Director, you are so blessed, our sister-in-law is so beautiful!”

“Boss, now you can be at ease. Sister-in-law has already said that she likes you.”

Song Qing, as both the left- and right-hand man that was equal to Ning Wenhao, heard rumors about the boss and hurried down to have a look.

He was relieved when he heard Zhong Nuannuan announce loudly that she liked his boss.

Seeing that the group of blindly happy single dogs had surprised his Nuannuan, Chi Yang ordered in a cold voice, “Everyone who is present here, carry 20 kilograms for a 10-kilometer jog, starting now. Song Qing, you are responsible for keeping count”

The sound of cries for mercy came from the crowd as Song Qing gloated and grinned happily, “Yes!”

Without missing a beat, Chi Yang’s gloomy voice continued, “You are responsible for leading the run.”

Song Qing: ...!!!

“Pfft!” Zhong Nuannuan could not help but laugh.

Seeing his girlfriend happy, Chi Yang could no longer be bothered with this group of inexhaustible kids. He held his girlfriend’s hand and walked toward the exclusive canteen of the special forces team.

The evening sky of late autumn had turned dark, and as the wind blew, the leaves of the sycamore trees on both sides of the path rustled. The leaves fell all over the ground, crackling satisfyingly when trodden upon.

“One, two, three, four, one two three-four!”

The soldiers who were punished on the large training ground had already begun to run. There were no traces of their frustration at being punished as they maintained high-spirited voices. It was as if the soldiers had gotten girlfriends of their own, as all of them were smiling such that even the bleakness of the late autumn sky was dispelled by their young and lively voices.

Since they were being punished to run anyway, as members of the special forces division, who were the best of the best, they were not ones to cower. Even though they were being punished, they could not help but continue to make fun of Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan when they passed the two of them.

“Director-General, our sister-in-law has already confessed to you, so you will have to eat more later.”

“Don’t worry, sister-in-law, the director-general is usually in the military base. We will help you to look after him.”

“Sister-in-law, you are really beautiful, do you have any sisters? Are any of them single? My name is Li Ran. If you have any sisters, can sister-in-law introduce them to me?”

“Boy, you are still so young, what is the point of you looking for a girlfriend? Even if you feel the need to look for a partner, you will have to wait in line! Sister-in-law, I am 2 years older than him and I don’t have a girlfriend yet either!”

“Neither do I, Sister-in-law!”

“I do not have a girlfriend either!”

“Please introduce them to me, sister-in-law!”

Only

“Sister-in-law, I beg for an introduction!”

As the soldiers continued to jokingly beg for an introduction to other girls, suddenly, an unexpected voice sounded out from within the group.

“Director-General, why did you only take one set of utensils? I saw that there was only one set of plates, chopsticks, and a spoon behind you. Were you going to share a set of cutlery with sister-in-law?”

Zhong Nuannuan was stunned and quickly looked at the bag that Chi Yang had just picked up in the delivery room. Sure enough, there was only a single meal box and one pair of cutlery in the bag.

“Who was the brat that previously said that our director-general has no EQ, then made us swear to be single dogs together with the director-general for tens of thousands of years? Come out now! F*ck, I’m wasting my youth, I want to fight you!”

“Hahahaha...”

Zhong Nuannuan was amused by the soldiers’ words and could not help but giggle whilst simultaneously staring at Chi Yang.

Chapter 195: Old Official

However, Chi Yang acted normal as he simultaneously held onto her and a dinner plate. He was relaxed and maintained a serious face, as if the soldiers were not talking about him.

Well, well... he really was fit to be the director-general. Even after being critiqued so much, he could still pretend to not hear it without batting an eyelid!

An hour later, Leng Qirui arrived at the military base.

The on-duty soldiers recognized Young Master Leng’s car, so they allowed the vehicle to enter the military base without any obstruction.

Immediately after getting out of the car, Leng Qirui rushed inside aggressively.

The door of the commander-in-chief’s office was vigorously flung open, causing it to hit the wall with a loud “bang” before it rebounded back.

Leng Jinpeng was undergoing intravenous infusion while talking to Qu Mingyi when he frowned and coldly barked, “Don’t you know that you have to report yourself before coming in? Get out!”

Ye Hai, who had been taking good care of Leng Jinpeng's infusion bottle, immediately helped Leng Qirui to smooth things over, "Dad, Xiaorui did not do it on purpose, he..."

"That wasn't intentional? Will it only be intentional when he starts holding up a gun to kill me?"

Leng Jinpeng had already been very angry even before Ye Hai opened his mouth to try to smooth things over. However, he got even angrier after seeing Ye Hai's overly noble attitude.

Leng Qirui's anger was no less than Leng Jinpeng's. Imagine, Leng Jinpeng had not even looked for a marriage partner for so many years, but when he finally did start looking, he immediately sought out Leng Qirui's classmate, who was the person Leng Qirui liked. Leng Qirui felt extremely wronged.

Leng Qirui then turned around and slammed the door shut.

"Reporting to the commander-in-chief, Leng Qirui has something to discuss with you." The voice of the guard, Chen Wei, came from outside.

"Let him wait!"

Leng Jinpeng's cold and icy voice reached Leng Qirui's ears. As he felt embarrassed, the anger in his heart began to grow.

"Commander, Xiaorui is looking for you because he has something to discuss. Why don't you listen to what he has to tell you?" Qu Mingyi could not bear to look at the increasingly tense atmosphere between the father and son, so he quickly suggested.

Only

"He looks as if I have just stolen his girlfriend! This figure who wants to fight with me is supposed to be a son? Clearly, he is a foe! He probably just found out that I lowered his credit card limit and came over to argue with me. Tell me if it has been a waste for me to have raised this child??"

"Xiaorui's is good-natured but there are too many misunderstandings between the two of you. Xiaorui is now in a period of youthful rebellion. He is a child without a mother, and he has no other relatives besides you. You also rarely go back. Thus, I suggest that since he has already found out about this matter and has grown angry because of it, you might as well calm down and listen to him. If he is being unreasonable, you should not be fierce with him. Talk with him. I don't think Xiaorui is an unreasonable child."

"Yes dad, you should just let Xiaorui in. He is a person who hates being embarrassed, so in this case, where everybody is shunning him, where else should he turn to? What if he gets angry again and storms off, wouldn't that cause the misunderstandings between you and him to worsen? There is no overnight feud between the father and son. If anything, it's better to solve it in person."

Ye Hai thought that his words would make Leng Jinpeng angrier, but Leng Jinpeng finally sighed and said, "Let him in."

"Alright, dad, wait a minute."

Ye Hai ran vigorously to open the door, but when he did, a hint of gloom flashed in his eyes.

Since he was acting like this, Leng Jinpeng had not yet given up on his spoiled son.

Chapter 196: Father-Son Relationship

However, when he thought of Leng Qirui, who would come in later, he realized that he might be able to beat him in front of Leng Jinpeng without explanation. Thus, Ye Hai calmed down.

At the entrance of the school just now, Leng Qirui was smart as most of his blows landed on his body. Because of this, the marks on his face were not obvious, which made him unable to press charges.

In a moment, he was going to let his father take a good look at Leng Qirui, this lame duck, and show how he uses force to bully people.

Opening the door hurriedly, Ye Hai put on the act of a good brother as he faced Leng Qirui who was sitting outside and said, "Xiao Rui, you can come in. Come and apologize to Dad, he will not be angry with you."

Ye Hai specifically used the tone that Leng Qirui disliked to provoke him, hoping to bait him into blowing up so that he could return fire and unleash hell upon him.

Unexpectedly, Leng Qirui walked right past him and went right in front of Leng Jinpeng, "Dad, I have something to tell you. Alone!"

Ye Hai's brow furrowed imperceptibly as his heart tightened.

Did the person who he had sent him to kill this boy not only fail, but also expose him?

"You two have a good chat. Ye Hai, go, go out with Uncle Qu."

"...okay."

Seeing Leng Qirui staring at him coldly, although nothing had been revealed yet, Ye Hai was shocked. His body felt cold and he started sweating.

After the two left, Leng Jinpeng looked at his son, who had a bloody nose and swollen face.

"What's the matter with you? Did you fight with someone again?"

Leng Qirui looked at his father with complicated eyes and replied, "Soon after I came out of the hospital last night, someone tried to kill me."

"What?"

Leng Jinpeng sat up straight, the tenseness aura surrounding his body was expelled all at once, shocking Leng Qirui.

He had never seen such a cold killing intent in his dad.

"What's going on? Do you know who the person is?"

His wife was killed in a car accident, but he knew that the car accident had been planned because some people felt that he was in the way.

After that incident, he retreated bravely. If the group of people was still aggressive, then he could not be blamed for becoming a dissonant figure in the military base.

Looking at the concern in his father's eyes, Leng Qirui was stunned. A moment ago, his father looked angry, as though he wanted to kill him.

Now, upon being faced with such concern, Leng Qirui suddenly could not say what was on his mind.

"Who is it that wants your life? You know, right? Tell me!"

"I'm not sure yet, I will tell you when I'm sure."

"The enemy won't slowly wait for you to investigate before they make a second attempt. Xiaorui, I know you are already grown up and that there are many things that you don't want to tell me, but this is a matter of life and death. I hope you can tell me so I can make the necessary arrangements."

Leng Qirui sneered. "Relax, the enemy is not as powerful as you think. He may have made a move yesterday, but he certainly won't dare to act again for the time being. Nevertheless, if you really want to know who wants to kill me, you can go to the Jiang District Detention Center. The hitmen are still inside."

"Okay, I'll go."

Leng Jinpeng observed Leng Qirui and asked, "Are there any injuries besides the ones on your face?"

Only

"My abdomen was slashed."

"Did you go to the hospital?"

"I went, I was bandaged last night."

"Who helped you? Ye Hai?"

Leng Qirui: ...!!!

"Dad, can you not disgust me?"

Leng Jinpeng sighed. He knew that his son did not like Ye Hai, but Ye Hai was the son of his savior.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 197: I Refuse

He had been with him since he was 13 years old and had treated him as his own son. The point was that Ye Hai would be around for the foreseeable future, so he always hoped that his son could get along well with Ye Hai. If he were to meet with an early end, he did not expect anything from his family, but at least Ye Hai would be there to take care of him.

“Who saved you?” Leng Jinpeng did not want to make Leng Qirui unhappy and changed the subject.

“A well-meaning and handsome girl.”

Leng Qirui looked at the warmth emanating from Leng Qirui; Nobody understood his son better than him. Although he only took a glance, Leng Jinpeng knew that his son was in love with the other party.

“Who was it? Do you know her? If you like her, you can bring her home. Your grandparents and I share the same beliefs. The background of the person you like doesn’t matter as long as they have a good character.”

Not to mention, a girl who would come to somebody’s aid when they witnessed injustice could not be that bad.

When the girl was brought, Leng Qirui, who was still glowing with a soft light, instantly became irritable.

It was fine if anyone else wanted to be his rival, but it could not be his father!

“Dad, let me ask you, you don’t accept any of the rich ladies that Grandpa and Grandma have introduced to you, constantly claiming that you can’t let go of your relationship with mom. If this is the case, why do you still look to court Zhong Nuannuan?”

Leng Jinpeng: ...???

“I’m not stopping you from falling in love, nor am I against you looking for a mistress. But how old is Zhong Nuannuan? 18 years old! As old as me! You’re 44 years old, a whole 26 years older than her. The grass is too tender!”

Leng Jinpeng: ...!!!

“If it’s someone else, I will endure your willfulness, but let me tell you, I also like Zhong Nuannuan! Even if I can’t be with her, I don’t want her to end up becoming my stepmother!”

“Shut up!”

Leng Jinpeng slammed the table and shouted in anger.

The heavy force went through the wall and reached everyone’s ears outside.

Qu Mingyi heard that the father and son were going to fight again and had a headache. Thus, they quickly knocked on the door and opened it.

After that, Qu Mingyi, Ye Hai, Chiyang, and Zhong Nuannuan warmly entered, only to see Leng Jinpeng and Leng Qirui glaring at each other, both father and son red in the face.

“What’s the matter now? If there’s anything wrong, can’t you just discuss it? Xiaorui, your father is still ill and can’t get agitated, can’t you stop for a while?”

Although Qu Mingyi was very patient with Leng Qirui, he still felt that if this is his son, he would kill him in minutes!

Leng Qirui looked at Zhong Nuannuan, who was coming in and his heart became even more enraged.

"You forego your nightly self-study session just to read about my dad's illness. This yearning love is really touching!"

Zhong Nuannuan: "Ah..."

Everyone was taken aback.

"Leng Qirui, what are you talking about?"

Only

Leng Jinpeng felt a rush of blood to his head, making him dizzy. This stupid boy... It was fine if he wanted to speak rubbish in front of him, but why did he dare to talk rubbish in front of so many people? He was really pissing him off!

"Listen to what I say. Let me tell you this, no matter how much you love each other, I. Cannot. Accept. Your. Relationship!"

The whole hall fell strangely quiet...

"So uhh, Brother, you didn't see the short text I sent you?"

"What text?"

"Cough, where is your mobile phone?"

"I didn't bring it." Leng Qirui responded, his complexion poor.

Chapter 198: Unexpected Disaster

No one could blame her for this matter. They could only blame Leng Qirui for being too impulsive.

Chi Yang walked toward Leng Qirui with a cold expression, stretched out his hand, grabbed his neck from behind like a cat before twisting him around and walking out without any explanation. He let out a cold statement as he walked:

"Let's talk."

At the same time, Zhong Nuannuan smiled at Leng Jinpeng, her smile seemingly totally innocent.

"What's going on?" Leng Jinpeng felt that he had been completely embarrassed.

Ye Hai was about to speak when Zhong Nuannuan jumped in, "Leng Qirui confessed to me today, but I told him that I already have a boyfriend, and my boyfriend would pick me up at school. Later, he saw Big Brother Ye at the door, so was afraid that he might have misunderstood. I told him that Big Brother Ye was sent by my boyfriend and then he made up his own mind, thinking that Big Brother Ye had been sent by Uncle Leng, which probably led to him thinking that you were my boyfriend. I had explained this to him, but I replied slowly, and when the message went through, he had already lost his mobile phone as he rushed to the Campaign Department to find you."

It was originally a very irritating matter. However, after Zhong Nuannuan explained everything, Qu Mingyi could not help laughing.

Leng Jinpeng was also speechless at his firecracker son. He shook his head and simply accepted the unexpected disaster.

“Uncle Leng, are you done with your work? I’ll give you the treatment once you are done.”

“I am still getting an intravenous infusion. Do I need to pull it out first? This solution can be infused later.”

“No. I will give you acupuncture, so the infusion will not be affected.”

Leng Jinpeng nodded. “Then, sorry to trouble you.”

“Uncle Leng is most welcome.”

Zhong Nuannuan glanced at the two people in the office, her intention obvious.

Qu Mingyi was a little worried. “Nuannuan, can’t I stay here? I can help you get started if I stay here.”

“Yes, sister-in-law, I also want to stay here to help my dad,” said Ye Hai as well.

“No, all of you get out. Don’t worry, just leave Uncle Leng to me.”

“Go out. Since you invited Nuannuan, you must trust her.”

Seeing that the commander-in-chief believed in Zhong Nuannuan, Qu Mingyi nodded at Ye Hai. “Ye Hai, let’s go. We’ll head out now.”

“But I’m worried about my dad...” Ye Hai’s eyes were full of concern.

“I’m fine. If I’m not comfortable, I will call for you.”

“Let’s go.”

Qu Mingyi drove out Ye Hai, who took three steps back.

“Girl, what do I need to do? Just say it and I will cooperate.”

Only

“Uncle Leng, did you take the medicine for liver and stomach diseases as prescribed by the military base hospital?”

Leng Qirui took out a large bag of items from the drawer. “You had asked Xiaohai to tell me to not eat it yet, so I left it all untouched.”

Zhong Nuannuan carefully read each bottle of medicine. She was different from others who only looked at the prescription of when and how many to eat—she actually read the pharmacology details marked in the instructions.

The doctors prescribed Leng Jinpeng a lot of medicine, a total of 8 kinds.

After Zhong Nuannuan read them one by one, the ingredients of the 8 medicines were locked in her mind. Soon, she made her judgment. She took out several pieces of medicine from the bag and pushed the remaining items in front of Leng Jinpeng.

“Uncle Leng, don’t take these 4 medicines for now. Your liver function is not good, and every medicine will have some side effects, so it’s better to eat less. You must still take them, but only the necessary ones. ”

“Okay.” Leng Jinpeng took the four other medicines cooperatively. “Then, should I just take these four first?”

Chapter 199: I Am A Good Person

“Yeah.” Zhong Nuannuan nodded.

Leng Jinpeng swallowed the pill cooperatively.

“Let us begin the acupuncture now.”

“Alright. What should I do?”

“Uncle Leng, you just have to lie on the sofa. Leave the rest to me.”

“Alright.”

Leng Jinpeng walked to the sofa slowly and sat down. Suddenly, he asked, “You’re the one who saved that kid, Lil Rui yesterday, right?”

Zhong Nuannuan’s body froze from the unexpected question.

Leng Jinpeng was sure that his guess was correct from her reaction.

“Thank you for saving Lil Rui.”

Zhong Nuannuan could not help but rub her nose. She felt slightly miserable.

It was all Leng Qirui, the blabbermouth’s, fault.

Leng Jinpeng could read Zhong Nuannuan’s thoughts, so he immediately tried to absolve his son of any guilt. “Lil Rui is not the one who told me.”

Zhong Nuannuan raised her eyebrow.

“Lil Rui’s straightforward. He could not keep a secret. When he told me about his savior, the glimmer in his eyes was the same as when he was talking about you. That’s how I knew it was you.”

The older, the wiser, indeed.

When Leng Jinpeng saw that Zhong Nuannuan was not speaking, he asked, “Does Chi Yang know your secret?”

"I never have the chance to tell him."

Leng Jinpeng nodded. "Everyone has their own secret. Uncle Leng will definitely help you keep your secret. Lil Rui is not a blabbermouth, so you don't have to worry. However, as your senior, I hope that when it comes to Chi Yang, you can grow to trust each other since you're already engaged."

"Chi Yang was not someone who's easily touched, but if he's emotionally affected by something, the effects will last forever. It's been so long, yet you're the only one who's ever been able to affect him. I really hope that you two can be together forever."

Zhong Nuannuan understood what Leng Jinpeng meant.

How was it possible that a country bumpkin from the farming district can be a medical expert and also know how to fight so well?

However, her marriage report had already been approved and they passed their political investigation. Even the military was not able to find anything wrong with her identity, it was just able to conclude that she had an extraordinary character.

Only

Therefore, even though on the surface it looked like Leng Jinpeng was telling her how difficult it was for Chi Yang, in reality, he was actually making insinuations. If she did not have any ulterior motives, then he would help her keep the secret. However, if she had something else in mind, she would never be able to gain the commander-in-chief's approval even if their marriage report was approved.

Zhong Nuannuan was silent for a while. Then, she promised sincerely, "Uncle Leng, don't worry. I really like Chi Yang. I don't have any other intentions in doing this. Also, I'll definitely not hurt him."

"Since I've decided to be with him, I don't ever plan to leave him. My identity is not as complex and dangerous as you imagine. I just had some fortuitous meetings when I was young."

If she could not use her farming district identity anymore, she still had one more shocking identity in her pocket.

No one in the world knew about her true identity aside from the half-dead King and "Viper" who would appear six years later and killed her and Chi Yang after being instructed to do so by King. Moreover, even if they knew, she already destroyed all information about her. As a result, she was not afraid of them.

In addition to this, she was confident that she could make King and Viper vanish from the face of the earth in six years' time and avoid the calamity entirely.

Leng Jinpeng looked at Zhong Nuannuan's clear eyes and let out a sigh. "That's good. I believe Chi Yang's eyes too."

Chapter 200: Biological Father

Zhong Nuannuan smiled. "Of course. My Big Brother Chi Yang is so excellent. How can I not be excellent too?"

Leng Jinpeng laughed loudly at Zhong Nuannuan's remark.

"Uncle Leng, you should laugh more so that you can get better faster."

"Sure, I'll just listen to everything you say. Sigh, it's unfortunate that my Lil Rui doesn't have this luck. I would not give up a daughter-in-law like you even for Chi Yang."

"Uncle Leng, don't worry. Leng Qirui will definitely find someone that's suitable for him."

"That's a bit far-fetched. That kid is unreliable. I won't rely on him to find me a daughter-in-law as things stand. I just hope that he can be like you and study well. Even if he can't get into a good university, at least he can support himself and not tyrannize everyone with his family background. Nuannuan, Lil Rui and you are from the same school, so please take care of him for me. If he dares to cause trouble in school, just hit him as hard as you can."

When Zhong Nuannuan heard that she could beat Leng Jinpeng as she pleased, she was happy. She instantly nodded. "Alright! I will hit him properly."

Leng Jinpeng was alarmed. 'Why does it feel like I made a huge mistake?'

Leng Qirui chuckled. 'This was indeed his biological father!'

Zhong Nuannuan felt that she was rejoicing too much in other people's misfortune, so she cleared her throat awkwardly and said sincerely, "Uncle Leng, even if I don't interact with Leng Qirui a lot, I feel that he's a nice person deep down. He's just a bit difficult at times."

Leng Jinpeng shook his head. "You don't have to put in a good word for him. I know what he's like. Sigh, I raised both of them the same way, but I have no idea why Lil Rui turned out so different compared to Lil Hai."

"Lil Hai? Uncle Leng, do you mean Ye Hai?"

"Yeah. You've met him. He's also my son."

"He's not your biological son."

When Leng Jinpeng saw that there was disdain on Zhong Nuannuan's face, he immediately tried to put in a good word for his adopted son.

"Even if he's not my biological son, I still treat him as if he were my own flesh and blood. In our house, there's no difference in Lil Hai and Lil Rui's statuses."

"I'm sure Uncle Leng has heard the story of the farmer and the snake, right?"

Leng Jinpeng's expression froze. "Nuannuan, what do you mean by this?"

"It's nothing, but I just want to remind Uncle Leng. Even if he's really close to you, at the end of the day, he's not your biological son. It's fine if he's not venomous, but if he is, it'll be too late once he bites the person that's closest to him."

Zhong Nuannuan's hints were obvious.

Only

What she meant was, it did not matter whether Ye Hai was poisonous or not. At the end of the day, he was still a snake. In addition to that, the person that he wanted to bite was the person closest to Leng Jinpeng.

Now, the person closest to Leng Jinpeng was his only son Lil Rui.

Leng Jinpeng's pupils dilated. His eyes were filled with shock.

"The person who did that to Lil Rui was..."

Leng Jinpeng did not say it out loud because he simply could not.

"I don't know who had ordered the hit on Leng Qirui last night. However, Leng Qirui is just a student. He plays games when he has nothing to do. What kind of profound hatred would attract this kind of action?"

"The person last night intended to kill him. Worse still, this was not the first time he was targeted. Uncle Leng, even though Leng Qirui's is quite proficient in fighting, he's still not a professional. Even if he were, it'd be hard for him to defeat two people on his own. Thus, it's better for you to hire a few people you trust to protect him since you know his enemies could be in any direction. After all, he won't be so lucky every single time."
