

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 21: The Way to Ride A Car

“That... It’s okay! It’s fine! I believe that sir and sir’s fiancée didn’t do it intentionally. But... That...”

The traffic policeman took an awkward glance at the hundred-year-old tree that was damaged and continued, “I don’t know how one compensates for a damaged tree. The only thing I can do now is to record your car’s license plate number. Perhaps you could leave your phone number as well and when the compensation amount is determined, I’ll give you a call to inform you how much it is?”

3“Sure.”

Chi Yang, who had been imprinted by his fiancée earlier, was in an extremely pleasant mood. Hence, he was speaking in a good tone.

“Then, I’ll record sir’s car license plate number and your phone number.”

The traffic policeman walked to the back of the car to copy the license plate number and noticed that the Land Rover used a special license plate from the military base.

If he had seen that the car was using a special license plate from the military base earlier, he would not have acted so nastily just now.

At this moment, the traffic policeman’s gaze toward Chi Yang grew warmer.

He would soon get his hands on the phone number of the big boss of the special forces team!

1Just by thinking about it, the traffic policeman could not help but wanted to laugh out loud three times.

“Big boss!”

Just as the traffic policeman copied the license plate number and was about to write down Chi Yang’s mobile phone number, a Jeep from the military base drove up.

1The driver’s head craned out of the car’s window before he even stopped the car.

As soon as the car came to a halt, he jumped out of the vehicle. He barely closed the car door and rushed in front of Chi Yang.

He saw his boss and Zhong Nuannuan holding hands. The boss seemed to be bathing in a spring breeze, while Zhong Nuannuan was leaning against him in a timid and lovable manner. He turned back and sat back inside the car. He closed the car door, opened it once more, then came out from the car again.

12 Zhong Nuannuan hated his big boss so much, what were the odds of her standing hand in hand with the boss?

Nevertheless, when Ning Wenhao reopened the car door and went down, he stared once more...

His big boss's hand was still clasped together with Zhong Nuannuan's hand!

1 Every cloud has a silver lining, did their big boss's hard work finally paid off?

At this moment, Ning Wenhao could feel a shred of grievance in his heart. He almost wept from being moved by his boss' insistence that 'complete sincerity can affect even metal and stone'.

"Big boss! Are you alright?"

"I'm fine. It's just that the car's crashed and I'll need to compensate for this damaged tree. Give him your contact number, and just pay him whatever that should be paid."

"Alright."

Chi Yang looked at Zhong Nuannuan, his eyes and voice softened instantly and said, "Let's wait for him in the car."

Zhong Nuannuan was enjoying the bliss of interlocking her fingers with Chi Yang's and could not care less about anything else. She nodded and replied, "Okay."

Then, the two of them walked toward the jeep, hand in hand.

He opened the car's right backseat door and was about to let Zhong Nuannuan enter when he realized that Zhong Nuannuan was holding onto his right hand.

Now that he was opening the door on the right rear, if Zhong Nuannuan needed to enter, their hands that were currently holding together must be separated.

The corner of Chi Yang's eyes twitched unnoticeably.

1It was a miscalculation on his part, as he did not properly compute the method of opening the car door.

6Zhong Nuannuan saw the car door open and did not think much of it as she leaned her head into it.

However ——

Bang!

The car door was suddenly slammed shut, with the edge of the door almost hitting her on the face.

Fortunately, Chi Yang's hand was quick. Otherwise, her face would have been slammed swollen today.

Unaware of what was going on, Zhong Nuannuan felt somewhat stupefied by this person who opened the car door but slammed it shut again.

Almost immediately, she was pulled to walk around the back of the car by Chi Yang. They reached the left rear seat of the car, and she watched him opening the car door once more.

“Get in.”

2

Chapter 22: Starting Afresh

She gave Chi Yang an inexplicable glance before getting inside the car, not understanding what was the difference of getting in from the left side or the right.

As she was pulling her hand away, she felt a surge of force in the area where their fingers intertwined. It was clasping her fingers tightly to prevent her from pulling away.

Zhong Nuannuan was startled for a moment as she turned and looked at their interlocked hands.

At that particular moment, Chi Yang seized the chance to get into the car and snuggled close to her, before closing the door with his free left hand.

“...!!!”

It was at that moment, Zhong Nuannuan finally understood.

It turned out that this man was unwilling to let go of the hand that she took the initiative to hold. So, he changed the method of entering the car.

She wanted to laugh but felt stifled in her heart as well.

Was he afraid that if she took her hand away, she would no longer take the initiative to hold hands with him again?

How terrified was he to lose her, that he was so reluctant to let go of her hand?

Ning Wenhao's attention was fixated on his boss whilst he dealt with the traffic accident. He felt his eyeballs were about to pop out.

His boss...

Did a great job!!!

1He efficiently handled the accident matter and waited for someone from the insurance company to tow away the Land Rover. After that, Ning Wenhao got back inside the car.

Zhong Nuannuan was talking in the car, and once Ning Wenhao came in, she stopped.

Ning Wenhao felt that he was a superior leveled light bulb. (TN: A light bulb is slang for an unwanted third wheel.)

"This is my brother Ning Wenhao, and also my subordinate. If you can't find me in the future, you can look for him."

"Hello, sister-in-law! We'll be family in the future, so if you need any help, just let me know."

Initially, all the brothers were not fond of Zhong Nuannuan. Owing to her unpleasant attitude toward their boss, and that was enough for them to be rubbed the wrong way.

2But now that she was able to take good care of his boss' state of mind and made him so happy, Ning Wenhao's mood turned good and he treated Zhong Nuannuan warmly.

Zhong Nuannuan was slightly stunned by Ning Wenhao's reaction.

For the past six years in her last life that she was with Chi Yang, she and Ning Wenhao never had a proper conversation.

Every time Ning Wenhao saw her, he would always give her a disgusted look as if she was unpleasant to the eyes. Hence, she never bothered anything about him.

She would never have guessed that in this lifetime, he would be this enthusiastic to her during their first encounter.

Zhong Nuannuan knew who Ning Wenhao was. One should not look at him as a mere subordinate of Chi Yang; his identity was, in fact, not that simple.

He was the eldest grandson of the Ning family, one of the Four Dominant Families in the Emperor District. He could have been one of those adequate and overbearing presidents, but he worshipped Chi Yang from an early age and joined the military with him. Wherever Chi Yang battled, he followed suit. He had also received numerous military achievements and should have been first lieutenant by now.

It was said that Chi Yang had saved Ning Wenhao's life before. Since then, Ning Wenhao had been faithful and loyal to Chi Yang and regarded his life to be more important than his own life.

Looking at Ning Wenhao giving her a friendly smile with his dashing face, Zhong Nuannuan smiled at him as well and replied, "Yes, we're family now, so I won't be polite. Next time, if you need anything from me, don't hold yourself back as well."

"Hahaha, alright, alright. I certainly won't hold myself back."

Even if she said it, Ning Wenhao did not feel that he would need any help from Zhong Nuannuan. He only hoped for Zhong Nuannuan to treat his big boss well and stay dedicated to him. That was enough to satisfy him. However, he did not expect to receive such a promise from Zhong Nuannuan today that would greatly benefit him and his family in the future.

2Seeing his wife showing such a good-looking smile to another man, Chi Yang felt jealous in his heart. He said with a gloomy expression, "Drive your car."

Ning Wenhao laughed, "Alright, big boss. Where are we heading to?"

"Zhong Family's house."

"Okay."

Chapter 23: Going Home

As the car traveled steadily on the road, Chi Yang continued the conversation he had earlier with Zhong Nuannuan. "There's something up with this Wang Prison Guard fellow. I'll send someone to investigate her, but this is just one aspect.

The most important part was that someone's out to harm you. We must sniff out the person behind all this, or else there will always be a viper snake lying dormant behind you."

Viper snake? They would act precisely like a viper snake, right?

In her past life, she was like a farmer that attempted to warm up a viper snake. However, what awaited her ultimately was the ferocious bite of a poisonous viper.

She did not plan to let Chi Yang worry for her about these trivial matters. She would personally take revenge for the hatred she had faced in her past life.

2Under Chi Yang's attentive and deep stare, Zhong Nuannuan shook her head and replied, "They're all trivial matters. No one will dare to treat me wrong if I have such a powerful fiancé by my side."

"Yeah."

He could tell that she was unwilling to say anything further, so Chi Yang did not ask more. Still, he felt concerned in his heart. He would never allow any hidden danger to linger around near his wife.

He had only but one wife, no one would be allowed to bully her. Anybody who had any ulterior motives to his wife would be Chi Yang's enemy in life and death.

"Are you cold?" After ending the topic, Chi Yang tried to start another topic.

"..." Zhong Nuannuan was silent.

Did he fail to notice that her hand was sweating from holding onto his?

However, due to the eager stare from the other party, she could not help but replied, "I'm not cold, how about you?"

Even though he felt as if the blood in his body was boiling and about to combust, Chi Yang, however, kept a solemn expression as he replied very gently, "I'm not cold too."

...

After a moment of silence, Chi Yang found another topic to discuss.

"Then, are you feeling hot?"

"..." Zhong Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang. She giggled before saying, "It's not hot. I think the temperature's just right. How about you?"

Chi Yang, who had fine beads of sweat on the top of his nose, stayed solemn as before. He replied, "I think it's just right, too."

2Ning Wenhao felt like a mouthful of dog food had been shoved into his mouth. (TN: Being fed dog food is a Chinese slang for mocking public display of affection.) All these sappy and cliché words of love caused him to accidentally swerve the car in an S shape.

1Did this soft and gentle voice that could be mistaken as still water really belonged to the boss?

Thud!

A military boot kicked the front driver's seat forcefully, a cold voice was heard, "Drive carefully!"

Ning Wenhao, "...!!!"

As expected, brothers were like one's limbs, but women were like apparels.

2However, a lot of people in the world lacked arms and legs, and how many people out there were not dressed?

4Henceforth, to prevent his ears from being poisoned, Ning Wenhao had to automatically screen out the conversations the two persons were having on the back seat. He safely drove the car to the Zhong Family's house.

1The Zhong Family's house was located in the famous, wealthy villa area of Jiang District, in the Left Bank Town of Long Rich Road.

Jiang Shuwan's older brother Jiang Hanlin was the president of Cloud Group, and the true helmsman for the group was Zhong Kuijun. People from the military base were forbidden to participate in business trading; as such, on the surface, Jiang Shuwan owned 30% of Cloud Group's shares as a way to pull the wool over the public's eyes. It also explained why the Zhong Family was able to live a prosperous life openly.

The car slowly entered the villa area, and after going through a windy road, they finally stopped in front of the area's most luxurious three-story villa.

Upon hearing the sound of a vehicle driving in, Zhong Qianqian trotted out from the house.

"Brother Chi Yang!"

Chapter 24: On What Grounds?

By now, she had changed out of the white casual clothes she wore when she went to the detention center, and she was now wearing a gorgeous red dress.

She matched it with a pair of red high heels and wore light makeup. She looked garish and beautiful.

2She ran out of the house ecstatically and saw a Jeep from the military base instead of the Land Rover frequently drove by Chi Yang. Zhong Qianqian's brows could not help but frown slightly.

The car stopped, and the back door opened. The first thing that came into view was Chi Yang's long, slender leg that was dressed in military pants and boots.

If not for him joining the military, that body figure of his in the modeling world would have made him the supermodel amongst supermodels.

Even if it was just a single leg, Zhong Qianqian could make out a flavor of dangerous seduction from it.

How could she give up such an excellent man that could make people wanting to throw themselves on him just by looking at one of his thighs?

Moreover, she had to give him up for that country bumpkin from the farming district.

On what grounds?

In the blink of an eye, Zhong Qianqian had forgotten Chi Yang's threat and the embarrassment she had experienced earlier. She put on a bright and charming smile and ran toward the jeep akin to a beautiful butterfly.

1At this moment, only Chi Yang's head was out, and he had not fully stepped out of the car just yet. Zhong Qianqian asked a little too eagerly, "Big Brother Chi Yang, why did you arrive so late? Where's your car? Why didn't you drive your car here? Did you meet with a traffic accident on the way? Big Brother Chi Yang, were you injured?"

Chi Yang ignored her, he quickly turned around after he got out of the car. He was holding something in his hand when Zhong Qianqian continued, "Big Brother Chi Yang, are you taking something out? I'll help take it out for you!"

As soon as she finished speaking, she reached into the car door without hesitation.

Upon reaching in, she touched a hairy object and quickly retracted her hand.

Zhong Qianqian's eyes lit up after considering what the furry thing could be. "Woah, is it a puppy? I like puppies the most! Big Brother Chi Yang, did you buy it for me?"

8Zhong Qianqian's face turned red in excitement thinking that Chi Yang must have felt bad for crossing the line with the merciless words he said to her earlier and hence bought a puppy for her.

5His lady was called a dog. Chi Yang's body halted slightly as he glared at Zhong Qianqian.

The strong, warning look in his eyes had a tinge of rage within. Zhong Qianqian's body could not help but retreated a few steps back due to fear.

The anticipated puppy did not appear; instead what came to view was a perfect-looking head shape with the hair styled in a bun, and Zhong Nuannuan's bewitchingly and charming face that was naturally seductive to men.

1

Chapter 25: Utterly Scrunched Up

Zhong Qianqian, "..."

That was no puppy! The furry thing Big Brother Chi Yang was holding turned out to be Zhong Nuannuan!

1The relationship between Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan was so good that they were already holding hands!

Zhong Qianqian looked like she was about to spit fire with her eyes. She was itching to rush over and nip off Zhong Nuannuan's fingers with a pair of tongs.

1Zhong Nuannuan stepped out of the car. She was dressed in white casual clothes and had a cute bun on top of her head, making her look like the epitome of adorable. She also had hints of the same captivating charm that you'd find in a young lady.

Zhong Qianqian had changed into a set of bright red clothes that made her look like a semi-matured woman. She also had gorgeous make-up on to enhance her delicate features. She had on a pair of high heels that were eight centimeters tall, and only then was she able to be of the same height as Zhong Nuannuan.

2The two sisters stood together, one wearing white while the other was in red. One had heavy make-up on, and one was bare-faced. One was wearing a pair of heels, one had flat shoes on. Whoever were to look at them now, only three words could be said about Zhong Qianqian's expression – utterly scrunched up.

“Big sis, even if Chi Yang bought a dog, it would be for me.”

Zhong Qianqian was furious and dumbfounded by Zhong Nuannuan's ruthless words.

Was this the same little sister who had always placed family first before anything else? Was she the same sister as the one who would have chosen to lead a life without a man than to be sad in a relationship?

Zhong Qianqian stared blankly toward Zhong Nuannuan and momentarily forgot to give a response.

How did Zhuang Nuannuan change completely after being gone for just a month? Not only was she suddenly interested in the same Chi Yang whom she used to loathe, but the kindness she previously had was totally gone as well.

Zhong Nuannuan gave Chi Yang a broad smile. “Let's go in,” she said.

“Yeah.”

To Chi Yang, whatever Zhong Nuannuan said was right, and he would simply follow along to her words. He nodded, and the two held hands as they walked in.

“Cough, cough... That... Big boss....” What about him?

Ning Wenhao quickly stretched his head out. It was already evening time, and he wanted to stay for a free meal as well.

“Return to the military base,” said Chi Yang.

2Ning Wenhao, “...”

Looking at big boss' and big sister-in-law's backs from behind as they walked together, Ning Wenhao once again felt the actual weight of the word 'brothers' in the boss' heart.

Suddenly, Chi Yang stopped and turned to look at Ning Wenhao.

Ning Wenhao's eyes brightened up. His shining eyes were particularly dazzling against the setting sun. He had one hand placed on the door handle, awaiting Chi Yang's order to tell him to go straight for the free meal.

1“Leave the car behind.”

6This time, Chi Yang held on to Zhong Nuannuan's hand and walked all the way in without turning around for a second time.

Ning Wenhao, "..."

Ning Wenhao felt a wailing coldness in his heart upon seeing his big boss abandoning a brother after having a wife.

Seeing Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan's fingers intertwining together and their loving gaze toward one another, Zhong Qianqian felt like her heart was about to die from irritation.

Back then, Chi Yang did not have an interest in her. If Zhong Nuannuan did not take the initiative to let go of him, did that not mean the probability between her and Chi Yang had become zero?

8Zhong Qianqian felt a strong sense of uneasiness at this moment.

When Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan were going up the steps to enter the door, Zhong Qianqian had no other choice but to diminish the fire inside of her. She had to repeatedly convince herself with Jiang Shuwan's words of comfort from this afternoon. She told Qianqian that if she really wanted Chi Yang, then the only way was for Zhong Nuannuan to take the initiative to let him go and for her to treat her big sister the way she used to.

Before trying to win over Chi Yang, she had to make Zhong Nuannuan return back to her previous self — the little sister who would listen to her no matter what she said. The same sister who would let her have whatever she wanted.

She once came up with a way to make Zhong Nuannuan dislike Chi Yang and give up on him. Even after she killed someone, she could persuade Zhong Nuannuan to plead guilty in her stead. Now, she's certain she can still convince Zhong Nuannuan to return to her side and become that person who was willing to be at her mercy no matter the circumstance.

After having that thought, Zhong Qianqian forced her flame to die down. She calmed her slightly trembling body and let out a forced smile before running toward Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan.