

Physician Wife 2121

Chapter 2121: You Deserve It

Fang Lanxin's daughter, Carol, rushed up angrily to Su Fei and slapped her.

"Su Fei, you ingrate! My mother is so good to you, yet you dare to slander her! You..."

Abel did not want to see the Shipley family quarrel any more, so he interrupted them. "Take Kerlow's wife away too!"

Fang Lanxin's eyes widened. "W-why do you want to arrest me now?"

"Didn't your niece Su Fei just tell us why? She said that you introduced the mercenary website to her. I don't think she's lying. Without your support, these girls would never be bold enough to make a move like this in Luntan. So, you should come with us!"

When the handcuffs were put on Fang Lanxin's wrists, Adrian's expression darkened.

"Kerlow, save me! Save me!" Fang Lanxin's eyes were filled with desperation.

"Don't worry! I'll save you!" Kerlow and Fang Lanxin had always loved each other. He glared at Su Fei angrily.

He looked like he was looking at an irreconcilable enemy.

Su Fei's heart skipped a beat.

She thought that the Shipley family would do their best to save her. When she saw her doting uncle and her aunt's three children looking at her with hatred in their eyes, she was overcome with fear.

She... What had she just done?

They used to like her because she was Fang Lanxin's niece. However, now that she had been so insistent on Fang Lanxin getting arrested, they not only stopped loving her, they even hated her.

What should she do now?

"Uncle, save me! Uncle, save me too!"

Kerlow looked at Su Fei angrily. Before he could say anything, his eldest son, Adam, interjected. "Su Fei, you b*tch! My mother was so good to you, yet you hurt her like this. You put my mother in prison, and you still expect us to save you? Su Fei, our Shipley family will cut ties with your Su family from this moment onward! I'll get my father to hire the best lawyer and put you in prison for the longest time possible!"

Su Fei, "...!!!"

Fang Lanxin's second son, Adel, sneered and said, "Brother, I think we can save on the money hiring a lawyer. Since this idiot wanted to kill Miss Sunny, Duke Eton's legal team will definitely make her regret her entire existence."

Su Fei,” ...!!!”

“Hahahahaha... Su Fei, you deserve this! You vicious woman! It wasn’t enough to harm me, so you harmed your closest aunt! Don’t you know whose territory you’re in now?! I’ll definitely tell the judge the truth about you instigating me! Since I have to go to jail, you, my good sister, will have to accompany me!” Xu Yunyun, who was still crying, smiled wickedly at Su Fei’s bad luck.

Officer Abel was exhausted after dealing with such havoc. After arresting three people, he called it a day.

The next morning, Wu Pingting got up early for breakfast and heard the good news about Xu Yunyun and Su Fei’s arrest. She was so happy that she praised her idol, Nuannuan.

Nuannuan ate her breakfast with a smile on her face while Chi Yang helped her with the dishes.

The breakfast prepared by the Duke’s residence was a spread of Nangong Nuannuan’s favorites. Duke Eton knew Nangong Nuannuan’s preferences and taste, so his usually simple breakfast had become exceptionally scrumptious today thanks to his many guests. There was Chinese and Western food at the table, and it was all delicious!

Chapter 2122: Marquis Shipley’s Visit

Nuannuan ate the food that Chi Yang put on her plate. She also reached out her chopsticks and put food on his plate while Duke Eton looked at her with eager eyes.

Finally, Nuannuan came back to her senses and looked at her father, who was begging for food. Nuannuan gave him some too.

Meanwhile, the three Wu siblings happily ate their own food.

“Mr. Duke, Marquis Shipley requests your presence. He had also brought many gifts to ask for the young lady’s forgiveness.”

Everyone was happily eating when Charles walked in and reported the news in a respectful tone.

Duke Eton looked at Nuannuan and asked, “Sunny, Adrian is here. Do you want to see him?”

Adrian had met her a few times before. He was not a bad person. He was very sensible and did not hate her. Luntanese politics were more complicated than Caminoan. In addition to that, she was not in Luntan all year round. She did not want to make too many enemies for her father whom she could not keep up with, so she nodded. “Since he’s come to apologize in person, let’s hear what he has to say.”

“Call him in,” Duke Eton instructed.

“Yes.”

Charles brought Adrian into the Duke’s mansion. However, since everyone had not finished their breakfast yet, he waited for them in the living room.

After dinner, Nangong Nuannuan held Chi Yang's arm and followed Duke Eton into the living room, chatting and laughing.

Adrian had been waiting in the living room for more than half an hour.

However, he considered himself lucky enough to have been let in in the first place.

This newfound enemy was someone even the royal family did not want to provoke.

"Good morning, Duke Eton, Miss Sunny!"

Duke Eton was still angry that this old man had dared to try to kill his Sunny, so he lost his easygoing temper and ignored Adrian as he greeted him.

Nangong Nuannuan, on the other hand, held onto Chi Yang's arm and smiled slightly. "Good morning, Marquis Shipley!"

Adrian looked at the man Nangong Nuannuan was holding. He had heard a little bit about Chi Yang, so he knew that this young man's development in Camino seemed limitless. Adrian was full of envy.

He used to think about introducing Adolf's eldest son to Sunny.

After all, everyone in Luntan knew that Sunny was a walking money machine. Whoever could get her would instantly become the richest person in Luntan.

Fortunately, this opportunity had been taken by Camino's general, or who knew how much bloodshed there would have been in Luntan?

Adrian gave Nangong Nuannuan 90-degree bow. After he bowed, he kept his head lowered.

"Miss Sunny, the people from the police department have already come to my Shipley family to inform me about yesterday's incident in detail. Su Fei is my second daughter-in-law, Fang Lanxin's, niece, and Xu Yunyun is her cousin. Fang Lanxin told us that Su Fei wanted to come to Luntan for a vacation, so we initially welcomed her. After all, Fang Lanxin has been in our family for 25 years after her marriage and has never ever tarnished the name of the family. So I readily agreed to Su Fei's request.

"Miss Sunny, I was wrong! I didn't understand what Su Fei and Xu Yunyun truly wanted, so I took them in. Later on, these two secretly used the Shipley family's powers to assassinate you. Yesterday, the police arrested Xu Yunyun and Su Fei, the two instigators. The Shipley family agrees with their punishment!

"However, the harm has already been done..."

Chapter 2123: Apology Gift

"These two people have already tarnished the Shipley family's reputation. No matter what I say, there's no way to apologize completely for what happened to Miss Sunny. But either way, today, I brought a gift with me."

After saying that, Adrian gave Adolf a look. Adolf immediately handed the contract he was holding to Adrian, who then handed it to Nangong Nuannuan with both hands.

Nangong Nuannuan took the contract and flipped through it. Adrian quickly said, "I know Duke Eton enjoys the wine business. This is a wine manor under my name. It covers a thousand hectares and is located on the outskirts of City L. This is the best location under my name and the second largest wine manor in Luntan. There are 200 workers in charge of managing it, but if Duke Eton doesn't like them, I can withdraw them. Miss Sunny, this is a token of my apologies. I hope you can forgive my Shipley family's unintentional mistake."

As soon as Adrian finished speaking, Kerlow, who was standing beside Adolf, immediately walked forward and bowed 90 degrees to Nangong Nuannuan too. "Miss Sunny, I'm sorry."

This was what his father had fed him. His father would say everything, and he only needed to bow and say sorry to Miss Sunny after him.

It had to be said that Adrian was a very good person.

An ordinary person would have definitely apologized to Duke Eton first. However, he knew that Duke Eton doted on Nangong Nuannuan, so rather than apologizing to Duke Eton, it was better to apologize to Nangong Nuannuan directly. He also knew that the richest person in Luntan was not actually Duke Eton, but Nangong Nuannuan. This young miss would not care about a mere wine manor, but he had given her a gift... that Duke Eton would want.

This way, Duke Eton would forgive him on account of him apologizing to Nangong Nuannuan, and Nangong Nuannuan would forgive him on account of him giving Duke Eton a gift.

Only when Duke Eton and Nangong Nuannuan's anger subsided could this matter be considered settled.

Otherwise, if either of them was still angry, the Shipley family would have to face a bloody storm.

When Adrian said that he wanted to give this manor away as a gift, Nangong Nuannuan saw her father's eyes brighten.

The Shipley family had made their fortune in wine. Compared to Duke Eton, who had only started to enjoy wine in the past two years, the Shipley family could be said to be a juggernaut in the wine industry.

Nangong Nuannuan signed the contract and said, "To think that Marquis Shipley brought your two sons here to personally apologize. I accept this apology! But please keep an eye on your family in the future, and don't let a situation like this happen ever again."

Adrian was very happy to hear Nangong Nuannuan accept his apology. He quickly said, "Thank you, Miss Sunny! Thank you so much for forgiving us! Don't worry. Nothing like this will ever happen again."

Nangong Nuannuan nodded. "Alright. I think we can trust Marquis Shipley's word."

After all, Su Fei and Xu Yunyun had only dared to do such a thing because they did not know about her status in Luntan. However, Adrian and the others all knew about it. After all, she had long gotten everyone in Luntan under her boot. Those who had once liked to go to Duke Eton's mansion were not around anymore.

He was not foolish enough to go against a daughter-in-law whose family did not even need a title.

Chapter 2124: The Mother of My Three Children

"Okay," Nangong Nuannuan nodded and simply said.

Adrian happily said to Duke Eton and Nangong Nuannuan, "Duke Eton, Miss Sunny, I specially came here today so I could apologize to you two at the first opportunity I could. Since you've already forgiven us, I won't disturb you anymore. Duke Eton, Miss Sunny, I will take my leave now."

"Charles, send Marquis Shipley out."

"Yes."

Duke Eton had only said one sentence from the beginning to the end of this entire exchange. He had not given Marquis Shipley any face. However, Adrian Shipley knew that he had already received the best answer possible, so he left with his eldest son, Adolf, and his youngest son, Kerlow.

"Dad, since they've forgiven us, why don't you ask them to let Xin go?"

Kerlow only dared to ask that question after they walked out of the Duke's residence.

Adrian glared fiercely at his son and asked, "Since you were there just now, why didn't you mention it to them?"

Kerlow had a bitter look on his face.

"Me mentioning that... I'm nobody! How could I mention that to Miss Sunny? Even if I did, she wouldn't listen to me."

Adrian sneered. "Do you think she thinks much better of me? Will she let Fang Lanxin go just because I asked her to? Even if Fang Lanxin knew about Nangong Nuannuan, her support for her niece attacking the eldest daughter of the Nangong family in Camino has hurt our family. Therefore, whether Fang Lanxin is released or not depends on how the judge feels. If she is really found guilty, you'll divorce her. All these years, our family treated her well, but she never cared about our glory. Even if nothing happens this time, something will definitely happen again in the future."

"B-but she's still... the mother of my three children!" Kerlow could not help but speak up for Fang Lanxin.

"You know that Miss Sunny is willing to let this matter go right now. If we ask for anything more from her, like to get Fang Lanxin out, if we anger Miss Sunny or Duke Eton, our Shipley family will lose even more. I've already used a winery to help you settle this matter. Don't ask for more."

Kerlow still wanted to say something, but Sunny's fierce reputation was known everywhere. He knew that it was already very good that his father had been able to protect the Shipley family. He did not have much hope to get extra benefits.

If the court really decided that Fang Lanxin was guilty and wanted to sentence her, the Shipley family would not be able to stand by her anymore.

Su Fei was the hateful one. She had ruined a perfectly happy family.

Back in the Duke's mansion, Nangong Nuannuan had a gentle look on her face. She did not look proud at all about what had just happened with the Marquis. The three Wu siblings were flabbergasted by what they saw.

Duke Eton had his usual good-natured and gentlemanly look on his face again. He did not look as cold and aloof as he had when Marquis Shipley was over just now.

"Pingting, do you plan to see Xu Yunyun?"

Wu Pingting's eyes lit up. "Can I?"

"Of course you can. If you want to, I can contact Luntan police right now and give you a chance to see her."

"Yeah. I wanna see her!"

Nangong Nuannuan nodded. "Do you want to see her now, or do you want to see the palace first?"

"She's already been arrested, anyway. It doesn't matter when we go see her. Let's go to the palace to look around first!"

Knowing that Xu Yunyun had been arrested, Wu Pingting's heart was completely at peace. She completely let go of this matter.

Chapter 2125: The Most Precious Girl to the Royal Family

Who had not met a few scumbags when they were younger?

Seeing that her enemy's fate was now much worse than hers, Xu Yunyun basically disappeared from Wu Pingting's heart.

"Okay." Nangong Nuannuan doted on Wu Pingting very much. She said that she wanted go to the imperial palace first, so Nangong Nuannuan immediately made arrangements.

It was the three Wu siblings' and Chi Yang's first time visiting Luntan's imperial palace.

Empress Sophie received a call from her brother. She knew that Nangong Nuannuan was coming, so she immediately ordered her people to make arrangements.

When the Duke's carriage arrived at the entrance of the palace, the tall and handsome guards outside opened the gates and let them in.

After they entered, the carriage stopped in front of two white carriages.

Nangong Nuannuan smiled and said to the Wu siblings, "Get off. Let's take these into the palace for a stroll."

The Wu siblings thought that the palace was definitely much bigger and more beautiful than Duke Eton's mansion. However, as Duke Eton and Nangong Nuannuan personally accompanied them and Chi Yang for a tour around the palace, everyone thought...

"Nuannuan, why do I feel like the palace isn't as beautiful as the Duke's mansion?"

Wu Pingting could not hold her question in any longer. She had already risen to three 'scenic spots' on the royal palace's grounds in her carriage.

Sze Lingyun nodded and said, "I also think the Duke's mansion is more beautiful."

Duke Eton smiled and said, "The Duke's mansion is more romantically-decorated and aesthetically pleasing on the exterior. Even though the scenery outside the royal palace isn't as beautiful as it is back at my place, the interior of the palace is a treasure that's been passed down in Luntan culture for hundreds of years. The murals, statues, and buildings within the palace are incomparable to the Duke's residence!"

Nangong Nuannuan smiled and said, "That's right. Luntan's palace is a cultural heritage site, while the Duke's residence was designed and built according to my preferences."

After hearing Duke Eton and Nangong Nuannuan, the Wu siblings began to appreciate the palace's beauty from another angle.

After touring the outside, Duke Eton personally brought Nuannuan's friends to tour the interior of the palace. He could tell the story behind almost every giant painting in the palace. Forget about the three Wu siblings... even Chi Yang listened with great rapture. Although his facial expressions never changed from beginning to end, Nuannuan could tell that Big Brother Chi Yang was very interested in this art.

Nuannuan was happy to know that this vacation had not been a complete bust for Big Brother Chi Yang.

Duke Eton accompanied the group for a full two hours, explaining all the cultural decorations in the palace to Chi Yang and the Wu siblings one by one.

The Wu siblings felt very honored having the Duke personally accompany them as a tour guide.

"Inside is the inner hall. My sister, Empress Sophie, is already waiting for you there."

Then Duke Eton smiled at Chi Yang and said, "Chi Yang, your girl is the most precious girl to the royal family of Luntan! If Empress Sophie is a little harsh on you later, please bear with her!"

Chi Yang was about to speak, but the little princess who was so protective of him said first, "Since Aunt loves me so much, she definitely won't make things difficult for my Big Brother Chi Yang."

Duke Eton was amused by Nangong Nuannuan and laughed out loud. He only said, "I hope so."

The moment the door to the inner hall opened, everyone's eyes lit up.

The Empress, the Empress's husband, and their two princes, who were often in the news, were revealed.

Chapter 2126: The Cute Lil Yang?!

The empress could not hide the smile on her face when she saw Nangong Nuannuan. Before Nuannuan could even say anything, the empress stepped forward with her family and hugged her.

Nangong Nuannuan smiled and hugged the Empress back.

"You've grown up and become even more beautiful, my girl."

Nangong Nuannuan smiled and said, "I've always been this beautiful."

The prince beside her also smiled and said, "That's right, Mom! I also think Sunny's always been this beautiful."

The prince's words made everyone laugh.

"Aunt, Uncle, Antonio, Amos." Nangong Nuannuan slipped out from the Empress's embrace and greeted everyone.

"Sunny, long time no see!" Her uncle, the Empress's husband, Armand, greeted her with a smile.

"Sunny, this is your fiancé, Chi Yang, right?" The first prince, Antonio, looked at Chi Yang with the gaze of one brother-in-law eyeing up another brother-in-law.

"Yes." Nangong Nuannuan reached out and held her Big Brother Chi Yang's arm. "This is my Big Brother Chi Yang, Big Brother Chi Yang, this is Her Majesty the Empress, this is her husband, this is First Prince Antonio, and this is Second Prince Amos."

Facing Nuannuan's elders, Chi Yang naturally felt much smaller than usual. He greeted the empress and her family very politely, "Hello, Aunt, Uncle, Big Brother, and Second Brother, hello."

“Hello, Lil Yang!”

Chi Yang’s greeting pleased the empress and her family. The Empress initially wanted to call him Lieutenant General Chi, but seeing how warm he was, she called him Lil Yang instead. After all, this was Nuannuan’s husband, so she would have to call him something sweet.

Hearing the address ‘Lil Yang’, Chi Yang’s expression, which was usually very stony, changed a little. Nuannuan could not help but want to burst out into laughter at the sight, but she stopped herself and choked instead.

“What’s wrong, Sunny? Should I... Should I not call him Lil Yang?” Empress Sophie quickly calmed Nuannuan down.

Her whole family looked at Nuannuan blankly.

What could Nuannuan say? Could she say that her tough Big Brother Chi Yang being called Lil Yang was hilarious to her?

She could not say such a thing!

Nuannuan calmed herself down and said with a smile, “Aunt, it’s nothing, really nothing. Just call him Lil Yang. It’s very cute!”

Chi Yang, “...”

“Okay, okay, okay! Then I’ll continue to call him Lil Yang! Calling him Lieutenant General Chi is too stuffy!” Empress Sophie was extremely satisfied with Chi Yang’s new name.

If Chi Yang were to marry Sunny in the future, when he grew up and became the highest-ranking military officer, Camino and Luntan’s relationship would definitely improve.

This was a good thing that would benefit both sides. Therefore, Her Majesty had a strange sense of a mother-in-law looking at her son-in-law. The more she looked at him, the more satisfied she felt.

After all, Eton’s wife had passed away many years ago. She had been taking care of her younger brother all these years and playing the role of Sunny’s mother, even though Sunny had always been strong and always helped her. Their relationship with Sunny had developed over the years and was no longer that of ordinary foster parents and their adopted children.

Thus, even though Sunny and Selena were not Eton’s daughters, she still pushed aside any objections and added their names to the royal family tree.

After greeting Chi Yang, Empress Sophie turned to the Wu siblings and asked, “Are these your friends?”

Chapter 2127: Amisha?Called

Nangong Nuannuan nodded and solemnly introduced her friends to the empress.

When she found out that these three were from the Wu family of Sea District, the Empress told them with great interest that the royal family of Luntan had set up XXX enterprise in Sea District, so if there was a good opportunity, they hoped to be able to cooperate with the Wu family.

Only then did the Wu siblings learn that that specific famous foreign-funded enterprise in Sea District was actually under the Empress of Luntan. They immediately made the decision on the behalf of the Wu group to agree to future cooperation.

“Nuannuan said that you all are very interested in the Royal Palace’s heritage. I got someone to prepare the guest rooms yesterday. I’ll get someone now to bring you up to have a look. You can rest for a while and then prepare to have lunch.”

The Wu siblings did not expect Her Majesty the Empress to know that they wanted to come here to take photos. They felt a little embarrassed, but they still thanked Nuannuan for this VIP experience of the Royal Palace.

After thanking Her Majesty the Empress for her thoughtful arrangements, the three Wu siblings were personally brought to the guest room by the head servant.

Because they were Nuannuan’s friends, the three Wu siblings’ rooms were not too far from Nuannuan’s.

As for Chi Yang, Her Majesty the Empress did not treat him like an outsider at all.

“Sunny, I heard that the daughter-in-law of the Shipley family sent people to assassinate you yesterday?”

Even though the Shipley family was not a royal family, they were still nobles. Therefore, Empress Sophie had waited for the Wu siblings to leave before she asked.

“Aunt, who told you that?”

Empress Sophie was stunned and looked at her husband, Armand.

Armand said, “Amisha?called and told me about this last night.”

Empress Sophie and her husband, Armand Walker, had a very good relationship. The Walker family was also a hereditary Marquisdom family. Armand was supposed to be the head of the new generation and inherit his father’s hereditary title to become a marquis, but he gave up the right to inherit because he and Empress Sophie were in love. The gave the role to his younger brother, Arthur Walker, instead.

Nangong Nuannuan did not like Marquis Arthur?very much.

He had two children, a son and a daughter. The son was named Austin Walker, and he was a lunatic who liked to pester everyone. His daughter was the one who had called her uncle and told him that the Shipley family wanted to kill Nuannuan. She was Amisha Walker.

Amisha was a very ambitious woman. When Empress Sophie did not succeed the throne, the eldest son of the old king, Gilbert, was the most promising candidate for the next king. Thus, Amisha married his son, Franklin.

She thought that Gilbert would become king, so she would become the princess consort if she married Franklin. Who could have guessed that the old king would prefer the gentle, intelligent, and resolute Sophie, and wrote in his will to make Sophie the queen instead?

Gilbert and Sophie had a very good relationship, but with Amisha's meddling, Gilbert slowly started to hate Sophie. He had even wanted to kill Sophie several times. If not for Nangong Nuannuan, Sophie and Armand would have already been killed.

Sophie never killed Gilbert in revenge. She spared his life. She did not announce his crimes to the public.

However, even though Gilbert was still a duke, he was watched by the royal guards. Without Empress Sophie's consent, he could not even step out of the duke's residence.

Amisha had a very good relationship with Franklin.

Chapter 2128: They Sure Like to Dream

However, because Gilbert's power was gone, Amisha did not hesitate to divorce Franklin and return to the marquidom to be an independent lady.

Nangong Nuannuan frowned. "Uncle, didn't I specifically tell you to stay away from Amisha before I left?"

Empress Sophie also said somewhat speechlessly, "I also told him that, but you know that his relationship with his brother has always been very good. His brother only has two children, Amisha and Austin. Now that he wants us to arrange good marriages for them, it's not fair to refuse."

Nangong Nuannuan did not care who the other party was. She sneered and said, "They sure like to dream! Even after all they've done, they're still thinking about asking you, Uncle, to help arrange their marriages! Did they conveniently forget that you were blood when they tried to kill you and Aunt?"

Nangong Nuannuan's words made Armand feel a little embarrassed, but she was right.

Even though they never directly investigated for evidence of Amisha's attack on Empress Sophie, Gilbert said that he had attacked Sophie because Amisha brainwashed him.

Armand was still in contact her after that?! Nangong Nuannuan was pissed.

To be honest, even if not for Empress Sophie's bold personality, Armand would never hurt his niece.

He was a kind man. He was someone who could forget about past grudges and even repay them with kindness.

It was not that Nuannuan was evil, but she had always felt that it was important to be wary of others. If they wanted to kill you, and you still helped them after they apologized and pretended to be pitiful, then you were letting the people closest to you get hurt. That was infuriating!

"Sunny, that ship has already sailed. Amisha has learned her lesson, and now, she..."

“What lesson has she learned? Why do I think she hasn’t learned anything at all? Gilbert and Franklin might’ve learned their lessons, but what lesson has she learned? She merely divorced Franklin, but she is still the eldest daughter of Marquis Walker’s estate!” Nangong Nuannuan did not want to give her uncle any face anymore. She did not even let him finish his words before she retorted.

Chi Yang sat at the side and watched Nuannuan talk to her uncle rudely. He did have any intention of stopping her.

He knew his wife best. She would never talk to anyone like this unless she saw them as family. After all, Nuannuan had always taken a nonchalant attitude toward those who did not matter to her.

Queen Sophie and Duke Eton did not say anything as they listened to Nuannuan’s words.

Sophie loved Armand too much, so even though she was very angry, she did not want to criticize him too much. Duke Eton, on the other hand, was just as mad as Nuannuan. If not for this man in front of him being a brother-in-law who treated him very well, he really wanted to give him a few slaps!

“Uncle, I know you’re a good person and you have a kind heart. But your kind heart must also concern itself with the safety of your wife and children. I’ve told you many times that Amisha isn’t a good person. She’s very ambitious. Even if she’s just a woman, you have to stay away from her. Why won’t you listen to me?”

“Have you forgotten that Franklin hurt Antonio and Amos? Do you think he would’ve done anything if not for that Amisha?!”

Chapter 2129: Dropping by Unannounced

“Even if you don’t want to kill her because you’re related to her, you can’t act like nothing happened and still talk to her on the phone like you’re great buds! Look into your heart. Is your relationship between your brother or your sons more important?”

“Sunny, I didn’t know you hated me so much and had so many opinions about me...”

Suddenly, a woman’s voice came from the door. Nangong Nuannuan knew someone was coming, but she did not expect it to be Amisha.

Amisha was very beautiful.

Well, the entire Walker family was very attractive. Especially her uncle, Armand Walker. He had captured Empress Sophie’s heart because he was the most handsome man in the Walker family.

As for Amisha, she had fully inherited this advantageous trait of the Walker family. It could be said that she was the most beautiful woman in the Luntan’s entire noble circle. Of course, only if Nangong Nuannuan was not included.

Amisha was holding a gift in her arms. Her eyes were red, and she looked as if she had been wronged.

Seeing this, Nangong Nuannuan smiled. “Amisha, I don’t hate you. I’m just disgusted by you. It seems you don’t know how to take my advice to heart.”

“Sunny!” Armand called out Nuannuan. Even though his voice was a little loud, his eyes held no blame. “Amisha is a woman, and she’s a divorcee. Apart from Eton, only the other three dukes of the royal family are left. Even if she wanted to, she wouldn’t be able to stir up any waves.”

“Second Uncle! I’ve never thought about making any waves! Believe it or not, Gilbert and Franklin were framing me. Sunny, I really don’t want to be your enemy. I also want to be a good sister to you, like Antonio and Amos are good brothers to each other. I...”

“I’ve never thought about being a good sister to you. Amisha, you know me. It’s useless to try acting innocent in front of me. My favorite thing to do is expose fake b*tches like you. Right, Big Brother Chi Yang?”

Noticing that Amisha had glanced at Chi Yang a few times since entering the room, Nangong Nuannuan finished her sentence with a pause and went to intimately hold Chi Yang’s arm with a sweet look on her face.

In the face of his wife’s sweet threat, Chi Yang did not care if his answer would offend others. He nodded and replied, “Yes.”

Amisha was doing her best to not offend Nangong Nuannuan. Seeing that Nangong Nuannuan was not going to give her any face, she could only forget about her previous plans. She looked at Armand expectantly, hoping her uncle would make a decision for her.

Armand was a good man who did not like offending anyone.

Therefore, after receiving his niece’s pleading gaze, Armand stood by Nuannuan’s side and said to Amisha, “Alright, Amisha. You know that Sunny doesn’t like you, so you shouldn’t drop by unannounced like this. Didn’t I tell you not to come over and bother her?”

Amisha, “...”

“Amisha, who said you could step foot into this palace whenever you wanted? Didn’t I warn you before that you’re not allowed to enter the palace again except to attend mandatory banquets?”

Amisha’s expression was extremely ugly. She really wanted to say something to Nangong Nuannuan. “My uncle is the Empress’s husband. A b*stard like you can enter and leave as you please, so why can’t I?”

She might have asked the question, but she knew the answer. She had tried to kill the royal family of Luntan.

Chapter 2130: The Best at Controlling Her

Amisha did not want to get into an argument with this jinx. She was sure to lose and not get what she wanted.

“I heard you were coming back to the palace today and that you brought your fiance, so... I got you and your fiance a present. Sunny, I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to upset you. I really just wanted to give you a gift.

"Sunny, it's better to be friends than enemies. No matter what role Amisha played in Gilbert's matter, she knows she was wrong. Just give her a chance." Mr. Nice Guy Armand started yapping again.

Nangong Nuannuan was really annoyed by her uncle's personality. He was a typical Mr. Nice Guy who loved to forgive people who would never change.

She really could not understand how her aunt was such a smart and powerful woman yet could be so easily seduced by looks. She could really give up everything just for some eye candy. Even though she had suffered so much because of Armand, she still treated him like her precious treasure.

"I won't!"

Nangong Nuannuan knew that no matter how unbridled and unreasonable she was in front of this Mr. Nice Guy, he would never get angry at her. Not only would he not get angry himself, but he would beg Nuannuan not to be angry at the mastermind of this whole situation. Therefore, Nangong Nuannuan was never lenient when it came to dealing with Amisha.

"Amisha, dream on! You want to exchange your lousy gift for the right to enter and leave the palace as you please? Or do you want to exchange this lousy gift for peace with me, so you can go to Tianheng Holdings and take things without paying a single cent? How do you come up with such great plans?"

"Let me tell you, I'll never be your sister or friend! So you should just give up now!"

"Y-you are too much!"

As if she had suffered a great grievance, Amisha turned and ran away.

"You deserve it!" Second Prince Amos could not help but say.

First Prince Antonio could not help but laugh. "Sunny, you're the best at controlling her. You don't know this, but she's come running to the palace every few days since you went away. If it weren't for mother refusing to let her stay in the palace, she wouldn't have ever left."

"Alright, stop talking now."

Yalman only said that one sentence to his two sons. He did not refute them.

Nangong Nuannuan said, "I know that Amisha can't make any waves right now. She's a divorced woman, and all the princes of the royal family know her character. She can't marry into a good family, so she just wants to live a good life with her uncle. But what she did was unforgivable. Such a person doesn't deserve to live a good life. If a wicked person can apologize and live a better life than a good person without ever being punished, what would a good person think about Luntan's sense of justice?"

"Sunny is right," Sophie could not help but say. Armand was even less prepared to put in a good word for his niece now.

"Aunty, the assassination yesterday had nothing to do with the Shipley family." Nangong Nuannuan told Empress Sophie about Wu Pingting and Xu Yunyun, as well as the grudge between her and Su Fei.

“Fang Lanxin didn’t know that my name is also Nangong Nuannuan. If she knew, she definitely wouldn’t have told Su Fei about the mercenary website. She wouldn’t have just stood by and watched as Su Fei tried to kill me.”
