Chapter 231: A Woman's Heart Is The Most Poisonous

"That's why you should just take care of yourself and continue being the cold-hearted school hunk. Don't you feel that you look very out of character at the moment?"

Leng Qirui was taken aback!

He angrily pointed a finger at Zhong Nuannuan, but could only stammer. Leng Qirui felt that he could not talk to this woman.

She was just too annoying!

He just wanted to find a topic to talk about, so did she really have to attack him to the point of calling him worthless?

Leng Qirui felt that his eyes had stopped working. Why else would he fancy a Tyrannosaurus-type woman like Zhong Nuannuan?

School hunk Leng was so angry that he could not speak, but Zhong Nuannuan was glad for the peace and quiet. When she thought back to the scene when she had kissed Chi Yang without him noticing this morning, she felt the fresh breath on her lips still lingering around her nose.

After arriving at school, Zhong Nuannuan and Leng Qirui got out of the car.

It was a Land Rover with a small military license, which was very eye-catching even in an aristocratic school.

Hence, as soon as Zhong Nuannuan stepped out of the car, Jiang Shuwan spotted her.

Under the surprised gaze of the students, Leng Qirui also got down from the other side of the car door.

Zhong Nuannuan's back was facing everyone, and she was just thanking the driver, Li Qi, when Jiang Shuwan rushed over and gave Zhong Nuannuan a slap.

"Smack——"

A crisp sound rang out, but Zhong Nuannuan was not the one who had been slapped. On the contrary, Zhong Nuannuan saw the incoming person behind her via the rearview mirror, and she kicked an almost invisible pebble straight at Jiang Shuwan's knee.

Jiang Shuwan only felt a sudden tingling pain in her knees, and then her body went limp as she fell uncontrollably toward Zhong Nuannuan's direction.

At this moment, Leng Qirui had already walked over to Zhong Nuannuan's side. He could not understand the situation, so he just conveniently pulled Zhong Nuannuan toward him.

Jiang Shuwan landed on the wall of the Land Rover with a smack before bouncing back from the impact. After a few staggers, her high heels broke, and now unable to stand firmly, she fell to the ground.

At this point, Jiang Shuwan's face hurt, and her wrist was also twisted. Her buttocks were sore as well, and she could not stand up at all. Hence, she just looked at Zhong Nuannuan resentfully.

Before she could speak, Zhong Nuannuan interrupted the furious Jiang Shuwan and shouted, "Oh my, what happened to you Mom? Why did you fall against the car door?"

After saying that, she quickly went forward to support her.

"Mom, your heels are broken, quick, stand up to see if anything has happened to your feet!"

Seeing that Jiang Shuwan was about to be helped up, Zhong Nuannuan kicked another small stone again.

Jiang Shuwan only felt her ankle suddenly went numb before she subsequently fell backward.

A human's instinct was to subconsciously grab at the things around them when encountering danger.

Zhong Nuannuan had not stood firmly enough, and as a result, when she was supporting her mother, the sudden pull caused her to unsuspectingly scream and fall forward.

This time, her knees dug right into Jiang Shuwan's ribs.

Only a "crack" sound was heard.

Leng Qirui's mouth widened into an O-shape as he watched from the side, his scalp feeling numb.

After Jiang Shuwan's ear-piercing scream, everything became calm.

She had fainted from the pain.

Only

"Oh my God!" Zhong Nuannuan exclaimed with a dazed expression, "Mom, Mom, what happened to you? Mom, don't scare me!"

Leng Qirui was astounded!

Oh... Crap!

He had seen Zhong Nuannuan's skill clearly that night. Hence, Leng Qirui did not believe that Zhong Nuannuan could not stand firmly after Jiang Shuwan's single pull.

Therefore...

This woman definitely did it on purpose!

As he looked at Jiang Shuwan, who had passed out from the pain, only one sentence came to Leng Qirui's mind — A woman's heart was the most poisonous!

Chapter 232: Bad Reputation

At this moment, the school gate was full of people, and they were all helping Zhong Nuannuan and Leng Qirui. Some called the teachers, some dialed 120, and some comforted Zhong Nuannuan.

After all, among the two of them, one was a campus belle, while the other was the school hunk, what more a bully-type school hunk. They thought that if they helped them, maybe Young Master Leng would remember their good deeds in the future.

Zhong Qianqian, who had just received the news, also rushed out of the classroom.

Zhong Qianqian was almost about to explode when she saw the unconscious Jiang Shuwan. When she saw that the head teacher, Teacher Liu, had also arrived, she immediately raised her voice and said,

“Zhong Nuannuan, what exactly did you do to Mom? Even if Mom beats you and scolds you, she’s still doing it for your own good! As a Year 3 Senior student, you did not attend classes nor stay on campus, and you hadn’t returned all night despite not even making a single phone call. Mom was only teaching you a lesson, but you hurt Mom so badly. You’re just too much! She’s still your biological mother, how could you do this?”

Zhong Qianqian came out and indiscriminately criticized Zhong Nuannuan.

Many of the classmates outside saw that Zhong Nuannuan came to school together with Leng Qirui, and that they had gotten out of the same car. If Zhong Nuannuan did not return home last night and was not at school, was she together with Young Master Leng the whole time?

Although the news of Zhong Nuannuan having a director-general boyfriend had already spread throughout the senior high school yesterday, many people had never seen him before. Therefore, if compared to that director-general, the students felt that Young Master Leng’s qualifications were better.

Thus, when they saw Zhong Qianqian launching an attack against Zhong Nuannuan, many business-minded students spontaneously stood on Young Master Leng’s side.

“Zhong Qianqian, is there something wrong with you? You don’t even know what happened, yet you’re spouting nonsense here and destroying Zhong Nuannuan’s reputation.”

“Exactly! Your mom clearly fell down by herself and ended up like this. What does this have to do with Zhong Nuannuan?”

“That’s right! All of us witnessed it. Your mom fell, and Zhong Nuannuan immediately went forward to support her. She had helped her up already, but she fell down again. When that happened, Zhong Nuannuan had already turned around, but she still reached out to grab at Zhong Nuannuan. In the end, Zhong Nuannuan was pulled to the ground, causing her to fall on top of your mom.”

The students by the side all nodded their heads, confirming this incident.

Not only did the students keep silent about Zhong Nuannuan’s absence from home last night, they had even rebuked her. Zhong Qianqian’s face immediately flushed red with anger, knowing that these fence-sitters were just supporting Zhong Nuannuan for Leng Qirui’s sake. At this moment, she could not argue with so many people all by herself, so she could only give up.

“Forget it, you’d better explain this matter to the family later.”

Only

After that, she hurriedly called Zhong Kuijun, Jiang Hanlin and the undergraduate Jiang Hongyi.

When Jiang Hongyi arrived, 120 had only just arrived too. Zhong Nuannuan and Zhong Qianqian were busy helping the paramedic lift Jiang Shuwan into the ambulance.

However, Jiang Hongyi walked straight toward Zhong Nuannuan angrily as he raised his hand to slap her. Yet, Leng Qirui spotted this, and he kicked Jiang Hongyi's chest without any explanation.

Jiang Hongyi had been charging forward fiercely when he was suddenly kicked aside amidst the exclamation of the students.

After kicking Jiang Hongyi, Leng Qirui walked over to him and stepped on Jiang Hongyi's chest. Jiang Hongyi yelled in pain, then shouted at Leng Qirui while glaring at him angrily.

"Let go of me! Do you know who I am? Try stepping on me again, and let's see whether I destroy you! Ah——"

Right after he said this, Leng Qirui raised his foot and violently stepped on him again.

Chapter 233: Buddies

Jiang Hongyi was so overcome with pain that he could not even speak.

"Come and destroy me! I'm waiting for you!" Leng Qirui looked at Jiang Hongyi as if he was an idiot.

"Young Master Leng, this is my cousin and my mother's nephew, Jiang Hongyi. He must've struck out at Nuannuan out of agitation because Nuannuan hurt my mother. We're all buddies, so please have mercy, Young Master Leng!"

Zhong Qianqian quickly rushed to Leng Qirui's side, then reached out and grabbed Leng Qirui's sleeve before looking at him as if she shared a close relationship with him.

Yet in the next moment——

Leng Qirui waved his arm and hit Zhong Qianqian's nose with the back of his hand.

It took her awhile to stop her heavy nose bleeding yesterday, and her nose was still aching slightly. Only one night had passed since then, but she had been hit again.

A line of blood flowed out of Zhong Qianqian's nose, rendering her speechless.

"Who's your buddy? Scram!"

Zhong Qianqian's face turned pale out of fright. She took several steps back, then aggrievedly accepted the tissue that Xue Miqi handed to her.

It was only at this moment that Jiang Hongyi, who had gotten stepped on, realized that the person who had stepped on him was school bully Leng Qirui. He suddenly felt unwell.

Knowing that Zhong Qianqian could not save him, Jiang Hongyi could only roar at Zhong Nuannuan in a vicious voice, "Zhong Nuannuan, are you freaking dead? Why aren't you asking him to take his feet away! Ah——"

Right after he finished yelling, Leng Qirui stomped on him once more.

"Try scolding her again!"

Although Leng Qirui's cold expression was not as scary as Chi Yang's, it was still very frightening.

Jiang Hongyi typically strong-armed the soft-hearted, but fearful of those who were bigger than him. Thus, after he was yelled at by Leng Qirui, he immediately fell quiet.

"Nuannuan, quickly make Young Master Leng stop. If he keeps kicking, Big Brother will end up in bad shape! You've already hurt mom, so you can't let Big Brother be hospitalized too!"

Although Zhong Nuannuan valued family kinship, she had previously gone through a gory fight that lasted more than ten years. Not to mention, she did not have any blood relation to Jiang Shuwan at all. Even if she did, she would have already regarded her as an enemy after being framed by her.

Zhong Nuannuan looked toward Zhong Qianqian, then said rudely, "Didn't he say that I'm a dead person? Dead people can't speak." After saying this, she reached up and pulled her hand over her mouth in a zipping motion, much to Zhong Qianqian's anger. With a zipper on her mouth, she could not speak.

Zhong Qianqian was lost for words.

Jiang Hongyi was shocked too!

"Only two people can sit in the car, so who amongst you will be going to the hospital with the patient?"

Zhong Nuannuan did not even glance at Jiang Hongyi, and got in the car after taking a leave of absence from the head teacher beside her.

Zhong Qianqian looked at Leng Qirui embarrassedly and pleaded, "Young Master Leng, no matter what, he's still Nuannuan's cousin. No matter which angle you're looking at it from, please have mercy, Young Master Leng."

Only

After that, she looked at Jiang Hongyi again. "Big brother, Young Master Leng has a good relationship with Nuannuan, so he won't make things hard for you. You just have to promise Young Master Leng that you will be good to Nuannuan too, and Young Master Leng will let you go. I have to follow my mother to the hospital, so Big Brother, please stop arguing with Young Master Leng."

After saying that, Zhong Qianqian saw that the ambulance was about to drive away, and she got onto the car while looking back repeatedly with every step.

Meanwhile, Zhong Nuannuan sat in the ambulance while coldly watching Zhong Qianqian pretend to be pure and innocent.

Jiang Hongyi was originally an impatient person, and once was also one to hold grudges. Hence, after hearing what Zhong Nuannuan said, Jiang Hongyi did not dare to look for Leng Qirui to regain his dignity. Instead, he channeled all his hatred onto her.

With that being said, who really cares?

There was just one Jiang Hongyi. Even if there were 100 of him, she would not really pay it any mind.

Seeing that Zhong Nuannuan had gotten into the ambulance and left, Leng Qirui kicked Jiang Hongyi again before warning him, "If you're not afraid of becoming disabled, you can try laying your hands on her again."

Chapter 234: Little White Flower

After saying that, he ignored Jiang Hongyi, who had an ugly expression on his face, and got into Li Qi's car.

"Are you in a hurry to return to the military base?"

Li Qi put his phone away and immediately shook his head. The Director-general had already approved his request to follow the ambulance.

"Then keep up with the ambulance."

"Sure!"

Jiang Shuwan was sent to the best private hospital in Jiang District.

Not long after the ambulance arrived, the Jiang Family also pulled up.

Zhong Nuannuan and Zhong Qianqian followed the nurses and pushed Jiang Shuwan into the operating room. When they turned around, they saw Jiang Hanlin and Xie Congrong holding Grandma Jiang's hand with Jiang Hongyang by her side. The party promptly walked over to them.

At this moment, everyone's gaze was on Zhong Nuannuan, the hatred in their eyes obvious. This was especially true for Jiang Hongyang.

Although Grandma Jiang came from the countryside, she had been a nouveau riche in the city for more than ten years, so her aura was fierce.

She held a walking cane, and her eyes had a majestic look to them. At the same time, her expression was solemn and as dark as ink.

"Grandma."

Zhong Qianqian could not help but cry when she walked to Grandma Jiang, and she looked very wronged, as if she had been bullied by Zhong Nuannuan.

"Don't cry, girl. How is your mother?" Grandma Jiang asked calmly.

"We just sent her into the operating room. Earlier in the ambulance, the emergency doctor gave her a preliminary examination and said she had a broken rib. As things stand, they still don't know whether her internal organs were harmed yet."

Zhong Qianqian said this while crying, and because Grandma Jiang's well-maintained face had been weather-beaten when she was young, her face wrinkled into a chrysanthemum which not even cosmetics could hide. Zhong Nuannuan could see the unevenly spread foundation in her wrinkles.

"What exactly happened?"

As Zhong Qianqian listened to the question, she glanced at Leng Qirui, who was next to Zhong Nuannuan, and could only answer weakly, "I don't know. By the time I received the news and came out, Mom had already fainted."

"Qianqian, why is your nose bleeding again?" Auntie Xie Congrong asked.

Zhong Qianqian maintained her weak look, touched her dry and crusty nose, and shook her head. "No... Nothing."

That weak expression, which looked like a small white flower blowing around in the wind, was very pitiful.

When Grandma Jiang saw her granddaughter like this, what else did she need to know?

With a strong, imposing manner, she walked over to Zhong Nuannuan. Without saying a word, she raised the cane in her hand and hit Zhong Nuannuan on the head.

However, in the next moment, the old lady's hand was lightly held by Zhong Nuannuan's gently raised hand.

Grandma Jiang stared in disbelief.

Only

She had heard about some of the things that have happened during this period of time, and had long wanted to teach this reckless girl a lesson. However, who would have thought that this girl who had never before rebelled against her, and could even be said to be resigned and submissive, would firmly clamp her hand at this moment to prevent her from moving. Worse still, she even had a sneer on her face.

"How dare you fight back?"

Zhong Nuannuan was startled. "Grandmother, you probably have problems with your eyes, right? I'm just stopping you from hitting me, so how did this suddenly turn into me fighting back?"

"Zhong Nuannuan, you're too shameless! Don't you dare say that she's your grandmother. Even if she's an old woman who you don't know, you still can't treat her so rudely!"

Xie Congrong's words drew onlookers from the crowd and medical staff outside the operating room.

“Oh, so according to Auntie, since she’s my grandmother, she can simply beat me indiscriminately. Even if I’m beaten to death, would I deserve it?”

“Nonsense, without your grandmother, where would you have come from? You think that just because you’ve found a man with a good background that your wings have grown? So, now that you’ve done something wrong, can your family not scold you anymore?”

Chapter 235: Jiang Family’s Messenger of Death

“Auntie, tell me, did I do anything wrong?”

“You cooperated with outsiders to engage in acts of violence against your own sister, and your sister was beaten to the point of bleeding. Isn’t that your fault?”

“Your mom came to school to look for you in order to understand the situation, but you, a Year 3 Senior student, wasn’t in school. You also didn’t inform your family where you were going, and you couldn’t be contacted by phone. Isn’t that your fault?”

“You clearly already have a fiancé, but you wantonly spent a night with a male classmate instead. Zhong Nuannuan, don’t forget that you have a serviceman’s marriage, and that your marriage application was approved by both the Commander-in-Chief and the Director-General. Yet, you’re fooling around like this. Isn’t that your fault?”

“Your mom was worried about you, so she came to school early this morning to look for you, but you ended up hurting her like this. Worse still, it’s now uncertain whether or not she’ll even live. Isn’t that your fault?”

“Your grandmother wants to teach you a lesson as your elder, but you fought back against this 60-something year old person. So, tell us, isn’t that your fault?”

Xie Congrong had long been angered by Zhong Nuannuan.

If not for Zhong Nuannuan, the daughter of the Lieutenant Governor would still be their future daughter-in-law.

Jiang District had undergone vigorous development in recent years, and within three years, Cloud Group would definitely grow to become a leading enterprise in Jiang District. By then, their family would have an equal social status to the Ou Family.

However, because of this messenger of death, a close relationship between her son and Ou Mingxi could be broken off just like that. How could she not be angry? How could she not end up hating her?

Only

Although such criticisms could not cause any real harm to Zhong Nuannuan, it could make all the onlookers cast her aside.

Moreover, Xie Congrong had good judgment. She knew at a glance that the boy standing next to Zhong Nuannuan exuded an extraordinary temperament. Even though he was from Jia Yong, he was not any ordinary noble student. Coupled with Zhong Qianqian's weak expression, Xie Congrong guessed that this man was probably Young Master Leng, who was said to come from a second-rate aristocratic family in Emperor District, and might have had an affair with Zhong Nuannuan.

She did not believe that a young master from a second-rate aristocratic family would fancy a torn shoe.

"It seems that your misunderstandings toward are aplenty, auntie. However, now that you've brought it up, auntie, let's talk about them one by one.

"You said that I cooperated with outsiders to engage in acts of violence against my own sister and beat her to the point of unstoppable bleeding, but who told you this? It was my sister right? However, my sister cooperated with her classmates to label me a wretch behind my back. When my classmate heard this and told her to apologize to me, both her accomplices apologized. However, instead of apologizing to me, she started to put up a show and refused to apologize. Thus, she was smacked with a book by my classmate, which resulted in her having a nosebleed. How did this turn into an act of violence that caused unstoppable bleeding?

"Let's also talk about me not returning home last night. Auntie, you also know that I have a fiancé, and that my fiancé is a military officer at the military base. Therefore, you should be aware that it's not appropriate for me to disclose many things about my fiancé. This is also the reason why I failed to answer the phone last night. As for whether or not I did anything immoral, the commander-in-chief and the chief of staff of the military base are aware of where I was and of what I was so doing, so I don't think I need to report them back to you one by one, Auntie."

Xie Congrong sneered. "Zhong Nuannuan, I know that you can speak eloquently. However, don't you think that this matter can be brushed aside just by mentioning the military base's commander-in-chief and the chief of staff. We can't contact high-level figures like the commander-in-chief and chief of staff anyway, so of course you can say whatever you want!"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 236: How Sinful

"Oh, auntie, if you don't believe me, you can go to our school principal as he knows about this. I often don't stay in school during this period, so the commander-in-chief's people helped me apply for leave of absence from school, which the school principal approved it. Auntie, since you can't get in touch with the commander-in-chief and chief of staff, you can still look for our school principal."

Xie Congrong glared at Zhong Nuannuan and wanted to rush forward and give her a few tight slaps.

However, this girl could hold back such an energetic old lady, which she herself was weaker than...

"Let's talk about my mother again. It happened at the school gate today, and many students saw that my mother lost her footing and fell by herself. I already helped her to get up, but she didn't stand firmly, and grabbed on to me when she fell again. I wasn't paying attention, so I landed on her. How can you say that I took action against my own mother?

“As for Grandma, she doesn’t know anything, yet she rushed over to arbitrarily hit me. Moreover, she was using a cane to hit my head. I just held Grandma’s hand and wanted to explain myself, yet you’re claiming that I’m fighting back. Auntie, I know that I grew up in the farming district, and that you rich people dislike a child like me, who never grew up with my mother. I’m also well aware that you’ve never treated me as part of your family.

“However, I’m still a child of the Jiang Family, and I’m the biological daughter of my parents. Surely this level of favoritism, whereby you don’t listen to my explanation and start raising your hand without knowing the full story, is unbecoming of an elder? Now that my mom is in the operating room and my father is not here, you think you can just bully me as you please, right?”

Zhong Nuannuan let go of Grandma Jiang’s hand after she finished speaking.

Grandma Jiang’s face was flushed with anger, and she was just about to speak when she was interrupted by Zhong Nuannuan.

“It just so happens that my mom is bleeding in the operation room, and my dad is coming as well. I think I should do another DNA verification test. I realized that not only my mom, but the Jiang Family, has a much better attitude toward my sister than to me. If it weren’t for the paternity test I had previously done with my father, I would have doubted whether I’ve found the wrong family. However, I only did a paternity test with my father when I came back, but not with my mother. Maybe it was my mother who made a mistake with the child? Maybe only my elder sister is my mother’s biological daughter?”

Zhong Nuannuan found that this trick worked every time.

After hearing what she said, the old lady, who had initially still wanted to teach her a lesson, immediately shut her mouth.

“What paternity test? You’re always Daddy’s favorite! If other people treat you badly, then you can just ignore them. And you! If you’re not good at being an elder, then don’t blame the younger generation for not respecting you.”

Zhong Kuijun was originally going to have a meeting at the administrative office today, but rushed over as soon as he received the news that Jiang Shuwan was being hospitalized.

Only

As soon as he arrived, he found that the Jiang Family was working together to bully Zhong Nuannuan, and even heard that Zhong Nuannuan wanted to do another maternity test.

Not to mention, Zhong Nuannuan was Chi Yang’s fiancée now, and that the commander-in-chief and chief of staff both held her in high regard. Because of this, Zhong Kuijun was angered by the Jiang Family’s attitude toward her.

He was not afraid of godlike opponents, but was scared of pig-like teammates. Unfortunately for him, he was surrounded by idiotic pigs.

The Jiang Family’s expressions turned to embarrassment when they saw Zhong Kuijun. Xie Congrong immediately shut up after Zhong Kuijun shot her daggers.

Grandma Jiang was glared at by her son-in-law, and she felt equally angry, but despite this, she did not dare to say anything.

However, at this moment, she saw Zhong Nuannuan casting a smug glance at her, which made Grandma Jiang instantly feel unwell.

She immediately clutched her chest. "My oh my, how sinful this is! I was only looking out for her, but in return, she has made such horrible claims against me!"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 237: Large Prairie

"This grandmother here is really useless! Fine, fine, fine, this grandmother will not interfere with anything related to your Nuannuan anymore. Since this grandmother is so annoying, I... I will just take it as if I had never had this granddaughter!"

"You really know how to try to turn things on its head. Was that what you call 'caring about her'? It was obvious that you wanted to kill her with your crutches, was it not?"

"Even if Zhong Nuannuan didn't doubt her relation to you guys, even a bystander like me had begun to suspect that Zhong Qianqian was the only one who genuinely belonged to your Jiang family. Otherwise, how could the grand relative's family work together to protect an outsider who was not biologically related by ganging up on their own blood related granddaughter and niece? Zhong Nuannuan, I strongly support your wish to do the DNA test. Maybe these people really aren't your relatives. Maybe they had conspired to somehow put themselves in the position where they could pretend to be related to you."

From the side, Leng Qirui could now see clearly the real face of this family. He previously did not understand why Zhong Nuannuan had intentionally broken her mother's ribs, but now he realized the truth. Presumably, her mother was way worse than even the Jiang family!

Thus, he seriously suspected that Zhong Nuannuan's mother was actually just Zhong Qianqian's mother and that the Jiang family were actually Zhong Qianqian's grand relative family.

Regardless, Leng Qirui's suspicion was the reality of the situation. Hence, his speculation quickly made the Jiang family realize the gravity of the situation.

Even so, Zhong Kuijun smiled and changed the subject. "Nuannuan, is this your classmate? Why don't you introduce him."

Zhong Nuannuan still needed Jiang Shuwan's help to coax out the poisonous snake that had tried to harm her and Chi Yang, hence, she could not get rid of Jiang Shuwan just yet.

Seeing Zhong Kuijun change the subject, Zhong Nuannuan followed suit.

"This is my classmate Leng Qirui," she then introduced previously to Leng Qirui, "This is my dad."

The Jiang family remained silent.

What about them? Was she not going to introduce them after introducing her father?

Qianqian had talked about Leng Qirui when she returned to Jiang's house yesterday, so when they heard that this man was the person in question, the Jiang family was at a loss for words.

When Zhong Kuijun heard it was Leng Qirui, his expression changed. Pulling her aside, he asked, "Nuannuan, what is going on? Why were you not at school last night?"

Only

"I went to the military base last night to do something. The military base had informed the school beforehand."

Zhong Kuijun was taken aback. "You went to the military base yesterday? Were you there to look for Chi Yang?"

Leng Qirui did not know that Zhong Nuannuan had asked Chi Yang to help her keep things a secret. Hence, when he heard Zhong Kuijun's question, he immediately chimed in loudly, "My dad heard that Zhong Nuannuan knew acupuncture, so he troubled her to give him an acupuncture session. It was also my dad who applied for her to leave school.

"Uncle, I only went to the school with Zhong Nuannuan in the same car. You can ask Li Qi if you don't believe me, as he is Brother Chi's driver. Besides, you can also recognize the license plate of the Land Rover parked outside. It's Brother Chi's car. Zhong Qianqian had called the Jiang family just now, and I do not know what nonsense she had said, but when the Jiang family came back and saw Nuannuan's face, they angrily proclaimed that she was shameless for having stayed a night with me. They even said that Zhong Nuannuan had given Brother Chi a green hat (TN: To wear a green hat means to have been cheated on).

"If being in the same car together means cheating on your other half, then Zhong Qianqian has sat in a car with God knows how many people, so wouldn't her future partner have a large prairie above his head?"

Leng Qirui's words made the group of bystanders laugh.

Zhong Qianqian, who had been pretending to be a weak girl at the side, was so shocked that she immediately stopped her pretentious act as a small white flower. This was the first time she had heard of Leng Qirui's true identity.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 238: Fool

"You... you are Commander Leng's son?"

"What about it?"

Leng Qirui, who initially wanted to achieve success with his own ability and so did not wish to reveal his identity because of his bad relationship with his father, was now revealing his family background in public. He just could not watch Zhong Nuannuan being wronged!

Zhong Nuannuan held her forehead.

The idiot!

She just did not want anyone from the Zhong family or the Jiang family to know of her medical skills, so much so that Uncle Leng had even secretly discussed things with the principal.

Now look at what he did. He just blatantly sold her out and even winked at her after. Even if they weren't lovers, they looked close enough to be siblings.

Zhong Kuijun immediately became excited.

He walked over and held Leng Qirui's hand with both hands. "Oh my, it really is as if a flood of water had rushed into the Dragon King Temple. I'm so lucky!"

Leng Qirui was creeped out by Zhong Kuijun's warm grip.

Zhong Kuijun looked at Zhong Nuannuan and said, "Nuannuan, really... such a big deal to do acupuncture on the commander-in-chief. You child, why did you not discuss it with your parents? Look at the panic you caused your mother."

"While I may not have cured the disease with acupuncture, I just wouldn't worsen it." Zhong Nuannuan quickly clarified that her medical skills were not necessarily that good, and that she was not very confident in it. She could only guarantee not to worsen the commander-in-chief's condition.

"You said you... Why would the commander-in-chief believe you? No way, I have to talk to the commander-in-chief about this."

Leng Qirui continued to be a good sibling. "Uncle, you do not need to speak with my father since he has already decided—this decision will never change. My father needs to get acupuncture two or three times a week. Just don't instigate trouble when the time comes and say that Nuannuan was being shameless."

"Of course! That's for sure!" Zhong Kuijun nodded and bowed, then gave Jiang Hanlin a fierce glare.

The Jiang family members were feeling awkward as they stood to the side and did not dare speak. The gaze from the Old Lady Jiang directed toward Zhong Qianqian carried a hint of dissatisfaction.

After Zhong Qianqian received the Jiang family's scorching gaze, she felt resentful, but she did not dare to show it. She knew that when she went back home later, she would definitely be scolded by her dad again.

Jiang Shuwan's operation was quickly finished.

"Doctor, how was my mother?" Zhong Qianqian rushed up to ask first, her face filled with impatience.

"Her ribs were only cracked and did not break. Her internal organs were not hurt either. However, because several bones were cracked, the patient has to stay in bed for the next three months."

By now, Jiang Shuwan had also woken up. Looking at Zhong Nuannuan, the resentment in her eyes was blatant. She opened her mouth and scolded, "You are a harbinger of misfortune. Not only have you caused Qianqian to get beaten by others, she also became used shoes (TN: Meaning prostitute, or a woman who has sex with lots of people) at such a young age. How could I have a daughter like you?"

Only

“Zhong Nuannuan, let me tell you this, you already have a fiancé, so Young Master Leng belongs to Qianqian. You have already caused Qianqian to lose two boyfriends, but since your relationship with Young Master Leng is so close, I will give you one month. Within a month, you must let Young Master Leng fall in love and get engaged to Qianqian!”

Although her voice was soft because of her injury, it was enough to be heard by the curious onlookers.

“Girl, I advise you to do a DNA test! If she is being so biased, she definitely isn’t your biological mother!”

Jiang Shuwan, ‘What is going on? What the hell?’

A moment later, she was pushed into the ward. When she saw the people who had come to visit her, she swallowed her saliva as her eyes widened in horror.

“Why did you not go to work?” Jiang Shuwan looked at Zhong Kuijun and asked.

“If I went to work, I would not be able to see the entire Jiang family attacking Nuannuan.”

Chapter 239: Take Care of Your Eyes

Although she did not know what had happened, Jiang Shuwan subconsciously defended their actions, “How can it be called an attack? The people here are all her elders. She did something wrong, so isn’t it okay for the elders to teach her a lesson?”

“You hadn’t seen it! She came to school this morning in this man’s car. The two were together early in the morning, so they must have been fooling around last night. I...”

“Enough! Shut up!”

Zhong Kuijun was going crazy because of Jiang Shuwan.

“Do you not know who he is? He is the Young Master Leng that you spoke of, Leng Qirui! He is the commander-in-chief’s son!”

Jiang Shuwan was mortified.

“It was his father who called Nuannuan to the military base last night. She also stayed at Chi Yang’s place last night. Fooling around? Although Nuannuan was not raised in front of you, she is still your biological daughter. If you ruin her reputation without figuring out the truth, are you really her mother?”

When Jiang Shuwan heard that it was the commander-in-chief who had approached Zhong Nuannuan, she looked confused and quickly mumbled, “Then, she shouldn’t have left without telling us first.”

“Jiang Shuwan, let’s have a divorce!”

A thunderbolt suddenly exploded in the ward during that sunny day. Jiang Shuwan and the Jiang family instantly went pale.

“Kuijun, what are you saying? Wanwan has been with you for half a lifetime. It has not been easy to enjoy such blessings and now you want to divorce her over this trivial matter?” The Old Lady Jiang looked incredulous, her face a look of disapproval and panic.

“What should I do otherwise? Nuannuan is my daughter. How many times have I said to her to treat them equally, but because she doesn’t think well of Nuannuan, she has dragged the entire Jiang family into it as well. Since none of you can tolerate Nuannuan and continuously think that since she came from a farming district that she is not good enough for you ladies, we should just separate. I won’t turn my back on my daughter, but since you all would, we might as well not have any relations going forward.”

Everyone could understand Zhong Kuijun’s words meant at the surface level, but there was an implicit meaning to them.

He was threatening the entire Jiang family with the future of the Yunshang Group!

Old Lady Jiang looked at Zhong Nuannuan and finally lowered her stance. “Nuannuan, quickly tell your dad that this issue today was a complete misunderstanding. We were all just worried about you and wanted you to integrate well and become a lady of this big wealthy family.”

Seeing that Zhong Nuannuan did not speak, grandmother continued, “Grandmother also knew that the development of class cannot be done in a short amount of time. Sometimes we are indeed anxious, but the scoldings were just because you are our Jiang family’s girl. Quickly go and explain this to your father and tell him that you will not take these things to heart.”

Only

“Why?”

Everyone was shocked at her answer.

Had everything grandmother had said fallen on deaf ears?

The old lady had her back facing Zhong Kuijun while she was facing Zhong Nuannuan, so after hearing Zhong Nuannuan’s reply, her eyes went completely gloomy. Her face glowed red, almost as if warning her.

Ha ha.

Previously, she had respected. However, did this old woman actually think that she was afraid of her and that her gaze could intimidate her?

“Grandmother, let’s not say pretend that your gaze can kill. Even if it could, you would still have to pay back for the life you take. You should just keep your gaze. Don’t let your visual lens fall off before you successfully scare me to death. Please do not think that I was ridiculing you; as you get older, your body organs start to degenerate, and with your eyes puffed out so much...”

Chapter 240: Who Lacks Class Even More

Zhong Nuannuan narrowed her eyes and continued in a frightening voice, "Typically when the eye nerves are irritated, you wouldn't even hear a crack before you lose your sight."

Leng Qirui had scared the people in the room with his cold face, but upon listening to Zhong Nuannuan's deadpan taunting and scare tactic, he almost laughed.

The Tyrannosaurus rex was indeed king of this jungle.

You could not beat it with brute force, and you could not outsmart it with cunning words.

There was no point fighting her, it would only result in a damaged liver.

At this moment, Leng Qirui felt that Zhong Nuannuan had actually gone easy on him.

Sure enough, the old lady dared not stare her in the eyes again. Instead, she switched from staring to squinting. "Do you really want to see this home break up because of your ignorance?"

"Grandmother, the Jiang family is a wealthy family, of which you are the leader. As a hegemon lady, can we talk some sense?"

"Gu Mingzhe was just allowed to leave by himself because Zhong Qianqian did not like him. Meanwhile, Aiden felt offended by Mother, and then proceeded to abandon the relationship. What do I have to do with any of this?"

"And yesterday, it was clearly Zhong Qianqian who gathered everyone to slander my reputation, which Leng Qirui happened to overhear. I was not there, Leng Qirui beat her. Besides, can we really call it a beating when it was nothing more than a slap to the face with a book? Now Leng Qirui is here, but instead of asking him for justice, you came to me for a cat fight. What's the meaning of this?"

"And it's even more funny with the mother. Your own daughter was bullied by your stepdaughter, but instead of looking for the stepdaughter, you targeted your daughter. You were the one who didn't stand properly before falling down, and you received just retribution. After you came to, you even wanted me to bring around a potential son-in-law. Fine, fine, fine. Leng Qirui is now here. Go ahead and ask if Leng Qirui is worthy of Zhong Qianqian."

Only

"If you're going to scold someone, do that. Can you just not insult me?" Leng Qirui asked with a cold expression.

Everyone was speechless.

"You are too much!" Zhong Qianqian could not stand it anymore and ran away crying.

"Look, she can't even stand a bit of grievance and runs out without even saying a word. She's so uneducated, but will you ever turn your back on her? What about me? I was wronged and put in prison for a month. Did you care about me then? When Zhong Qianqian hooked up with my fiancé, who gave a cr*p about me? When she and her classmates bullied me, who gave a cr*p about me? Not only did you not care about me, you even placed all the blame for Zhong Qianqian's actions on my head and then proceeded to look down on me. Grandmother, have you forgotten who gives you acupuncture therapy every time you have rheumatism?"

“Is the person who gave you acupuncture the outsider who you all hold so dearly in your palms? I treat you all so well, yet why haven’t you extended me even a little bit of familial affection?”

“You all said that you abandoned me because I had no class, so I want to ask grandmother this, compared to Zhong Qianqian, who is the one that has no class? And do you dislike me because I have no class or are there some other reasons that I don’t know of?”

“In short, I am extremely disappointed with my mother and the Jiang family. It is said that blood is thicker than water, but, no matter what Zhong Qianqian does, you can’t fault her. On the other hand, whatever I do, it’s never good enough for you. Hence, I guess that it this is all probably because of some undisclosed reason. My mother had confused mine and Zhong Qianqian’s identity, and that’s why now you all look at Zhong Qianqian with rose-tinted glasses whilst looking at me, the biological daughter, the real Jiang family member with utter disgust. Because of all this, I really want to do a maternity test.”
