Chapter 2381

2381 nothing major (3)

Therefore, Nangong Nuannuan was very curious as to why the obedient and top student little sun's parents had been called again.

Nangong Jin was the first to arrive at the door of third grade class four. There were only a few students cleaning the place.

Nangong Jin randomly grabbed a student and asked, "May I ask where Nan Xu and teacher Wei from your class are?"

The student blinked and asked, "Are you Nan Xu's father?"

Nangong Jin nodded.

The student's eyes lit up. Nan Xu's father, Nan Xu and teacher Wei went to the principal's office. But don't scold him, we all think he did a great job this time."

Another student also walked over, his face full of admiration.

"That's right, that's right, I also think that student Nan Xu is very good. He really lives up to his title as a child prodigy. He's too powerful."

"Hmph, what's so amazing about that? A brat who can't even respect his teacher, even if he has a good memory and a little more knowledge than us, he will only be a scum with high IQ in the future." Another boy who was cleaning said disdainfully, his eyes slowly filled with jealousy.

"Baibo, isn't it because Nan Xu came to our class and took your first place? But can you write what Nan Xu wrote?"

"hur hur, how could he possibly write that? I saw his paper today and he compared that stick to the teacher. He said that his teacher was the gardener who bore the weight of his life. tsk, tsk, even i feel embarrassed by this flattery."

"Qin ziding, do you want to die?"

the boy who was scolded laughed."Yo, what's wrong? do you want to hit someone? There's no chauffeur here, only you. I'm just standing here, do you dare to hit me?"

there were a total of four people in the classroom. three of them were on little sun's side, and one was jealous that little sun had taken his first place in the grade.

It seemed that even if little sun had caused trouble this time, this trouble was still controversial.

Nangong Nuannuan and Nangong Jin didn't argue with the other children in the classroom. After all, they still didn't know what had happened.

however, from their conversation, nangong nuannuan could vaguely tell that it was related to the essay.

Nangong Jin walked along the school corridor with an expressionless face. The already dark corridor looked even colder with the contrast of his tall and straight figure.

“Brother, it doesn’t look like a big deal. Don’t be like this, you’ll scare the little sun.”

Nangong Jin glanced at his sister and retracted his cold aura.

“brother, isn’t little taiyang in second grade? Why did I see class three and four just now?”

the teacher said that the things in the second grade are too easy for him, so he was promoted to the third grade last month and took the exam with him. If he passed the exam, he would be in the fourth grade next semester.

“Tsk, tsk, so amazing. You’re only five years old and you’re already in the fourth grade of elementary school. It was awesome! Just because of this, brother, you have to treat little sun better later. If other people’s children were as powerful as little sun, their parents would be so proud of them!”

nangong jin looked at nangong nuannuan and said, ” “Compared to you, I’m still far from it.”

Nangong Nuannuan:

When they arrived at the principal’s office, Nangong Jin and Nangong Nuannuan knocked on the door and entered.

Nangong Nuannuan pushed the door open and saw the kind principal, the unspeakable teacher, and the flustered teacher whose face was red.

Chapter 2382

2382 The crow and the bird (4)

Although the principal had never seen Nangong Jin before, he was always on the news and paid attention to the news of the combat Department. Therefore, the principal’s eyes lit up as soon as Nangong Jin walked in.

However, principal Nangong Nuannuan recognized her.

This aunt was a little protective.

When the red-faced teacher saw Nangong Jin and Nangong Nuannuan, he immediately stood up in anger and questioned the two of them sternly, ” “You are Nan Xu’s parents?”

“This is my sister, Nan Xu’s aunt. May I ask what Nan Xu did wrong?”

the teacher stood up angrily and said, ” “What he did is not wrong at all. Nan Xu’s parents, I think it’s necessary for you to take this student home and educate him strictly. Having superior intelligence was a good thing, but if he couldn’t even do the most basic respect for his teacher, then it would be a problem with his quality. Anyway, he’s still young. If we bring him back and educate him properly, he might be able to turn over a new leaf.”

“Teacher Zheng, I think you’re exaggerating. I don’t think Nan Xu’s essay is wrong. I feel that our world and society are diversified. Since that’s the case, our education should also be diversified and more tolerant to students. Not only do I not think Nan Xu’s essay can only get 0 points, but I also think that his essay should get full marks. After all, this question was a little problematic. I think it should be encouraged for students to be able to write an essay outside of this box.”

“Hehe, so you’re saying that it’s only right for him to scold me?” teacher Zheng sneered.

Nan Xu didn’t scold you. He was just giving reasons and telling the truth. I think this is indeed a problem with the question. We should avoid this problem more in the future.

the two teachers were still fighting, so nangong jin and nangong nuannuan could only roughly guess that this incident had happened because of little sun’s essay.

Nangong Nuannuan looked at little sun, who seemed to be fine and did not get angry after being scolded, and blinked at him.

Little sun looked at her aunt’s support and revealed a happy smile.

While the teachers were arguing, the principal took the opportunity to show little sun’s test paper to Nangong Jin. Nangong Nuannuan also hurried over.

She was very curious about what kind of composition one teacher had to give full marks and the other zero.

the essay’s title was “crow and bird.”

There were two materials.

The first material was Crow drinks water. One of the crows was thirsty and looked around for water to drink. It saw a half-filled can of water, but it couldn’t drink it. The clever Little Crow picked up a lot of small stones and put them in the jar. The jar was gradually filled to the brim, and the crow had water to drink.

The second material was a bird that flew across the ocean. There was a type of bird that would fly across the largest ocean on glory planet every year to the other side of the land. All it needed was a small branch. When it was flying, it would hold the branch in its mouth. When it was tired, it would throw the branch on the water to rest. When it was hungry, it would stand on the branch to fish. When it was tired, it would stand on the branch to sleep until it flew across the entire ocean.

imagine if the crow did not throw the small stone into the can to let the water flood out. if the bird was not holding a branch but the bird’s nest and food, would the crow still be able to drink water? Can a little bird still fly?

Write a random essay based on the above materials.

Chapter 2383

2383 Silly bird believes in silly bird's reasoning (5)

Seeing this question, Nangong Nuannuan blinked and quickly searched her mind. What kind of bird was so powerful that it could take things so hard? Why did they have to fly across the ocean every year?

After thinking for a long time, he still couldn't remember.

However, when Nangong Nuannuan thought about how she couldn't even tell the difference between a goose and a duck, she felt that it was probably because she was a bird that didn't pay much attention to nature.

However, she really wanted to know what little sun had written to make the teacher so angry with such a profound educational question.

The title of little sun's essay was called 'silly bird's reason, silly bird's letter'.

he wrote this-

Although I'm just an elementary school student, I was petrified when I saw the question.

I feel that the topic of this essay is a completely false proposition.

let's first talk about the first material-crow drinks water.

although it is a textbook material for us to learn crow's ability to think and act, this story is not reliable.

When I was studying this text, I did an experiment. I filled the bottle with half a bottle of water and put a small stone in. However, there are gaps between the small stones, and the density of water is much higher than the density of the gaps between the stones. So no matter how many stones I put in, even if the mouth of the bottle is blocked, the water will still seep through the gaps and stay at the bottom of the bottle.

As for the second material, it made me feel even more suspicious that this question was trying to deceive a child.

The bird held a branch in its mouth all the way until it flew over the ocean. I'd like to ask, does this little bird not need to talk to its companions in the middle?

Even if there's no need, I'd like to know how a bird that can't swim can catch fish on branches. Wasn't it afraid of stepping on the branches and drowning?

during the holidays, my parents would often take me out to sea. We were just playing by the beach, but we could feel the huge waves. Mom and dad would hold my sister's and my hands to prevent us from being swept away by the waves. I want to ask, if a bird puts a branch on the sea to sleep, won't it be swept away by the waves?

Every time our family goes out to sea, we will take a very big boat so that we can float. I want to ask how big a branch is needed to keep the bird floating on the water.

It was as thick as iron wire? As thick as chopsticks? and it was as thick as a pillar?

If it was as thick as a pillar, how did it manage to hold it in its mouth? Could it be a monster with a snake's beak and a bird's body? A mouth that could hold things several times bigger than itself?

in short, science is telling me that no matter what kind of Crow it is, it is impossible to drink water by throwing small stones. No matter what kind of bird it was, it was impossible for it to fly across the entire ocean with a branch in its mouth.

If it had to do this, it must be a stupid bird, a stupid bird that drowned in the ocean and was eaten by fish.

I strongly urge the teachers not to fool the primary school students when they set the questions! It was easy for them to believe that there was such a bird in the world. Such questions were irresponsible to the students.

After reading it, Nangong Nuannuan felt as if she was about to burst out laughing.

her little sun was really too talented, wasn't she?

she knew it. how could there be such a bird in the world? How hard must it be to fly from one side of the ocean to the other side of the land every year?

Chapter 2384

2384 The iron-like straight boss Nangong (1)

Why couldn't it live peacefully on this or that land? Could it be that the female bird that lived on this side of the land was its wife on the other side?

Nangong Nuannuan glanced at Nangong Jin and saw that he had finished reading the paper calmly. After checking that he had gotten everything right, she returned the paper to the principal without any expression on her face.

Nan Xu's parent, " the teacher surnamed Zheng said, " you've seen Nan Xu's test paper. I'd like to hear your opinion.

Nangong Jin looked at this teacher Zheng with a strange expression.

Teacher Zheng was a middle-aged woman in her forties, but her face turned red from Nangong Jin's stare.

"What, you don't have anything to say, right? You also think that Nan Xu is wrong, right? If you really think so, I hope you can go back and discipline Nan Xu. At least let him understand what it means to respect his teacher."

Nangong Xu said indifferently, "this teacher, from the argument between you and Nan Xu's form teacher, I can tell that this question was set by you, so you're very dissatisfied with Nan Xu's rejection of you." nan xu was still young and could not make an analysis from scientific theories. he could only analyze the feasibility of crows drinking water and birds flying over the ocean from a normal perspective. However, I can tell you a formula about buoyancy.

if you want a piece of wood to carry a bird, you have to meet one condition, which is-the buoyancy of the wood-the gravity of the wood itself + the gravity of the bird.

in order to maximize the use of the wood, let's assume that the wood just happened to be completely under the water's surface. then we can conclude that the density of water * the volume of wood * the acceleration of gravity-the density of wood * the volume of wood * the acceleration of gravity + the weight of the bird * the acceleration of gravity. After combining similar terms and simplifying them, the result was: Volume of wood *(water density-wood density-bird weight).

The density of water is about 1000 kilograms per cubic meter, and the density of wood is between 400 and 750 kilograms per cubic meter. We'll take it that the bird is smart and found a lighter type. The density of wood will be calculated at 500 kilograms per cubic meter. It could be calculated that the weight of the bird/the volume of the wood-500 kg/cubic meter.

Simply put, this was the conclusion: If the bird weighed one kilogram, then the volume of the wood would be -1/500 cubic meters, 0.002 cubic meters, and 2 cubic decimeters.

Teacher, do you know what 2 cubic decimeters is? It's the common bricks, about two pieces. What was the concept of a one-kilogram bird? A chicken weighed about three to four catties, and a one-kilograms-heavy chicken was a little chick.

Could a bird the size of a chick pick up two pieces of wood the size of a brick or a wooden stick the size of an arm? Even if it could, the wind's resistance to the wood would cause it to be swept directly from the sea to the bottom of the sea.

one might say that the bird in your question was bigger than a chick-sized bird. However, the bird was big and heavy. When the time came, it might not be holding a branch as thick as an arm, but, as Nan Xu had said, a pillar. I don't think a bird can lift a pillar. What do you think, teacher?"

The principal was speechless.

Form teacher:

The teacher who came up with the questions:

Nangong Nuannuan, on the other hand, looked very serious. But on the inside, she felt that laughing would hurt her.

Her brother was probably a straight man.

The appraisal was complete!

Nangong Jin seemed to think that he hadn't said enough to anger that teacher to death, and said ...

Chapter 2385

2385 An outstanding person (2)

"so i don't think there's anything wrong with nan xu's composition. I hope teacher can be realistic."

“Yingluo, Yingluo, you really have the same kind of parents as your child! Did I come up with this essay question to make him suspect me? he didn’t even understand the purpose of my question!”

“What does he need to understand? You didn’t ask them to write the essay according to the meaning of these two materials. Your request is to write a composition according to these two materials. In other words, he could write down the meaning of these two materials and also the mistakes of these two materials. Everyone has different thoughts and ways of thinking. I don’t think my son’s way of thinking must follow your way of thinking.”

f * ck you! teacher Zheng was almost angered to death by Nangong Jin.

She had originally wanted to give him some face on account of his good looks, but this person simply didn’t know how to appreciate favors.

Moreover, Xuxu of the Nan family had to forgive her ignorance, but this was the best private primary school in dizhou. What kind of rich and powerful people had he not seen and heard of? What kind of family was the Nan family? She had never heard of it.

Thus, teacher Zheng instinctively thought that this was just an ordinary family that had to use countless connections to get into the school in order to hook up with a powerful family and provide a good platform for their children to develop. Therefore, she let herself go when she was dealing with Nangong Jin.

“Hehe, I was wondering why that Nan Xu was so rude and uneducated. After all this, the upper beam is not right, the lower beam is crooked!”

“Zheng Xin, shut up!” The principal was shocked by this teacher Zheng’s carefreeness and quickly stopped him.

That teacher Zheng was having a good time scolding, but when she heard the principal tell her to shut up, she subconsciously shut up.

Because she saw that the principal was speaking in a hurry, she was shocked and thought that the Nan family might really be a big family.

Although she knew almost all the surnames of the influential families in dizhou, some of them were low-key and not in business, but they had great power.

When Zheng Xin thought of this, she immediately shut her mouth.

Therefore, facing the principal’s different opinion, Zheng Xin sneered, “Outstanding person? Principal, with all due respect, what do you mean by an outstanding person? Would an outstanding person criticize the teacher’s questions for being false? An outstanding person would criticize a teacher for deceiving a student? An outstanding person would say on the test paper that the teacher was not responsible for the student? Would he say that the bird was a silly bird? This was clearly disrespecting the teacher! I think such a student should be expelled! Hehe, did he think that he could become rich and imposing just because he got into an elite school with some connections? For a family like yours that has no upbringing, no morals, no artistic cells, and no bottom line, even if you enter this school and stay here, you will never be able to rise above the rest!

The principal rebuked angrily, "this time, you're the teacher who's representing the school to come up with the question. The essay question you came up with has indeed caused some controversy." There was nothing wrong with Nan Xu's composition. We don't educate students to become people who think the same way as the teacher, but to educate students to be outstanding people."

Zheng Xin listened for a long time, but she did not hear the principal mention the identity of Nan Xu's father. Instead, he was discussing the matter with her. Her heart instantly calmed down. She was sure that Nan Xu's family was probably well-off, but he had no background.

Therefore, facing the principal's different opinion, Zheng Xin sneered, " "Outstanding person? Principal, with all due respect, what do you mean by an outstanding person? Would an outstanding person criticize the teacher's questions for being false? An outstanding person would criticize a teacher for deceiving a student? An outstanding person would say on the test paper that the teacher was not responsible for the student? Would he say that the bird was a silly bird? This was clearly disrespecting the teacher! Principal, I strongly suggest you expel Nan Xu!"

Chapter 2386

2386 The chairman?

"I think you're the one who should be fired!" After Nangong Jin said that, he looked at the principal and asked, " "You called me here just for this?"

"Hehe, So You Think it's a small matter?" Seeing that Nangong Jin was ignoring her, Zheng Xin instantly became even angrier.

However, Nangong Jin didn't pay any attention to Zheng Xin's words.

The principal glanced at Zheng Xin, stood up and said to Nangong Jin, " "Chairman, I didn't call you here today to deal with Nan Xu's problem, but because I think this teacher has a serious problem. the school didn't blame her for the composition issue. after all, everyone had their own opinions on such a topic. however, when nan xu's chinese test results came out, she was determined to change his full score to 0, and she even shouted in the principal's office. Because this matter is related to Nan Xu-san, I'll have to ask you to personally make a trip."

At this moment, Zheng Xin could also hear that there was something wrong with the principal's tone.

She was originally prepared to argue with the principal, but at this moment, she subconsciously looked at Nangong Jin with a bewildered expression on her face.

The chairman?

The principal called him Chairman?

As far as she knew, the chairman of this school was the property of the Nangong family, which was ranked first in Kamino.

But the principal called this man Chairman?

Suddenly, Zheng Xin thought of the surname Nan.

Nan? Nangong?

Zheng Xin felt her legs go soft.

The principal continued, "due to student Nanjo's special identity, the school did not disclose student Nanjo's identity." Although we're carrying out your school's purpose, our school has always been teaching with the mindset that everyone is equal. Whether it's students from noble families or ordinary families, I ask you to treat them equally. But even so, some of the teachers in the school still couldn't hide their desire to curry favor with the powerful. So this time, I took the liberty to invite Chairman Nangong over to make a judgment on this teacher who is fawning over the rich and powerful. It was all because of Nangong Xu's classmate, baibo. He always got first place in the third grade, and his family was well-off, so teacher Zheng always protected him. This time, Nangong Xu's score was given by a teacher from another school. It's full marks, but teacher Zheng insisted on deducting 30 points from his essay."

"Who said that? I didn't even want to help him. I really think that there's a problem with Nan Zhizhi and Nan Xu's essay. Of course, my words were a bit extreme just now. I didn't know you were the chairman. I'm sorry."

After saying that, Zheng Xin quickly bowed to Nangong Jin and immediately turned to little sun. She put on a fake smile and asked, "Student Xiao Xu, I was a little emotional just now and I'm sorry to have frightened you. But look, you criticized the teacher in your composition. Can we call it even? Can you forgive my teacher?"

Even though Zheng Xin was smiling, she was extremely terrified in her heart.

The salary and benefits of this school were very good, and the student platform was also very high. Her daughter was going to start working soon, and she had already told baibo's father that she would go work at their company after she graduated, and they would give her a high salary of 60 thousand a year. For a student who had just graduated, this was considered a very good treatment.

but she didn't know that she was just trying to protect the first place of baibo's grade.

Chapter 2387

2387 Expelled (4)

She had only inadvertently suppressed a child whose family name did not pose any threat to her, but she did not expect her luck to be so bad that she directly suppressed the Chairman's son.

Yingying was the young master of the Nangong family!

If she could build a good relationship with this young master Nangong, her daughter wouldn't have to work in a job that only earned 60000 a year. Even the lowest-level employees in the Imperial Group were said to have an annual salary of more than 200000 Yuan!

therefore, after zheng xin found out little sun's identity, she had a glimmer of hope in her despair.

in order to prevent little sun from not forgiving her, she said, " "Little Xu, why aren't you saying anything? Are you still angry with me? Didn't the school always teach everyone that it was great to admit one's mistake and change for the better? Although I have made a mistake, I have already apologized to you. Can you forgive me?"

Little sun looked at Zheng Xin, her handsome and delicate little face full of indifference.

"If an apology is useful, why do we need the police?"

Zheng Xin:

Nangong Nuannuan looked at her nephew from the side. She was completely mesmerized by this cool little fellow.

Little sun stood up and walked to Nangong Nuannuan. She held her hand and said to Zheng Xin, " "Not every kind of hurt is worth forgiving. And I don't think you deserve to be forgiven for the harm you've done to me. "

Then, little sun looked at the principal and said, " "Sir, I have evidence to prove that teacher Zheng is deliberately suppressing me."

After saying that, he pressed the watch on his wrist, and the voice of Zheng Xin and a boy came out. Nangong Nuannuan had heard the voice of the boy before.

It was that Bai Bo from the classroom.

It was a voice recording of baibo finding Zheng Xin and telling her that he could only be the first in the age group, and that she had to do anything to keep him first. He also promised Zheng Xin that as long as she could help him keep the first place in the grade, he would let his father let Zheng Xin's daughter go to the company for an internship, which would also be paid. This way, his salary would be higher after he became a permanent employee.

Zheng Xin didn't expect Nangong Xu to hear her conversation with Bai Bo and even record it. In an instant, his entire face turned deathly pale.

Little sun looked at Zheng Xin and said, " I don't know why a person like you can be a teacher, but I think the mistake you made to me is not worthy of forgiveness. You don't deserve my respect. Since you're close to him, you and your daughter can go work at his company!"

teacher Zheng, I'm officially informing you that you've been expelled.

Zheng Xin looked at the person in front of her in a daze.

Especially the woman who was being held by Nangong Xu, and his father. he felt that he was much shorter than her.

it was undeniable that she was someone who bullied the good and feared the evil. Therefore, she couldn't raise any thoughts of resistance against people who were much stronger than her.

She just regretted it.

He regretted not knowing Nangong Xu's identity. He regretted throwing away a watermelon for a sesame seed.

However, it was fortunate that she still had sesame seeds to pick up.

After getting expelled, Zheng Xin immediately called baibo's parents and told them that she had offended someone to help him and was now expelled by the principal.

The other party had originally said that he would help her seek justice.

However, when he heard that the person she had offended was the young master of the Nangong family, he immediately hung up on her.

Chapter 2388

2388 Acting cute, pitiful, and pitiful (5)

Zheng Xin was dumbfounded. She quickly called the other party back, but the phone was hung up.

The next day, Zheng Xin went directly to the Baiqi family's company, but was driven out by the security guard. Even baibo's parents said they didn't know her, much less give her and her daughter a job.

Zheng Xin was so regretful that her intestines were about to turn green.

If the heavens gave her another chance, she would definitely not suck up to the rich and powerful and look down on others.

Nangong Jin brought Nangong Nuannuan, who had been laughing all the way, and his son, who was in high spirits, to the parking lot. Just as he got into the car and was about to go home, his phone rang again.

Nangong Jin's originally sunny expression instantly turned dark.

"Big brother, what's wrong? Who called?"

Nangong Jin glanced at Nangong Nuannuan, who was sitting in the back seat, and said, "Little Ling 'er's headmaster."

"What's wrong with little Ling?" Nangong Nuannuan asked nervously, afraid that little Ling's congenital heart disease was acting up.

the director said she got into trouble and asked me to go to the school.

Nangong Nuannuan:

"Did you and your sister come to an agreement?" Nangong Nuannuan couldn't help but ask little sun with a smile when she heard that little Ling was fine.

At this moment, little sun was cuddling in Nangong Nuannuan's arms. She smiled and said, "No, I'm so obedient! Only little Ling 'er is always the one causing trouble."

Nangong Nuannuan:

Could it be that she didn't have a deep enough understanding of the siblings?

He always felt that a child prodigy like little sun was the one who always caused trouble. Little Ling 'er was so well-behaved, so soft, so cute. She was a girl who could melt one's heart with a single look. She was like a little angel. How could she cause trouble?

Nangong Jin felt a headache coming on and said, "Nuannuan, I'll have to trouble you to come with me again."

"No problem!" nangong nuannuan gave nangong jin an 'ok' sign. The car headed south and headed towards little Ling 'er's kindergarten.

This kindergarten was the northern War Department's kindergarten. All the military officers of the War Department could send their children there.

The principal of the kindergarten was a commander who had retired due to an injury. He had always managed the kindergarten in an orderly manner.

When Nangong Jin and Nangong Nuannuan entered the director's office with little sun, they were greeted by little Ling's big, adorable eyes.

At this moment, her eyes were still red, and she looked like she had been wronged. Nangong Nuan's heart melted at the sight of this.

Such a cute little rabbit, she didn't understand how hard the director's heart must be to face her with a straight face.

"Good day, commander!"

When the Dean saw Nangong Jin, he immediately stood up from his seat and saluted him.

The northern War Department was in charge of the war departments of the northern provinces. It could be considered a joint War Department. Therefore, even though Nangong Jin was only the commander of battle zone A, his rank was already at the level of a general.

Seeing that her father had come, little Ling 'er's big watery eyes shrank, and she looked even more aggrieved, weak, and pitiful.

Little Ling glanced at her expressionless father, then at the concerned little sun, and finally at Nangong Nuannuan. Her eyes were already red, but at this moment, tears were flowing freely from them.

Nangong Nuannuan felt that she couldn't hold it in any longer. She walked forward and pulled little Ling into her arms.

"Little Ling 'er, what's wrong? Don't cry, don't cry, tell Auntie, Auntie will help you!"

(the reason why i wrote this is because it's the end of the term. i'm tutoring my homework and i've been very resentful recently. i feel like i gave birth to a tiktok kid, which is why little sun and little ling 'er are here. Look at the author's words.)

Chapter 2389

2389 The difference between siblings (1)

However, little Ling 'er was only in charge of crying and wasn't in charge of speaking. The little one was nestled in her arms, looking extremely pitiful.

"Nanny Zhang, why are you here?" Nangong Jin looked at the woman who was called Madam Zhang, and a flash of awkwardness and awkwardness appeared in her eyes.

After Nangong Jin was injured, she had interacted with her sister-in-law, mu Chenxiang, so she knew that nanny Zhang was mu Chenxiang's nanny and that she was the woman who had watched her grow up. After mu Chenxiang's mother passed away, she had been bullied by her stepmother. Only nanny Zhang continued to treat her like a Missy and would treat her well even if she had to sacrifice herself.

Thus, when mu Chenxiang gained power, she took nanny Zhang to her side and made her the assistant Butler of their small family.

Even though she was still a servant, nanny Zhang didn't have to do anything other than take care of Nangong Xu and Nangong Ling's matters. He was practically living out his old age in their home.

Therefore, nanny Zhang usually doted on the two children.

Looking at nanny Zhang's troubled expression, Nangong Nuannuan knew that she had really gotten into trouble.

After being questioned by Nangong Jin, Madam Zhang's face was filled with awkwardness. She could only stand up and bow to Nangong Jin, confessing, "Young master, it's all my fault. I wasn't strict with Little Miss and even deceived the teacher with Little Miss. I didn't fulfill my duty as a servant, and I know I was wrong. No matter how the young master punishes me, it's only right.

Nangong Jin felt a headache coming on as he looked at the assistant Butler who was doted on by his wife.

Perhaps because she had invested too much in her feelings, sometimes, Madam Zhang could no longer distinguish her position.

Sometimes, when he was educating his child, nanny Zhang would also help him plead for mercy. If he did not listen, Madam Zhang would cry even more.

looking at nanny zhang's apology, nangong jin sighed in his heart. however, he still softened his attitude and asked, "What's going on?"

"commander nangong, let me do the talking."

The Dean placed a few cards on the table and said, "Now, we've begun to link up with the contents of primary school. We've taught the children addition, subtraction, and pinyin for numbers within 100 figures. At the same time, we've also assigned some homework to them. However, student Nangong Ling is not serious about her homework."

It was something written again.

Nangong Nuannuan immediately stood up and leaned over to take a look.

On the first piece of paper, the teacher had written in pronounced Chinese characters: If there was a hole in front of you that was no more than a meter deep and there was no water in it, how would you get out if you jumped in?

Nangong Ling replied-

[answer: when the water in the toilet comes out, the person can Fu * K up.]

“Teacher’s comment: do you have that much water in your head?” I hope you can come up with a new answer.

Xiao Ling ‘er’s mistake was,”if I don’t put so much water in my p * NIS, do I need to put it in?”

“Pfft, pfft, pfft.”

Nangong Nuannuan swore that she had held back, but she couldn’t help but burst out laughing.

Nangong Nuannuan quickly stopped laughing and looked at her big brother, whose expression had obviously become much uglier. She then looked at little Ling and mourned for her for a second.

The next piece of paper was a few math questions. Little Ling ‘er had gotten the first question right, but there was a question at the back. What was $8 + 16$?

little ling ‘er’s answer space was empty, and the teacher typed a question mark in the empty space. She meant that she needed to change this part.

However, little Ling ‘er wrote a sentence in the correction area: Hand Zhi+ Jiao Zhi = 20,8 +16 doesn’t add.

The teacher’s comment was,”please use your brain?”

little ling ‘er’s reply was,”but there’s only one naga, it’s not enough even if you add more!”

The teacher:

hahahahahahaha Yingluo!

nangong nuannuan couldn’t hold it in any longer. she burst out laughing.

Even if she was facing her unsmiling elder brother and the equally unsmiling director, what could she do? She just couldn’t stop laughing.

Sure enough, it was just as little sun had said. Little Ling ‘er really didn’t know how to do anything other than act cute. her iq was the complete opposite of her brother’s. Could it be that sister-in-law had given all her wisdom to little sun when she was pregnant? This was too much of a scam!

“Director, I’ll pay more attention to her studies when I go back. I’ve caused you trouble.”

The Dean nodded. commander Nangong, you're too kind. It's our responsibility to educate our students. However, you're only looking at student Nangong Ling's homework. I called you over today because student Nangong Ling has been skipping school all this while."

Nangong Jin didn't show any dissatisfaction when he saw the headache-inducing homework. However, after hearing the Dean's words, Nangong Jin narrowed his eyes.

"Not only that, your family's Madam Zhang even scared one of our teachers and gave him a heart attack."

Nangong Jin:

Nangong Nuannuan, Yingluo?

"This is the phone that I confiscated from your Madam Zhang. There is evidence of her and Nangong Ling's text messages. Nangong Ling had been lying that granny Zhang, who had brought her up, had passed away and had taken seven days of leave. Today, the form teacher saw that Nangong Ling had not come to class, so she came to visit your house."

Nangong Jin glanced at little Ling, causing the soft and cute girl to shiver in fear.

When Nangong Jin saw that the girl was still afraid, he opened his phone and looked at the conversation between the two.

Madam Zhang,"Little Miss, what should we do (ban)?" Because you skipped school (Tao), your teacher (sh * t) came to your home (Jiao) to find you!

little ling 'er: " granny zhang, hurry up and get up. my god, our old sh * t is saying that you're going to sh * t. "

Nanny Zhang,"ran ran."

The headmaster said at the right time,"our teacher is kind enough to visit your house and see if student Nangong Ling needs any help." In the end, only Madam Zhang is at home. The form teacher knew nanny Zhang. When she saw her, she knew that she had been deceived. She told nanny Zhang that Nangong Ling had been skipping class for the past few days because she had passed away. In the end, when your family's Madam Zhang saw that Nangong Ling's lies were exposed, she did not have any intention to help her repent. Instead, her face darkened and her eyes revealed a fierce light as she said to our teacher, " it's her seventh day today. she just can't bear to leave your house, so she came back to visit. Our teacher has been afraid of ghosts since he was a child, and he was so frightened by your family's Madam Zhang that he had a heart attack and fainted. Fortunately, your Butler suddenly appeared and sent teacher to the hospital. Although it's no longer a big problem, I still think it's better to let you know about this."

She looked at Nangong Ling, who was cowering in the corner, rubbing her hands with a look of 'I was wrong, I'm repentant, I deserve to die'. She looked at Nangong Ling's big and red eyes, as if all this had nothing to do with her. A few drops of tears fell from Nangong Ling's warm eyes, and she quickly wiped them away.

On the surface, Nangong Nuannuan held back her laughter, as she felt that she should not have laughed. He shouldn't have laughed. however, she felt that she was about to suffer internal injuries from holding back.
