

Physician Wife 2531

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2531

2531 Red sun's redemption (2)

In an instant, the temperature rose.

feng shengxuan:

The blood bag and blood transfusion tube had already been prepared. Nangong Nuannuan only needed to use her fastest speed to insert the needle into Chi Yang's blood vessel.

Her blood vessels were like crops that had been dried up for a long time being nourished by a clear spring. Nangong Nuannuan was still wondering how she could inject blood into Chi Yang's body as quickly as possible so that he could take his fourth breath. However, the special ability cells that had gathered around the wound instantly swam away from the wound and absorbed the 250-milliliter blood at an astonishing speed.

Seeing that the 250 ml bag of blood was completely absorbed in a minute and a half, everyone: .....

Feng shengxuan clicked his tongue, 'tsk, tsk, is this person a vampire? He's actually so fast at sucking other people's blood.'

Selina:

Yang was probably the only one who would dare to make sarcastic remarks about his brother-in-law when boss Nuan was in such a bad mood.

But Selina guessed that he was only so bold because she had donated her blood.

Otherwise, he definitely wouldn't have dared to.

As expected, just as Nangong Nuannuan's breathing started to slow down again, Feng shengxuan took out another bag of blood. "Do you think I'm good to him? I donated 750 ml of my blood to him. This is the second bag."

The temperature rose again.

At that moment, Selina felt that her brother was really cheap sometimes!

After the first bag of blood was filled, Nangong Nuannuan took out the second bag. The plane hovered in the air, and when the second bag of blood was almost finished, Selina asked, "Boss, are we going to the small hospital below or the big hospital we booked?"

"Is there any other blood besides yours?"

"Don't worry, the whole backpack is full of blood."

Nangong Nuannuan then calculated the amount of blood Chi Yang had lost and the amount of blood he had taken in. She said, "go to a big hospital. it's faster."

"Alright," he said. Selina replied in a good mood.

Nangong Nuannuan had not paid any attention to ning Wenhao from the beginning to the end, and this made him feel very sad. At the moment Chi Yang was dying, ning Wenhao felt that if his boss lost his life because of this, he would probably not have the courage to live on.

When he heard Nangong Nuannuan say that she was going to a big hospital, ning Wenhao's heart suddenly came back to life.

When he saw the warmth in Nangong Nuannuan's eyes, ning Wenhao knew that his boss was saved.

The helicopter flew to the designated hospital as fast as it could. On the plane, Nangong Nuannuan's resuscitation didn't stop for a moment.

Although there was enough blood, the injury in the pericardium could not be healed without surgery. As the blood transfusion was ongoing, the heart was also bleeding continuously with every contraction.

Therefore, on the plane, Nangong Nuannuan not only had to use a silver needle to control the contraction of the chiyang heart muscle, but also to enlarge it so that it could not contract and operate normally. On the other hand, she had to use a tube to quickly guide the blood that was already immersed in the internal organs out. Otherwise, his internal organs would be soaked.

At first, Wu Lingyun and ning Wenhao didn't know about Chi Yang's bleeding situation. They thought that he might have injured his vital organs, causing him to be too bloodthirsty.

However, they saw that the wound on his shoulder had started to dry up, and his injury had stabilized. Why was Chi Yang's condition getting worse and worse? In the end, when Nangong Nuannuan let Chi Yang's blood out of his body, they realized that the external injury was not fatal. The internal bleeding was.

Chi Yang's body had already accumulated a lot of blood, causing his body to swell a little.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2532

2532 Where's the thing I wanted (3)

The drainage with a needle was too slow. Therefore, Nangong Nuannuan made up her mind and made an incision on Chi Yang's abdomen with a knife. She then inserted the catheter.

Instantly, blood gushed out.

Only when a large amount of blood flowed out of their bodies did ning Wenhao and Wu Lingyun realize how dangerous Chi Yang's condition was.

Of the two, one was a top-tier Special Forces member, and the other was a medical director. Of course, they knew what such a large amount of blood meant to humans.

It was a miracle that he was still alive after losing so much blood.

They knew that if it wasn't for Nangong Nuannuan, Chi Yang would have been dead by the time he had boarded the plane.

Feng shengxuan's three bags of blood were quickly absorbed, and Nangong Nuannuan immediately switched to normal blood.

However, he realized that the moment Feng shengxuan's blood entered Chi Yang's body, the special ability cells in his body immediately jumped up like active factors, and the speed at which they absorbed the blood could be said to be godlike. However, when the blood of an ordinary person entered Chi Yang's body, the speed at which his body absorbed the blood slowed down significantly.

However, because of the special cells in Feng shengxuan's body, the absorption speed was still okay. At least, the amount of blood lost every time Chi Yang breathed and his heart contracted was just enough to offset the amount of blood absorbed.

Even though Chi Yang's life was still in danger, at least his condition had not worsened.

Finally, they arrived at the hospital.

Nangong Nuannuan picked Chi Yang up like a tomboy and jumped off the plane before it even landed.

Feng shengxuan was next, followed by ning Wenhao.

Wu Lingyun waited for the plane to land before alighting.

The hospital had already received the order from the combat service department a few minutes ago and had already prepared the surgery vehicle. After Nangong Nuannuan jumped off the plane, she carried Chi Yang as fast as she could and ran to the surgery cart. Then, she placed him on the cart.

Blood continued to flow out of the drainage tube and into the bag. On the other side, fresh blood was being injected into Chi Yang's body at an abnormal speed through the infusion tube.

"Where's the thing I wanted?"

Nangong Nuannuan was busy with the blood transfusion as she pushed the Gurney toward the operating room. She was much faster than the doctors. The doctors could only silently marvel at Nangong Nuannuan's strength. Not only was she able to carry a seriously injured man and run, but she was also able to push such a heavy surgery cart and run faster than they could do a 100-meter sprint.

Although Feng shengxuan didn't say much, his actions were still very helpful. He immediately took out two things that Nangong Nuannuan needed. "One is the heart, and the other is the heart valve. He should have only injured his heart, right? If it's not enough, I still have kidneys and livers. I'll give you whatever parts he needs. I've also brought the scalpel and silver needles that you often use. The helicopter at the back has gamma rays."

Seeing that Feng shengxuan had brought so many things with him, Nangong Nuannuan decided not to argue with him.

Nangong Nuannuan was monitoring Chi Yang's condition as she made her way to the operating room.

When the doctors saw Nangong Nuannuan push the patient toward the operating room without even needing a guide, they thought she had been to their hospital before.

When she rushed into the operating room, Nangong Nuannuan only asked Feng shengxuan to pass her the blood bag and bring the things in before she went into the operating room.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2533

2533 The consequences of heart damage (4)

The doctor was about to enter the operating room, but Selina stopped him.

“You don’t have to go in. We’re just borrowing your operating theater for a while.”

“how can we do that? There was so much blood being drained from the patient’s body just now, so it’s obvious that he’s bleeding internally. We have to go in and help treat the internal wounds.”

“No need,” Selina still wouldn’t let him in.

Instead of letting these doctors from small hospitals go in and see her boss in shock, she might as well let them stay outside and not affect her boss.

At this time, the medical equipment from the second helicopter arrived at the same time. Feng shengxuan immediately sent the things in.

Initially, he had wanted to help her from inside. However, when he entered, he realized that Chi Yang’s chest had been cut open. When he saw that Nangong Nuannuan had to face the man she loved like this, Feng shengxuan had no choice but to leave.

Before he left, he said to Nangong Nuannuan, “I’ll be at the door. Call me if you need anything.”

Nangong Nuannuan didn’t respond, but Feng shengxuan knew that she had heard him.

In the operating room, Nangong Nuannuan used the internal circulation ventilator for Chi Yang as fast as she could. Once this breathing machine was used, Chi Yang did not rely on his own heart to circulate the blood in his body, nor did he rely on the heart to supply vitality to his internal organs.

The lungs no longer contracted their lobules and provided air through the beating of the heart. They were completely relying on ventilators and various tubes to operate everything.

After using the ventilator as quickly as possible, Nangong Nuannuan cut open Chi Yang’s chest without hesitation and quickly repaired the damaged pericardium.

The heart and valves Feng shengxuan had brought with him weren’t of much use to Chi Yang, but her newly developed artificial membrane had solved his urgent problem.

Back when the man-made film was first developed, the medical experts at Angel pharmaceuticals had said that it was useless.

this was because once a person’s heart was damaged, the heart would beat 60 to 100 times per minute. for example, 60 beats was the lowest normal rate. with each beat, 70 milliliters of blood would be squeezed out. with 60 beats per minute, the blood loss would be 4200 milliliters. The total amount of blood in a human body was only 4000 ml. Losing 1500 ml would cause immediate death. Those who died only after losing 2000 ml were people with extremely strong bodies.

In other words, once the heart was injured, the person would die in less than half a minute.

However, to Nangong Nuannuan, the damage to her heart was not irreversible. This was because human death was not caused by heart damage, but because the blood loss squeezed out after the heart was damaged was the root cause of human death.

As long as the blood loss was controlled at the moment the heart was damaged, and the heart was repaired in time, the patient could still survive even if the heart was injured.

This was just Nangong Nuannuan's idea before, so she had made an artificial epineurium based on the epineurium and inner membrane of the human heart. the epineurium was an extremely delicate organ membrane that would not be rejected. it had the same effect as an artificial heart stent.

As long as the epicardium could be sewn, the heart would still be as lively as before it was injured.

The repair of the pericardium was actually the same as the repair of blood vessels. As long as the suture was done well, it would definitely not affect the patient's survival time.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2534

2534 treatment (1)

However, if the suturing was not good enough, there was a possibility that the pericardium would ooze blood.

Chi Yang was the most important person to Nangong Nuannuan. How could Nangong Nuannuan not put in her best effort in suturing his epicardium?

the answer was definitely no.

Regardless of whether it was a thread, a needle, or even a pure manual surgery for the repair of the pericardium, Nangong Nuannuan always carried out the surgery with the attitude of seeking perfection.

Chi Yang's body was already filled with tubes, and all his metabolism was maintained by a breathing machine, so Nangong Nuannuan was not worried at all that the stitching would take too long and cause her body to lack oxygen.

Slow work produces fine work.

She had never thought that something that she had casually developed out of interest in these new things would be used on brother chiyang first.

She also didn't expect that it was just because she was about to perform surgery on her second uncle. She thought that her second uncle's heart wasn't in good condition because of the explosion that year, which had affected his heart. She had observed the various organs in her second uncle's body. Although he had undergone countless operations in the past seventeen years, almost all of them had been damaged. This was also the reason why second uncle died early in his previous life after constantly having his internal organs replaced.

These artificial membranes were specially used to adhere to the outer wall of the internal organs. She had asked someone to produce them according to her requirements to replace the outer wall of the internal organs for second uncle.

She didn't expect that before her second uncle's operation was completed, this thing would be used on her brother chiyang.

After the heart muscle was expanded through the silver needle, the heart was no longer able to contract. All the blood was maintained and transported through a ventilator.

On the other hand, Nangong Nuannuan only needed to repair her brother chiyang's pericardium very carefully and clean out all the remaining blood in the pericardium.

However, even if that was the case, it was not easy to do it well. This was because Nangong Nuannuan realized that her hands were trembling when she first started using the epineurium to suture the pericardium.

The feeling of performing surgery for brother chiyang was different from performing surgery for anyone else.

Previously, when she had performed a heart transplant on Latin in the country of Lun tan, her hands had been very steady.

because it was not someone she cared about with her life, she would not have any psychological burden. although when she was performing the surgery on latin, she also thought that latin would be cured and there would be no accidents.

However, this kind of mentality was not suitable for brother chiyang.

She cared about Chi Yang to a point where she cared more about him than her own life. Therefore, as she looked at the man who had all sorts of tubes attached to him, Nangong Nuannuan had to control her emotions and at the same time, get rid of the tears that would occasionally flow from her eyes.

There were many blood vessels in the heart, and it involved many cells. Nangong Nuannuan was reluctant to let his body feel even the slightest bit of discomfort after he recovered, so she was very careful when sewing.

Originally, she used the thinnest suture needle with a diameter of only 0.09 mm. The thread was an absorbable suture without any foreign matter, developed by Angel pharmaceuticals under disheng according to her requirements.

Nangong Nuannuan took a deep breath to calm herself down as she sutured the wound at her fastest speed.

the steel bar brushed past the pericardium and went down, stabbing the edge of the pericardium. this was why every time the heart contracted, the blood would overflow through the broken pericardium.

if he wanted to repair the pericardium, he would need to perform an extremely meticulous suture.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2535

2535 Suture repair technique (2)

This was because even if a tiny gap was left, when the pericardium contracted again, blood would still be forced out through the gap in the heart and into the chest cavity.

There was no one in the world who could survive for such a long time with an injury to the heart, and no one could suture the heart after it was injured.

Nangong Nuannuan did not have any experience to learn from, so he could only rely on his own understanding of the human body to try this kind of surgery for the first time-cardiac suture repair.

If this operation was successful, she would break the theory that she would die after her heart was injured.

Nangong Nuannuan's stitches were very delicate. Although she could have used less time to do this, she was facing brother chiyang. So, even though she knew that no matter how fast or slow she was, the effect would not be much worse, Nangong Nuannuan was still more careful than usual.

The wound in the heart was a Little Big, but when the steel bar was pierced, it brushed past the pericardium and damaged it. Fortunately, it did not hurt the atrium or the ventricle. So she only needed to suture the rupture in the pericardium.

Two hours was a very long time for Nangong Nuannuan. With her hand speed, she should be able to finish this kind of suture in about half an hour.

However, because this was brother chiyang, Nangong Nuannuan was very serious during the operation and it took a full two hours.

Two hours later, the repair and suture of the pericardium were completed.

a total of three places had been repaired. the largest wound was three centimeters long, and the smallest wound was 0.5 centimeters long.

However, the heart was an internal organ that was always compressed by pacing. Even a 0.01-centimeter damage would be fatal, let alone 0.5 centimeters.

After the surgery, Nangong Nuannuan removed the ten or so silver needles that had been inserted into her heart.

After the silver needle was kept, the heart muscle that had expanded to the point where it could not contract anymore began to contract for the first time.

every time the heart contracted, it would squeeze out about 70 ml of blood. the blood that was squeezed out would flow in a certain direction, repeating the process. In the medical world, this was known as blood circulation.

The main function of blood circulation was to use blood as a transportation tool. By absorbing the nutrients from food and fresh oxygen from the lungs, it would turn venous blood into arterial blood and transport it to various organs, tissues, and cells of the human body for them to complete important physiological functions. after being recycled by tissues or cells, the waste produced and the carbon dioxide exhaled would enter the blood and become venous blood, which would then be carried to the lungs, liver, kidney, skin, and other organs and tissues through the blood to be discharged to ensure the continuous metabolism of all parts of the body.

The heart was the center of this massive circulatory system.

Because the heart muscle had been expanded for two hours, after the silver needle was taken out, the blood that was compressed for the first time only reached about 30 ml, and then it began to rise rapidly.

After about a minute, each contraction could reach about 70 ml of blood.

Nangong Nuannuan heaved a sigh of relief when she saw with her own eyes that the blood no longer seeped out of the pericardium but circulated to the veins and brain according to the guidance of the heart, providing the brain with fresh blood.

His most serious injury had finally been dealt with.

However, the ventilator could not be dismantled yet.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2536

2536 Exploded (3)

Because the steel bar had pierced into Chi Yang's chest vertically, it had also pierced through the pulmonary lobe above the pericardium before it injured his pericardium. Therefore, she had to repair the pulmonary lobe.

Although the lungs were also a very important organ, they were fundamentally different from the heart. This could be seen from the fact that some lung cancer patients could even remove a part of their lungs to save their lives.

The heart could not be lost because it was the center of the blood circulation in the body. The lungs were much better.

nangong nuannuan was no longer under that much psychological pressure. it took less than half an hour for her lungs to be repaired.

After cleaning and bandaging the external wounds, Nangong Nuannuan removed Chi Yang's breathing machine.

There were many tubes on the ventilator that needed to be inserted into various organs, so when he took out the tubes to restore his blood circulation, Chi Yang felt a little uncomfortable, and even his brows furrowed.

nangong nuannuan quickly used a silver needle to magnify his nerves and deepen his sleep.

When the earthquake happened, brother chiyang had rushed to the scene with the people of the Flying Eagle Clan. After that, they had been waiting there to provide help.

It had been a full 72 hours since the earthquake. Brother chiyang had been there during the golden time. it was not that she was overestimating her man, but nangong nuannuan knew that big brother chiyang was a person who risked his life when it came to other people's lives. she did not believe that big brother chiyang had not rested for even a minute in the past three days.

he was the kind of person who felt that since he had more powerful abilities than others, he must use them to help more people.

Brother chiyang was so upright that Nangong Nuannuan could not understand him. She could not understand what kind of feelings he had to be so loyal to his duty. For those people he didn't even know, he was actually willing to risk his life.

But what could he do?

Since she had already fallen in love with and married a man like this, she could only respect him, protect him, help him, and accompany him.

for three days, even if she didn't sleep, she wouldn't be able to hold on, not to mention her brother chiyang was so seriously injured.

For him, opening his eyes was not the most important thing. Rest was the most important.

Anyway, she was here. She would always look after big brother chiyang and not let anything happen to him.

After the surgery, Nangong Nuannuan did not push Chi Yang out immediately. On one hand, she still had to observe Chi Yang's situation. If there was any bad turn of events, she could use the equipment in this operating room to continue his operation. On one hand, Chi Yang's injuries were very serious, and many people knew about it. even the people who were close to them knew that chi yang might have injured her heart. if they left so quickly, and people found out that she could actually cure someone with a damaged heart, they would spread the news about her.

Although she would push brother chiyang out after a few hours, there would still be people who would expose this matter, but she could think of a way to suppress this matter. On the other hand, the longer she stayed in there, the more excuses she could find in the future.

Her dream was indeed to become a doctor. however, she only wanted to treat the people around her brother chiyang, fei ying and the members of the combat service department.

She didn't lack money or love, and she didn't have the great feelings of brother chiyang.

What Nangong Nuannuan didn't know was that while she had quietly performed Chi Yang's surgery for two and a half hours and watched over him for eight hours, the outside had exploded.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2537

2537 everyone's visit (4)

The news of Chi Yang's heart injury was spread to someone, and very quickly, the news of the Flying Eagle Commander-in-Chief's heart being pierced by steel bars spread like wildfire.

When old master Chi heard the news, he almost fainted. No matter how much Chi zeyao tried to stop him, he had to make a trip to the hospital in person.

However, when they arrived at the hospital, all they saw was the red surgical light on. Neither Selina nor Feng shengxuan, who was disguised as Gu Mingcheng, knew what was going on inside.

The old man was so anxious that he couldn't sit still.

On the other hand, the president was also very worried when he heard that Chi Yang was seriously injured and his heart was damaged. The two vice presidents and a few potential governors had already rushed to the disaster area to express their condolences. When they heard that Chi Yang was injured and in critical condition, the president and his party immediately rushed to the hospital where Chi Yang was.

the chi family had a pivotal role in kamino, and chi yuancheng was kamino's only grand marshal. now, this grand marshal's only grandson was the commander-in-chief of kamino's flying eagle special forces.

The hospital was originally a private hospital in Shengzhou. Because it had just been built, the building was relatively new, and it was not located in the earthquake zone, so it was not affected much.

Many injured patients were sent to this hospital for treatment.

Originally, it was just a small, unknown hospital. Who knew that not long after receiving Chi Yang's patient, who did not allow all doctors and nurses to enter, it would welcome the general, President, Vice President, and other big shots that the hospital's doctors would probably never see in person in their lives.

When they received the instructions from the combat service department, they only knew that the injured person was someone very important to the combat service department. now, when the president and his men stood in front of the courtyard, they finally realized that the person inside whose life and death were unknown was actually the grand marshal's only grandson.

although the hospital's doctors were not able to personally perform the operation for chi yang, they were still doctors. in addition, this private hospital was currently the best in shengzhou, so the doctors they hired were all experienced and experienced.

A few senior doctors only needed to take a look at Chi Yang's condition to basically understand it.

therefore, when the president asked, they told him the truth. although they didn't treat chi yang, chi yang's injury was likely to kill him.

This was because when he arrived, there was a drainage tube in his body that continuously drew blood out of his body, which was enough to show that he was suffering from internal bleeding at the time.

From the looks of it, the injury was on the left side of his chest. The injury should be in his heart. Even if it wasn't in his heart, it should be in his lungs, which was why there was so much bleeding.

this was because only when a major organ was injured would there be so much internal bleeding.

"then do you think his heart or lungs were injured?" The president could not help but ask.

"According to my judgment, the other party's heart should be damaged," the doctor said with some difficulty. Only when the heart was damaged would there be so much blood. However, that was not necessarily the case. If the heart was really damaged, the person would die in less than 30 seconds. However, Commander-in-Chief Chi had entered the operating room alive. And I saw that the girl beside him was also transfusing blood to him at a very fast speed, even the absorption speed was equal to the blood loss speed. So maybe Yingluo can find a solution?"

The president then asked a few other doctors about it. In the end, everyone came to a unanimous conclusion that Chi Yang had really injured his heart.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2538

2538 Facing the bad news (1)

However, the person who sent Chi Yang into the operating room was Nangong Nuannuan, so everyone still had a glimmer of hope.

He hoped that Chi Yang's condition wouldn't be too serious even if his heart was injured. Either that, or he was injured somewhere else.

However, when the other two members of the Flying Eagle Special Forces who were trapped with Chi Yang arrived, everyone's mood instantly fell to the bottom except for Shi maowen.

According to the members of the Eagle Special Forces, a steel bar had pierced Chi Yang's chest from his left shoulder. From the beginning to the end, Chi Yang had only suffered one injury.

Therefore, everyone guessed that Chi Yang had injured his heart.

Those who knew Nangong Nuannuan well knew that she was so powerful. If she had only injured her lungs, she wouldn't have been in there for eight or nine hours.

although old man chi and chi zeyao did not say anything, they could not help but feel worried and upset.

although there was a certain degree of danger in disaster relief, chi yang had a special ability. he had survived so many rounds of bullets, so how could he let zhe yi stay here?

After Chi Yang had gone in for 10 hours and still hadn't come out, the usually calm and composed old man couldn't help but stand up and say, "I want to go in and see Chi Yang."

He wanted to go in and ask this brat if he was willing to abandon his old grandfather and his wife, who had yet to complete the wedding, and leave just like that.

"i'll go in with you," said chi zeyao.

Feng shengxuan had disguised himself as Gu Mingcheng and had been waiting outside. No one else was allowed to enter, but his grandfather and father were different.

Therefore, when Feng shengxuan saw that they were about to enter, he made way for them.

Shi maowen, who was standing beside the president, also wanted to know Chi Yang's situation as soon as possible. He said, "Mr. President, should we go in and take a look?"

Ever since the president started to hate Nangong Nuannuan, he realized that the president's attitude towards him had improved a lot. He would even invite him to attend events and such.

This made Shi Maowen very proud.

This was because he knew that Yalin was a promising person. She had found her master to hypnotize the president.

However, he also knew that the other party had only hypnotized the president and did not make the president work for the Shi family. Hence, Shi Maowen did not dare to be too unreasonable. This was because Shi Yalin had said that the president only wanted Nangong Nuan Nuan dead.

He hated Nangong Nuannuan, and if he wanted her dead, he would definitely cross the line between the Nangong and Chi families. So, the Shi family did not need to worry. They only needed to hit her when she was down and follow the president's lead.

With the president around, Chi Yang's death or not didn't matter much. The president would definitely make the Nangong and Chi families decline.

When the position of the crimson sun flying eagle was replaced by someone else, the glory of the Chi family would be destroyed.

Old Master Chi didn't know what kind of mentality he had when he entered. He only felt that if Chi Yang had really hurt her heart, and Nuan Nuan had gone in for such a long time without coming out, her condition would probably not be good.

At this moment, the old man was mentally prepared. He had come in to comfort his granddaughter-in-law.

It could be said that Old Master Chi had brought Chi Yang up. He was not only Old Master Chi's life's work, but also the symbol of the Chi family's continued growth.

Old man Chi would rather die a hundred times than see anything happen to Chi Yang.

However, at this moment, since something had happened, the people who needed to be taken care of the most were not the dead, but the living.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2539

2539 backing (2)

Although Nangong Nuannuan wasn't the Chi family's granddaughter-in-law yet, she truly loved Chi Yang and the Chi family. She treated the Chi family as her own family. Old Master Chi even felt that she treated the Chi family better than she treated the Nangong family.

If anything really happened to Chi Yang, he would definitely not let this girl who was not his granddaughter-in-law but closer to him than his granddaughter-in-law suffer.

He would become her right arm, her backing.

In this life, if Nuannuan were to stay with the Chi family, he would pass the entire family to her.

If Nuannuan were to get married one day, he would treat her like his only biological granddaughter and marry her off in a Grand and glorious manner.

Although he knew that his grandson would be sad in the underworld, he also knew that Chi Yang would only be at ease in the underworld if he could make Nuan Nuan happy.

The door to the operating room was right in front of him. It was just a door, but Chi Yuancheng felt as if it weighed a thousand pieces of gold.

Chi zeyao stood up and personally pushed the door open for his father. The two of them supported each other as they walked in.

This was a VIP single-person operating room, and there were no other patients or doctors inside.

There were two operating rooms, and after entering the corridor was the sterile clothing changing room, where the disinfection and dressing were done.

Chi Yuancheng and Chi zeyao silently changed into sterile clothes and disinfected their hands before walking in.

The moment they walked in, Chi Yuancheng and Chi zeyao felt extremely depressed.

Even though the two of them were battle-hardened powerhouses, their eyes could not help but redden when they saw the situation inside.

There was no blood in the operating theater at all, and the atmosphere was extremely warm.

chi yang seemed to be asleep. his eyes were closed, and he looked extremely peaceful. Nuan Nuan sat beside him, her left hand holding his. Their wedding rings clinked against each other. Nuan Nuan's other hand was gently stroking Chi Yang's forehead, as if she was comforting a person who had just fallen asleep.

She was beautiful to begin with, and her exquisite facial features had an unparalleled visual impact. Even if she was just sitting quietly without any expression, she would still attract people's attention.

However, at this moment, Nuan Nuan's lips were curled into a smile, her eyes were gentle, and her gaze as she looked at Chi Yang was filled with deep love.

The collision of their wedding rings and the entanglement of their eyebrows showed that they had long become one.

This heartwarming scene filled old man Chi and Chi zeyao's hearts with boundless sorrow.

What a good girl, what a good couple. The two people who loved each other so much had actually been separated forever just like that.

Looking at the gentleness and love in Nuan Nuan's eyes, old master Chi and Chi zeyao were both worried that this girl would leave with Chi Yang after his death.

Although one of them was alive and the other should be dead, no one could sense that they had been separated. They were so closely connected that they had long become one. Both old man Chi and Chi zeyao felt a sense of panic in their hearts.

They were panicking because Chi Yang was dead and Nuannuan was about to leave them.

After having this feeling, Chi Yuancheng and Chi zeyao instantly felt bad. The two men, who could remain calm even under the weight of Mount Tai, had a slight change in their expressions at this moment.

It had already been seven and a half hours since he had finished the surgery for Chi Yang. Chi Yang's body was already operating normally.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 2540

2540 faith (3)

Although he was still very, very, very weak, he would recover completely one day.

Nangong Nuannuan had been in a good mood, but after more than seven hours, her excitement had slowly calmed down. All she could see was the sleeping brother chiyang.

She just sat there, quietly observing the blood and cell circulation in brother chiyang's body. Looking at brother chiyang's peaceful sleeping face, she felt a kind of satisfaction of peaceful years.

He looked at it for a full seven hours, even forgetting to inform his family.

It was only when old master Chi and Chi zeyao were already standing in front of her that Nangong Nuannuan snapped out of her daze.

When he saw Nangong Nuannuan raise her head to look at them in a daze, Chi zeyao couldn't help but close his eyes.

Only old master Chi had his back straight. Even though he had lost his most beloved grandson, he still stood tall and straight like a pine tree.

"Grandpa, Zhenzhen"

Nangong Nuan Nuan stood up and looked at old man Chi. Just as she was about to speak, old man Chi looked at Chi Yang and asked Nuan Nuan, "little girl, do you know why grandfather, chi yang's father, and chi yang all chose to walk this path?"

Nangong Nuannuan saw that the old man didn't ask about brother chiyang's condition and thought that he was relieved to see that brother chiyang was fine. So, she thought about it and shook her head.

this was a question that nuan nuan had always wanted to ask chi yang.

Was it worth it to almost lose his life for people he didn't even know?

His father had already sacrificed himself. Was it worth it for him to continue being a member of the combat service department?

Nangong Nuannuan could accept Chi Yang's identity and his sacrifice for others, but that didn't mean that she could calmly accept Chi Yang's sacrifice.

there were so many professions in the world, and chi yang was outstanding enough. he also had a super group like eagle eye. why did he have to choose this path?

“Your era is no longer the same as ours. Many people are no longer willing to suffer. They were concerned about appreciation and salary. As for protecting the country, it was better to let others do it.

However, in this era, there were still some people who could still uphold their initial beliefs and hot-bloodedness in this chaotic world. they would carry the burden of the country’s prosperity and the people’s well-being, even willing to give up their lives for it. They did not save the lives of a single person or a group of people. They were just holding on to their passion and faith.

17 years ago, Chi Yang’s father stood out. Today, Chi Yang stood out. Tomorrow, there will be others standing out. They would die, but Eagle and the combat service department would not.

Those who were still alive would protect those who had been sacrificed and go against the current. Although they are not strong, as long as there is a little heat, as long as there is a little light, they will be like fireflies, illuminating the night. They do not need to wait for the torch in the distance.”

Nangong Nuannuan listened attentively to her grandfather’s words. She finally understood that the people that brother chiyang had risked his life to save were not people he did not know. He was just carrying out his oath, using the righteous and hot blood in his body to maintain and protect his faith.

She felt that what her grandfather said made sense, but why did her grandfather keep comparing brother chiyang to his father?