Chapter 341: Pure Gold Canned Dog Food

“Commander-in-chief, what are you doing?”

Upon seeing the situation, Qu Mingyi immediately stopped him. “The doctor said that you are strictly prohibited from smoking.”

“Hey, it’s okay, I’ll just smoke one cigarette.”

“Not even one! Do you still care about your health or not?”

“I’ll take one puff then. Let me satisfy my cravings.”

“Not even one puff! Would you believe me when I say that I’m going to complain about this to Little Girl Nuan? Hey, by the way, Little Girl Nuan is treating you, why did you suddenly come to my office to look for a cigarette? Is your treatment over that soon today?”

Leng Jinpeng gave up on the cigarette, looked at Qu Mingyi and said very seriously, “Little Girl Nuan and Chi Yang started to kiss over there. Chi Yang said that he was the happiest man in the world, and kissed Little Girl Nuan after saying so. Little Girl Nuan immediately hooked her arms around Chi Yang’s neck domineeringly and then kissed him firmly back. She told him that being able to be found by him also made her the happiest woman in the world. I saw them kissing each other to the point that they forgot about me, so I came to you to have a seat.”

Qu Mingyi replied with a fake smile, “Sitting here is alright, and you’re welcome at any time. But... Commander-in-Chief, can you choose to keep it to yourself next time you encounter such things? You even said it in so much detail... Can I tell you that I actually don’t want to listen to it at all?”

Leng Jinpeng suddenly laughed loudly. “I know that you didn’t want to listen to it, that’s why I told you about it. Otherwise, how else could we huddle together for warmth?”

Qu Mingyi’s mouth twitched.

Looking at Qu Mingyi’s depressed expression he himself had caused, Leng Jinpeng continued his assault. “Actually, I wasn’t able to finish the dog food, and I thought that since my relationship with you is considered quite close, I brought some over for you to eat.”

Looking at Leng Jinpeng with a smirk on his face, Qu Mingyi was lost for words.

‘Please don’t have such a good relationship with me!’

“Uncle Leng, why did you run all the way here?”

Zhong Nuannuan pushed open the door to Qu Mingyi’s office, and then looked at the two big men staring at each other pitifully with a depressed expression on their faces.

“Huh? What’s wrong with the two of you?”

Qu Mingyi glanced at Zhong Nuannuan and said with a false smile, "We ate too much dog food, and we can't digest it."

Zhong Nuannuan was startled!

"Commander-in-Chief, go quickly. I won't accompany you."

Leng Jinpeng looked at Qu Mingyi. "Where are you going?"

"Well, I'm getting off work and going home." He did not want to stay here and be stuffed with dog food.

Seeing Leng Jinpeng looking at him with a strange gaze, he asked, "What's the matter? Why are you looking at me like this?"

"At least I have Lil Rui to accompany me. You said before that you don't have a wife or children, so why are you going home?"

Qu Mingyi was speechless.

He could not go home and rest if he did not have a wife or children? Why did he keep picking on his sore spots?

Critical hit!

Leng Jinpeng ordered, "Wait for me right here, maybe I'll bring you some gifts later."

Looking at Leng Jinpeng's smile, Qu Mingyi asked without thinking, "Is it dog food?"

Only

"What!? How could it be!"

Qu Mingyi's eyes lit up, thinking that Leng Jinpeng really wanted to give him something good, but a moment later, he heard Leng Jinpeng say, "At least 24k gold-plated canned dog food! Hahahaha..."

Watching this repulsive commander-in-chief leave, Qu Mingyi was appalled!

Could he be any more boring?

He really wanted to complain that he did have a wife and children, but they were just not in Jiang District. What was the point? A single old man like him was probably mentally distorted already anyway!

Through pharmacological analysis, Zhong Nuannuan matched Leng Jinpeng with the Western medicine that was most suitable for him at the moment, and then prepared to administer acupuncture for him.

"Uncle Leng, all the medicine they gave you were painkillers, but are you usually in a lot of pain? Is the pain that severe?"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 342: Practice Spitting Ivory

Seeing that Leng Jinpeng was quite embarrassed to answer, Zhong Nuannuan quickly said, "There's nothing to be embarrassed about. Although you're a soldier, you're also a patient. Although I'm not a doctor, I have the right to know about your condition. I just want to know how much pain you're feeling now."

Under Chi Yang's solemn gaze, Leng Jinpeng answered hesitantly.

"I will feel dull pain a few times a day."

"How many times exactly? How long does the pain last each time? Zhong Nuannuan asked.

"About three or four times, and each time it lasts between half an hour to an hour."

Zhong Nuannuan looked at Leng Jinpeng and pulled the rug from under him mercilessly. "This is not considered a dull pain anymore. Even if the liver area is damaged, the pain is not obvious. Those who can clearly feel the pain are already in a very bad state. In addition to this, your pain lasts between half an hour to an hour. Generally, if the pain lasts for more than five minutes, it will become unbearable. Therefore, your pain cannot be categorized as a mere dull pain."

After glancing at Chi Yang, whose expression darkened, Leng Jinpeng's mouth twitched slightly.

"However, ever since you administered acupuncture to me that day, I've felt much better."

"In what way?"

"The night before, I slept very well through the night; I never woke up and did not feel any pain at all. I also felt very good the next morning. It wasn't until the next afternoon that I started to feel a bit of dull pain. Although I had spasms of dull pain on the third day, the pain was much better than usual, and was not even half the usual pain."

After Leng Jinpeng finished speaking, Chi Yang made a sullen face and decided to make a decision.

"From tomorrow onwards, you should ask for leave, don't come to work at the military base anymore. I have extra rooms in my apartment, and it's also close to Nuannuan's school. Nuannuan can give you acupuncture after school."

Leng Jinpeng's eyes widened. "I'm the commander-in-chief of this military base! What qualifications do you have to issue orders to a commander, kid?"

"So what? Don't forget your prerequisites for coming here. Be careful, if I make a report and submit it, you'll never return."

Leng Jinpeng was shocked!

"Are you threatening me?"

"It's not that I'm stopping you forever, you can come back to work once your pain is gone. I'm doing this for your own good, I don't want you to come here to live out your golden years in service of our country, only to end up sacrificing your life."

Leng Jinpeng was furious. "You... Are you practicing how to spit ivory?"

Spit ivory?

Zhong Nuannuan was taken aback, and after thinking about it, she suddenly realized what he meant... Was the commander-in-chief calling her Big Brother Chi Yang a dog? (TN: This is a reference to a Chinese idiom, "Ivory cannot be spitted out of a dog's mouth", which means that good words cannot come out of a scoundrel's mouth.)

He went through such a big roundabout just to scold others... It seemed that the commander-in-chief and chief of staff were both old foxes.

"Alright!"

Seeing that Chi Yang was about to get angry, Zhong Nuannuan hurried to his side to smoothen his hair.

Only

"I'm asking this because I have a way to relieve his pain. Although the commander-in-chief's illness is severe, there'll definitely be no problem treating it with proper acupuncture treatment."

Zhong Nuannuan's words made Chi Yang and Leng Jinpeng's eyes light up.

Not only could it be cured, his pain during the treatment could even be reduced; This idea was inconceivable to Leng Jinpeng.

"Really?"

"Of course it's true! My Nuannuan said it, so can it be false? Although my Nuannuan is not a doctor, she's much better than those so-called doctors. With more than 57,000 acupuncture techniques in her arsenal, surely one of them can help with that little pain of yours."

Before Zhong Nuannuan managed to speak, Chi Yang had already answered for her.

He was also benefiting from his fiancée's expertise every day. Originally, he had extremely poor sleep and often had headaches, but after a few rounds of acupuncture, Chi Yang realized that not only did his sleep become better, he was even experiencing less headaches.

Chapter 343: A Lonely Old Man

The more time he spent with his little wife, the more secrets he discovered about her. Even so, he respected her secrets and even felt quite happy that she had such abilities.

"Why are you making me go home when your little wife is such a capable person?"

Leng Jinpeng could not help rebuking Chi Yang. He felt himself acting more fragile than usual when enviously facing such a loving couple who were not shy about their public displays of affection.

Why should a lonely, old man such as him suffer through this?

Chi Yang may refer to his Nuannuan as his little wife privately in his heart, but he had yet to get that marriage license, which stopped him from referring to her as such in public.

Even though he had been rebuked by Leng Jinpeng, in reality, Leng Jinpeng had said out loud what he had always been thinking, which made Chi Yang feel elated.

He loved hearing others say, “Your little wife xx...”

Even if such words were framed negatively, he did not care in the slightest.

It was a wonder that Leng Jinpeng was able to tell that Chi Yang was feeling happy with that serious expression on his face. Having said that, he had spent the past 26 years with this young man and was able to tell what Chi Yang was thinking with just the slightest twitch in his facial muscles.

Leng Jinpeng was able to tell that this young brat was not angered by his words, rather, it cheered the young man up quite a bit.

Leng Jinpeng silently pursed his lips as he reflected on what he had just said.

He had to admit that he was partially responsible for giving them a chance at displaying such adoration for each other.

If he knew that saying something like ‘Your little wife xxx’ would make Chi Yang so happy, he would have refrained from voicing those words.

Zhong Nuannuan was slightly exasperated from seeing these two testosterone-filled men arguing in front of her.

“Uncle Leng, I noticed that you’ve had a quite a good appetite before, and did not expect for you to have such a terrible migraine. That was why I’ve previously brought along normal acupuncture needles. I wanted to observe your condition after the acupuncture but didn’t have any threads with me that day. I’ve taken the time to buy some threads this afternoon, so I would like to conduct thread embedding on you.”

“What does thread embedding mean? Will you run the thread through my stomach?”

Leng Jinpeng had always feared needles, but he did not feel any pain when Zhong Nuannuan had helped him with the acupuncture the other day. In fact, he even found the results to be soothing. Otherwise, he would not have listened to Zhong Nuannuan so obediently when it came to impaling him with needles, and would have made a run for it the second the needles appeared.

Now that he was hearing that they needed to sew some threads in his stomach, he suddenly felt his throat go dry.

Zhong Nuannuan knew Leng Jinpeng had misunderstood when she saw the look on his face.

“Uncle Leng, was it painful being pricked by those needles?”

“The needles didn’t feel painful, but...”

“That’s it then. Thread embedding won’t hurt any more than being pricked by needles. Why don’t you lie down?”

Leng Jinpeng, “...”

Only

He glanced at Chi Yang, hoping the young man would say something on his behalf. He would prefer it for Zhong Nuannuan to come by a few more times after class to give him acupuncture, but he swallowed the words in his mouth when he looked at that serious face.

“Nuannuan, can you help him do acupuncture every day? If it’s not convenient for you, I can take him to the city. Do you think the effects will be better if you give him acupuncture every day or would thread embedding be better?”

Leng Jinpeng looked at Chi Yang. It was rare for this young brat to be so kind as to speak up on his behalf. Even so, it was well worth it to be tortured than to suffer through their lovey-dovey actions.

“Stop looking at me that way. I’m not helping you to get away from thread embedding. I just wanted to find out which treatment will have a better effect on you. If thread embedding is better, I’ll never again suggest for Nuannuan to come here every day to give you acupuncture.”

Leng Jinpeng, “...”

With that, both men looked toward Zhong Nuannuan like a pair of spotlights shining on her.

“The reasoning is actually pretty simple. Uncle Leng says that the effects of my acupuncture on him last only till the next morning. That is why...”

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 344: Binge-Watching Dramas

Leng Jinpeng interrupted, “Who says that it lasts only till the next day? It clearly lasted until the third day. I didn’t feel half of the pain from before, and even today, I can totally bear it.”

“Why would you even need to bear it?”

Leng Jinpeng, “...”

Does this mean there was no way out?

“The pain will seriously affect your cerebral nerve. Once your cerebral nerves are damaged, all other organs within your body will easily experience a series of inflammation because of the pain. That is why I need to use more forceful methods to stop your pain.

“Even if I helped you with acupuncture every day, you would only feel relaxed for half a day. If I could embed threads within you, it could last for at least half a month. This type of thread can be absorbed by your body, which will take around half a month. Your body will not feel intense pain before the embedded threads are absorbed either. They will work much more effectively than painkillers, and the effects will be much more positive if we conduct an acupuncture session every three days and a thread embedding session every half a month.

“Even though I can help you with the acupuncture every day, but the effects of frequent acupuncture and conducting it every three days is almost the same. Even if I were to help you with acupuncture every night, if you're going to suffer the symptoms the next afternoon, wouldn't it be better if I just helped you with thread embedding?"

Chi Yang immediately slammed his palm on the table in agreement. "Nuannuan, stop explaining. Let's just help him with thread embedding."

"Okay," Zhong Nuannuan nodded.

Leng Jinpeng, "..."

Did he agree to it?

Leng Jinpeng glanced at Chi Yang's cold, determined eyes, and finally complied by lying down.

Even though thread embedding hurt slightly more than acupuncture, it still felt several times better than going through the painful anti-inflammatory injection given by the hospital's doctor using cold and unfeeling needles.

Soon, Leng Jinpeng managed to relax.

Leng Jinpeng felt the tension leave his body completely after he was done with thread embedding.

"I don't feel strange at all."

"Of course! My Nuannuan's skill is incomparable to anyone else."

A bright and beautiful smile appeared on Zhong Nuannuan's face when she looked at Chi Yang, who was always ready to praise her up to the heavens. The smile almost blinded Chi Yang.

He could not help but go for that bright and beautiful smile, quickly leaning in for a kiss.

Leng Jinpeng's eyes widened.

Leng Jinpeng quickly left at yet another display of public affection, and ran toward the office next door as he knocked on it.

No one opened the door even after he knocked on it for quite a while.

A guard who was passing by during a routine building inspection approached him. Leng Jinpeng asked, "Where's the chief-of-staff?"

The guard straightened up and gave him a standard, official salute. "Reporting to the commander-in-chief, the chief-of-staff has already left work. He wanted me to inform you that he has been binge-watching dramas recently."

Leng Jinpeng, "..."

What a strike to the heart!

Only

Zhong Nuannuan soon returned to Chi Yang's dormitory with him. When they got to the third floor, they spotted the overbearing mother and daughter team of Sister-in-law Chen and Chen Lirong moving their luggage. Zhong Nuannuan bumped right into them.

Chen Lirong was dragging a piece of luggage while Sister-in-law Chen was carrying a huge woven bag. The mother and daughter walked one after the other.

Zhong Nuannuan had thought this mother and daughter pair would start insulting her at the mere sight of her, probably even going as far as to claim she's a seductress. She had not expected Chen Lirong's tears to flow upon seeing Chi Yang and her, with Chi Yang holding her hands.

Chen Lirong looked at Chi Yang expectantly, with blinking eyes that seemed pitiful.

However, all she had received from Chi Yang were cold and distant looks.

The glare, which was as chilling as a blizzard, completely destroyed the last bit of Chen Lirong's hopes. Cheng Lirong immediately howled as she carried her luggage downstairs.

Sister-in-law Chen, who was behind Chen Lirong, wanted to glare at Zhong Nuannuan, but a sour look appeared on her face when she felt Chi Yang's gaze on her.

Chapter 345: A Must To Act Jealous And To Calm Him Down

In the end, she did not glare at her. In fact, all she did was grunt as she followed her daughter downstairs.

"Let's go."

Chi Yang pulled Zhong Nuannuan's hand as they walked up toward the sixth floor back to his home.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, what's going on with Chen Lirong and her mother? What did you do?"

"I transferred Chen Lirong to the Wan District for border support."

Zhong Nuannuan, "Urm... I won't be jealous of her!"

If she were to be jealous over a minor character who was not even worth mentioning, she would probably die of frustration over those bebies of young girls constantly circling Big Brother Chi Yang in Emperor District.

However, Chi Yang looked serious as he took the effort to explain, "Even though you won't get jealous over her, I still wouldn't want you to be affected by the idea of such characters around me."

"Big Brother Chi Yang, they won't affect me in any way. I know that I'm the only one you like."

"Didn't she mention that she had an advantage because she was positioned somewhere near me? That was why I needed to place her further away."

Zhong Nuannaun, "..."

No wonder Chen Lirong looked like she was nursing a grievance. The trouble had been caused by that sentence she had uttered in their home.

"Won't you be criticized for using your power to oppress others?"

Chi Yang had such a special status, and as a result, there were so many watching him, waiting for him to fall off his pedestal.

“Her father had agreed to this. Besides, I didn’t oppress anybody with my status. She might have been transferred to the Wan District, but she was promoted from second lieutenant to first lieutenant. If she did not go on border support duty, she would need at least another five years to rise through the ranks under her current circumstances. I helped her save five years of her youth, so what’s so bad about that? What’s wrong? You’re not willing for me to transfer her away?”

Chi Yang looked at Zhong Nuannuan with a smug look on his face, much like a domineering CEO. Zhong Nuannuan knew that if she said it did not matter to her, this man would be petty enough to remember her answer for quite a long time.

Zhong Nuannuan immediately transformed into an obedient, cute little furball of a kitty cat in order to calm her man down and stop him from thinking about this matter. She quickly nuzzled against him. “Of course I do! Why wouldn’t I want her kept away? I don’t like the thought of another woman by your side!”

Chi Yang’s handsome face still had a serious expression. It took a while before he awkwardly replied, “Hmm, you did just mention that you wouldn’t be jealous.”

Under the same circumstances, Chi Yang would be jealous no matter what kind of man wanted to get close to Zhong Nuannuan, or even had thoughts about her. He would dislike that man a lot and would want that person as far away from Zhong Nuannuan as possible.

Yet, his Nuannuan had said she would not get jealous.

It was chilling!

It was heartbreaking!

It felt terrible!

“I said I won’t be jealous because I wanted to be magnanimous! I don’t want you to think of me as a petty woman, much less think someone who didn’t know right from wrong and always acted jealous. I don’t want to be the kind of woman who would give you trouble over such a minor issue.”

Zhong Nuannuan felt more maligned than Dou E (TN: Dou E was a character in a Chinese opera who suffered great injustice, being wrongly convicted of murder and later executed because she could not stand up for herself).

Did she break her Big Brother Chi Yang’s glass heart by acting maturely?

Zhong Nuannuan quickly continued when she saw Chi Yang hesitating, “If you don’t like me acting so magnanimously, I can...”

“I don’t like it at all,” Chi Yang quickly revealed his feelings about the matter.

Only

Zhong Nuannuan, “...”

He should have let her finish her words first.

"I don't like it when you act so magnanimous. I like it when you're jealous."

There was a fiery look in Chi Yang's eyes as he said this very sincerely.

Zhong Nuannuan nodded. "Okay. The next time someone dares have any ideas about you, I'll get jealous and tear the other party apart, okay?"

The serious look on his face finally melted away as a subtle smile appeared. "Okay."

Zhong Nuannuan, "..."

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 346: Face Flushed With Blood

"You really won't think of me as being unreasonable?"

"I won't," he wanted to see her being unreasonable over him. That way, he would know that she cared about him.

"What if I tear someone apart and ended up creating a huge mess over it?" She did not care about those women in the Jiang District, but it was a different matter with the women in the Emperor District, whom she had to keep her guard up against.

With her bold and resolute personality, angering the wrong person might spell a great deal of trouble.

"There's nothing to fear. I'll be here to hold up the sky even if it falls on you."

└| ` O' |┐ How!!!

Zhong Nuannuan was not expecting to be teased so much. Now, her face was completely flushed.

"Do you need to study tonight?"

Zhong Nuannuan shook her head. "I don't."

"It's still early. Is there anything you want me to do with you?"

Zhong Nuannuan gave it a long thought. "Nothing feels boring when I have Big Brother Chi Yang with me."

This time, Chi Yang was the one who was provokingly teased. His serious expression became gentle.

"Me too. Still, it is still quite early right now. Do you want to watch a movie? I have two tickets for an eight-thirty show. There's still half an hour to go and it will take only 15 minutes to drive to the cinema."

The tickets had been booked by the guard, Chen Ke.

That expert at wooing a future wife had said that girls needed to be accompanied.

Chi Yang had to leave for duty the next morning and he had not truly spent time with his own future wife even once despite being together for such a long time. Hence, Chi Yang felt quite apologetic to his Nuannuan.

Zhong Nuannuan's eyes lit up. She had never expected her Big Brother Chi Yang, who had close to no EQ, to have such an idea up his sleeve. "Yes! Let's go!"

She had never been to the movies with her boyfriend before in both of her lives.

She wanted to know what it felt like to be a normal girl who held her boyfriend's hand as she stuffed her face with coke and popcorn.

Chi Yang felt glad when he saw his little wife so excited. He quietly decided to give Chen Ke merit for offering such a great suggestion.

They had just gotten back to the dorm, but immediately turned back downstairs again.

When they reached the bottom of the stairs, they bumped in Sister-in-law Chen and Chen Lirong again.

Sister-in-law Chen thought Zhong Nuannuan had come downstairs just to flaunt herself, so she could not help shouting in a rage, "What kind of person is this?!"

Zhong Nuannuan, "..."

"Don't think you are the final victor just because you managed to seduce Director-General Chi. Even if you used your vixen tactics to get rid of our Lirong, you will never be the final victor!"

Only

"Just think about it. Chi Yang became a director-general at such a young age. His future lays bright in front of him. How could he be held down by a vixen such as yourself? Our Lirong will be able to get herself married to a good man who matches our family, but you... Hohoho, I long for the day when you'll be pushed down to the level of a lowly woman!"

Wow, what an angry woman. Who knew one would bump into a mad dog just by walking downstairs to catch a movie?

Zhong Nuannuan had only just gotten approval from Chi Yang to display her combat prowess and to lash out at this disgusting woman, but in the end, Chi Yang was the one who replied with full force.

"She is the only one who can be my wife. I've already chosen her and I will be loyal to her. Anyone who makes an enemy out of Zhong Nuannuan will become my enemy too. Are you planning to get Commander Chen promoted by saying those words?"

Sister-in-law Chen instantly became panicked.

Her daughter might suffer a little, get exhausted a little, and be a little worse for wear after transferring to Wan District for border support, but her life would not be in danger.

If her Old Man Chen got a promotion, that would mean he would need to earn merit immediately. Earning merit meant he would need to go on a mission, which was equivalent to placing his life on the line.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 347: You'll Fall To Your Death

Old Chen might still be strong, but he was no longer a young man. Doing anything dangerous at his age meant that there was no guarantee that he would return home alive or in one piece.

Sister-in-law Chen's face turned pale at Chi Yang's threat. She swallowed and did not dare to say another word.

Zhong Nuannuan, "..."

What had happened to his approval to tear the other person apart?

She was completely prepared to have a go at the cheap mouth that was attached to Sister-in-law Chen's face. However, she had only just rolled up her sleeves when this protective man snatched away her duties.

How was she supposed to display the jealous side of her?!

Chen Lirong's tears fell once again while standing at the side. She cried as she spoke pitifully at Zhong Nuannuan, "I'm about to leave now. Why do you still need to take the trouble to insult me and make a joke out of me? So what if I like Big Brother Chi? Is it wrong for me to like someone? Do both of you need to treat me this way? You are too much! Sob sob sob sob..."

Chi Yang decided not to continue aggravating them when he saw Chen Lirong crying so sadly. Zhong Nuannuan finally found a chance to say something.

"It's not wrong for you to like someone, but when you are clearly aware the other party doesn't like you back and even has a fiancée, yet you are still determined to get close to him while provoking the people around, that is considered wrong of you."

"Even now, all we're doing is walking by you to be on the way to the cinema, yet your mother is pointedly scolding me for no good reason. My fiancé does not like me to be insulted and was just helping me to sound her out. How is that being too much? So, your mother is allowed to call me a vixen and curse me to become a lowly woman, and I should accept her insults so as not to be too much?"

Chen Lirong, "..."

"Stop pretending to be a pure, white lotus. At the very least, you should try to be smarter. Otherwise, you'll really become a little, white flower, which is a purely stupid person."

Chen Lirong, "...!!!"

"Big Brother Chi Yang, let's not continue conversing with a stupid person. We'll just be degrading ourselves. Let's go."

Chi Yang tousled his little wife's little hair gently. His previous dissatisfaction had dissipated when his little wife was berating the two.

It was especially enjoyable to listen to his little wife scolding the women who liked Chi Yang.

Only

Chi Yang’s car was parked very near the building while the car picking up Chen Lirong was located quite far off at an inconvenient area. Sister-in-law Chen and Chen Lirong could only watch as Chi Yang opened the door of his powerful Land Rover, waiting for Zhong Nuannuan to sit inside before walking over to the driver’s seat and getting in. He started the car and left the residue of exhaust smoke hanging over Chen Lirong and her mother when the car drove away.

Chen Lirong sobbed even louder, which angered Sister-in-law Chen. She roared, “Crying, crying, crying, all you know is to cry! What’s the point of crying? Can you cry yourself a man? All she did was rebuked you and you coward away, and you still expect yourself to be able to seduce a man? If that man doesn’t want you, it’s because you’ve brought it on yourself!”

She scolded towards the vanishing car after yelling at Chen Lirong, “Who do you think you are?! Who knows what connection you’ve pulled to get yourself the position of director-general at such a young age! Go on and act brashly. Someone will pull you down from where you are one day. The higher you are, the harder you fall, when that day comes, you’ll fall to your death!”

Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan were long ago and whatever the pair of mother and daughter yelled did not bother them at all.

There was still 10 minutes before the movie started after they arrived at the cinema and parked the car.

There were two very popular movies playing then.

One of them was biochemistry themed. The story was about a major company in Sab that conducted research on biochemical weapons which resulted in the extinction of mankind and the appearance of vast amounts of zombies. The story evolved around the female lead and her friends as they attempted to escape while searching for the headquarters of that company, planning to destroy it and annihilate the zombies to save mankind.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 348: Looking For Tr

It was the fourth installment of the movie and it had gathered more fans along the way.

The other movie was extremely popular and was a franchise as well. The story was about a quiet, unknown boy who was bitten by a spider in a laboratory, causing spider genes to appear and mutate within him. It was a story about how he became a superhero, which also garnered many fans.

This was why even though it was not the weekends and it was already eight-thirty, there was still a huge crowd in the lobby.

These two films had been produced by the Imperial Phoenix Film Industry. Thus, Zhong Nuannuan was quite happy to see it garner such a huge box office as one of the producers. No one could find wrong with money.

She had always been following these two movies and liked them a lot, which was why she was okay with whatever choice her Brother Chi Yang picked.

Zhong Nuannuan went ahead to queue up as she said this.

It was very crowded, and when she was about to reach the line, a woman behind her suddenly ran pass her and knocked into Zhong Nuannuan.

Zhong Nuannaun wondered what this person’s emergency was but did not think much about it. She had even moved to the side to let her through. Hence, she had not expected the girl who knocked into her to stop suddenly just as Zhong Nuannuan was only one step away from the line. The girl stopped right in front of her.

Zhong Nuannuan realized the girl wanted to cut in front of her, which was why she had sprinted from a hundred meters away. It was all to have one less person lining up in front of her.

Speechless.

When the girl reached her spot, she even got worried that Zhong Nuannuan would cross to bypass her and immediately moved backward, attempting to force Zhong Nuannuan back. If Zhong Nuannuan had not been agile enough to move back, she would have been stepped on by this girl.

Zhong Nuannuan took a deep breath as she stared at the girl’s round, thick face and her slightly oily hair. She was thinking about watching the movie with her Big Brother Chi Yang later, and it was their first date. Therefore, it was better if she let this matter go.

The girl seemed to be delighted with being able to get a place in front. She turned toward Zhong Nuannuan and shouted in a voice that could cause the heavens to shake, “I’ve got a place, come over quick!”

It was lucky that Zhong Nuannuan was a head taller than the girl, otherwise, her face would have been covered in spit.

Seven or eight guys and girls appeared quickly in a group after the girl shouted.

They were in pairs. The girls looked like students while the guys... They were sleek-haired and dandy-faced, looking like gangsters from the streets. There was one particularly striking member who had a full head of golden hair. He had an SMT fashion style (TN: SMT or Smart style has nothing to do with the word smart. It is an urban term in China for a weird punkish fashion style that is extremely visual) with bright leather shoes.

Zhong Nuannuan tried to hold back the coarse words in her heart as she watched the group chatter away. She backed off a little to give way to them.

Only

However, even if she was not looking for trouble, trouble came looking for her.

That golden-haired guy glanced at Zhong Nuannuan, which eventually turned into a stare.

After all, Zhong Nuannuan looks stood out even amongst celebrities, what more ordinary folk. It was quite rare to see someone as jaw-droppingly beautiful as she was.

In addition to that, her exquisitely pretty face had quite the enchanting effect. In the eyes of men, there was just something about her that was asking to be conquered and possessed.

Just like that, those university girls that those guys had taken out did not seem that attractive anymore.

Before the guy could say a word, the plump girl in front of him said unhappily, "Where are your eyes looking?"

If the plump girl's first words were directed at the guy, Zhong Nuannuan would have said he deserved it, but the next sentence rendered her speechless.

Chapter 349: Nuannuan Hit Someone

"Seducing a man in public, are you? Who do you think you are?! Just because you're pretty, you think you can seduce someone's boyfriend?"

The girl's voice was so loud that she was almost roaring. Zhong Nuannuan immediately became the focus of the public's eye.

It took Zhong Nuannuan a while to react. Who was that fat girl shouting at?!

"What's going on?"

Another girl came toward them. The girl was prettier than the plump girl in the line.

"Lan Lan, this girl has been eyeing Brother Wei since he came over and wants to seduce him."

Lan Lan looked closely at Zhong Nuannuan and realized that Zhong Nuannuan looked breathtakingly beautiful without makeup on. She did not do her hair and only tied it up in a bun at the top of her head, yet she looked pure and pretty. It made Lan Lan burn with jealousy as she stamped straight ahead to the front.

Lan Lan grabbed onto the hands of the guy with golden hair and looked menacingly at Zhong Nuannuan, "Why are you staring at my boyfriend? Do you think you're allowed to seduce a man in public just because you look pure and innocent?"

"Lan Lan, don't you know there are women now who enjoy pretending to be pure, white lotuses? They may look pure and innocent, but they are actually b*tches!" The plump girl immediately criticized Zhong Nuannuan alongside Lan Lan.

Zhong Nuannuan felt a rush of blood to her head. Not only did they cut in line, but they were also barking at her like mad dogs.

Just as she was about to tear them apart in a rage, she felt a cold chill coming at her from behind. Those girls and the juvenile gangsters from the streets, including the golden-haired guy, also felt it and were instantly stunned.

A large hand gently fell on Zhong Nuannuan's shoulders before it pulled her into his arms.

The man had such a powerful aura that it could cause a heart to explode, and he had such a good-looking face that it took one's breath away. Envious and jealous looks immediately shot out from all the girls in the group.

However, this man had such a powerful aura about him that he did not even need to say a word to silence the entire lobby.

When the few university girls saw Chi Yang, they knew that Brother Wei could not compare to this man. If they had such a handsome boyfriend, they would not take another look at Brother Wei.

That was why they shut their mouth in embarrassment.

However, Chi Yang was not done. He stared at the university girl named Lan Lan and asked, "What did you say about my fiancée? Did you say she was staring at your boyfriend? And that she was seducing your boyfriend?"

The crowd watching the outburst suddenly exploded in a chatter when Chi Yang mentioned the word 'fiancée'.

That was right. They started discussing how ridiculous it was that such a pretty and elegant girl would go on to seduce a golden-haired guy.

Just take a look at her fiancé, and look at that golden-haired guy. One look and anyone could tell that they were different species that did not even belong on the same planet!

Only

Lan Lan went red and then pale at Chi Yang's words. She had wanted to let this go, but when she heard the crowd discussing it, she felt that she had to defend her dignity. She raised her head in a sudden spurt of stubbornness and said, "My friend caught her staring at my boyfriend. How do you know that she isn't a person who wants the best of both worlds?"

Zhong Nuannuan was disgusted by those words!

What the hell? She would not have hidden her ferociousness if she had not wanted to be a nice, obedient little kitty cat in front of her Big Brother Chi Yang. If that were the case, these bunch of flies would never dare to insult her.

Even so, she was still unable to let this go with Chi Yang around.

Slap! A clear, crisp slap could be heard. Lan Lan's face immediately became swollen.

Slap! Another clear, crisp slap was heard. The face of the plump girl also started to swell

Chapter 350: Get Lost

“Even if I were such a person, I would only stare at a human being and not an animal. If you treasure him so much, take your golden-haired guy and get lost now. Lock him up at home and admire him all by yourself. You don’t need to bring him out here and destroy the city’s peace as all you’ll do is pollute everyone’s eyes. If you insist on taking him out for a walk, you should discipline him well and stop him from staring all over the place. Look again and I’ll dig both his eyes out. As for the rest of you, you should be hit for cutting the line so casually. Not only did you cut in line, you still have the gall to be smart about it. I’m only teaching you a small lesson today. The next time you’re out, brush your teeth well. If your mouth smells bad, you’ll be beaten up even worse.”

When Zhong Nuannuan was done, Chi Yang said only two words.

“Get lost!”

Lan Lan and the plump girl had been prepared to go head to head with Zhong Nuannuan, but when Chi Yang suddenly roared, they flinched in fear.

The golden-haired guy had always dabbled in the triads. How could he stand to be insulted by a woman he liked, much less be threatened by the woman’s fiancé?

The seedy aura about him turned fierce in an instant.

He broke away from Lan Lan, who was holding onto his arm, and walked toward Chi Yang.

The boyfriends of the other girls followed suit when they saw this, walking alongside the golden-haired guy.

The crowd surrounding them immediately moved back. From the current looks of the golden-haired guy and the others, these four boys most likely worked as hired thugs on the streets.

Lan Lan, who was the girls’ leader, and all of the other girls turned arrogant as they saw their men taking charge. The smug look on their faces indicated impending doom for their enemies.

“I got my eyes on that little wild cat. I’ll count to ten. You should get lost by then or I’ll beat you to a pulp!” The golden-haired guy said to Chi Yang.

“Brother Wei...”

Lan Lan was still acting smug at the side when she heard Brother Wei, who had been playing her for half a month, declare his demand for Zhong Nuannuan out loud in front of her. Lan Lan was humiliated at that moment but she did not dare to berate him. Thus, all she could do was call out to him weakly and pitifully.

How could the golden-haired guy give her a second look when he had seen Zhong Nuannuan? He ignored her and headed straight for Chi Yang.

Even though Chi Yang was close to 190cm tall and he was only around 175cm, the golden-haired guy was not frightened.

He had seen too many of society’s elites such as Chi Yang before. All of them looked wonderfully packaged, but in reality, they could not fight nor take a beating.

Unfortunately, a minor gangster such as this did not bother Chi Yang at all. It did not matter how bloodthirsty the golden-haired guy presented himself, it did not affect Chi Yang at all as he stood his ground and did not take even a single step backward. Even his right hand, which was still on Zhong Nuannuan's shoulder remained in place. He had no intention of letting it go to prepare for the fight ahead.

That picturesque moment of Chi Yang and Zhong Nuannuan standing side-by-side looked so good to the crowd watching the events unfold. They were really made for each other.

The count of ten ended as the golden-haired guy announced in a great deal of rage, "Don't blame me for your death wish!"

As he said this, he threw a punch right at Chi Yang's face.

"I want your handsome face to explode into pieces!"

As the golden-haired guy said this, his punch went flying toward Chi Yang face at such a speed that one could feel the wind from nearby. Astonished shouts and screams came from the crowd. They were worried the handsome elite would be terribly wounded by this punch.

Only

This high-speed punch was obviously not a normal one!

Even though the golden-haired guy was fast, Chi Yang was faster.

In fact, no one knew when he had even moved his leg.

Right when the punch had almost landed on his face, the golden-haired guy let out a painful scream as he was kicked away.

He was literally sent flying from the kick.

Much like a kite with a broken string.

He flew at least three meters away. The most startling thing was that he had been sent flying in a parabolic path.
