Chapter 391: Spinster's Heart

Butler Wen glanced at the girl who was occupying most of the space in the backseat, and then glanced at his young master, who hid on the side. He got a feeling like his young master was being raped.

The Leng Family's house was situated amongst a group of villas on the edge of the Second Ring Road, and its environment was considered quite decent for Jiang District.

However, for the Leng Family, a big and wealthy family from Camino, Leng Jinpeng could be said to be quite low-key for living in such a place.

The car stopped at the entrance of the villa and Leng Qirui and Selina got out of the car one after another.

Looking at the three-story villa, Selina raised her eyebrows. "This is your house?"

"Yeah." Leng Qirui replied and quickly chased his guest away. "I've already arrived home, thank you for coming back with me."

"You're welcome." Selina remained in place after she answered, showing no signs of leaving.

"This young miss, how about... I drive you back home? Where do you stay?" Seeing that his young master's attitude towards Selina was so well-behaved, Butler Wen did not dare to be presumptuous.

"What a coincidence, my family also lives here."

Leng Qirui and Butler Wen were speechless.

"There, look, it's the one behind here!"

Leng Qirui and Butler Wen looked around.

The one behind was the most expensive house in this community. It was a five-story building with two basements. At the time, Leng Jinpeng felt that since he was in the military base all year round, Leng Qirui would live in the house alone. Hence, there was no need for such a large house, so he did not purchase it.

As things turned out, Selina ended up buying this house.

Looking at the house, Leng Qirui felt that he could see the evil black energy exuding from it.

He had a feeling that his good life had ended here.

"It just so happens that my brother isn't home today and no one is cooking at home. Leng Qirui, there are people in your family who make supper, right?"

"Didn't your family hire a housemaid?"

“We did, but we’re not home, and the housemaid cannot stay in the house, so there’s no one at home today. Let’s go, invite me in for supper!”

Leng Qirui’s mouth twitched. “Didn’t you just eat?”

Sh*t, he had finally witnessed Zhong Nuannuan and Selina’s appetite when he treated them for a meal today. It was at least double that of others.

It had just been awhile since she last ate, but she wanted to eat supper again.

He glanced at the other party’s belly, but inadvertently caught a glimpse of her big breasts that could not be ignored.

Leng Qirui quickly turned his gaze away in embarrassment, and could not help but complain. “You can eat so much, yet you’re still as thin as a rake.”

When Selina heard this, she felt insulted, and she arched her chest. “Skinny? What are your metrics? How can I be called skinny?”

After saying that, she arched her chest proudly again.

Only

Butler Wen on the side almost had a nosebleed from the sight.

Leng Qirui’s eyes also felt extremely uncomfortable.

After all, he was from a military family, and apart from being a bit rebellious and naughty, in general, Young Master Leng was still a well-raised boy who had never come into contact with a woman. After being provoked by Selina, his face instantly flushed red.

Seeing that Young Brother Leng Qirui was so shy, Selina’s spinster heart was touched.

Although she was also very young, she liked young hunks, especially the submissive type.

Leng Qirui portrayed a cool guy persona to the outside world, and never felt that his image would be tied to submissiveness, so when he saw Selina’s intimate gaze, he was hooked by her beautiful eyes, and his face became even redder.

Sure enough, she was a friend of the T-Rex; She was absolutely lethal!

Chapter 392: Miserable Young Master Leng

“Hey, young brother, I still rescued the wounded and sent you back here, yet you won’t even treat me to supper?”

Leng Qirui thought, ‘... I really don’t want to.’

Why was this student like a woman in her early twenties? This whole person was a cunning vixen! How could Zhong Nuannuan make friends with such a person? Where were her eyes looking?

Seeing him looking reluctant and unfazed by her beauty, Selina walked to Leng Qirui and threatened him silently. "Do you want to be beaten up again?"

Selina's words made Leng Qirui's body feel even more painful, and he surrendered without a second thought. "It's just a meal, right? Just eat then. However, here's the deal—quickly leave after you're done."

She liked the way he gritted his teeth at her, but could not get rid of her. It was so cute!

Selina smiled gently, and then went into the house without answering him.

"I want to eat filet mignon, omelet and pasta. Do you have red wine in your house? I also want a bottle of red wine. Oh, by the way, is there any garlic toast? Those are my favorite."

Leng Qirui looked at her in shock. She had just eaten dinner, but still wanted to eat so many things. He could not help but feel disgusted. "Are you a pig?"

Selina looked at Leng Qirui. Her eyes widened, and the other party immediately backed down and ordered, "Follow her directions."

"Yes." Butler Wen responded and hurriedly looked for the chef to start cooking.

"Are we done? You just wait here for dinner to be served."

After speaking, Leng Qirui went upstairs.

Butler Wen gave Selina two dry laughs, then followed his master upstairs.

"Young Master, who exactly is Miss Selina?"

"A person who's not to be messed with."

Leng Qirui threw his schoolbag aside, then turned on his computer.

"What I mean is... Whose daughter is she?"

"I don't know."

"Why did you bring her back then?" Young Master never brought girls to his home!

"Didn't you see that she wanted to come back with me? I couldn't hit her either, so what else could I do apart from bring her back?"

Butler Wen's mouth twitched.

"Young Master, can you not try to make such a shameful thing sound righteous?"

After being glared at by Leng Qirui, Butler Wen immediately smirked and dared not speak any more.

He did not expect that the reason why his young master would take a girl home for the first time was because he had succumbed to the other party's lewdness. However, he also saw his young master blush earlier.

It turned out that his young master liked little vixen-like women like her!

“Quickly go down and serve her, don’t neglect her. She’s a T-Rex, and she’s not to be trifled with. Otherwise, your other arm might be broken.”

Butler Wen was shocked!

Selina wandered downstairs for a while and felt bored, so she went upstairs.

Due to her light movements, Butler Wen, who was downstairs, did not notice this. Leng Qirui, who was playing games in his room, did not have a clue either.

Only

When Selina went in, she realized that Leng Qirui’s game was the same game that she and Aiden played all day long.

When she saw Leng Qirui’s username on the game, she instantly lost her cool.

“‘Talented B*tch’?! Oh my goodness, you’re actually ‘Talented B*tch!’”

Selina’s eyes widened, and her gaze instantly changed from that of looking at a submissive to looking at a hero.

Her extreme adoration made her eyes almost sparkle with stars.

After being yelled at by Selina like this, Leng Qirui’s hand shook, and not only did he miss his attack, half of his health points was taken out by his opponent’s combo.

However, Leng Qirui almost immediately recovered...

Chapter 393: Young Brother, Please Fe

His fingers flew across the keyboard, and with one swift move, a big attack was launched with a loud “pop” sound.

The boss was destroyed.

“Holy cow! That was amazing!!!”

Selina watched the knocked-out boss, and could no longer use words to express her admiration for Leng Qirui.

Although she and Aiden were also powerful hackers, when it came to playing games, they could only spend lots of money.

No matter how hard they tried, they could not play the game well.

In order to become popular, they could only fork out money to reward those game anchors, and then let the other party lead them around to show off and strut around.

In essence, she and Aiden were just bad at the game.

However, Leng Qirui turned out to be the top gamer in the server, 'Talented B*tch'! He was the person whom she and Aiden usually wanted to hook up with and added as friends countless times, but were always left ignored.

Leng Qirui looked at Selina, who did not knock before entering, and even sat directly next to him, and cursed silently.

"Who let you in?"

"Come on, don't be so selfish." Selina looked at Leng Qirui as if she was looking at her favorite durian. She quickly dragged a bench over and stuck to Leng Qirui's side, looking like a little fangirl who wanted to hug his thighs.

"You're actually 'Talented B*tch'! I actually met 'Talented B*tch' in person!! Pfft hahaha... Hey, why did you name yourself 'Talented B*tch'? Young Brother Leng, I couldn't tell that you're usually so cool, but actually so coquettish on the inside. Hahaha..."

Leng Qirui was shocked!

Sh*t! How was this coquettish? It was just because back when he registered his username, he had just been angered by that b*tch Ye Hai, and felt that Ye Hai was really a male b*tch, so he named himself 'Talented B*tch' out of anger.

However, he did not want to tell this T-Rex about it.

"None of your business."

Faced with Young Brother Leng's coldness, Selina did not seem to mind at all. She curled her lips and said, "You're so stingy. If you don't want to say it, just don't tell me. Instead, tell me how you moved yourself into that position just now. Teach me!"

"Get out!" Leng Qirui was totally unwilling.

Selina was upset by his cold words. She looked at him, and shook her fist in front of his eyes. "Do you want to get punched?"

Leng Qirui was taken aback!

The chef finished what Miss Selina wanted, but could not find her, so Butler Wen could only rush up, and saw a scene that shocked him.

His young master was letting Selina sit in his place, teaching her how to launch attacks, dodge, and make perfect moves.

"Young Master, Miss Selina's supper is ready."

Leng Qirui felt as if he had just been given an amnesty. "Your steak is ready, go down and eat it."

Only

Selina studied diligently while operating the controls earnestly. She said without raising her head, "Serve it here."

Butler Wen and Leng Qirui were lost for words.

After feeling dismay for a long while, he knew that he could not do anything against this evil witch, so he could only order, "Bring it upstairs."

"Yes." Butler Wen smiled and nodded slightly, then went downstairs.

In truth, before meeting Selina, he did not think that his young master could ever become a submissive, but today, after seeing his young master succumb to Selina's lewdness countless times, and dare not speak despite his anger, he felt that his young master was really a submissive.

When the food was served, Selina glanced at the big steak and said, "Young brother, cut this up for me, it's not convenient for me to eat."

Leng Qirui was speechless.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 394: Yang Yi's Surveillance

He suppressed the gloominess within him as he stood up and helped this precious lady cut up her steak into little pieces.

Leng Qirui could not help calling her out when he saw Selina had clearly used the wrong skill, "I told you to use this particular skillset here. You'll be slowed down a lot by using the wrong tactic."

"Oh, oh, oh. Sorry sorry!"

When it came to gaming, Selina quite idolized Leng Qirui. One word from him and she would immediately apologize good-naturedly; She acted like the perfect student. It was only during moments like these that Leng Qirui was able to rekindle his manly dignity.

Selina took a fork and poked it into a piece of steak, sending it straight into her mouth.

The meat melted in her mouth and she could not help exclaiming, "This steak is really deliciously done."

"Focus and concentrate!"

Leng Qirui could not stand to sit by and watch as he watched her nearly get killed by the enemy in order to have her steak, so he reached out and held Selina's hand as he helped her overcome the opponent whilst simultaneously berating.

Selina immediately threw the fork to the side as she immersed herself completely into the battle.

The fork nearly hit the ground when she threw it to the side. Leng Qirui reacted quickly as he grabbed it and held it in his hand.

After that, Selina kept battling the copycat boss, which she and Aiden had played for two weeks without managing to defeat. She dismissed all thoughts of having the steak.

As he watched the steak about to go cold, Leng Qirui could not help himself as he quietly stabbed a piece of the steak as he whiffed its aroma and put it into his mouth.

Hmm, it was not too bad!

And then, Leng Qirui took another piece.

With that, he continued to the next piece.

Under the timely guidance of Leng Qirui, Selina screamed shrilly in absolute delight when the sound of KO rang from the speakers. By the time she was done celebrating, she turned around and saw that her steak, omelette, and bread were all gone. All that was left was a bottle of red wine.

Selina, "..."

Zhong Nuannuan consciously placed the bug given to her by Yang Yi where it was supposed to go when she got home.

All sorts of noises were coming through the bug as Yang Yi tuned in. He finally let out a sigh of relief when he concluded that Zhong Nuannuan had placed them in different locations. Yang Yi then picked up a notebook and started to go through everything he had seen today that did not seem right.

What he did not know, was that his phone and even his computer had been hacked by Zhong Nuannuan.

Only

Zhong Nuannuan could see everything he was looking at without him being aware.

It did not take Zhong Nuannuan long to figure out that Yang Yi had been tracking a truck with the license plate 312. However, his hacking skills were not up to par and it was not easy for him to track every corner of surveillance where the truck had passed in a short time. He was only able to pull out the surveillance of the truck only after it had passed the screen. Either that, or he would struggle greatly to extract a piece of surveillance, only to find that the truck had not passed through that particular road at all.

Zhong Nuannuan watched Yang Yi's screen while her fingers tapped speedily on the keyboard. It did not take long for her to pull out all nearly all surveillance videos of areas where the truck was about to pass through.

After that, she closed all unnecessary screens as the truck quickly appeared in front of her eyes.

From the looks of the tire tracks, the truck was very heavy and the entire back of the truck had been solidly covered up.

Normally, trucks like these would have to be transporting rocks, metal, or heavy lumber to cause that sort of impact on the tires. However, Yang Yi was interested in this truck, which meant that none of the above were loaded on the truck.

Besides, normal trucks moving such inexpensive materials would not be covered up so professionally.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 395: There Is A Situation

That was why Zhong Nuannuan immediately hacked into the traffic police's network system and entered the license plate number. Even though this truck looked similar to the one recorded in the traffic police files, there were still some minor differences.

Based on this, she could tell that this truck was using a fake license plate, and was even a military truck.

The cargo of that fake licensed truck was clearly not drugs, but military firearms!

The truck was heading toward the Jiang District harbor, which made Zhong Nuannuan immediately hack into all surveillance within the city to pull out any footage of trucks of similar size using fake license plates that were also covered up. There was a total of 10 of these trucks.

Zhong Nuannuan noticed that Yang Yi had yet to settle his problem with surveillance; She guessed this had something to do with Chi Yan. She later found out there was a reason for Chi Yang changing his identity from a lieutenant general into a mere captain when he had entered Jiang District. He was tasked with ridding Jiang District of this poisonous tumor.

That was why Zhong Nuannuan did not hesitate to directly email Yang Yi anonymously with the contents, 'This is what you are seeking. Information on the trucks.'

Zhong Nuannuan had clearly stated the information on all 10 of the trucks in the anonymous email regarding, including the routes they took, the license plates, and the direction the trucks were heading toward.

It did not take long before there was a knock on her door.

Zhong Nuannuan had on a set of homey teddy bear attire that Chi Yang had bought for her. The one-piece set was white and had a pair of fuzzy ears bobbing above it. One look and anyone would see her as a pretty white flower living in a greenhouse, without any inkling of what a storm was like.

To be honest, Zhong Nuannuan was very beautiful. She was so pretty that she probably did not need any friends. However, Yang Yi thought that a woman should not be just a pretty vase, especially when she was the woman of his Big Boss. Beauty should not be the only thing she possessed.

That was why he had always thought of his Big Boss as wise, strong, and powerful. However, when it came to women, he reckoned that his Big Boss did not have great taste.

A woman like this was clearly one who brought trouble and was nothing but a hindrance!

However, Yang Yi knew his place. Even though he looked down on Zhong Nuannuan from the bottom of his heart, he still had basic respect for her.

"Miss Nuannuan, I need to leave on an emergency and will probably be back quite late. Remember to lock up the doors and windows since you're here on your own."

As he said this, he pushed something into Zhong Nuannuan's hands. "Take this with you. If someone barges in here to threaten you, just move the trigger over here and fire at that person."

“Even if you kill that person, Big Boss will be here to protect you, but don’t let anything happen to yourself, understand?”

“Okay.”

Zhong Nuannuan nodded as she accepted the gun, but three anime-style black lines appeared on her forehead.

How careless can this young big brother be?

If she was truly a little white flower, how could she know how to use this with such a short lesson?

Yang Yi was indeed careless. After Zhong Nuannuan’s ‘okay’, he sighed with relief, “I believe you can do it.”

Zhong Nuannuan, “...”

“I’ll be away for just a night. Nothing will happen to you, right?”

“... Yup,” Zhong Nuannuan continued nodding.

Only

With that, Yang Yi walked off, but not before looking back a few times in concern.

It was obvious that he did not want to leave. After all, he was a very responsible young big brother.

He also knew how serious tonight’s situation was about to be.

That was why the moment Yang Yi left, Zhong Nuannuan contacted Selina and Aiden to head to the location scene immediately.

Selina was still bunkered up in Leng Qirui’s home, trying to get Leng Qirui to go hacking with her when she received news from Zhong Nuannuan.

Selina immediately got up to leave.

“Hey, where are you going?”

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 396: Reconnaissance

“I need to be going. I have something to do. Young Brother Leng, I’ll see you tomorrow!”

Leng Qirui, ‘... Why do we need to see each other again tomorrow?’

Did this T-Rex plan on beating him up again tomorrow? Threaten him? Eat and drink his stuff? Continue dominating his computer?

Leng Qirui thought about moving away at that moment.

The Jiang District harbor.

Even though it was night time, the incoming and outgoing cargo ships continued shifting about the port.

Under the dim lighting, a few happy, but tired faces could be seen looking forward to a haul.

The messy management of the harbor had always been something the Jiang District City Administration found hard to swallow.

As a tourism district, Jiang District's harbor had always been busy with cargo ships coming and going. There was also a huge flow of businessmen traveling to and fro, not to mention, the never-ending crowds of tourists who enjoyed taking a sleepy boat ride on the river at night.

This situation had given rise to many opportunities for those who prefer walking on the other side of the law.

The trucks, which were loaded with unidentified cargo, moved into the harbor one by one after being given a proper scan.

Someone was already there to receive them at the harbor as the boxes were carefully moved onto the ships.

Yang Yi snuck onto one of the ships without raising any alarms and pried open one of the boxes.

There was a stunned look on Yang Yi's face as he took in the box filled with guns and ammunition.

He knew Big Boss and the rest were tracking some people all the way to another country this time in order to arrest this group of firearm smugglers.

However, Big Boss and the others were now gone and a huge quantity of firearms had suddenly appeared. Who could explain to Yang Yi what exactly was happening right now?

Yang Yi was skinny and not considered tall. He fit just right when hiding behind a huge box.

He was not officially a soldier under the special forces team yet and he had only one superior, which was Big Boss. Thus, he had no one to contact at that moment, as the only person he was supposed to get in touch with was Big Boss.

Yang Yi and Big Boss had a special way of contacting one another. Still, Big Boss had mentioned before that he was on a mission and that Yang Yi should not contact him privately unless it was absolutely necessary.

Yang Yi struggled for quite a while before deciding to connect the contact signal.

What he did not know was, the moment he initiated the signal connection, an alarm rang out from the other party's control room.

Yang Yi followed the instructions given by Chi Yang to contact him and anxiously waited for Chi Yang's reply. However, Yang Yi could not get into contact with Chi Yang's network even after trying for quite a while.

Beads of sweat started to form on Yang Yi's forehead.

It was obvious by now that Big Boss and the rest were holed up somewhere without any signal.

Only

What was he going to do?

He could not get in touch with Big Boss and he had no clearance to contact the commander-in-chief. Even though he knew other people, Big Boss had told him previously that they were in Jiang District on a secret mission. There was no one they could trust here, including those in the Jiang District military base.

He had Ning Wenhao's contact, but Ning Wenhao was also with Big Boss on the mission.

He had no idea who to go to with the huge shipment of firearms in front of him.

Yang Yi scanned every box with his watch and turned on the video connection in an attempt to send out the video clips.

He could only hope that Big Boss's signal was only momentarily blocked, and that Big Boss would receive the intel very soon.

However, when he attempted to send over the information, it indicated that the intel was still in the midst of being uploaded. Thus, it was clear that Big Boss still had no connection.

Despite this, it was not wise for Yang Yi to continue staying at this location where such a huge shipment of firearms was being traded. After all, triad members, assassins, and even high-end international mercenaries might appear.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 397: Getting Caught

Yang Yi considered the situation and decided to retreat while finding a way to contact Big Boss. Otherwise, he could also contact Leng Qirui through Zhong Nuannuan and get Leng Qirui to contact Commander-in-Chief Leng. Hopefully, they would be able to stop the ship before it left the country's borders.

However, he felt some little starry dots shine on his body the moment he got off the ship.

As a reserve member of the special forces team, Yang Yi was those red dots shining between his eyebrows and on his heart meant.

Two physically towering, strong foreign men, who were close to 2 meters tall, came walking towards him. Yang Yi was about to say something when they gave him a karate chop without warning, causing him to fall unconscious to the floor.

A few men in fully-armed gear suddenly appeared from behind and pulled Yang Yi away quietly.

All the while, the harbor continued bustling as usual...

A huge splash of cold water washed over him, chilling him to his very core.

Yang Yi woke up with a start, and before his brain was able to process what was happening, he had already instinctively attempted to spring into action to fight the enemy.

However, when he attempted to move, Yang Yi realized that he had been tightly tied to a thick metal pole.

A man with a savage smile was standing in front of him while the two foreigners who had struck Yang Yi unconscious stood beside him. From the looks of their figures, they were likely international mercenaries.

Next to those two foreigners stood dozens of their physically strong minions.

With so many hired thugs, coupled with such a huge load of smuggled firearms, it was not difficult to guess who this man was. Yang Yi immediately blurted...

“Viper!”

The man gave a laugh. “Looks like you know me really well, so much so that you even managed to recognize me.”

As he said this, Viper took out the watch Yang Yi had tried using to contact Chi Yang and gently rubbed it.

“This isn’t bad stuff. Was it used to contact Chi Yang? You’re his subordinate, aren’t you? He’s nothing but an instructor for the Jiang District special forces team, yet he’s in personal contact with someone who does not belong to the military base. That’s playing against the rules!”

Yang Yi knew it was the end for him today, but he was not afraid. He was just feeling regret over being unable to fulfil his dream.

Only

Having said that, he had been prepared to give up his life since the day he joined Big Boss’ team. There was nothing that made him more fired up than taking down these criminals.

He loved his work and he would do anything, even giving up his life, for this career.

“Since you are aware of whom I had contacted, it’s better for me to advise you to give up these firearms. Our team will soon be here from the military base, and there’ll be no way you can escape.”

Viper laughed when he heard Yang Yi’s words. Even the mercenaries and hired thugs laughed along with him.

“We were able to monitor who you contacted from your car and if you were able to successfully contact that person. That is why, little boy, you should have been good and stayed home with your mum. What’s the point of challenging the power and viciousness of your big brothers here?”

The man in glasses standing behind Viper was the only person who looked weak and skinny. That man was most probably the brains of their group as he looked at Yang Yi condescendingly.

“We’ve installed a shielding system here. Anyone who attempts to connect to the internet or make any calls to convey information will be immediately detected.”

Yang Yi knew that there was no way for him to survive this now that he had fallen into the hands of these people. That was why he did not back down from the situation even as he was being held hostage. All he did was stare coldly at the other party and retort, "So what?"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 398: Chi Yang In Danger

"Even if you do manage to escape this time, our captain will certainly arrest all of you the next time!"

Yang Yi's words caused everyone to laugh again.

Yang Yi got a bad feeling when he saw them laugh.

"We aren't sure if we'll be able to escape the next time, but what we know is this: This time, not only you, but even your Captain Chi Yang won't be able to escape."

Yang Yi's eye widened. "What are you saying? What do you mean?"

The brains of the group chuckled as he threw the watch in front of Yang Yi. "Do you see that? It's still trying to send out information."

"Let me be honest with you, Mustapha's opposition forces have come to an agreement with us. Once Chi Yang and the others arrive at Mustapha's B City, they will take care of Chi Yang and the rest of Camino's special forces."

"B City had been taken over by the opposition forces at midnight today. The moment Chi Yang and the others land in that city, they will be surrounded from all sides by the opposition forces and our Wute Organization. They are a team of 35 people, while we have tens of thousands. So, tell me, do you think they will, ever, be, able, to, return?"

Yang Yi was horrified.

He was especially regretting not contacting Big Boss or the commander-in-chief the moment he noticed something strange about the truck. If he had contacted them, the first thing the commander-in-chief would do would be to immediately send soldiers to arrest the criminals. Once Viper was arrested, the commander-in-chief would be able to put together a special forces team to conduct a rescue mission in Mustapha.

However, Yang Yi had been too focused on trying to gain merit. When he noticed that something was not right that afternoon, he had waited until night time to take action on his own. He had planned to succeed in the mission before Big Boss was back. Not only did he abandon his duty to protect Zhong Nuannuan, but he had also landed himself in danger.

Now, he had failed in his mission and was paying for it with his life.

No wonder Big Boss had always said that he was not suitable to be in the special forces team, and had assigned him the menial task of protecting Zhong Nuannuan.

Only

He did not deserve to be a soldier.

Yang Yi's eyes went red as he clenched his teeth while spurring three words, "You, are, lying!"

Viper shook his head. He had no interest in speaking to Yang Yi. The brains of the group standing behind Viper voiced out on Viper's behalf, "Little boy, you're about to die. What is there for us to lie to you about? Sigh. To think, we had thought you must have been a formidable subordinate under Chi Yang. By the looks it, there's really nothing much to you.

"However, you're still young and we're not really savages who know only to kill. All you need to do is tell us Chi Yang's identity and background. Tell us if there is another side to him other than being an instructor to students, and we will let you go."

When Yang Yi said nothing, the brains continued, "Camino's only marshal, Chi Yuansheng has a grandson, who is also named Chi Yang. This man has always been a mystery and belongs to the country's covert special forces. We've gotten someone to investigate this and found that even though Chi Yuansheng's grandson is in the special forces, his grandson is in charge of the special forces team for Camino and is a lieutenant general. All you need to do is tell me if this Chi Yang is the same Chi Yang I am describing."

Yang Yi looked shocked when he heard the words of the brains, but quickly regained focus and sneered, "Do you really think I'm still a child who is still breastfeeding just because I'm young? I've never once thought I'd be able to leave here alive after you've caught me. Why should I tell you anything?"

Viper could tell from Yang Yi's subtle change in expression that he was unaware of Chi Yang's identity and thus, quickly lost interest in the matter.

"So, all we did was capture a little underling. He doesn't know a thing. Kill him."

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 399: Sacrificial Ceremony

"Yes."

Yang Yi struggled furiously when he heard the command to kill him, but he breathed a secret sigh of relief.

Lucky for him, they did not notice anything.

If they were able to tell that he knew something, this group of people would torture it out of him. Even though there was no way he would reveal who Big Boss really was, these people might still be able to determine Big Boss' true identity from Yang Yi's reactions.

If that had happened, the situation at Mustapha would not be as simple as just an alliance between the opposition forces and the mafia. Big Boss might end up getting captured by opposition forces from various countries and used to extort and impede Camino.

Even though he could not help out Big Boss, but at least he did not cause trouble to Big Boss by divulging his true identity.

"It's useless to struggle, little boy. You should be grateful to our Big Boss for allowing you a quick death."

A thug in a black suit, who was standing very near to Viper, took out a gun and walked towards Yang Yi before aiming it at him at the chest.

“Bang...”

Yang Yi’s body trembled involuntarily at the sound.

When he opened his eyes, all he saw were the condescending looks of everyone as they laughed out loud.

The bang he had heard was actually shouted by the man in black.

Yang Yi was extremely furious, yet immensely helpless as he watched the arrogant looks on those criminals.

“Chi Yang has killed many of our brothers, and even got someone to blow up our firearms storage facility in the past. Even though we still have no idea who Q of Spades is, we just assume that anyone we’re unable to identify is his doing. So, do you think we’ll let you go so easily?”

The thug in the black suit pointed at the camera in front. “Do you see this? You’ll need to stand trial in front of us. Once the shipment has moved out, the video of this trial will be broadcasted on all major websites in Camino. You’ll be famous right before your death. How do you feel about that?”

Only

Someone knocked on the door at that moment. The man reported to Viper once he entered the room, “Big Boss, it’s about time to leave.”

Viper nodded and turned toward the thug in the black suit. “Let the trial begin.”

“Yes, sir.”

The man grabbed Yang Yi’s head and pulled out a knife about seven inches long, placing it at his neck. The man smiled as he looked towards the camera and said, “Commander-in-Chief Leng, you don’t know who he is, do you? Let me make an introduction. He is a little nobody who works under your subordinate, Chi Yang. We didn’t bother asking his name. After all, he is but an underling who is worthless for us to interrogate.

“You’ve messed up our transactions more than once. The last time, someone by the name of Q of Spades appeared and blew up our firearms storage facility. Even though we have no idea who Q of Spades is, but payback for this person’s doing will be directed at Commander-in-Chief Leng.

“They say one should always leave a lifeline for another, so that everyone will still be able to meet on good terms in the future. The Jiang District is a transit harbor, a place of survival for everyone. Why do you need to push us to the brink of extinction?

“To be honest, those firearms had not solely been sold to the people of Camino. There was also Naboo, H Country, Mustapha, I Country, and many others. Yet, you chose to blow up our firearms storage without warning. Isn’t that too inhumane?

“Since you choose to be inhumane, don’t blame us for being inhumane as well. Today, not only are we leaving Camino by shipping off firearms worth 30 billion in a grandiose manner, we are also killing Chi Yang’s subordinate in front of you. After killing him, we have prepared a big mystery gift for you. This is a gigantic gift, which we believe will knock your socks off.”

Chapter 400: The Head That Flew Off

“Do you want to know what that gift is? Hahahaha... By the time you’ve watched this video, it’ll nearly be time for you to receive the gift.”

“I’ll give you a clue for now. Rumor has it that your health is failing. Take good care of your heart when you receive that gift! I really do hope to see the news of you suddenly passing away!”

The thug in the black suit laughed heartily after he finished talking. Even though the thugs around him and Viper did not appear on camera, they laughed along with him as well.

The thug in the black suit asked, “Brothers, take a guess. How many times will it take me to chop off his head with this knife?”

“Seven times!”

“Six times!”

“He’s so small and weak, five times will be enough!”

“Okay, since everyone is so sure of me, I’ll try to cut off his head in five strikes.”

He raised his hand as he said this.

The look in Yang Yi’s eyes was now as dead as the dust on the ground.

Video clips like this were quite common within A Country’s rebel forces. This was considered a type of sacrificial ceremony for A’s world. Most of those massacred in this ceremony were soldiers from Sab.

In Camino, however, such bloody acts were not commonly seen.

Yang Yi felt the icy-cold sharp knife against his throat as he shut his eyes tight. All he hoped for was to not feel much pain when his fresh blood splattered across the ground.

“Here I come! I’m doing it!”

That man was treating Yang Yi as a rat as he played around with Yang Yi. Laughter could be heard from everyone around him.

Suddenly, the knife moved.

Just as Yang Yi felt the blade coming down...

“Ah...”

The group of mafia members shouted and screamed as Yang Yi opened his eyes in confusion.

The knife was still at less than one millimeter away from his neck, and he could he even feel the cold, chilling steel of the tip of that knife.

The man wielding the knife was still standing in place, but he...

His head was no longer attached to his neck.

The head had been cleanly cut off right where his Adam's apple was.

Even though this was the enemy, but Yang Yi, who was still a student, stiffened at the sight of the headless body standing in front of him.

As for those thugs and mercenaries, they were now in a panic. Every gun barrel was pointed in different directions, as if prepared to face a terrible enemy.

No one had seen what had happened. The head of a top assassin was cut off just like that.

If the head that was taken off belonged to Viper...

No one dared to imagine the consequences.

"Who's there? Come out!"

Only

"Protect Big Boss."

Two voices chimed out at almost the same time.

The first thing those two foreign mercenaries did was to shield Viper behind themselves.

The rest had formed a circle around them. Everyone had a gun in their hand as they protected the three within the circle.

Even though there were many people around, Viper's face had drained of color.

This was especially so as he had not even caught a glimpse of the enemy when his henchman's head had been chopped off, nor did he see that the camera had also been cut in half in the process. His head started to go numb when he saw a poker card sitting on the camera rack, which was the queen of spades.

The only henchman he had that was still alive from the club was still in a terrible mental state. Whenever the henchman saw poker cards, he would immediately fall to the floor and would even pee out of fright. This showed how disturbingly powerful the ability of this Q of Spades was.

Even though those henchmen from the club could not compare to these assassins protecting him, he had still arranged for 99 people to stand guard at the club in order to guard those firearms in storage.
