

Physician Wife 571

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 571: Face-slapping

In the face of Selina's provocation, Ye Hai only smiled elegantly as he continued to behave accordingly.

"Lil Rui, let's go. It's getting late, and Mr. Aiden and Miss Selena should be resting. Let's go back."

Leng Qirui, who was about to go home, instantly lost his desire to go home. It now occurred to him that Ye Hai was at home too.

"Who wants to go back with you? Don't make it sound like we're close."

When Aiden and Selina heard that Leng Qirui did not plan to go back, they quickly asked him to stay.

"Young Master Leng, you can stay in our house if you don't want to go back. My brother and I usually live here alone. There are many rooms here."

Aiden nodded too. "That's right. Selina and I have always felt lonely living here. If you don't mind, you can move in with us."

"Alright." Leng Qirui, who had wanted to go back no matter what, immediately agreed to Selina and Aiden's suggestion due to Ye Hai's return, leaving Ye Hai standing there awkwardly.

Although he did not understand why Aiden—the honored vice-president of Tianheng Holdings—had to pay for Leng Qirui's choices, Ye Hai knew that if he wanted to obtain Selina, he would have to first make sure that Aiden did not harbor any ill thoughts about him.

As for Selina...

Although she did not like Ye Hai now, she would like him one day.

Take Big Brother Chi Yang for example. Zhong Nuannuan initially despised him after he raped her, did she not? Chi Yang did not think so much of it either and announced their marriage.

Worst come to worst, he could just rape Selina first and then file for marriage too. He refused to believe that Selina would still like Leng Qirui after he made her his woman. He also refused to believe that Leng Qirui would still want to be with Selina after Ye Hai touched her.

"Okay, here I was, missing you because I haven't been home after so long, and wanting to bring you home. Since you don't want to see me, I'll go back first."

Ye Hai was in low spirits, like an older brother who had been abandoned by an insensible younger brother. Not only did he not blame Leng Qirui at all, he even said to Aiden and Selina, "Mr. Aiden, Miss Selina, I'll leave Lil Rui in your hands. Much thanks."

Selina curled her lips. "Leng Qirui is my friend. Isn't it only right for us to take care of him as a guest? You even said that you're leaving him in our care... What kind of identity are you assuming to say that? his Big Brother? Tsk tsk..."

All of her words were expressed vividly in the disdainful 'tsk tsk', causing cracks in Ye Hai's elegant facade.

Leng Qirui could tell what Ye Hai was thinking just by looking at him. Now that Ye Hai was being scolded by Selina to the point that he could not even maintain his innocent front, he started to feel more admiration for this lady called Selina.

Although Leng Qirui was pleased that Ye Hai had left, he did not forget to remind Selina.

"Ye Hai is a black-hearted white lotus¹. Be careful."

Selina was confused. "Why should I be careful? Shouldn't you be the one being careful?"

"Ye Hai has taken a fancy to you. I think he will definitely use many despicable methods to get you, so you have to be careful of him."

However, Leng Qirui's words made Aiden and Selina laugh.

"What are you guys laughing about? Don't take him lightly. He has an evil heart."

Selina looked at Leng Qirui like a vixen trying to seduce Monk Tang. "Young Brother Leng, are you concerned about me? Don't worry. Haven't you seen how strong I am? Even you can't beat me. What can he do to me?"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 572: Eventually

It was written all over Leng Qirui's face that he had been seduced by Selina. It was only then that he remembered how she had kicked Gu Mingyan's driver into the trash can and flung an adult-sized Gu Mingyan into the trash can with a swing of her arm.

Alright, a Tyrannosaurus Rex was not one to be trifled with. If he provoked her, it was akin to him presenting Ye Hai a flower wreath.

A month had passed, and Zhong Nuannuan finally had her first final exam since her rebirth. Last time, to let Zhong Qianqian perform well in front of her parents, Nuannuan had placed last in the school. However, today, she would show everyone what she was truly made of.

After all, after getting first place in the school, she would make Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan apologize to her in front of the whole school and clean the toilet for the whole semester.

Zhong Qianqian had already applied to withdraw from school. She had been staying at home for the past two days, preparing for her departure to Emperor District. Gu Mingzhe must have failed to withstand the destruction on her side and was preparing to seek help from the Nangong family. Therefore, Zhong Nuannuan decided not to disturb them.

However, she would definitely not let Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan—the two people who had helped the wicked perpetuated evil deeds—off the hook easily. Zhong Nuannuan's forte was to use what others were best against themselves. Only then would she be able to cause enough damage.

After the exam, there were still five more days until the end-of-term results were released. They had to continue school for the next few days. Therefore, after school, they went straight to the military base's compound.

As Chi Yang and the commander-in-chief were busy dealing with traitors from the inside, Zhong Nuannuan had already returned to her residence in the military base. Chi Yang had not gotten off work yet.

Her phone rang. It was Chi Yang.

"Hello, Big Brother Chi Yang."

"Nuannuan, have you reached the compound?"

"Yes, I just arrived."

"I'm sorry. I still have things to do, so I might not be able to come back for dinner with you. I got someone to stir-fry some food for you in the canteen. He might be here soon. Remember to open the door for him later."

"Okay."

Although Zhong Nuannuan could sense the flood of constant thoughtfulness and care from her Big Brother Chi Yang, she would always feel blissful and touched every time.

"Then, when are you going to eat? Don't forget to eat because you're busy. It's bad for your stomach."

"I've already asked someone to get food. I'll eat with the commander-in-chief later, don't worry."

"You should order something soft. The commander-in-chief has a delicate stomach."

"Okay, got you."

"Then, I won't disturb you anymore. Go work, I'll wait for you to come back to sleep."

"Mhmm."

After hanging up, Zhong Nuannuan started to help Chi Yang clean up the house.

Even though the house was clean, Zhong Nuannuan was still willing to clean it and decorate it. That was because it was a home shared by both Chi Yang and her.

Not long after, Zhong Nuannuan heard someone knocking on the door.

After opening the door, she saw an orderly from the special forces team.

Before Zhong Nuannuan could say anything, the other party stood at attention and saluted. Then, he shouted in a loud voice, "Greetings, Madam Commander. I am here on orders to deliver food to Madam Commander!"

Zhong Nuannuan wanted to say that they were not married yet.

However, when she heard him call her that again, she felt the happiness that she had long been awaiting.

In her previous life, Chi Yang returned to Emperor District after completing the mission in Jiang District. At that time, they were already married, and in Emperor District, she was truly the wife of a commander.

However, she did not like this title at all. She made everyone call her Madam Zhong.

The soldiers did not dare to call her that, nor did they dare to refuse. Eventually...

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 573: Grandpa

Eventually, all of the new soldiers were afraid to interact with her.

In this life, this was the first time she heard someone call her that. Without the twisted implication from her previous life, she only felt happy.

“Thank you.”

“It is my honor to serve the madam commander!

“Madam Commander, if there’s nothing else, I’ll be leaving.”

“Okay, take care.”

After sending the orderly away, Zhong Nuannuan opened the large bag of things that Chi Yang sent over.

There were two servings of meat dishes, two servings of vegetables cooked with meat, two vegetable dishes, a bowl of soup, and a gigantic bowl of rice. Zhong Nuannuan was speechless, “...”

What kind of existence did her Big Brother Chi Yang slap on her?

Did he think he was fattening up the pig?

However, she did not want to waste the food, so she reluctantly finished the food.

After all, it was not made by her Big Brother Chi Yang—it was not delicious. Hence, she could only eat it reluctantly.

After her meal, Chi Yang still had not returned. Zhong Nuannuan was getting ready to wash the bedsheets after cleaning up the house.

She ran to the balcony laundry yard to fetch the laundry detergent only to realize that it was almost used up.

After putting the bedsheets into the washing machine, Zhong Nuannuan went downstairs to buy some detergent.

There were only a few people that she knew in the entire military base. That was why Zhong Nuannuan had never expected to run into someone familiar there.

However, when she walked downstairs and was about to leave the building through the main door of her unit, she saw an old man walking toward her with a walking stick.

Behind him were two plain-clothed guards, and around the old man were six other bodyguards who walked alongside him discreetly.

Was that not Grandpa?

Why was Grandpa in Jiang District?

Although Chi Yang's marriage report was approved by Leng Jinpeng and Qu Mingyi on paper, Chi Yang's actual military rank was comparable to Leng Jinpeng's. Therefore, she guessed that it should be the people in Emperor District who approved the military base's application. Once Emperor District approved it, the old master would definitely know.

However...

In her previous life, she never recalled the old master coming over to Jiang District before she married Chi Yang. Was she wrong?

The first time she met the old master in that life was half a year after she and Chi Yang registered their marriage.

What Zhong Nuannuan did not know was that in her previous life, the old master had also come to Emperor District to visit his future granddaughter-in-law.

However, at that time, because Zhong Nuannuan had a tricky relationship with Chi Yang, Chi Yang was afraid that the old master's appearance would make Zhong Nuannuan dislike Chi Yang even more. Therefore, he asked the old master to go back.

The old master was seventy-eight years old. He had traveled from Emperor District to Jiang District without any complaints, happily expecting to see his granddaughter-in-law. Yet, after staying for half a month, he did not get to see her at all. Eventually, he could only leave dejectedly.

However, in this life, Zhong Nuannuan was the only one who was reborn. Therefore, this time, the old master would not have to go through the same process ever again. He would not have to arrive in happiness but leave in disappointment.

From afar, the old master saw Zhong Nuannuan too.

At that moment, Zhong Nuannuan was still wearing her school uniform. She was covered in a white mid-length cotton jacket that Chi Yang had bought for her. Her long hair was tied into a cute bun on top of her head that was her permanent hairstyle. Her beauty was piercingly charming in her ordinary student getup. It was as though the moment she appeared downstairs, everyone's eyes would subconsciously turn to her.

Zhong Nuannuan was used to it, so she did not think much of it.

As for the old master...

She did not know the old master in this lifetime yet. Thus, she did not initiate a conversation.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 574: Staged Crash

However, just because she did not strike up a conversation, it did not mean that the old master would not!

Judging by Old Master's personality...

Zhong Nuannuan lowered her head with a slight smile hanging at the corner of her lips, invisible to the old man. She walked toward him.

When the old master saw Zhong Nuannuan walking towards him, he quickly covered his mouth with his hand and whispered to the two bodyguards following closely behind him, "Go! Go! Both of you, go away! Don't obstruct my flow."

The guards obeyed and immediately walked toward another fork in the road. It was as if they were never on the same path as the old man.

At this moment, Zhong Nuannuan was getting close to the old master.

Seeing this, the old man threw everything he had into this performance and fell to the side.

The guards who kept some distance from the old man widened their eyes in shock.

The old man had originally wanted to stage a crash with Zhong Nuannuan. However, he failed to notice the electric-powered scooter coming from behind him, and it was very fast.

Seeing the old man suddenly fall toward her, the woman on the electric-powered scooter screamed. Yet, it was too late for her to hit the brakes. The scooter came flying toward the old master's body.

The old master jumped when he heard the scream, but it was too late. After all, he did not live in a place where something as dangerous as the electric-powered scooters ran wild in the street. Hence, he did not think too much about it when he tried to stage crash into his granddaughter-in-law. It was too late for regrets now.

The bodyguards were dumbfounded. They wanted to rush forward to save him, but because of the old master's orders, they were too far away from him.

Just when everyone thought that they were going to die, Zhong Nuannuan extended a leg and kicked the electric-powered scooter. With one hand, she stopped the old master from collapsing, and with the other, she held onto the person riding on the scooter.

Then, as the scooter was kicked away, she held onto both people.

The person riding the electric-powered scooter was a woman in her forties. At that moment, her face was frozen with fear. When Nuannuan kicked her electric-powered scooter away, it emitted a loud bang and shattered into pieces. Only then did she recover from her shock.

The old master was obviously surprised by this sudden scene.

He was simply surprised—joyfully, even—not scared.

He did not expect his granddaughter-in-law to be such a strong girl with quick reflexes.

As expected of Old Chi's granddaughter-in-law!

This skill was comparable to a trained soldier!

Of course, Old Master Chi had investigated Zhong Nuannuan's family background in detail. Although she was from a military family, she had been abducted by human traffickers at the age of three.

For the past 14 years, she had been living in a remote and backward village. It was only when the family that had purchased her passed away one after the other in a car accident a year ago that she had gone online and found her original family through Baby Come Home.

It could be said that Zhong Nuannuan was a girl with no background, and her status could not be compared to the wealthy ladies in Emperor District.

However, to become the Chi family's granddaughter-in-law, she only needed to fulfill three conditions.

Firstly, Chi Yang must like her; secondly, she must treat him well; and thirdly, she must be a person of admirable character.

The Chi family did not lack anything except family members.

Therefore, when he first heard that his eldest grandson had actually gotten married and reported his marriage, Old Master Chi's nearly withered heart was instantly revived.

If that was not utter happiness, he did not know what was!

However, after finding out that his grandson had filed the marriage report because he was set up while attending a banquet...

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 575: Rescue

The woman who wanted to bed him failed to reach her goal, yet he slept with the woman's younger sister instead. Old Master Chi felt uncomfortable at how things turned out.

Firstly, he was unhappy with the family who plotted against his grandson. After all, being able to raise such a daughter said plenty of the bad values within her parents. At the very least, they were undeniably guilty of spoiling their children.

However, after some deliberation, he realized that his grandson had never been involved with any woman.

With his increasing old age, he merely wanted to have a grandson. Yet, there was not even a hint of shadow that it was happening.

Therefore, when the marriage report arrived in Emperor District, Old Master Chi approved it without any hesitation.

After all, there were not too many women who had the opportunity to be close to his grandson.

Wrong, not 'too many'—he meant to say that there were none.

After all, his grandson had that weird habit. He would have goosebumps all over his body if a woman who liked him approached him, much less touch a woman.

At long last, Chi Yang finally found someone he could live with. Although Old Master Chi felt that it aggrieved the daughter from that family since she was only 17 years old after all. However... His Chi family wanted to go forth and multiply too!

Therefore, after much consideration at home, he decided to make a trip to Jiang District himself.

He was supposed to arrive a month earlier, but he heard that his future granddaughter-in-law had been implicated in a murder.

This angered the old man greatly.

He did not like this family to begin with. After all, her elder sister had drugged his grandson, and now that the younger sister had committed a murder. The old master felt nothing but extreme discomfort at the entire ordeal.

Thankfully, he heard that his grandson had gone around to collect evidence for the girl. Eventually, he finally obtained the victim's family's approval to conduct a medical examination on the victim. In the end, he found out that the victim had fallen down the stairs because of a seizure during the incident. Only then did the old man calm down.

Once his anger dissipated, he insisted to see his granddaughter-in-law, and he secretly rushed over just for that.

However, the old man was overjoyed in this encounter.

Not only was she charmingly beautiful, but she was also skilled! Not only was she skillful, but she was also quick-witted and had a loving heart!

In that move earlier, not only did his granddaughter-in-law save him, but she also saved this woman. This meant that she was a kind-hearted person. This made the old man very happy. He could not help but agree that his grandson was amazing—he found a treasure worth keeping on his first try.

"Sir, are you alright?"

Seeing that the woman had steadied herself, Zhong Nuannuan hurried to check on the old master.

After all, the old master was aged. No matter how much he loved bouncing around, it was easy for problems to arise with his old limbs.

She used her X-ray vision to check on the old master. After confirming that he was fine, she sighed in relief.

The old master looked at his granddaughter-in-law with eyes full of affection and excitement. He kept shaking his head. "I'm good, I'm good, I'm good! Thank you, Miss!"

"You're welcome." Zhong Nuannuan smiled. The moment she saw the old master, she felt like it was as though she had seen her real family.

Therefore, no matter how pretentious the old master was, she would still indulge him and play along with him.

In her previous life, she was tricked by Jiang Shuwan and drank the tea that she gave her, ending up unconscious. After that, she was taken away by the organization, and Chi Yang came to save her. When they realized there was no escape, she asked him, "What will happen to Grandpa if we both die?"

Chi Yang's answer still shocked her to this day.

"Grandpa said that if I can't save you, there's no need for me to go back."

In the end, they did not return indeed.

That was because she and Chi Yang had both died in her previous life. She did not know how devastated the old master was when he heard about their deaths.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 576: Extort

This respectable old man devoted his entire life to the country.

As he grew old, his two sons died noble deaths one after the other. In the end, even his only grandson went away and died while trying to rescue her.

She did not know how much pain the old master had as he spoke those words to Chi Yang before he left. However, it was because of those words that she, Zhong Nuannuan, had decided to swear by this person as her grandfather for the rest of her life.

Not only was the old master saved by his granddaughter-in-law, but he was also cared for by such a beautiful granddaughter-in-law. His wrinkled face looked like it was about to bloom into a flower.

Zhong Nuannuan did not care about the woman who had been sent flying by her kick. After all, this was a residential road. There were many pedestrians on the road, as well as many elderly and children.

Who would care about the cars on the road in their haste sometimes, especially those children? They would run if they were happy. She was so fast on the scooter that even if nothing happened today, an accident was bound to happen one day. Therefore, she felt that it was good enough that she did not scold the woman for riding her electric-powered scooter so fast.

However, the old master thought differently. After all, the older he was, the more tolerant he became. After speaking to Nuannuan, he immediately turned to the middle-aged woman and asked concernedly, "Lady, are you alright?"

The woman finally snapped out of her daze. She looked at the broken parts of the electric-powered scooter scattered all over the ground. Then, she shifted her gaze to take in the plain cotton jacket that the old man was wearing, the plain cotton shoes, and his dark skin. Thinking that he was definitely not a family member of some senior officer, she glared at him and snapped, "Alright? How could I be alright? Look at my scooter! Which eye of yours saw that I'm alright?"

The old master did not expect this woman to be so unreasonable. He reached into his bag and prepared to take out the money to compensate.

"Indeed, I was careless. How much is your electric-powered scooter? I'll compensate you."

When she heard that the old man wanted to pay for her scooter, the woman immediately demanded an exorbitant price. "3500."

The old master only had a little more than a thousand worth of cash and a card with him. The rest was with the bodyguards, but it was not convenient for him to ask his guards to come out. He could only say, "I don't have that much money with me now. How about this? Write down your bank card number. When I'm free, I'll ask my grandson to transfer the money to you."

"Heh—" The woman laughed coldly. "If you don't have money and don't want to pay me back, just say it. You don't have to beat around the bush."

"Eh? This lady! How can you say that about me, this old man? I really want to compensate you." The old man was saddened by this woman's words and did not know what else to say.

"Tsk! If you really want to compensate me, bring me to your house right now! You don't have money, but your family must have money, right? Tell me, where do you live? Which building and unit do you live in? I don't need you to bring me there, I can go up and get money from them myself."

The corners of the old master's mouth twitched.

He could not expose his identity!

He wanted to use his hidden identity to talk to his granddaughter-in-law and find out more about her.

Just as he was thinking about whether he should pretend to make a phone call to his bodyguards and ask them to pay, Zhong Nuannuan, who watched the woman bully her grandfather, started acting up.

"That's right! You're right, he just doesn't want to pay! Why should he pay you? His eyes aren't grown on his back, so who would know that you were going to bump into him? It's already a blessing that he didn't ask you to pay for the mental trauma, but he still wants to pay for your electric scooter after you almost knocked into someone! This thing of yours looks like it's been around for a few years. Are you sure anyone would want it even if you're reselling it at 500 bucks?"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 577: Protective

“How shameless must you be to demand 3500 yuan just like that? Even the new ones don’t cost 3500 yuan, right? Are you trying to extort him, an elderly, by banking on the fact that he doesn’t know the market price?”

As soon as Zhong Nuannuan finished speaking, the onlookers also started shifting to her side.

“It was your fault, to begin with. I often see you riding so fast in the residential area.”

“That’s right. If I hadn’t stopped my grandson that day, he would have been sent flying by you!”

“You bumped into someone, and they haven’t even criticized you yet, and you still have the cheek to ask them to pay. Do you think you’re being reasonable?”

However, that woman was not someone meek. She did not show any sign of guilt even after being surrounded by so many people. Instead, she started to curse, angered by the things people said.

“Are you kidding me? He fell to the ground so suddenly that I couldn’t stop in time. If he didn’t fall to the ground, would I have rear-ended him? Instead of calling out the wrong party here, you’re actually accusing me. Are you all nuts?”

Zhong Nuannuan huffed out a burst of angry laughter. “You mentioned rear-ending him yourself. Under traffic laws, if a person collided with someone they were tailgating, it’s all their fault. Now, you’ve admitted to tailgating someone, so you’re fully responsible! You deserve the broken electric-powered scooter. Initially, I wanted to help this grandfather subtly settle the matter, but since you’re acting unreasonable, then fine. Now, I want you to compensate this grandfather for his mental trauma and shock. Also, since you frightened him, nobody knows if his blood pressure will peak or something. Everyone knows that the elderly are more prone to heart attacks and cerebral hemorrhage if their blood pressure increases. We can only be sure after an MRI scan in the hospital. A local MRI scan costs 700 yuan; two trips cost 1400yuan. Besides, there’s also the payment for specialists, medicine prescription, and rides to the hospital. I’ll give you a discount—you’ll only have to pay 2000 yuan!”

“You... You’re being unreasonable! What rear-end? I’m just using that as an analogy. I’m not a car. I can’t believe you actually brought up traffic laws! Look clearly, this is an electric-powered scooter!”

“Who told you that electric-powered scooters are allowed to break traffic laws?”

“There’s no such thing as tailgating for an electric-powered scooter!”

“Even if it’s not a tailgating, this is still a collision with pedestrians. According to traffic laws, whether it’s a motor or a non-motor vehicle, as long as you hit a pedestrian, you have to take full responsibility. If you don’t believe me, I’ll call the traffic police now. We’ll see whether it’s your fault or this grandfather’s! At the same time, we’ll have the traffic police watch you pay up.”

“You... Just you wait!”

The woman panicked when she heard that Zhong Nuannuan wanted to bring in the traffic police and demand compensation from her. She started to leave after throwing that angry statement at Nuannuan.

She had only taken two steps when Zhong Nuannuan blocked her.

“What are you doing? I didn’t even ask you to pay for damaging my scooter, and you’re blocking my way. Are you trying to pick a fight?”

The woman’s eyes widened into an intimidating glare as she swiped at her shirt, looking like she was about to hit Zhong Nuannuan.

“You’re going to leave your scooter parts spilled all over the ground like that? The road is already narrow enough. If you’re not picking up the pieces, who will?”

“Go away!”

Feeling embarrassed, the woman reached out to push Zhong Nuannuan away, but Zhong Nuannuan grabbed her instead.

With a light squeeze, the woman screamed like a pig being slaughtered.

“Let go! Let go! Let go! Ouch, it hurts!”

Zhong Nuannuan looked down at the woman and asked, “Are you going to clean up or not?”

“I will! I will! I’ll clean up!”

The woman thought that she was very unlucky to have run into such a strong person. However, since she was a bully who would only bow down to power, she was scared senseless after that pinch from the strong woman.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 578: Handling

“Aunt Zhou, what happened to you?”

Just as the woman was picking up the pieces, someone called out to her.

When Aunt Zhou saw that the person who could back her up was there, she immediately started crying. As she cried, she sat on the ground.

“Commander Luo, you have to help me! I rode the electric-powered scooter to your house to cook, but this woman kicked my scooter. Look at how badly it crashed! I don’t live a healthy life—I have to work for several families every day, and I don’t earn much. Now that my scooter was kicked into pieces before I can earn enough, not only did she not compensate me, but she even forced me to stay here to clean up the area. You’re a government official, please help me!”

Zhong Nuannuan had seen this Commander Luo that this woman was referring to. He was Luo Shangyi, the number three deputy commander-in-chief in the military base, ranked after Wang Gangyi and Peng Yaohua.

Zhong Nuannuan had interacted with Wang Gangyi before. Although she had never interacted with Peng Yaohua directly, Zhong Nuannuan had already sentenced him to death internally since he gave Leng Jinpeng illegal drugs.

This Luo Shangyi was the only person among the three whom Zhong Nuannuan had not interacted with before.

Even though Luo Shangyi and Peng Yaohua was there the day Wang Gangyi was caught, Luo Shangyi had not said a word since the beginning. He had been observing Wang Gangyi from the sidelines. Therefore, Zhong Nuannuan did not understand him.

The women in the military base compound recognized most of the high-ranking officers in the military base.

When they saw Deputy Commander Luo's arrival, everyone decided to disperse from the commotion to avoid causing trouble for their husband at home.

However, Deputy Commander Luo did not seem to be angry. Instead, he looked at Zhong Nuannuan and asked, "Miss Zhong, may I ask what exactly happened?"

Zhong Nuannuan explained the whole story. The middle-aged woman tried to interrupt Zhong Nuannuan, but Deputy Commander Luo shot her an intimidating glance—she dared not speak anymore.

Seeing that the woman lost her courage to speak and that Deputy Commander Luo was a reasonable person too, the bystanders started joining in. They told Deputy Commander Luo about how this woman often sped down the compound like she was driving a flying car.

After hearing everyone's testament, Luo Shangyi walked to the old master and apologized.

"Sir, I'm really sorry. This is the auntie that our family hired. I didn't know that she would usually ride fast in the residential area. I'm really sorry that she almost hurt you. Do you want to go to the hospital for a checkup? I'll pay for it."

"Hehehe, I'm fine, I'm fine. Thankfully, this girl was quick enough to save me. I'm fine, I'm fine."

The old master was an honest and open-minded old man. When he heard Deputy Commander Luo's words, he felt glad that there was an upright leader in the military base. Instantly, he laughed his way through and resolved the matter.

Deputy Commander Luo shifted his gaze toward Zhong Nuannuan and thanked her with a nod. "Miss Zhong, thank you for today. If it wasn't for you, I'm afraid it would've escalated into something bigger."

"It's nothing, but you should watch this auntie carefully. After all, this is a military family compound. There are elderly and children here. With her speeding all the time, running into someone is bound to happen one day."

"Rest assured. Rest assured. This happened because I was in the dark about this. Yet, now that I do, this won't happen again."

With that, Deputy Commander Luo fished out a stack of money. After counting it, he handed it to the woman.

"You've been working at my place for 24 days this month. This is a month's worth of money. Treat the rest as my compensation for your electric-powered scooter. You don't have to come tomorrow. Just return me the key."

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 579: Turning Tides

The woman's face paled immediately. Yet, she refused to back down. "Deputy Commander Luo, how could you do this? I was the one who was wronged in your neighborhood today."

"But you were speeding down such a narrow road. Also, it's already dark and you still chose to speed. That makes this your fault."

"Then I can change in the future!"

"Who knows if you'll change in the future? After all, when you came to my place to work, you promised that you would be at my place from four in the afternoon to nine o'clock every day. I paid you enough money, but you knew that my wife and I would only come home after eight o'clock every day. Thus, you would only come over at seven. You let my daughter starve. Since she saw that you were always not around when she was hungry, now she'd just eat out. We wanted you to find another job after this month, but since this happened today, I might as well pay you for the very last time."

Just like that, Deputy Commander Luo fired the woman.

"Grandpa, if there's nothing else, I'll leave first."

After all, the old master had not told her his identity. She could not tell him that she knew him, right? Furthermore, she believed that the old master would not let her leave.

As expected, she had only taken two steps when the old master started to cry out.

He even clutched at his waist as he yelled.

The woman was throwing away a small pile of parts from the electric-powered scooter when she jumped in shock at the old master's sudden yell while clutching his waist. Afraid that Zhong Nuannuan would demand her to pay for the old master's medical fees, she took the opportunity to throw the trash away and distance herself from Zhong Nuannuan.

"Grandpa, are you alright?" Even though she knew that there was an 80% probability that the old master was pretending, Zhong Nuannuan could not help getting anxious.

After all, the elderly could suffer from shortness of breath after experiencing a shock.

Coincidentally, the old master was actually suffering from shortness of breath.

Seeing that his granddaughter-in-law was about to leave, he panicked and wanted to pretend that his waist hurt. However, that sudden turn actually twisted his waist.

Not only did he sprain his waist, but he also got caught in his breath.

At this moment, he was in such pain that his expression transformed.

The bodyguards who were pretending to be onlookers exchanged glances with each other. They could not figure out whether the old marshal was currently pretending or otherwise. Was he pretending? Or was he still pretending?

Therefore, in the end, everyone continued to observe him silently and did not go forward to ask.

After all, if he did not twist his waist earlier, it would be less likely for him to twist his waist now.

Yet, nobody knew the pain felt inside the old master's heart!

Not only had he twisted his waist, but he was also having difficulty breathing.

He wanted to call for help, but he was in such pain that even his breathing felt constricted. How could he speak now?

Would he die before his granddaughter-in-law today?

Seeing that something was amiss, Zhong Nuannuan immediately helped the old master onto a stone bench.

"Grandfather, bear with it. Put your hand here."

Zhong Nuannuan supported the old master on the stone bench with one hand and lifted up a corner of his shirt with the other. As the bodyguards continued to watch, they finally realized that something went wrong. Before they could stop Zhong Nuannuan, she had already stuck a silver needle into his waist.

"Stop!"

The bodyguards were aghast. Two of them quickly ran forward to stop Zhong Nuannuan.

"Shut up!"

Seeing that one of them was about to touch her hand, Zhong Nuannuan barked a stern rebuke that shocked the man into hesitation.

However, these were the guards who stayed by the old marshal's side. They were trained in the special forces for a long time. In fact, some of the older ones had even experienced several assassinations. Who were they to be stopped by Zhong Nuannuan just because she yelled at them to shut up?

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 580: Mishap

Zhong Nuannuan knew that this would not intimidate them, so she said immediately, "He's suffering from shortness of breath now and can't speak properly. If you don't let me insert these needles, his muscles will be cramped for a long time. Besides, he's aged, so it's very easy for him to suffer major side effects. It's even possible for him to suffer from hemiplegia."

When the guards heard that, they were frightened.

One of them asked, "Then, do you really know acupuncture?"

“Mmm.”

Seeing Zhong Nuannuan nod her head, everyone believed her. After all, she was the future granddaughter-in-law of the old marshal. The old marshal meant to dote on her endlessly—she was the future matriarch of the Chi family who would carry on the family line for the old marshal and the commander.

After Zhong Nuannuan inserted three needles into the old master’s body, the old master was surprised to find that he could breathe smoothly again. His body, which had been in so much pain just now, gradually stopped hurting. Moreover, he could move again.

It was a miracle.

The old master could not help but applaud his grandson! He actually found this old man such a beautiful granddaughter-in-law who could perform acupuncture for him!

The worry and depression that he had felt earlier had long disappeared the moment he saw Zhong Nuannuan with his own eyes.

“Sir, don’t move. Just maintain this posture for three minutes.”

“Okay, okay, okay!” The old man quickly cooperated and told the guards, “Don’t make a big fuss. You can’t believe how nimble this girl’s hands are. I couldn’t even breathe earlier, but after she inserted these needles into me, I instantly felt better.”

“Yes.” The two guards stood in a single file and looked at Zhong Nuannuan with admiration.

The future commander’s wife was indeed extraordinary.

Those onlookers who had been out for a walk that night, that had not dispersed from the scene had their eyes lit up when they saw what happened. They quickly came over to watch.

“Sir, do you really feel fine?”

“I’m fine, I’m fine! Just now, I suddenly sprained my waist, and then I felt a shortness of breath. I couldn’t breathe. But the moment the needles came in, I immediately recovered. I recovered so quickly I don’t feel any symptoms anymore. She must be a miracle doctor!”

The old master was used to being alone at home. Once he left the house, he was definitely fated to be a chatterbox. Soon enough, he joined the crowd in the ruckus.

“Grandpa, you can move a little now. If there’s no problem, we can remove the needles in two minutes.”

“Okay.”

The old master was extremely pleased with the way she addressed him. Following Zhong Nuannuan’s instructions, he straightened his back and did two chest-stretching exercises.

Seeing the silver needles around his waist, the guards were extremely nervous, afraid that the old marshal would sprain his waist severely.

After twisting a few times, the old master's eyes lit up. "It doesn't hurt anymore, girl! It really doesn't hurt anymore! It's amazing! It's amazing!"

At this moment, the old master was looking at his granddaughter-in-law—he almost lit three incense sticks on her forehead.

He felt that the Chi family had picked up a treasure!

"As long as you're not hurting anymore." Then, Zhong Nuannuan removed the three needles from the old man's waist and put them back into her bracelet.

"Sir, have you really recovered?"

"Yes, yes! I'm good!" The old man was overjoyed.

"Miss, since you're so good at acupuncture, why don't you take a look at this for me? My knee hurts especially when it rains."

"Miss, let me take a look too. My back hurts."

"Miss..."

In an instant, Zhong Nuannuan was tightly surrounded by the crowd. Facing these neighbors, she was caught in a dilemma—she could neither reject nor accept their requests.