Chapter 621: Coffin

Station Chief Wang must provide Commander-in-chief Leng an explanation today no matter what. Moreover, he personally hated and looked down on people like Ye Hai. Hence, he said, "Since you're so oblivious that you won't shed tears until you see the coffin. Come and watch this video."

After saying that, he gave a look to the police officer on the side. The police officer quickly placed the notebook in front of Ye Hai.

Ye Hai saw himself hiding behind the wall, with the 10 criminals in front of him and Leng Qirui and Selina not far away. When the criminals said that they would split into three groups to subdue Selina, and the remaining seven would take care of Leng Qirui, a smile full of hatred and satisfaction appeared on Ye Hai's face.

Ye Hai was stunned and shook his head vigorously.

"No, no, no... It's not like that! Dad, it's not like that at all! I didn't hire these people. They're hired by Jiang Hongyi from the Jiang family. He got these people to scare Selina. He planned to save the damsel in distress after Selina got captured.

"I knocked him out because I knew what he was up to. I was going to save Lil Rui," Ye Hai explained with strong emotions in his words. Even he managed to convince himself that he knocked Jiang Hongyi out to save Leng Qirui.

"You knocked Jiang Hongyi out? Then, where is he? Other than you and the gang of criminals at the scene, there was no Jiang Hongyi."

"He... He should be on the ground, right beside me. Why isn't he here?"

Ye Hai took a closer look and realized that Jiang Hongyi, who should be at his feet, was actually... not there?

"Lil Rui, it's you, isn't it? You're a gaming expert and a computer literate, so you erased the person in the video, right?"

"Hmph. The police are right here. Can't they find out whether the video has been tampered with?" Leng Qirui finally obtained Ye Hai's weakness. Why would he admit that Selina tampered with the video?

However, Selina was truly adept. Leng Qirui had never seen the phone software she used before. Even he could not detect any flaw in the video that she edited.

Thus, why in the world would he admit it?

"You're so good in IT. How can the police find out?"

"So, you're saying that the people at the police station are all weaklings that we can't even carry out basic investigation skills?"

The police officers were furious.

He crossed the line!

“No, you guys don’t know how good he is at all. People call him the Almighty in the game. He’s the best player in the game and is ranked first,” Ye Hai argued.

Unfortunately, there were not many gamers back then. When it came to gaming, most people still did not think of it as a proper profession.

“So, you think that our experts in the investigation team can’t compare to a mere gamer?” Station Chief Wang was furious.

“That’s not what I meant. What I meant was, you guys should investigate further.” Ye Hai felt like he had been wronged, but he could not explain himself. After all, his face looked so scary in the video. Even if the average person saw him, they would definitely think that he was a bad guy, what more Leng Jinpeng.

“Our police officers have examined the video the moment they received it,” Station Chief Wang said confidently. “Jiang Hongyi is not in it. Of course, if you insist that Jiang Hongyi was there, we can ask him to come and let you two confront each other.”

Then, he instructed the police officers to get Jiang Hongyi.

Chapter 622: Unjust

Ye Hai looked at Leng Jinpeng again. There was nothing he was more afraid of than receiving Leng Jinpeng’s disappointment; that he would not love Ye Hai as much as before. If that was the case, all his hard work over the past 15 years would go down the drain.

“Dad, Lil Rui can be described as proficient and professional when it comes to computers. You have to believe me. I was really just passing by and saw that Jiang Hongyi was going to attack Selina, so I knocked Jiang Hongyi out and tried to save Lil Rui. The police might not be able to find out, but the highly professional personnel from the military base will definitely be able to find out what’s wrong with this video.”

“I’ve treated you so well, but you bring so much harm to my son. Do you think I’ll believe you again? Ye Hai, look at your face.”

After saying that, Leng Jinpeng dragged the video back to when Ye Hai saw that the armed men were about to strike Lil Rui, along with the hateful and satisfied smile Ye Hai had on his face.

His smile was so ugly and creepy that it was scary.

“No... No... Dad, it’s not like that... It’s not like that...”

“What else can it be? Why don’t you explain to me what your expression means?”

“No... It’s not like that... Dad, you have to believe me...”

“Believe? What do you want me to believe? A month ago, you hired someone to assassinate Lil Rui. Do you think I don’t know that?”

Ye Hai, "...!!!" He stopped crying and looked at Leng Jinpeng in shock.

"I didn't tell anyone about this. After finding out that you were the mastermind, I told you not to stay by my side anymore. You should go away for training, so I sent you away.

"I had already sent you so far away. I thought that would make you realize something and stop hurting Lil Rui. Who knew that after completing your mission, you returned to Jiang District behind my back and tried to harm Lil Rui again. Ye Hai, Lil Rui is my son; my life. You harming him is harder for me to accept than if you harming me."

Ye Hai, "..."

He found out!

He was so discreet about it. Yet, how did he find out?

"Ye Hai, from today onwards, I officially disown you as your father. I'll transfer your household registration to you again. I won't pursue the matter of your assassination attempt on Lil Rui, and I won't send the evidence to the military court. Just treat it as the last thing I, as your father, do for you before we cut off all ties.

"However, I won't tolerate what you did today. Everything will be taken care of by the police and the military court will convict you. If you're innocent, I hope that you can be an upright citizen in both the military base and in society. Don't be like your father, who has to go to the guillotine to come to his senses. Of course, if you're guilty, I won't shield you."

Having said that, Leng Jinpeng felt that he had done his part for Ye Hai.

As he watched Leng Jinpeng and Leng Qirui leave, Ye Hai, a 23-year-old man, knelt in the interrogation room with both hands on the metal railing. He wailed and cried until the sky turned dark.

"I'm innocent! Dad... I'm innocent! I really didn't do it! I really didn't do it!"

Chapter 623: Avenged

Selina, that Tyrannosaurus Rex, was pretty amazing, was she not?

Leng Qirui had been at odds with Ye Hai for 15 years. Every time, it was Ye Hai who won their father's favor. Leng Qirui was either beaten up or yelled at. He had suffered so much.

He did not expect Selina to make his father cut off all ties with Ye Hai with such an underhanded method.

She was amazing.

Forgetting that he offended Selina previously, Leng Qirui decided to reward Selina when he got back.

Actually, other than being a little violent, the Tyrannosaurus was quite cute.

Seeing Leng Qirui's mocking gaze, Ye Hai's eyes were filled with hatred.

Actually, when his father died, he was already eight years old, and he knew everything, especially from his mother. She kept telling him that his damn father was a good-for-nothing. Now that he died the death that he deserved, he left them to suffer.

Therefore, Ye Hai knew that his father had made a mistake at the military base and was a criminal.

Even then, so what? Since Leng Jinpeng took Ye Hai in, should Leng Jinpeng not treat him better?

Since he said that Ye Hai was his son from then onward, he and Leng Qirui should be granted the same status, should he not?

Yet, why did the Leng family treat him differently from Leng Qirui?

This was too much!

This was absolutely too much!

He sacrificed so much for the Leng family, but Leng Jinpeng turned on him just like that. He had abandoned him with no considerations of their kinship for his useless son.

Therefore, adopted children were adopted children. No matter how much Ye Hai did, they would not treat him as a real family.

He hated them!

He abhorred them!

Leng Jinpeng actually colluded with the police to slander him and locked him up in jail, allowing outsiders to interrogate him.

What did he do wrong?

Simply because Leng Qirui was in danger and that Ye Hai did not step forward?

Why should he step forward?

He could not wait for Leng Qirui to die!

'Leng Qirui, pray that I don't get released!

'Otherwise, we will not rest until we die!'

Leng Jinpeng and Leng Qirui no longer cared about what happened to Ye Hai.

Leng Jinpeng was angry that he raised a poisonous snake by his side, while Leng Qirui was happy that he finally chased Ye Hai, this persistent two-faced snake, out of the house.

After they left, Leng Qirui praised Leng Jinpeng. "Dad, not bad. You actually stood on my side without hesitation this time."

Leng Jinpeng glanced at his son. "You've got some tricks up your sleeve, kid. You're able to photoshop the video to the point where even the police can't find any flaws."

"I didn't photoshop it. Selena photoshopped it for me." Then, he looked at Leng Jinpeng in surprise. "You saw through it? How is it possible?" Even he could not notice any flaws!

"Heh." Leng Jinpeng teased, "Have you forgotten what your father did before he became the commander-in-chief?"

Leng Qirui's eyes widened. "Aren't you the First Sergeant in the special forces team? So, you're a hacker too?"

Leng Jinpeng glared at him. "What hacker? How rude! Your dad is just a First Sergeant who has mastered the basics of hacking!"

"Alright, alright, alright! First Sergeant, First Sergeant!"

After Leng Jinpeng finally chased Ye Hai, this poisonous snake, out of the house, Leng Qirui felt that his father had become more adorable. He felt like he started to be more intimate with his father now.

Leng Jinpeng felt the same way.

"So, you knew that there was something wrong with the video. Then, why didn't you save him?" He did not scold Leng Qirui for the fake video either.

"Didn't I say that if he has the ability to come out of this, I won't stop him?"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 624: Get Beaten Up

"...No, deep down, do you really think I don't know right from wrong? Me, your father?" Leng Jinpeng was furious.

Leng Qirui curled his lips. "More or less!"

"Rascal, do you wanna get beaten up?"

After shouting that, Leng Jinpeng was about to throw a punch at Leng Qirui when Leng Qirui cried out and immediately fled with his hands wrapped around his head.

It was already bad enough that he was bullied by that Tyrannosaurus all the time. If he had to suffer from his father's punches, how pitiful could he be?

Hence, the father-and-son duo started chasing after each other outside the police station.

Although Leng Jinpeng kept shouting and threatening to beat Leng Qirui up, the relationship between the father and son was drawn significantly closer.

Leng Qirui was worried that Leng Jinpeng would exhaust himself. After all, he was not in good health. Therefore, Leng Qirui let Leng Jinpeng catch up to him after running for a while. Leng Jinpeng's fists that landed on Leng Qirui's body eventually transformed into a series of rubbing on Leng Qirui's head. Their playfighting ended with Leng Jinpeng scolding him for being a rude brat.

It was only when Leng Qirui sat in Leng Jinpeng's car that he asked, "Dad, haven't you always liked Ye Hai before? Why did you send him to the police station when you clearly knew it wasn't his fault and that I framed him?"

"He tried to kill you again and again. How can I let someone like that be? What, you've truly believed that I'm your stepfather?"

To be honest, Leng Jinpeng really regretted taking Ye Hai in at that time.

As the saying goes, 'Dragons beget dragons, phoenixes beget phoenixes, while the offsprings of rats scuttle around in ditches[1].'

In spite of that, it was not a given that the children would always take after their parents. There were so many officers in the military base who sacrificed their lives to serve the country. Only Ye Hai's father betrayed the country by becoming a traitor.

After discovering that her husband was a traitor, not only did his wife not show any remorse or regrets, she cried, threw a tantrum, and finally hung herself. She did all that just to ask for compensation from the military base.

What kind of compensation would there be for a traitor who betrayed his country? It was nice enough for the families of the martyrs who were killed by her husband to not stir up trouble!

Therefore, after all her failed attempts, Ye Hai's mother decided to gather the villagers by the river bank to watch the show. She wanted to blow the matter up and throw herself into the river as a threat to the military base.

In the end, as those from the military base rushed over—before she could say anything—a rat fell from a large pagoda tree above her head and into her clothes. The shock disoriented her. She lost her balance and fell into the river, losing her life.

At that time, Ye Hai was already eight years old. Eight years old. He would probably have developed his sense of right and wrong by then.

Therefore, Leng Jinpeng should not have expected too highly of a child from such a family to uphold good morals.

Yet, at that time, his heart softened when he realized how sensible Ye Hai was.

The boy did not cry or make a fuss. His eyes were filled with anticipation as he asked Leng Jinpeng if his father died valiantly on the battlefield.

Leng Jinpeng could not bear to tell him the cruel truth, so he nodded.

Unexpectedly, Ye Hai did not cry. Instead, he smiled and told Leng Jinpeng that he would not cry. He wanted to learn from his father and become an outstanding soldier.

When Leng Jinpeng recalled how Ye Hai's father returned to his senses before he died and even took a bullet for him, Leng Jinpeng's heart softened. He decided to raise Ye Hai into adulthood and an outstanding soldier.

Moreover, Ye Hai was indeed very sensible since he was young and spent a lot of time with Leng Jinpeng at the military base. Leng Qirui, on the other hand, disliked the military base since young. His only love was to play all sorts of games and fight with other children outside. When Leng Qirui got into trouble, his grandparents would even cover for him.

Therefore, his instincts gave him the idea that Leng Qirui and Ye Hai were utterly incomparable to each other.

It was only when he saw Ye Hai's evil smile in the video today that he suddenly woke up.

[1] This is the equivalent of 'an apple does not fall far from the tree'!

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 625: Stupid

Back then, Ye Hai's father was also an honest, sincere, loyal, dedicated, and trustworthy character by Leng Jinpeng's side.

However, the same kind of person sold their country's secrets. He betrayed them in their operations several times, causing more than fifty soldiers to be sacrificed.

Therefore, it did not matter whether the incident had anything to do with Ye Hai. However, just because Ye Hai revealed that smile while realizing that Leng Qirui might be in danger, Leng Jinpeng could not let him stay.

Since Ye Hai was no longer his son, what did Ye Hai's life have to do with him?

If he wanted to prove that he was right and that he was innocent, he would have to find the evidence himself.

"By the way, what about Selina? What's your relationship with her?"

"What relationship do I have with her? She's Zhong Nuannuan's sworn sister. Since I'm close to Zhong Nuannuan, I naturally hang out with Selina often."

"Nuannuan's sworn sister? How does Nuannuan end up with a sworn sister like that?"

"Nuannuan said that Selina was bitten by a snake when she went to their village, and Nuannuan treated her wounds. Selina was grateful that Nuannuan saved her life, so they became sworn sisters."

For a person who could take down ten armed criminals in one second, how sensitive must her mind be and how nimble must her body be?

Perhaps, the only person in this world who would believe Selina's story about getting bitten by a snake was his silly son.

Leng Jinpeng looked at Leng Qirui and brooded—

If he was so smart, why was his son so stupid?

Although he knew that Ye Hai was exaggerating to escape punishment, it was the undeniable truth that the girl managed to subdue 10 criminals in a short period of time and put Ye Hai down. While she was at it, she even created a video that even the police could not find any problems with.

A person got herself bitten by a snake?

Moreover, she was bitten by a snake in Zhong Nuannuan's village?

"Why are you looking at me like that?"

Leng Jinpeng shook his head. "It's nothing. Now that I think about it, I think being in the field where you fiddle with computers suits you a lot."

For a brainless and unintelligent person like him to come to the military base, even if he did not get killed by the enemy, he would still be killed by people who coveted his position.

At this moment, Leng Jinpeng was suddenly enlightened.

However, Leng Qirui grew unsatisfied.

"What do you mean by fiddling with computers? I'm an Almighty in games, okay?"

"Isn't the Almighty in games simply a gamer?"

To an upstanding soldier who inherited the tradition of next-generation proletarian revolutionaries, playing games for a living like what Leng Qirui did was not considered honest work.

"Dad, you really can't keep up with the times. Do you know that Esports are already included in the list of competitive sports? Although I'm only the number one Almighty in the entire server, I'll participate in the competition when it starts. When I become first in the country..."

"You'll still be a gamer! That will only make people say that Leng Jinpeng's son is a good-for-nothing! What's there to be proud of?"

"...!!!!" Critical hit.

"But after I get first place in the country, I'll be able to go international! I'll compete with the gaming Almighties of H Country, Yamato, and Sab. If I get first place, I'll be able to bring glory to the country."

Leng Jinpeng's eyes lit up.

"Do foreigners play these lousy games that you play too?"

Leng Qirui, "..."

"Dad, if you don't understand it, don't criticize my profession! I told you that it has already been listed as one of the world's competitive sports events. If I win, I'll bring glory to our country! If I get first place, that means I'll be the world champion!"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 626: Intentional

To be honest, Leng Qirui was afraid that his old man would say the same thing to him again—'You'd rather become the world's number one via your nonsensical ways, and you still have the cheek to say that?'

If that was the case, Leng Qirui would have nothing else to reply.

Pa!

Leng Qirui felt sharp slaps that landed on his shoulders, and he cried out in pain.

"Good fella! Why didn't you say so earlier? If you've told me about this earlier, I wouldn't think of it in such an old-fashioned manner!"

"You think you're not old-fashioned? You think gaming is as bad as joining a crime syndicate!" There was no reasoning in this! Although he got into fights sometimes, he was still considered a good kid!

"Well, that's just because your primary school teacher told us! They were the ones who said that gaming isn't honest work! When you were in primary school, you secretly skipped school and went to the cybercafe. The teacher said that a cybercafe is a place filled with good-for-nothing hooligans. If you hang out with these people all day, what's the difference between you and a low-class gangster?"

Leng Qirui, "..."

He did not want to talk anymore.

He and his father shared no common ground on this topic.

"However, now that I know that playing games is also a sport, and it can bring glory to the country, I'll definitely support you. Play the game well, fight your way out of the country and into the internationals, and bring glory to Camino!"

Leng Qirui, "...-_-||"

Why did this kind of new and high-end stuff feel so old-fashioned after his father spoke about it?

As his car continued on the path home, Leng Jinpeng was too troubled by Leng Qirui's matter and decided to stay at home today.

"Let's visit Selina tonight."

Leng Qirui looked at Leng Jinpeng with a guarded expression. "Why are you going to her house? You're going to ask her all sorts of questions, aren't you?"

"You little brat! I'm your father! Why are you as wary of me as you might be of thieves? Selina saved your life today. As your father, shouldn't I thank her?"

"Are you really just going to thank her?"

"Needless to say."

Leng Qirui stared at Leng Jinpeng for a while before agreeing. "Alright, I'll give her a call and see if she's at home."

When Leng Qirui called Selina, Leng Jinpeng's face darkened.

Selina was definitely not an ordinary person. Nuannuan, too, carried herself with a sophistication that did not belong to someone who grew up in a farming district.

While these two shared such a close bond...

Thinking back to how Nuannuan saved Leng Qirui back then, coupled with the fact that Nuannuan's medical skills were so good at such a young age...

Who exactly was Nuannuan?

Initially, she did not like Chi Yang much, but she suddenly accepted him.

Now, it was Selina's turn who came to approach Leng Qirui.

Was this coincidental or intentional?

If it was intentional, what were the girls up to?

If it was intentional...

He thought of Zhong Nuannuan's gaze and feelings for Chi Yang. For some reason, it reminded him of the way Ye Hai used to look at him and Lil Rui, and the way he salivated at Lil Rui like a poisonous snake behind his back...

Leng Jinpeng could not help but shiver.

If it was really intentional, then Zhong Nuannuan was too scary.

Yet...

He thought about how she had helped him and the way she looked at Chi Yang...

Even though there were signs that Zhong Nuannuan was not an ordinary girl, Leng Jinpeng instinctively refused to believe that she had ulterior motives for getting close to Chi Yang.

That was because the adoration and trust in her eyes were something that would be absent in those who harbored ulterior motives.

Her eyes were so bright and clear whenever Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang.

If that was not the case, Leng Jinpeng would not have willingly getting stuffed with their dog chow, and not anyone else.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 627: Supplement

Every time Leng Jinpeng saw the way Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang, he would be reminded of the way his wife used to look at him.

He knew this look very well. Without love, no matter how good of an actor she was, she would not be able to do it.

However, even if Nuannuan really loved Chi Yang, the mysteriousness of her identity was beyond what he could accept.

Therefore, he must get to the bottom of Zhong Nuannuan's identity. He could not allow any hidden danger to be around Chi Yang. If anything happened to Chi Yang, what would the old marshal do?

Therefore, after Selina agreed to Leng Jinpeng's visit, Leng Jinpeng immediately took Leng Qirui out for a shopping trip.

"Dad, aren't we going to Selina's house? Why are you shopping for?"

"Oh, are you going empty-handed and not bring gifts?"

"Heh, why are you so particular about that? We're all friends. Young people don't like such things."

"I'm not a young man. I'm your elder. How can I go empty-handed?"

"Then, what do you want to buy?"

"Buy some tonic or something."

Leng Qirui, "..._-||"

"What tonic?" Leng Qirui recalled the enticing pair of breasts that was her pride and joy. If the Tyrannosaurus continued improving her well-being, would that place expand until they exploded?

"Buy something like melatonin."

Leng Qirui, "...!!!"

"What kind of expression is that?" Leng Jinpeng was confused.

Did advertisements not always promote giving melatonin as gifts? Every time Leng Jinpeng went to the old marshal's house, he would give melatonin as a gift. As for the rest... As the commander-in-chief of the military base, he had never given anyone a gift.

(Old Marshal Chi, who was having dinner with Nuannuan, expressed, 'Go f*ck yourself! I don't even wanna bother ridiculing you at all! Does this old man look like someone who's going to suffer from dementia? You give me a carload of melatonin every single time! You've crossed a line!')

"Dad, Selina is only 21 years old! If you feed her melatonin, aren't you indirectly saying that there's something wrong with her head and she needs supplements there?"

Leng Jinpeng was shocked. "People actually think that?"

Then, every time he sent melatonin to the old marshal, had he been indirectly hinting to the old marshal that he needed a brain supplement?

"Then, what should we buy? Fruits? Flowers? Isn't it bad for your dad to give flowers to a little girl? Buying fruits is so insincere! At least she saved you. How about... we buy some gold? Give her a zodiac-themed statue?"

"..." Leng Qirui had never given gifts before either.

However, his instincts told him that it was not right to give her these.

Argh! He had a lot of ideas initially, but after this sudden joke that his father played, he was suddenly at a loss of what to give Selina.

As he thought of how the Tyrannosaurus Rex could just beat him up pitifully if they got her the wrong gift, Leng Qirui suddenly had an idea. “Dad, let’s buy her Mrs. Jingxin Oral Liquid!”

“...” Leng Jinpeng was stunned. His intuition told him it was not the right choice, but—

“This brand sounds familiar. Why should we buy Mrs. Jingxin Oral Liquid?”

“Why will be reasons for giving gifts? Young girls like to drink this nowadays. It’s helpful for them to look youthful. Tasty, too.”

Thinking of Selina’s temper, Leng Qirui felt that she should drink 100 boxes!

If his father sent this to her, she would definitely accept it.

Hopefully, it would be effective after she drank it!

When Leng Jinpeng heard that the product helped to sustain youth, tasty, and trendy, he did not think too much about it anymore. He asked the driver to stop at the entrance of the shopping mall and asked Leng Qirui to buy it before going over to Selina’s house.

Leng Qirui ran to the mall and immediately got the staff to pack 100 boxes for him.

The worker wanted to introduce the product, but seeing that this little brother had no intention of understanding the product, Leng Qirui made his purchase with ease. Furthermore, he called his father to ask if the 100 boxes could fit in the car before asking the worker to pack them up. Therefore, the worker packed them all up without hesitation.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 628: Hang Out

As the worker packed up the products, she silently pitied this handsome little brother and his father.

These two must have a super menacing tigress at home, did they not?

Seeing that the boy did not look like someone who lacked money, the worker immediately introduced, “Mrs. Jingxin Oral Liquid is best taken alongside cordyceps for greater effects.”

No matter how expensive cordyceps were, what were they to Young Master Leng? Therefore, he bought all the five catties[1] of cordyceps available in the shop and left.

Together with the time taken for the worker to pack them all up, it took less than 10 minutes.

Today, Leng Qirui was attacked. So, the commander-in-chief got off work early to deal with it.

Qu Mingyi’s wife and son were coming over from Sab so the chief of staff got off work early too.

Therefore, Chi Yang had no choice but to work overtime alone. While he continued to search for information about the mole from the traces left behind, he also had to work on the joint military exercise between the Jiang District military base and the Cloud District military base.

Chi Yang could not accompany the old master, so Zhong Nuannuan applied for an early leave in the afternoon to accompany the old master.

After all, it was not easy for the old master to visit Jiang District. As his granddaughter-in-law, she was obliged to accompany her grandfather.

That was the reason behind her early leave to return to the military base.

“Little girl, where are you taking me?”

The moment he heard that he was going to hang out with his granddaughter-in-law, the old man’s body was filled with energy.

“Jiang District is close to the river, and the transportation industry is very advanced. There is an antique street in the city, and now you can move more conveniently, why don’t I go shopping with you?”

The old man’s eyes lit up at the mention of antiques.

“How’s Jiangzhou’s antique street? Is there a lot of stuff?”

“A whole lot! It’s a long street lined with shops and hawkers. There are antique calligraphy paintings, jade shops, and many original equipment manufacturers. However, I don’t know how many of them are authentic.”

“It’s fine, it’s fine. Just treat it as a walk! If you have something you like, buy it. If nothing catches your eye, forget it. Even if the thing you buy is fake, it’s not a big deal. After all, who wouldn’t make a mistake a few times? This old man might not be good at plenty of things, but I do have some understanding of antiques and raw stones. There’s nothing wrong with taking a look.”

Zhong Nuannuan knew what the old master liked, so she decided to cater to his preferences. Instantly, the old master’s interest in Jiang District was ignited.

“Yes, that’s right. That’s what I thought too. On the other hand, when we get tired from all the walking, we can have a meal outside. When Big Brother Chi Yang is done with his work, he can meet up with us there. Then, we can stay at the condominium at night. Big Brother Chi Yang bought a condominium with three bedrooms. Since I was free this afternoon, I’ve already tidied up the bedrooms there. Grandpa, you can stay there with us tonight.”

When Zhong Nuannuan said those words, she had completely forgotten that she was still young and unmarried. She completely blended herself into the Chi family. After all, that was the home she stayed in for six long years. Therefore, she did not feel that it was inappropriate for an unmarried high school student like her to bring up tidying up their rooms to the elder in her boyfriend’s family.

Meanwhile, to the old master, these words did not sound weird at all.

In their era, forget a 17-year-old girl, even a 17-year-old boy would already be set to marry someone or that he already chose someone he liked.

Although Nuannuan was still young, Chi Yang was already considered old, what more the old master. The old master was already so old that it was a given that he wished to hold his precious great-grandchildren as soon as possible.

Hence, when Old Master heard Zhong Nuannuan's words, he nodded vigorously in agreement.

[1] One catty is equivalent to six hundred grams!

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 629: Evaluating Jade

The old master just wanted to live with his grandson and granddaughter-in-law. There was no way he wanted to live with Leng Jinpeng, that single old man. The house would be filled with the smell of single men, eww!

Although Zhong Nuannuan had no problem driving, her age was an issue. Therefore, the old master got one of the guards to drive them while another two followed them in the same car. The remaining five drove another car and followed behind.

When they reached the antique street, the old master and Zhong Nuannuan started window shopping in anticipation.

However, after browsing for less than 20 minutes, the old master started to lose interest.

Regardless of whether it was a shop or a peddler, the goods sold were all imitation goods. Some larger shops displayed high-quality imitation goods, but in the hands of those peddlers, almost all of them became inferior imitation goods.

To the picky old master, they were too unbearable even to look at.

"I heard that the Ling family received a new batch of raw stones from Cloud District. In the morning, there were already two people who managed to cut out something from their home. Even though they were both waxy-type, they managed to cut out two stones in the morning. This shows that they are profiting quite a lot."

"Really?"

"Why would I lie to you? Many people are cutting stones at the Ling family's shop. If we can get one cut, we'll be rich."

"Go, go, go. Let's go take a look."

The old master was about to leave when he suddenly heard two people chatting by the roadside. His eyes lit up.

Zhong Nuannuan said, "Grandpa, let's go take a look too!"

"Alright, let's go!"

After asking around, Zhong Nuannuan brought the old man to the Ling family's shop—Soaring Clouds Pavilion.

This was the largest raw stone shop in the entire antique street.

It was divided into three stores: inside, middle, and outside.

The raw stones inside sold high-grade raw stones, the middle was middle-grade, while the outer store sold low-grade raw stones.

They were all seed materials.

The so-called seed material was the raw material that was formed on the riverbed. Due to the weathering on the surface, the outer shell prevented anyone from seeing what was inside. If one wanted to know whether there was anything inside, they could only rely on experience to judge. Therefore, this was also called stone gambling.

However, even the gods could not evaluate jade. and stone gambling was like gambling with one's life. Since no one could determine whether there were actually any goods inside judging on the outside, and there was no machinery that could detect the situation inside the raw stones, people normally lost in stone gambling nine out of ten times, causing bankruptcy even.

However, once the bet was won, they would earn a hundred or even a thousand times more.

Therefore, even though everyone accepted the fact that they would lose nine out of ten bets, they could not resist the temptation of winning, no matter how minute their chances were.

Due to this, the stone gambling industry had never declined.

After entering Soaring Clouds Pavilion, Zhong Nuannuan and the old master walked into the exhibition hall.

When they passed the exhibition hall, Zhong Nuannuan activated her X-ray vision to scan the raw stones as she passed by.

At a sweep, she realized that the largest stone in the exhibition hall was actually filled with a whole imperial jade.

Imperial jade, as its name suggested, was the royalty among all jades.

The emerald green imperial jade crescent pendant around Zhong Qianqian's neck was only the size of two fingertips. Yet, it could be sold for tens of millions or even hundreds of millions on the market. One could imagine how rare and valuable imperial jade was.

It was rare enough to see imperial jade on the market nowadays. Although this large piece of imperial jade was not quite the color of emerald, it was worth at least three to four billion. That evaluation was made while it was still an uncut jade. Once it was carved into a work of art and sold, it could be sold for at least four to six billion.

Chapter 630: Nuannuan's Wealth

“Girl, what’s wrong?” Seeing that Zhong Nuannuan paused for a moment, the old master turned in the same direction and scanned the raw stones there. Seeing that they were all inferior raw materials with poor quality, he quickly looked away.

That piece of imperial jade was not worth much to her, but it was too valuable to any typical businessman. That single piece of jade could basically change his entire life! It was Soaring Clouds Pavilion’s fortune to be able to get such a piece of jade. Therefore, after pausing for a while, Zhong Nuannuan gave up on the stone.

Her X-ray vision was a special gift bestowed upon her by the heavens. It allowed her to survive easily in the cruel competitiveness of the killer organization. It allowed her to use this pair of eyes to earn unimaginable wealth at the age of 10. At the age of 12, she used this mountain of wealth to start her own business empire around the world. After destroying the killer organization at the age of 17, she turned from an international mercenary, who shared the same rank as King, to one of the top ten super-rich families at the international level.

This pair of X-ray eyes had brought her endless wealth. However, she also knew that there would never be enough money. One should not burn bridges. Whether it was for herself or others, one should not kill the chicken while taking the eggs, forcing them into a corner, unless of course, she had a grudge against them.

Therefore, even though she had taken a fancy to the emerald imperial jade and wanted to buy it for her grandpa to make him happy, she decided against it after some thought.

In terms of appearance, the raw stones inside the exhibition hall were of a much higher quality than the ones outside. In the middle of the exhibition hall that was cordoned off with red tapes, several raw stones had already turned green.

This kind of raw stone cost much higher than that of the raw stones that had not been cut open.

After all, the raw stone had turned green, which meant that it was extremely likely to contain jade and it was likely that at least half of it was covered in jade.

However, the five raw stones on display were not big. From the incision, if nothing went wrong, one of them contained ice jade, two of them contained a mixture of ice jade and waxy jade, while three of them contained waxy jade.

However, Zhong Nuannuan could see everything clearly.

Among the five pieces of jade on display that appeared to be of ice jade were actually waxy jade. On the other hand, one of the two that appeared to be of the mixture of both types was icy jade while the other was only partially green.

The so-called partially green meant that only the area where the incision was made would appear green. However, inside, it was just a normal rock. It was a lie.

Of the other three waxy jade, one of them was decent, but the other two had nothing inside.

The old master carefully examined the raw stones on display, then called his granddaughter-in-law to look at the raw stones that were yet to be cut.

“Miss, the goods are of good quality this time, so we sold a lot of them. Our master has already received a call from Sea District. Even the president of Sea District’s Jade Association will come to our store personally to see the goods today. The master mentions that if there is anything that you like, we’ll cut it out for you. If there is ready stock, you can take them home straight away. However, the master has also said that you can only open 15. If you don’t get any, you can’t open any more raw stones.”

Getting addressed as ‘miss’ attracted the attention of countless people the moment she stepped into the place.

When the crowd saw the lady, most of them were stunned.

That was because she was wearing a soldier’s uniform.

Furthermore, her attire was not an ordinary soldier’s attire. It was the uniform belonging to a second lieutenant with a moon carved on it. Besides, she was tall and beautiful. Since the master of Soaring Clouds Pavilion called her Miss, everyone looked at her even more passionately.
