Chapter 701: Pretty Lady

After all, it was not honorable for anyone to make a mistake in a soldier's wife's identity. Therefore, if anyone questioned her identity in the future, they would say that Nuannuan's identity was the same as Chi Yang's current identity and that everything was fabricated.

***

To get the Gu family out of Selina's way, Gu Mingzhe rushed back to Emperor District with Zhong Qianqian overnight.

After they got off the plane, Gu Mingzhe told Zhong Qianqian that his parents had invited many family and friends over to their house. Although it was late, everyone wanted to see her, the future daughter-in-law of the Gu family. Therefore, even though it was already ten at night, everyone waited for them.

Zhong Qianqian thought about how she was about to meet her in-laws, along with the wives and daughters who were the Gu family's dependents.

Recalling those days when Gu Mingzhe ignored her affections and how those young ladies from Emperor District looked down on her, Zhong Qianqian decided to give them a good figurative slap in the face.

Hmph, so what if she was a vixen and hung around her Brother Mingzhe at such a young age? She became Brother Mingzhe's bride anyway!

To successfully give them this slap in the face, Zhong Qianqian asked Gu Mingzhe to wait for her outside after she got off the plane. She needed to go to the bathroom to touch up her make-up.

Knowing that she was going to meet Mr. and Mrs. Gu today, Zhong Qianqian had already changed into a dress that she thought was the most fitting. However, she only found out that not only would she be meeting her in-laws, but she would also be seeing the various women who used to surround Brother Mingzhe in the past.

Zhong Qianqian was dismayed when she thought about how beautiful the women around Brother Mingzhe were.

Her dress was originally bought at forty thousand bucks, but it was obvious that it did not amount to much among the social circles of Emperor District's upper-class women.

Looking at the dress that did not seem to be classy anymore, Zhong Qianqian was suddenly thrown into a bad mood.

Although it had only been two weeks between dating each other until they got married, it had already been half a month still. Other than giving her a ring, Brother Mingzhe... had never given her another present at all.

She did not even receive a single flower.

Only then did Zhong Qianqian realize that something was amiss.

“Hello, pretty lady!”

Upon hearing ‘pretty lady’, Zhong Qianqian immediately turned around.

What a handsome child! This child would definitely grow up into a handsome man! In fact, he would probably be more handsome than her Brother Mingzhe.

Upon hearing that he was asking for help, Zhong Qianqian was instantly jolted back to reality before she swooned over the little boy’s charm.

Seeing that Zhong Qianqian had no intention of helping him, the little boy was afraid that she would find the matter too troublesome and refuse to help, so he added, “My younger sister is pooping in there. Can I trouble you, pretty lady, to give this bag of tissue paper to my sister?”

Sending tissue paper... was alright.

However, Zhong Qianqian brought a large bottle of perfume with her, and she had left it in the luggage. If she rummaged in her luggage for the perfume, it would be too troublesome. However, if she did not spray herself with perfume, what if whatever that the little girl was pooping out stank her dress?

Making use of his extremely cute face, the little charming boy, who had always been successful in his endeavors, started to question his reality after getting rejected for such a simple request.

He quickly ran to the mirror in the men’s toilet to take a good, vain look at himself. After confirming that he was still as handsome as he remembered, he returned to the female toilet in bewilderment.

Chapter 702: Lil Sun

It was at this moment that another woman came to the washroom.

The cute little boy walked to the woman, raised his face, and called out again, “Pretty Lady!”

Zhong Qianqian thought that the little boy was calling her again, so she pretended not to hear him and continued to touch up her makeup.

However, a woman’s voice suddenly came from behind her. “Wow, what a cute little boy! You have such a sweet mouth. What’s up?”

When Zhong Qianqian heard that the boy was not calling her but someone else ‘Pretty Lady’, she could not help but turn around to look—who else deserved to be called ‘Pretty Lady’ other than her in this toilet?

At a glance, this woman should only come up to around 155cm tall, no? Meanwhile, her body weight should be around 120 catties? Even if her facial features looked alright, how did this terrible figure of hers let her be called a pretty lady next to Zhong Qianqian?

This child must have been blinded by poop.

The cute little boy smiled sweetly at the woman. "Pretty Lady, my younger sister is pooping in there but she forgot to bring some toilet paper in. Can you pass this bag of tissues to my younger sister?"

"Of course."

The woman was utterly mesmerized by the charming little boy. Who would not help out in such a tiny matter?

"My younger sister's name is Lil Ling'er."

"Got it."

Then, the lady knocked on each door. When she knocked on one of the doors, a soft, syrupy voice came from inside.

"Miss, I'm here. Thank you!"

The lady's heart melted when she heard Lil Ling'er's moe voice.

"You're welcome! You're welcome! Do you need my help?"

The boy looked like he was only five or six years old. His younger sister should be around three or four—she would be four or five years old at the max. Thus, the lady offered to stay and help.

"No need. Thank you, Miss. You're such a nice person! But my mommy said that I have to do my own things."

"Wow, you're great! Then, I'll wait for you to come out."

After a while, a girl wearing a pink sweater, a pair of fashionable pants, a pair of boots, and a white furry jacket walked out from the toilet.

When the lady saw this, her entire being melted in an instant. She could not help but cry out—

"Wow, you look so 'kawaii'! You look so much like your elder brother!"

The little girl revealed a big, innocent smile, revealing two cute canine teeth. Her eyes narrowed into a cheeky smile. "My younger brother and I are fraternal twins!"

"Wow, fraternal twins? Your parents definitely know how to pass on their genes! Uhh..."

The lady came to her senses. Was the boy not the elder brother before? How did he suddenly become her younger brother?

"What's wrong, Pretty Lady? Is there a problem?"

"Then, is he your elder brother or younger brother?"

“Younger brother.”

The lady was stunned. (X人X)

So... This pair of twins were still struggling about who was older and who was younger? What an adorable struggle to have!

The lady laughed out loud. “If there’s nothing else, I’ll hand you over to your younger brother. Bye!”

“Byebye, Pretty Lady.” Lil Ling’er politely waved her hand and walked to the little boy. “Lil Sun, did you hear that? That pretty sister called you my younger brother too.”

The little boy was dismayed. “How am I like a younger brother? You’re clearly the younger sister. Also, you should call me Big Brother. You can’t always call me Lil Sun! I told you not to call me Lil Sun!”

Chapter 703: The Crown Prince And The Princess

“Why can’t I call you Lil Sun? Your name is Xu. Mommy said that Xu is a newborn sun. What else if it’s not Lil Sun?”

Lil Ling’er was a little chubby since she had yet to escape from her baby fat. She looked much shorter than Lil Sun, but when she lectured Lil Sun, it was obvious that she was a veteran. It seemed like lecturing Lil Sun was something that she did a lot.

Lil Sun was hopping mad. “I told you it’s not a newborn sun! The Sun exists in itself, and the Sun is a star. It’s countless times bigger than Earth. How could it be a newborn sun?”

“That’s what Mommy said!”

“Mommy said that ‘Xu’ is the rising sun, and the rising sun is the morning sun. How is it a little sun?”

“See, see, see! You said it yourself that you’re a newborn[1] sun. How big do you think you were when you were born? Seriously!” Lil Ling’er did not care about Lil Sun who kept stomping his feet in anger. The expression on her face said nothing but ‘I have nothing else to talk to you about, Lil Brother.’

“You’re really...” Lil Sun was so angry that he could not take it anymore. He shouted, “Look at you! You’ve always been ignorant and incompetent. Every time you go out, you don’t bring your own toilet paper. You can’t come out of the toilet even after you pooped, making me send you some all the time. What else do you know besides eating, huh?!”

Lil Ling’er looked at Lil Sun, unwilling to admit defeat. Suddenly, she revealed a smile that could melt planets. Then, she made a peace sign beside her smile and said persuasively, “I can act cute!”

Lil Sun, “... -_-||”

After she said that, Lil Ling’er took out a piece of candy from one of her pockets. Even though she had already taken out a candy, her disproportionately large pocket was still bulging.

Just as she was about to peel the candy wrapper, Lil Sun could not help but shout, “Wash. Your. Hands!”

Lil Ling'er nodded obediently, but she still involuntarily ate the candy before running over the sinks to wash her hands.

After washing her hands, Lil Ling'er could not reach the paper towels that she wanted to use to wipe her hands. She looked around and saw only Zhong Qianqian, so she said in a sweet voice, "Pretty Lady, can you help me get a piece of paper, please? Thank you!"

Zhong Qianqian peered at Lil Ling'er. Although she was shocked by the two noisy children's heaven-defying looks, she decided not to associate herself with that ugly toad when she thought about how these two brats would call anyone pretty. Thus, she turned her head away again and ignored Lil Ling'er.

"Wipe your hands with the tissue in the pack," Lil Sun reminded her.

"But I won't have any after using this. We don't have much money too..." Lil Ling'er's heart ached. After all, she rarely brought any tissue papers on her.

There she was, wondering if they were children from some rich family. Yet, it turned out that they were so poor that they could not even afford tissue paper.

Seeing that Zhong Qianqian truly had no intentions of helping her, Lil Ling'er had no choice but to open up the bag with the remaining tissue and wipe her hands clean before leaving with Lil Sun.

Gu Mingzhe's patience was wearing thin, so he made a call outside the toilet. Therefore, when the two little ones who looked rather familiar came out, he did not see them.

When the siblings reached the end of the corridor, the group of bodyguards who nearly lost their minds from the anxiety sighed in relief.

"Little Young Master, Little Miss, where did you go? We were so worried!"

"We're not children anymore. There's no need for you to follow us all the time!" Lil Sun said with a serious face.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 704: Truce

As she echoed her elder brother... Wait, no, younger brother, she said, "That's right! We're no longer children. Don't follow us wherever we go. I'll protect Lil Sun."

Lil Sun could not take it anymore. He berated Lil Ling'er angrily, "Nangong Ling, how many times have I told you not to call me Lil Sun?!"

"You are Lil Sun! Mommy named you Lil Sun!"

Seeing that the siblings were about to argue ceaselessly over this matter again, the butler who was in charge of bringing the two little troublemaking fellows hurried forward. "Little Young Master, Little Miss, Eldest Young Master and Eldest Madam are still waiting for you at home. Little Young Master, I heard that Young Master got you a new Chengdu J-20 model to celebrate your return."

Nangong Xu's eyes lit up. "Really?"

"That's right!" The butler nodded happily. Then, he looked at Nangong Ling and said, "Little Miss, I heard that to reward you, Eldest Young Master bought five new bags of cotton candy for you."

Then, he added, "I heard they're all strawberry-flavored."

"Really?" Nangong Ling's eyes lit up as she gulped down a mouthful of saliva.

The butler nodded happily.

"Then, what are we waiting for? Let's hurry back!"

"Yeah, let's go back quickly!"

"Hahaha, alright, alright, let's go!"

After that, the butler accompanied the two little children and led the group of people out grandly.

Since they were all walking through the VIP passageway, Gu Mingzhe, who was still waiting for Zhong Qianqian, saw the twins and recognized them at a glance.

In his excitement, Gu Mingzhe hurriedly walked forward, attempting to greet the little young master and little princess of the Nangong family and leave a good impression.

After all, the Gu family could not last much longer under Selina's threat. If not for the Huang family's support, the Gu family would have been on the verge of bankruptcy at this point.

Therefore, he might immediately bring Zhong Qianqian to reunite with the Nangong family.

Meanwhile, in this generation of the Nangong family, only the eldest grandson of the Nangong family, Nangong Jing, had a pair of twins. Furthermore, they were the one and only pair of fraternal twins. The other five grandsons had yet to give birth to any children. Therefore, this pair of twins, especially the little girl between the twins, was simply a proud daughter of heaven—all the elders in the Nangong family doted on her.

For some reason, even though the Nangong family was thriving in population, there were very few female members in the family. It seemed like only one girl would be born in every generation.

This was the case with Qianqian's mother, Nangong Yu. Old Master Nangong had three sons, but he had only one daughter—Nangong Yu.

After that, the three sons got married and gave birth to six sons. There was not a single girl. Only Nangong Yu gave birth to Zhong Qianqian.

Now that Nangong Jin finally gave birth to a pair of fraternal twins, the Nangong family naturally treated the little princess, Nangong Ling, as the most revered member of the family.

If he could gain Nangong Ling's favor, if Zhong Qianqian gained power in the future and chose to divorce him, he believed that as long as Nangong Ling gave the word, the entire family would definitely stand on his side.

Yes, Gu Mingzhe knew Zhong Qianqian's personality very well. Not only was this woman brainless and stupid, but she was also ambitious, evil-hearted, and had a huge appetite for power. Once she rose ahead and transformed into a phoenix, he would most likely face divorce if nobody could stop her.

Therefore, before bringing Zhong Qianqian back to the Nangong family, he had to think of a way to stabilize his status as the Nangong family's grandson-in-law.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 705: Not My Child

Meanwhile, the best way to stabilize his position was for these two little revered members of the Nangong family to fall in love with their uncle-in-law.

Therefore, Gu Mingzhe barely put any thoughts to it. When he saw the two little precious children in the distance, he immediately rushed forward.

Seeing that the entire group of Nangong family members was walking towards him, Gu Mingzhe smiled and walked towards them, ready to welcome them.

He believed that whether it was the children, the butler, or the bodyguards, they had all seen him.

However, just as he reached them, the group of people headed to another exit guided by a bodyguard.

The exit was supposed to be closed, but when the Nangong family approached it, the staff immediately opened it.

Under the guidance of the two bodyguards, Nangong Xu and Nangong Ling gave Gu Mingzhe a glance before walking out.

Gu Mingzhe originally wanted to go up to them. However, the moment he took a step forward—closing in less than five meters away from the two children—he was immediately halted by one of the bodyguards.

Looking at the arm in front of him, Gu Mingzhe was not angry. He smiled politely at the man. "Hello, I am Gu Mingzhe from the Gu family. I have a few words to say to your Little Young Master and Little Miss."

While the Gu family was one of the most powerful families in Jiang District, they were nothing in Emperor District, especially in front of the most powerful families.

The bodyguard replied expressionlessly, "But our Little Young Master and Little Miss don't know you."

The bodyguard remained professional. "Then, please approach Third Young Master. Our Little Young Master and Little Miss are still children, it's not convenient for them to help you pass on messages for Third Young Master. If you're looking for Little Young Master or Little Miss, you can contact Little Young Master and Little Miss' guardians through the secretary, who are our Young Master and Young Madam."

With that, he ignored Gu Mingzhe and hurriedly followed Little Young Master and Little Miss out of the exclusive exit.

Gu Mingzhe watched as the group boarded three Land Rovers and left the airport. A look of determination flashed across Gu Mingzhe's eyes.

Just you wait. Before long, he would become one of them. The Gu family would soar into the sky one day and become an existence that no one dared to ignore.

However...

What Gu Mingzhe did not know was that before the investment that he considered his pride could even return to the Nangong family to become a real miss of the house, she had thoroughly offended the two little precious ones.

She turned down such a small matter such as helping them pass some tissue paper over. In the two children's hearts, Zhong Qianqian and Gu Mingzhe had already crossed out.

"Brother Mingzhe, what are you doing here? You promised to wait for me at the door, but I couldn't find you."

Zhong Qianqian widened her eyes and quickly explained, "Brother Mingzhe, I'm only 18 years old. How can I have a child, right? You won't have such a misunderstanding, right?"

Gu Mingzhe, "...!!!"

He was suddenly reminded that he could not communicate with Zhong Qianqian at all!

Initially, Gu Mingzhe wanted to use this as a distraction so that she would not feel that her identity was revealed too suddenly and he cheated his way into a marriage with her. He wanted to use this as an excuse—that he had seen a child who looked like her at the airport—to bring up the topic of questioning her identity. Yet...

Forget it. His goal was to marry her anyway. Whatever emotional attachment or communication et cetera between them was simply a feat that only monsters could achieve.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 706: The Captain Was Too Much

What Gu Mingzhe needed to do now was to let Zhong Qianqian return to the Nangong family and then let the Nangong family help the Gu family get out of their predicament. The rest was to get married and think of a way to get along with Nuannuan after they got married.

Right now, Nuannuan did not seem to like him much because of Zhong Qianqian.

It did not matter, though.

One day, he, Gu Mingzhe, would be able to soar to the sky. When that time came—when he became a second-tier wealthy family—he believed that Nuannuan would definitely realize who was the better one between Gu Mingzhe and the soldier, Chi Yang.

***

Everyone was undergoing rigorous training. On the field, all the soldiers in the special forces were performing difficult actions one after another without fail.

Ling Pinyuan had been observing Chi Yang's expression. She expected Zhong Nuannuan to say something bad about her once she got back, so she wanted to see Chi Yang's dissatisfied expression.

However...

None!

Chi Yang's gaze was fixed on every soldier who was about to participate in the joint military exercise. Every time he glanced at her, he would only glance at her to see if she had completed her tasks. There was not even a hint of the knowing gaze that should have existed between a man and a woman, what more letting his gaze linger on her.

Ling Pinyuan was extremely disappointed.

She would rather Chi Yang call her aside and scold her than ignoring her like this.

Finally, when Ling Pinyuan was distracted, Chi Yang spoke.

"Ling Pinyuan, step forward."

"Yes!"

Following Chi Yang's shout, Ling Pinyuan responded loudly and stepped out.

"Your movement failed to reach standard completion. 20kg weight, ten thousand meters. Run!"

20kg weight and ten thousand meters???

Ling Pinyuan thought that she had heard wrongly.

After all, they usually trained with weights weighing 20kg and ran 5,000 meters. This was reserved for men too. Women usually ran 3000 meters while carrying 20kg of weight. They would rest for five minutes before running another 2000 meters.

When he saw that Ling Pinyuan did not move, Chi Yang's expression darkened, and his usual grave expression became even more austere.

"Ling Pinyuan, are you resisting orders by looking at me like that?"

"Captain, I refuse!" Ling Pinyuan shouted loudly.

The soldiers from the special forces team were shocked to hear that. They felt that Ling Pinyuan was too bold. They were very interested to see the consequences of her rebelling against the captain, but they did not dare to be careless in the movements that they were performing.

“Tell me your reason.”

“Reporting to Captain, female soldiers have always been practicing 3,000 meters with a weight load of 20kg, but you made me run 10000 meters while carrying 20kg. I admit that I made a mistake earlier, but your punishment is too severe. You’re just using your official position to take personal revenge!”

Ling Pinyuan’s voice was very loud, so many of her comrades nearby heard her.

Personal revenge?

The Captain had a personal grudge against Ling Pinyuan? Had they not always been amicable with each other?

“I don’t think I have any personal connection with you. As for your punishment, if you complain and think it’s too heavy, from now on, you’ll have to run 15000 meters with 20kg of weight!”

Ling Pinyuan’s face flushed red at hearing Chi Yang’s punishment. She was not afraid at all—her anger was more like the anger from a woman directed at the man who she liked. She shouted, “Captain, you’re too much! You’re treating your comrade like this just to avenge your girlfriend! I refuse to accept this!”

Chapter 707: So Angry At Chi Yang She Could Die

However, from the beginning to the end, Chi Yang did not grant Ling Pinyuan any other expression than the one he had right now. He said coldly, “25kg, 15000 meters.”

Ling Pinyuan, “...!!!”

She was so angry at Chi Yang she could die!

Other than punishing her, could he not say something else to her?

Ling Pinyuan knew that if she still claimed to refuse, Chi Yang might increase the punishment of running 15000 meters with 25kg weight to 20000 meters.

Therefore, she chose not to say anything and used her eyes to express her dissatisfaction instead.

However—

“Looks like you still refuse to accept it. Then, run 20000 meters with 25kg!”

“...!!!” Ling Pinyuan was instantly dumbfounded.

“You’re not a new recruit, so you should know that being a soldier means your duty is to follow your senior officer’s orders. I’m your senior officer, so you have to obey my orders! If you refuse to obey me, you can take off your military uniform and scram! If you don’t want to scram, then finish all the physical exercises that I’ve arranged. When everyone has gone for lunch, you can complete the tasks for your punishment. As for all the dissatisfaction you have, you can approach my superiors and reason with them after you’ve completed all your punishments.”

Ling Pinyuan was indescribably furious.

However, she knew that this was the only way that would work. If she resisted now, her punishment would only become more severe.

Either she accepted the order and completed her punishment, or... She was left with the option to take off her military uniform and leave the special forces.

Achieving the rank of a second lieutenant was her pride and honor. It was something that she obtained through blood, sweat, and tears. She would never give it up.

She really wanted to tell Chi Yang, 'Then, don't regret it,' but in the end, she could only say one word—"Yes!"

After answering, she went to complete her tasks.

Ling Pinyuan was going to participate in the joint military exercise soon, and she was also one of the special soldiers in the military exercise. Her physical training during this period was more severe than usual. For most ordinary people, it would have pushed their bodies to the limit. However, not only did she have to go through physical training, but she also had to run 20000 meters with 25kg of weight.

This was an impossible task for ordinary soldiers, but Ling Pinyuan was a female soldier in the special forces team, and she was a second lieutenant who had performed many meritorious deeds. In terms of general physical fitness, she was better than many female soldiers in the special forces.

After the punishment of running 20000 meters with 25kg was over, Ling Pinyuan only sat on the ground for fifteen minutes before standing up with wobbly legs.

She needed to move her legs that she nearly lost all sensations in so that she could continue her monstrous physical training in the afternoon.

After the sensations from her legs returned to her, she looked at the time and noticed that everyone was about to finish their meal. The poison in Ling Pinyuan's eyes was about to overflow.

"Initially, I only wanted to talk to you about Zhong Nuannuan. Since you don't appreciate it, don't blame me for not leaving a way out for Zhong Nuannuan!"

Thinking about what she was going to do later, Ling Pinyuan, who was already exhausted to the extreme, felt her strength gradually returning to her body.

After returning to the dormitory to get her car keys, Ling Pinyuan prepared to get into the car and go to the main floor.

"Ling Pinyuan, are you going out?"

Ning Wenhao was about to go out as well. As his car's dashboard light was broken and he could only get his car back in the afternoon, he wanted to hitch a ride when he saw that Ling Pinyuan was heading out.

Ning Wenhao was the instructor of the special forces team, and he was also Chi Yang's trusted aide. No matter how arrogant Ling Pinyuan was, she still had a good attitude towards this instructor whose rank and title were higher than hers. She nodded. "Sir, I'm going to the headquarters, sir."

After they got into the car, Ning Wenhao looked at Ling Pinyuan’s sweaty face despite the cold weather. Although the swelling in the middle of her face subsided, the bridge of her nose still looked very bruised. He asked curiously, “What happened to you?”

Ling Pinyuan endured the grievance that threatened to escape from her and said in a stubborn and strong tone, “I got punished.”

Although Ling Pinyuan was the eldest daughter of a wealthy family in Jiang District, she was willing to suffer from pain and had high expectations for herself. She was also very nice to her comrades, so she was quite popular among her peers.

Ning Wenhao raised his brows slightly. Seeing her pretending to be strong yet aggrieved, he asked concernedly, “The day a model female soldier like you receiving punishment actually arrived? Tell me, what’s wrong?”

“Yesterday, when I was chatting with my friend at my family’s Soaring Clouds Pavilion, Zhong Nuannuan overheard my statement about how I have a crush on Captain. Not only did Zhong Nuannuan take away our family’s imperial jade worth 5 billion, she even beat me up.”

“You’re trying to steal boss from my sister-in-law?”

Ling Pinyuan stomped on the brake pedal on the car that barely started. Ning Wenhao almost got thrown out of the window.

Ling Pinyuan was so angry that her chest started to heave violently.

This person! Could he please focus on the right point?

“Instructor, shouldn’t you be more concerned about how Zhong Nuannuan, a country bumpkin who came from a farming district, knows how to gamble stones? How did she manage to get a jade worth five billion from our Soaring Clouds Pavilion, and how did she have the ability to defeat a member of the special forces like me?”

Ning Wenhao stared at Ling Pinyuan for a long time. Just when Ling Pinyuan thought that Ning Wenhao finally realized that something was wrong with Zhong Nuannuan, Ning Wenhao said in all earnest, “Ling Pinyuan, I advise you to give up on this idea! You’re not bad, but... Boss will definitely not like you.”

Ling Pinyuan, “...!!!”

Ning Wenhao utilized his patience as an instructor and explained calmly, “Ling Pinyuan, you’re an outstanding female special forces member with dependable skills. Plus, you’re pretty good-looking and have a good family background. That’s why many male soldiers in the military base like you. I can’t deny that you have good overall qualities.

"However, you must understand that Captain looks for a girlfriend who he likes. I've been by his side for so many years, so listen to my advice and give up on the thought of coveting him. Otherwise, you'll be heartbroken and embarrassed. So, why bother?"

Ling Pinyuan was so angry that she did not want to talk to Ning Wenhao anymore.

"Get out."

"Ling Pinyuan, I'm speaking from the bottom of my heart. I..."

"I told you to get out!"

Ning Wenhao, "..."

Sure he could get out of the car. What was the big deal about that?

Did she think that he would stand on her side just because she offered to give him a ride?

Ning Wenhao opened the car door without another word. Before he got out of the car, he saw another soldier from the special forces who was out on an errand.

"Hei'zi, where are you going?"

"I'm heading to the military base headquarters to get some information, sir."

"Wonderful. Give me a ride?"

"Alright!"

Bang! Ning Wenhao closed the door and went to Hei'zi's car.

Hei'zi did not even look at Ling Pinyuan. He stepped on the accelerator and sped past her.

***

After Zhong Nuannuan revealed her identity to everyone at night, Leng Jinpeng called the Duke Eton of Luntan early in the morning.

Chapter 709: Doting On His Daughters Excessively

Duke Eton was not surprised to receive Leng Jinpeng's call because he had already received Nuannuan's call before that.

As for the news that Nuannuan had quietly gotten engaged to a military officer in Camino, Duke Eton was very surprised.

After asking about Nuannuan's wishes, he gave her his blessings.

After all, if the 8-year-old Nuannuan and 11-year-old Selina had not saved him, he would have died long ago. His two adopted daughters who had grown up away from the public's scrutiny also died in that disaster.

Nuannuan and Selina's appearances was a turning point in his life. It was also because of Nuannuan and Selina that he became the richest man in Luntan.

As a father, he could not think of anything else to repay them for their kindness other than giving them his full blessing and support.

Therefore, when he received Leng Jinpeng's call, Duke Eton put on a very amicable attitude. He was happy that Nuannuan had found such an outstanding fiancé. At the same time, he informed Leng Jinpeng that he had already arranged his schedule and would meet with Old Master Chi in Jiang District three days later.

When Leng Jinpeng asked Duke Eton about how he felt about Nuannuan marrying a soldier in Camino as the daughter of a duke and the fact that she was going to marry a Camino soldier in the future, and whether the royal family of Luntan would object to that marriage, Duke Eton laughed out loud.

Duke Eton told Leng Jinpeng that although Nuannuan and Selina were her daughters and were included in the Luntan royal family's genealogy book, they could not inherit his title because they were adopted. They could only enjoy the respect given to them by the Luntan royal family due to their status as well as the duke's estate.

Therefore, the royal family did not care too much about Nuannuan's and Selina's marriage. Although the royal family wanted to introduce his two daughters to the noble youths in Luntan many times, unwilling to let the wealth from the duke's estate go to waste one day, Duke Eton declared to the Luntan royal family seven years ago that Nuannuan's and Selina's marriage would decide their own marriages. Even if Nuannuan wanted to go to F Continent to support the primitive tribes and never return, he would fully support her, let alone marry a Camino officer.

Leng Jinpeng had never interacted with Duke Eton before, so he did not know how he was. However, after this call, Duke Eton left a surprisingly good impression on Leng Jinpeng.

After the call ended, Leng Jinpeng informed Nuannuan to hurry to the military base to complete the procedures.

Since she completed her end of the semester examination, the rest of the time before winter break and the second semester after winter break were all meant for revision. After revision, it would be time for her National College Entrance Examination.

To Nuannuan, who had a photographic memory, this was nothing.

This was because she had only spent a month to finish reading all the books from Year 1 Junior to Year 3 Senior. Other than memorizing the few math questions that required active application without really knowing how to apply them, she had memorized everything else by heart.

In the past two days, Chi Yang found someone to renovate their new study room, putting a large bed in the study room. After all, someone attempted to assassinate the old master the moment he arrived at Jiang District. No one knew if such an assassination would happen again.

Since the hostels in the military base had two rooms, and Chi Yang made one of the rooms a study, the old master could not stay there. Chi Yang and Nuannuan were worried about letting the old master sleep at Leng Jinpeng's place at night. Therefore, last night, Chi Yang and Nuannuan brought the old master to an apartment in the city. After the military base completed their renovation, Chi Yang and Nuannuan could sleep on the big bed in the study room, and the old master could sleep in their bedroom instead.

Chapter 710: Breathtaking

After that incident, Zhong Nuannuan and Chi Yang did not dare to let Old Master Chi stay at home alone, even with the help of the guards. Therefore, Zhong Nuannuan took leave to stay at home.

In the morning, Zhong Nuannuan received a call from Leng Jinpeng asking her to go to the military base to complete the procedures for her identity. Therefore, Zhong Nuannuan asked the old master to accompany her to the military base.

Big Brother Chi Yang entrusted his grandfather to Zhong Nuannuan before leaving in peace. Therefore, no matter where he went, Zhong Nuannuan would call the old master along.

The old master was also very willing to accompany Nuannuan. After all, this concerned his granddaughter-in-law's identity. He must personally witness the military base straighten up Nuannuan's identity for good.

As the old master had already given instructions to the people in Emperor District the day before, Zhong Nuannuan's identity was quickly changed after being confirmed.

The current Zhong Nuannuan was no longer an orphan who had found her family through the website, Baby Come Home. She was the daughter of Duke Eton in Luntan and the most respected person in the royal family after the princess herself.

After changing her identity, Zhong Nuannuan sent a message to Chi Yang, telling him that she was at the headquarters. However, Chi Yang did not reply.

Zhong Nuannuan then took the opportunity to perform acupuncture on Leng Jinpeng.

At noon, Chi Yang was done with his training. He took out his phone and saw Zhong Nuannuan's message. He immediately rushed to the headquarters to have lunch with his little wife and grandfather.

Due to the fact that the military base was very busy, especially Chi Yang who was about to lead the special forces of the Jiang District military base and Cloud District's field army to carry out joint drills and confrontation exercises. He did not have time to eat outside, so the old master suggested that they eat from the communal food cooked in the canteen of the military base.

The military base had a large canteen. From ordinary soldiers to the commander-in-chief of the military base, everyone agreed to eat in the canteen.

The canteen was divided into three floors. Meanwhile, Leng Jinpeng and the other officers were eating on the third floor.

Although most of them did not know Zhong Nuannuan and Old Master, everyone could not help but raise their eyebrows when they saw that they were brought in by Leng Jinpeng and Chi Yang.

Of course, most of the gazes were still on Zhong Nuannuan.

Zhong Nuannuan was simply too beautiful!

Those who glanced at her could not bear to look away.

This girl looked quite young, right? She probably did not have a boyfriend yet, right? They wondered if the girl would fall for them if they went over to talk.

Everyone harbored such a wonderful thought. The more they thought about it, the more fervently their gazes burned as they looked at Zhong Nuannuan.

Initially, when his wife and grandfather came to the military base, Chi Yang was in a good mood. However, after seeing this, his entire aura turned cold.

The old master, Zhong Nuannuan, and Commander Leng, who walked at his side, could feel that the already cold weather had instantly turned colder.

Bang!

Not far away, there was the sound of someone knocking into someone, followed by the sound of plates falling to the ground.

Even though they were military officers, most of them were single men who were in a hurry to find a partner. It explained their fascination. Not only did they not feel the coldness from Captain Chi, this expressionless Ruler of Hell, but they did not even notice their comrades walking toward them.

Coincidentally, everyone's collision into each other happened at around the same time, so there were several similar incidents happening simultaneously on the third floor.
