Chapter 851: Diminished

Yu'er was such a wonderful girl...

Nangong Qin was silent for a moment before he spoke with a deeper tone again. "What happened, exactly? Get straight to the point. Stop beating around the bush."

"Yes."

Gu Mingzhe did not dare to keep Nangong Qin in suspense and told him about the conflict between Zhong Nuannuan and Zhong Qianqian. He kept his recounts rather close to the truth.

After all, Zhong Nuannuan was the person that he really liked. He could not make himself harm Zhong Nuannuan just to help Zhong Qianqian.

Therefore, Gu Mingzhe put all the blame on the two girls fighting for their parents' favor.

Originally, Zhong Qianqian and Zhong Nuannuan were on very good terms, but Zhong Qianqian quarreled with her classmates in school. The classmate had a seizure, but Zhong Qianqian did not know about it. She pushed the classmate, and the classmate died after falling down the stairs. Seeing how scared Zhong Qianqian was, Zhong Nuannuan took the blame in Zhong Qianqian's stead.

Later, Zhong Nuannuan's fiancé helped her clear her name. After she was released from prison, she was no longer as intimate with Zhong Qianqian. As they fought each other for motherly love, the two sisters gradually became enemies.

Unexpectedly, it turned out that Zhong Nuannuan's adoptive father was Duke Eton. At an auction held two days ago, Duke Eton played the video of Zhong Qianqian pushing someone to his death that caused Zhong Qianqian to be arrested in public. Although Duke Eton was only the Duke of Luntan, he had people from the Foreign Affairs Office watching over him. In addition, Zhong Nuannuan's fiancé was on good terms with Young Master Xiao of the Xiao family. Thus, all the cities and districts made Zhong Qianqian's incident a case study with streams of articles popping up like mushrooms after rain. Now, the enmity between Zhong Qianqian and Zhong Nuannuan was recorded in history whether it was on newspapers or mobile news.

Nangong Qin had an inkling that the name, Zhong Qianqian, sounded rather familiar. When he heard Gu Mingzhe's words, he realized that Yu'er's daughter was actually the evil sister that they often criticized after meals. He was overwhelmed with discomfort.

So, Zhong Qianqian was Yu'er's daughter?

Why not Zhong Nuannuan?

If Jiang Shuwan was Zhong Nuannuan's biological mother, why did she treat Zhong Nuannuan so badly? None of it made sense.

However, he also believed that Gu Mingzhe would not dare to use this kind of blood-related matter as a form of deceit. After all, matters like these could be easily unraveled if they get investigated. Gu

Mingzhe did not claim that Zhong Qianqian was the little princess of the Nangong family—she was the little princess of the Nangong family!

Everything could only be finalized after getting everyone in the Nangong family to go through DNA tests!

Well...

Why was Zhong Nuannuan not the little princess of the Nangong family?

If only it were Zhong Nuannuan! How wonderful would it be!

Yet, it was Zhong Qianqian...

When he thought of Zhong Qianqian, Nangong Qin's enthusiasm for finding his niece diminished by half.

Truly, it diminished by half.

As he was rather intrigued about this incident, he watched the recording taken at the auction. No matter how he looked at them, Zhong Qianqian and Zhong Nuannuan were not on the same page, be it in terms of their aura or presence.

Gu Mingzhe did not say this, but after hearing his words, Nangong Qin was suddenly hit by an epiphany!

Zhong Qianqian looked completely different from Yu'er when she was young. On the other hand, Zhong Nuannuan looked very similar to Yu'er when she was young!

So, how did the Nangong blood flow in Zhong Qianqian and not Zhong Nuannuan?

Something was wrong. He must go back and consult professionals about this. He should also get someone to sneak Zhong Nuannuan's blood over too.

Suppressing the shock and excitement in his heart, Nangong Qin said, "Alright, I've taken note of this matter. However, this is just a one-sided story from you. Whether Zhong Qianqian's blood is similar to our Nangong family; whether she's the Nangong family's lost child, we can only know for sure after we go through DNA tests ourselves."

Chapter 852: Lump Of Mud

Gu Mingzhe did not know that Nangong Qin had long suspected the relationship between Zhong Qianqian and Zhong Nuannuan. After all, for Nangong Qin to be able to develop the Nangong family into the number one powerhouse in Camino, he possessed keen observation and judgment, apart from the united support of the Nangong family.

Therefore, Gu Mingzhe was very happy.

That was because from this moment onward, he was now considered the grandson-in-law of the Nangong family.

"Of course. However, Qianqian's currently in Jiang District's detention center. If you wish to send someone over, you'll have to go to Jiang District detention center."

"I understand."

That was it?

Gu Mingzhe was dumbfounded.

However, when he thought about how the Nangong family was known for being upright and honest, and how Zhong Qianqian's self-destructive acts stirred up some negativity among the Nangong family, Gu Mingzhe recollected himself.

"Then... I'll leave everything to Chairman Nangong."

It was completely different from the eagerness he previously displayed.

When he left, Nangong Qin's steps were steady. Every step he took felt like tramples on Gu Mingzhe's heart.

After devising his strategies for so long, if Zhong Qianqian had not courted death, this matter would have been perfect.

What a pity...

Zhong Qianqian might have been born into wealth and status, but she was a lump of mud that could not even stick to the wall.

***

Zhong Nuannuan would only stay in Jiang District for another two more days before reporting to her training camp.

Therefore, after discussing this with Old Master Chi, both of them agreed that Zhong Nuannuan would be escorting the old master back to Emperor District.

Although Chi Yang's matter had been settled, and his mission had been completed, there was still a lot of follow-up work to be done. Therefore, he would not be able to return to Emperor District for at least another two or three months.

Furthermore, Nuannuan would have to return to school for her final semester before sitting for the National College Entrance Examination after competing against students from Yamato.

This was Nuannuan's final night in Jiang District before her competition.

Chi Yang, who had not returned home for two consecutive days, finally returned at eight o'clock at night.

At that moment, Nuannuan was performing acupuncture on the old master's thigh. When she heard Chi Yang opening the door, she was like a kitten that heard the sounds of her owner coming home. She skipped to the door and awaited his arrival.

The second Chi Yang flung the door to his house open after a long day of work, Nuannuan flew at a beeline toward him.

Chi Yang knew that Nuannuan and Old Master Chi were both at home. The reason he returned home was none other than to see his precious wife in Jiang District one last time before her departure.

However, he did not expect a koala bear to latch herself onto him the moment the door opened.

Chi Yang caught the little koala bear that was pouncing over as if he had received a treasure. His husky voice was filled with soft laughter. Finally, he said—

“Dirty!”

However, as soon as he said that, his little wife, who had never minded even if he was dirty, immediately planted a big, wet muack on his cheek.

Then, she even wrapped both her arms around his neck tightly. Then, the little girl pressed her face and neck—or anything that she could, at this point—against his face.

To be honest, his wife was really strong. Chi Yang felt like he was nearly suffocated by such a hug from Nuannuan.

However, he inexplicably loved this hug.

This sensation filled his entire heart with an unrelenting sense of happiness.

“Little Girl, how I’ve missed you!”

It was rare for Chi Yang, a stoic iron-blooded man who was horrible at expressing his emotions, to finally let his emotions lose after seeing his little girl. He blurted out the crazy longing in his heart.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 853: Fossilized

These few days, Chi Yang truly grasped what the saying, ‘being apart for a day felt like three autumns’ meant.

Ever since the explosion, he had not seen his precious little girl. He missed her so much that his heart ached.

Nuannuan missed her Big Brother Chi Yang so madly that she refused to come down from his body after successfully latching herself onto him. She totally ignored the fact that the old master was patiently sitting at the side in the middle of his acupuncture treatment.

When Zhong Nuannuan heard Big Brother Chi Yang say that to her in a husky voice that gave her eargasm, her lustful blood started to boil. She felt the urge of giving birth to a hundred babies for her Big Brother Chi Yang.

At this moment, she pressed her entire body onto Chi Yang’s body, and the tip of her nose thoroughly sank into the skin on Chi Yang’s neck.

After hearing Chi Yang’s words, she finally said in a muffled voice, “Big Brother Chi Yang, I miss you too! I haven’t seen you for two days!”

Chi Yang's heart was racing from Nuannuan's warm breath. It was a pity that Grandpa was still here. It was destined that he would not be able to take Nuannuan down on the spot and eat her up.

"Mhmm, I miss you too. Little Girl, I heard about what happened that day. Are you hurt anywhere?"

Nuannuan shook her head against Chi Yang's slender neck. Her nose brushed against his skin, and it often brushed against his alluring Adam's apple.

"No, I'm fine. Grandpa's fine too. Haven't you called and asked us already?"

Although Chi Yang's face retained its firmness and persistence, his eyes had already softened into a puddle of water.

"But I'm still worried. I can't help but miss you."

Zhong Nuannuan nodded sternly. "I'm worried about you too, and I miss you too. Big Brother Chi Yang, it's been two days since we last met. Yet, I feel like we've been apart for a long time."

Chi Yang could not help but laugh. "Do you feel the same?"

"Uh-huh!" Nuannuan nodded and asked, "Do you have the same feeling?"

"Silly, of course I do! I miss you as much as you miss me. I'm sure I miss you more than you miss me."

Nuannuan was not going to back down from that. "How do you know that I don't miss you as much as you miss me? I miss you very, very much! You have absolutely no idea!"

There was nothing Chi Yang loved more than to see his little wife insisting on this competition on who missed each other more. Looking at her pouting lips, he could not help but take a bite at them.

"Ouch!"

Chi Yang frowned as he looked at her lips that instantly turned into a brighter shade of red. He asked concernedly, "What's wrong? Is it painful? Is it very painful?"

Nuannuan's lips jutted out in a more obvious pout.

"Of course it hurts. Why don't you give it a try?"

Chi Yang's tensed handsome face broke into a smile. "Alright, come on, bite me however you want!"

Zhong Nuannuan harrumphed and bit down on Chi Yang's lips.

However, the moment she chomped down on his lips, she instantly felt sorry for him. She only bit his lips lightly before letting go.

Understanding that his little wife could not bear to hurt him, Chi Yang smiled and teased her, "It's not that painful."

Nuannuan exploded like an angry kitten. "How's it not painful? Your mouth isn't as tender as mine, so you don't feel pain!"

Chi Yang immediately admitted defeat the second his wife yelled at him!

“Okay, okay, okay, I’m wrong! Then, I’ll kiss you so your mouth won’t hurt anymore.”

...

The two youngsters had completely ignored the old master, who nearly fossilized into a rock next to them, from the very beginning. He sat there petrified as he listened to their mushy, childish, and nonsensical proclamations of love. He felt like he was slowly disappearing into the background to the point of invisibility.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 854: Silly

Although Old Master Chi was very happy to see his eldest grandson so happy...

No matter how old he was, he was still human!

He was a human with emotions too!

Old Master Chi had a great relationship with his wife too—the best kind. However, his wife left early, leaving him alone in this world.

If not for his grandson, he would probably have lost all meaning to life.

Now that he was getting force-fed with dog food by the lovebirds, this old man would definitely suffer from indigestion!

The old master kept coughing for a while before Zhong Nuannuan regained her senses.

Oh, heavens. Grandpa was still here!

Seeing how shocked and embarrassed his granddaughter-in-law was when she locked gazes with him, the old man was instantly displeased.

He could tell that this granddaughter-in-law definitely belonged to the Chi family now.

This little girl loved his grandson so much.

Normally, she acted like any other girl, except for the fact that she was extremely smart, capable, profound, and ruthless. However, when she was with his grandson, she would be overwhelmed by a happiness that transformed her into a different person.

The old master noticed this happening many times now.

No matter who she hung out with, Nuannuan would appear to be a highly opinionated person. However, when she was with Chi Yang, the old master could not help but feel like her brain would turn as mushy as glue, like a total idiot.

However, if something happened to Chi Yang—just like what happened at the auction previously—she would explode with a terrifying display of strength to ensure Chi Yang’s safety. Ah, wrong. More accurately, she would explode with a terrifying and inhuman display of strength.

In short, the old master knew that his granddaughter-in-law's intelligence had yet to log in at this moment. The look in her eyes said everything—after seeing Chi Yang, she was so happy that she had turned silly.

In fact, the old master's conclusion on this matter could not be more accurate. Be it Chi Yang or Nuannuan herself, neither of them realized that when she was alone with Chi Yang without the threat of danger, Nuannuan's intelligence would be instantly dumbfounded by a large amount of dopamine caused by extreme joy. Her mind would be muddled, which led to Chi Yang thinking that his wife was often a cute and absent-minded little bunny.

Nuannuan was not pretending at all. That was because as soon as she saw Chi Yang, her mind would secrete too much dopamine when there was no danger to force her to deliberately calm down. This made a smart woman like Nuannuan stumped by this happiness, making her look adorable in her silliness.

However...

Admittedly, she was adorable. However, the old master was suffering.

He sat there confusedly while drenched in the dog food that fell from the sky.

Life had been hard to him, this old man, had it not?

Eventually, the old master had no choice but to interrupt the two lovebirds who had been stuffing him with dog food.

If he continued eating, he would suffer from indigestion.

No wonder Lil Leng complained so much whenever he spoke about Chi Yang and Nuannuan. He always sounded so aggrieved! Now it seemed that it had not been easy for Lil Leng to survive these youngsters indeed!

Grandpa's cough interrupted the lovey-dovey sweetness between the both of them.

Instantly, Zhong Nuannuan felt that she had nowhere to hide her face except on Chi Yang's chest. She decided not to look at her Grandpa's face.

However...

"Little Girl, ahem, ahem... How about this? You help me remove the needles and continue your chat with Chi Yang? I'm an old man who should sleep early anyway."

"Ah...?" Nuannuan peeled her face from Big Brother Chi Yang's chest. She looked at the silver needles on her Grandpa's legs and finally realized what was going on.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 855: Dog Food

Oh, gosh. Nuannuan totally forgot that she was still in the middle of treating Grandpa with acupuncture.

She shrank even more in embarrassment.

Chi Yang noticed that his wife's face blushed so red that her blood threatened to seep out from under her skin. His heart ached as he complained, "Grandpa, can you not laugh at Nuannuan? Look at how embarrassed you've made her!"

Old Master Chi, "...!!!"

My goodness!!!

What did he say???

He did not say anything at all!!!

He simply felt like he was feeling the bout of indigestion from chomping on the dog food that those two forced down his throat. He wanted the needles to be removed so that he could return to his bedroom and call it a day. What did he do wrong?

The brat really forgot about his Grandpa after getting a wife!

Ugh, how he missed his dearly departed wife!

If only he could go over and accompany her right now.

He wanted to sprinkle holy dog food too!

Zhong Nuannuan blushed and lowered her head, looking the part of Chi Yang's demure little wife. "Grandpa, there are still two minutes before time's up. We'll have to wait it out. Otherwise, it won't have the same effect."

"Okay, okay, okay!" The old master smiled and nodded hastily.

The old master was quite satisfied with such an obedient, sensible, and cute granddaughter-in-law. The only person he was not satisfied with was Chi Yang, the scoundrel. Therefore, when it came to Nuannuan, the old master had always been amicable! She had never been on the old master's bad side.

Seeing that his wife was still blushing, Chi Yang reached out to grab a stool and sit in front of Nuannuan. Then, he gave the old master a look that meant to provoke him as he extended his long arms, pulling his wife into his embrace.

At this moment, Nuannuan was like a boneless little animal. The second she felt Big Brother Chi Yang pull her into his arms, she responded nearly instinctually by snuggling into his embrace.

Chi Yang held Nuannuan in a protective hug. As he spoke, he could not help but kiss her earlobe. Seeing the little thing tremble in his arms, he said dotingly, "We won't feel embarrassed if we don't look at Grandpa."

Then, he realized that his little bunny's ears burned even redder.

Old Master Chi, "..."

So, was he the big bad wolf or...?

What the heck!

After removing all the needles from the old master, Chi Yang helped the old master take a bath. The old master, who was originally sleeping in the master bedroom, insisted on sleeping in the bedroom that was converted from the study room.

“Grandpa, you can sleep in this bedroom. Big Brother Chi Yang and I can sleep in that room. We can squeeze in that room.”

He watched his granddaughter-in-law announcing that she wanted to sleep with Chi Yang without blushing or gasping. Neither did she think that sleeping with her fiancé before marriage was a bad thing. The old master felt very gratified.

Waving his hand, he said, “You youngsters like to sleep late, and you take a long time to shower. The bathroom is in the master bedroom, so I think I’ll just sleep in that room. That way, I can rest better.”

Since the old master had already said so, Chi Yang and Nuannuan did not bother troubling themselves anymore.

Indeed, by the time they finished showering, it was already late. It would not be convenient for them to in and out of the room anyway.

“Grandpa, remember to call Big Brother Chi Yang if you need to use the toilet at night.”

“Okay, okay, okay. Got it.”

Then the old master, who had enough of dog food for a lifetime, hurried back to his room to sleep.

Soon, the old master fell asleep.

In his dream, he actually met his wife for the first time in forever.

After not seeing his wife for so many years, the old master was overjoyed. He told his wife everything that had happened recently.

His wife was as gentle to him as ever. She did not say anything but listened to him with a smile.

When he finished recounting the tales, he sighed. He really wanted to throw dog food at others too. He wished to leave with his wife because he would be happy even if he could distribute dog food in the nether world. Otherwise, he would feel so lonely.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 856: Unlock

Yet, as soon as he finished speaking, his wife, who was still smiling gently a second ago, transformed into a Tyrannosaurus rex. She started punching and kicking him. Her strength was in no way inferior to when she was young.

When they were young, everyone mocked him for being henpecked.

Damn it, he found a fighter wife who would beat him up for no reason. He really wanted those old fogeys to experience how it was like to be helplessly afraid of your wife.

In short, the old master was beaten up until he woke up.

After waking up, he glanced at the clock. It was one in the morning. In the blink of an eye, he had already slept for four to five hours. The old master woke up and decided to make a bathroom trip.

One's kidneys often deteriorated greatly in old age. Having nocturia at least once a day was common.

Initially, he thought that since he could move around freely, he should not wake his grandson and granddaughter-in-law up. After all, the youngsters were busy during the day and should be sleeping soundly at night.

Yet...

Before the old master got up, he heard a loud bang. He thought something bad happened, but since it was not convenient for him to rush out to take a look, he pressed his ear against the door to listen.

After the explosion that day, his hearing seemed to have gotten haywire. Eventually, after getting his ears repaired by his granddaughter-in-law in time, his hearing was much better than before.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, I want it, I want it!"

"Nuannuan, be a good girl now. Can't we do it properly? That day, you hung upside down and broke both the doorknob and the door hook." With a helplessly doting expression on his face, Chi Yang looked at Nuannuan who was pouting like an unreasonable child demanding candy.

"No, I won't accept that! I want to unlock this position. Big Brother Chi Yang, do it with me, please!"

Chi Yang, who was already burning with desire because of his wife, had no way to refuse.

"Okay, okay, but this is an extremely difficult position. Be careful when you jump off my head. Don't hurt yourself."

"Hehe, Big Brother Chi Yang should worry about not getting hurt when I go down on you later."

"You little vixen!"

Then, there was a loud bang at the door.

At the same time, Chi Yang let out a moan.

Old Master, "...-_-||"

Now what?

He could not use the bathroom now.

This scoundrel, what was the point of such a difficult position? All this just to make him a great-grandson? By jumping off the head?

Jumping off the head...

How did that even work?

The more he tried to comprehend it, the more intrigued the old master was to witness how to unlock this difficult position.

Given Nuannuan's combat abilities, how was Chi Yang not afraid of hurting himself?!

The old master was completely speechless.

Speaking of which, was his great-grandson really going to survive in such harshness?

The old master was worried!

However, compared to his long-term worries, he was currently distressed because... How was he supposed to use the bathroom with the lovebirds warring each other inside?

The old master paced around the room several times before deciding to call Lil Leng.

After not having a good rest for two days, Leng Jinpeng noticed that there was a sudden call from the old marshal. His drowsiness instantly vanished.

"Hey, Old Marshal, what happened?"

Grandpa Chi face was burning red. "Ahem, Lil Leng, what are you doing?"

"I'm sleeping, sir."

"Oh, very well, very well. Um... have I disturbed you?"

Leng Jinpeng quickly shook his head. "No, no. General, what's the matter?"

"Come to Chi Yang's place. Call me when you reach the door and remember—don't knock!"

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 857: Renovation

"Alright. Please wait three minutes, General." Leng Jinpeng agreed without hesitation.

The old marshal must have something important to discuss with him if he summoned him at this hour, so Leng Jinpeng did not dare to waste a single minute. He quickly put on his clothes and ran towards Chi Yang's house.

Panting heavily, he ran upstairs and called the old master.

The phone rang only once before the old master picked up the call. "Have you arrived?"

"General, I'm here. What happened?"

"Wait for me, I'll tell you when I come out."

"Yes."

The old master was already dressed when Leng Jinpeng called him.

Both Chi Yang and Nuannuan sensed some movements from the old master and immediately put a hold on moving so intensely.

Nuannuan quivered as she was hit by a sudden realization. Looking at their current position, her face instantly flushed red.

Oh, goodness her. What in the world was she doing?

Would Big Brother Chi Yang think that she was the kind of woman who was high-maintenance and difficult to satisfy?

How did she become like this?

Looking at the scars on Big Brother Chi Yang's perfect body, Zhong Nuannuan felt extremely ashamed.

Clack...

The door outside gently closed. Chi Yang and the self-conscious Nuannuan separated from each other. Then, the young couple quickly put on their clothes and rushed out.

After all, it was already one in the morning. It would be dangerous for Grandpa to go out alone.

The two opened the door and saw that Grandpa and Uncle Leng were about to reach the fifth floor.

"Grandpa, where are you and Uncle Leng going in the middle of the night?"

The old master turned around to look at Chi Yang and Nuannuan. Look at the lovebirds, both of their faces were as red as ripe tomatoes. It was obvious that...

The old master could not bear to look at them and waved his hand. "Go back, I have something to say to your Uncle Leng."

"It's the middle of the night. What's so important that you can't until tomorrow to talk?" Chi Yang did not understand.

After all, his grandfather had always been a sound sleeper. The old master sometimes got too fatigued when he got sent on missions when he was young. Therefore, as long as it was not his own country at war, he could continue sleeping even if the artillery went off next to his ears.

Therefore, it would never have occurred to Chi Yang that the noise he and Nuannuan made would wake Grandpa up.

"Your Uncle Leng has insomnia tonight, and since I woke up, we agreed to play chess at your Uncle Leng's place. After all, I'm leaving tomorrow."

Chi Yang was speechless...

Playing chess at one in the morning... Was it good to have such a circadian rhythm?

However, there was nothing Chi Yang could do if his grandfather wanted to play chess and Uncle Leng also agreed to it. Thus, he nodded. "You still have to take a flight tomorrow, so you should rest early after your chess."

"Okay, okay, okay. Got it, naggy."

The old master quickly agreed and prepared to leave.

His bladder was about to burst anytime now.

Chi Yang and Nuannuan watched the two of them go downstairs. They were about to close the door when the door to the fifth floor opened.

The person saw Commander-in-chief Leng and quickly greeted him.

“Yo, Old Xu, why are you still up so late?”

The people living in this building were all officers ranked second lieutenant and above. Coincidentally, Leng Jinpeng knew this person.

Old Xu smiled bitterly and said to Chi Yang, who lived upstairs to his unit, “Captain Chi, have you been renovating your house for the past few days? The noise coming from the master bedroom and bathroom is too loud. If you guys are renovating, can you do it during the day? With so much commotion going on at night, we’re too old to fall back asleep!”

Upon hearing this, Zhong Nuannuan’s face flushed red.

Chi Yang was also embarrassed for a moment before he nodded. “I’m really sorry. We won’t renovate the house at night anymore.”

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 858: Commotion

“Thank you.”

“Elder Xu must be kidding. I’m the one who disrupted your sleep, after all.”

Leng Jinpeng waited for Old Xu to close the door before walking along the corridor with the old marshal. He then asked resentfully, “Old General, for you to drag me out of bed so late at night... Can it be that you were woken up by their ‘renovation’?”

At this moment, the old master was definitely on his grandson and granddaughter-in-law’s side. He widened his eyes. “How’s that possible? Am I such a troublesome old man? It’s not like you don’t know that when I was on the battlefield back then, I could sleep even with bombs going off around him. I may even lose sleep without loud noises around me!”

Leng Jinpeng said gloomily, “Well, coincidentally they were being loud then. So, why can’t you sleep, sir?”

“I...” The old master was a little dismayed and discouraged after that stumble. However, after thinking about it, he shouted, “It’s all your fault!”

Leng Jinpeng was stunned. “My fault? What does your inability to sleep have to do with me? I haven’t even blamed you when you woke me up at half-past one in the morning!”

“Other people might not know, but at least you do. My grandson is a lieutenant general, but you arranged such a small room for him. There’s only one toilet!”

“Isn’t that what Chi Yang asked for? Furthermore, he was single at the time. He was the one who turned down the three-rooms-with-two-bathroom apartment. That just shows that he’s lazy to clean, no?”

After saying that, Leng Jinpeng felt that something was wrong. "Hold on... You dragged me to Chi Yang's place at night and wanted to head to my place for chess. Just because you couldn't explain yourself, you scolded me for not arranging a room with two bathrooms for Chi Yang? Marshal, how could you abuse your subordinates like this?!"

"Me? Abuse you? More like, you're the one who's abusing this old man here!" The more the old master spoke, the more his bladder threatened to burst.

"If you had arranged an apartment with two bathrooms for Chi Yang from the start, do you think I'll ever need to borrow your toilet in the middle of the night?"

Leng Jinpeng was irritated. "Marshal, you woke me up in the middle of the night to pick you up from Chi Yang's house. So, the truth is that you need to borrow my toilet?"

Leng Jinpeng raised his voice.

"Of course! What nonsense! I'm about to die from holding it in, alright?!"

"...!!!"

"Then, you should've just used the toilet at your own place! Are you telling me that the bathroom at Chi Yang's place is blocked?"

"What blocked? The lovebirds have always been in the bathroom..."

At the very end, the old master could not help but feel embarrassed at the thought of the commotion and Nuannuan's request.

Relating that information to Old Xu's suggestion when they were on the fifth floor, Leng Jinpeng thought, "...!!!"

Could it be that the Marshal wanted to use the toilet in the middle of the night, only to find out that his grandson and granddaughter-in-law were still XXOO inside? Since they were XXOO in the toilet, he was not comfortable with interrupting him and so, chose to drag him into this instead?

That was too much for him to bear!

How could they drag him out of bed in the middle of the night, all to force a lovey-dovey supper of dog food down his throat?

Single dogs were living beings too. Could they not be more appreciative toward single dogs?

Young people nowadays were too much!

Chi Yang and Nuannuan, who had closed the door behind them, were still lusting after each other. Once the door was closed, Nuannuan instantly turned into a cute little bunny again.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, you were too impatient earlier. I haven't even finished treating your wound!s Come in, I'll dress your wounds."

Chi Yang, "...!!!"

He wondered if his wife had a disorder that made her forget about having sex.

Every time she got excited, she would forget everything.

Just now...

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 859: Disruptions

Was this not the sequence of events just now? She was helping him dress his wounds when he asked, "See, I'm not lying to you, right? I'm fine, right?"

Then, his wife nodded and gave him an answer that did not answer his question, "You have such a nice figure."

He was only aroused because of his wife's answer. Due to that, he kissed his wife.

Then, the little bunny transformed into a beautiful snake and started putting his physical prowess to the test.

How was him the impatient one now?

Well, if she said he was impatient, so be it!

Nobody could have resisted his little darling!

Nuannuan helped Chi Yang take off his shirt. She looked at the wounds that had already split open. A sheen of blood was starting to seep out the wounds. How her heart ached for him. She quickly disinfected and bandaged Big Brother Chi Yang's wounds.

Chi Yang leaned against the edge of the bed as he enjoyed his wife's thoughtful service with a smile. There was nothing more he loved than feeling this way.

As Nuannuan continued to disinfect Chi Yang, she kept exhaling on his behalf, afraid that she would hurt him.

Soon enough, Chi Yang was distracted by Nuannuan with her warm breath that easily sent his blood to a boil, and his hand unconsciously reached out...

"Big Brother Chi Yang, stop fooling around. I still have to bandage up your wounds."

Chi Yang answered as his hand continued to move, "Okay, continue bandaging me. I won't touch your hands."

Nuannuan, "..."

'Yet, with your hand like this, it's definitely getting in my way!' thought Nuannuan.

These words were about to leave her mouth, but after some thought, she decided against them.

Just like how Big Brother Chi Yang would love to know that she liked Big Brother Chi Yang's body, she was very pleased that Big Brother Chi Yang was equally in love with her body.

Therefore, Nuannuan continued to treat his wounds virtuously. Under Chi Yang's various disruptions, she continued to dress his wounds in a daze. She was not afraid of redoing the dressing on Chi Yang's body until every single one of them was covered.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, how did you escape from the 57th floor?"

Even though Nuannuan figured out Chi Yang's escape, she still wanted to hear it from him.

Chi Yang held his tender little wife in his arms. This time, Nuannuan did not transform into Tyrannosaurus rex. Instead, she was like a gentle kitten, quietly leaning against his chest. As she listened, she reached out and gently trailed her hand over each wound on his body.

"Thankfully, you informed me that they might have drugs that could temporarily render supernatural abilities useless. So, before I came into contact with them, I put on the pair of human skin gloves that Selina gave me. They knew that they could not defeat me using their bare strength, so they had planned to blow up the whole building from the very beginning.

"After I touched the gun they gave me, they detonated the building. They wanted to kill me, but thankfully, their drug had no effect on me. When I fell, I used my supernatural ability to grab onto some of the opened windows of Block A to stabilize myself."

Zhong Nuannuan pouted. "If you stabilized yourself, how did you still end up having so many wounds?"

Chi Yang felt wronged. "The explosion was so intense that water and mud kept flying over from Block B's side. Not only did I, your husband, have to break his fall, but he also had to avoid the rocks that were flying over from the other side. It wasn't easy for me to do this at all!"

What was this expression on his little girl's face?!

He had already shattered the large objects in the air or sent them flying with a punch. Yet, in the face of such a large impact, he still had to stabilize his body that fell from the 57th floor while avoiding the large cement blocks that would crush him to death. How would he have the time to rush through the rubble?

Chapter 860: Well-mannered

It was already an impossible feat for him to suffer only minor injuries after going through such a huge explosion while falling from the 57th floor!

"But doesn't your self-healing ability make you recover faster than most people? You're still bleeding now... I can only imagine how terrible it must be back then."

Zhong Nuannuan was heartbroken.

She had not seen him for two days and he was still covered in wounds. How depressing!

Chi Yang, "..."

So, it turned out that his wife was not looking at him in disdain—she was feeling sorry for him!

Chi Yang's heart that was initially enshrouded in dismay instantly brightened up. He flipped over, pinned the little girl under his body, and kissed her.

Nuannuan was engulfed in the intense scent that she liked, and her heart was fluttering. However, whenever she thought of the wounds that opened up because of her, she did not dare to make her move anymore.

She could only press her hand against his chest insistently and say, "Big Brother Chi Yang, don't. You're still hurt."

Chi Yang remained unmoved. "Now you're aware that I'm injured. Just now, that girl with her feet on the ceiling and her head buried in my neck wanted to descend from the ceiling and into my arms. I wonder who she is?"

Zhong Nuannuan, '... It's definitely not me.'

Sob!

"I'm a well-mannered lady..." Nuannuan argued in a weak voice.

Chi Yang could not help but chuckle. "Yes, yes, yes. My Nuannuan is a well-mannered little lady!"

A lady who was so well-mannered that she managed to convince the residents downstairs that they were renovating the house in the middle of the night.

"You're laughing at me..."

Nuannuan's voice was extremely mellow, just like a kitten that would jump at the slightest noise. Chi Yang felt as if a worm was drilling all over inside his body, and all he wanted was to tear her apart.

"Why would I laugh at you? You're the little girl that I love the most in my life!" Once he said that, Zhong Nuannuan felt his hands running all over her body.

Pressing against Chi Yang's chest again, Nuannuan asked concernedly, "Won't your wounds open up again?"

Seeing the worry in Nuannuan's eyes, Chi Yang smiled. "Don't worry, as long as you don't move, they won't open up."

"Oh, okay." Nuannuan nodded obediently and truly stopped moving.

Taking in all the sensations of Nuannuan's supple and fragrant body underneath him, Chi Yang was still extremely aroused even though she was lying there immobile.

It was not easy for his little wife to be obedient. It was the first time Chi Yang experienced the beauty and elegance of his wife who lay there dormant, as though it was her first time having sex.

After they were done, Chi Yang carefully wiped the sweat off Nuannuan's body and hugged her tightly in satisfaction.

After that, Nuannuan had been as gentle as water for fear of hurting her Big Brother Chi Yang. Now, she leaned her head against his chest quietly and listened to his heartbeat. It was quiet and blissful.

"Nuannuan, you're leaving tomorrow and you'll be away from me for a month. Will you miss me?"

Nuannuan nodded vigorously. "I'll miss you every day."

“Me too.”

“Big Brother Chi Yang, don’t worry. My memory is definitely better than those people. If I get any time off, I’ll come back to see you.”

Chi Yang lowered his head and planted a light kiss on Nuannuan’s forehead.

“Yes, I’ll travel from Jiang District to visit you on my days off too.”

“It’s fine. You’re so busy and tired, so you shouldn’t travel so far. When I return from the competition in Yamato, it’ll be New Year’s Eve. You’ll be on vacation soon. Then, you can return to Emperor District to celebrate Chinese New Year with Grandpa. I’ll come too.”

Chi Yang beamed. “Really?”

Nuannuan nodded.

“Traditionally, the people in Y Country don’t celebrate Chinese New Year. As for the Zhong family, I no longer consider them my family.”
