

Physician Wife 951

Chapter 951: I Was Wrong

Wen Yi felt his strength leave him and collapsed to the ground, coughing violently. He was taken aback.

Seeing that Leng Jinpeng did not speak up for him, Wen Yi quickly calmed down and explained, "Commander-in-chief, I've been with Young Master for five years. You're most familiar with me. I'm loyal to Young Master, why would I harm him?"

Leng Jinpeng stared coldly at Wen Yi, his heart burning with rage.

He adopted a son, but eventually, the adopted son tried to kill his own son.

He took in a butler, but eventually, the butler tried to kill his own son.

Leng Jinpeng would never tolerate anyone who wanted Leng Qirui's life.

"We'll know whether you're truly loyal after an investigation. Loyalty or otherwise, it's not up to you to decide."

Personally, Zhong Nuannuan had never liked Wen Yi. She was convinced that he had always been the one who instigated Leng Qirui's bad temper.

Wen Yi was afraid that he would be exposed if they conducted any investigation, so he quickly said, "Commander-in-chief, this really has nothing to do with me. I swear! Actually, I know whose fault this is and who's involved."

Wen Yi had already found out Selina and Zhong Nuannuan's true identities and skills.

He could not afford to mess with either of them.

Therefore, to prevent them from investigating further, Wen Yi immediately interrupted everyone's speculation.

"Who is it?"

Leng Jinpeng asked coldly.

"Actually... it was Miss Selina who caused this."

Leng Jinpeng frowned in disbelief.

"Here's the thing. Miss Selina hates a woman called WishYouASunnyDay in their game, but she couldn't beat her. Thus, she hacked Young Master's account and killed WishYouASunnyDay so many times she got downgraded several levels..."

Wen Yi discovered the incident where Leng Qirui found his in-game name highlighted in red and nearly became everyone's target on the server. After that, the Almighty UnrulyTempest approached Leng Qirui to find his girlfriend justice. In the end, he offended Leng Qirui and got massacred until he barely retained any of his in-game progress.

“At the time, UnrulyTempest claimed that his elder brother was the boss of H Gang. If Young Master killed him again, he would make Young Master suffer. When Young Master got beaten up just now, the first thing they did was to cripple Young Master’s hand. Therefore, I’m guessing that UnrulyTempest is behind this.”

Leng Jinpeng was so angry he could die. How many times had he mentioned that playing games was no different from being a criminal? Look at how Lil Rui ended up now.

However, Aiden, who fiddled with his computer without talking the whole time, finally stopped his fluttering fingers and opened his mouth.

“Wen Yi, did you miss something?”

Wen Yi’s heart skipped a beat.

“These people are indeed from the Hong Gang, but are you sure you didn’t take money from them?”

His words could not be any more straightforward. Wen Yi’s face instantly turned pale.

How did they find out?

He had already laundered money through the safest third-party agency, so how did he still manage to find out about this?

Leng Jinpeng had reached the peak of understanding in Selina and Aiden’s competence. Additionally, the two of them would never harm Leng Qirui. Hence, Leng Jinpeng’s eyes were trained on Wen Yi the moment Aiden finished speaking.

Wen Yi collapsed and sat with his legs under him after getting strangled. When he saw Leng Jinpeng’s gaze, he was so frightened that he rose on his knees and cried, “Commander, no! I didn’t!”

“Why? Lil Rui has always treated you well. When I wanted to fire you, he was the one who wanted me to retain you. Why must you cause him harm?”

Chapter 952: Regret

Wen Yi shook his head and cried, “I didn’t! I really didn’t harm Young Master! I’m so loyal, why would I harm Young Master?”

“So, what do you think I’ve been doing with my computer here for so long? Playing games?” Aiden peered at Wen Yi coldly.

“If the Almighty’s arms and legs are crippled because of your greed, there’s no need for you to go to the police station anymore. I’ll let you experience what a death wish truly is.”

Chi Yang, who reached for his phone so that he could get someone to bring Wen Yi in, set down his phone again.

Selina’s face could not look any worse. She stared at Wen Yi as if she were looking at a dead person.

Although Wen Yi was afraid, he did not realize that he had entered the gates of hell because of this.

The person he was most afraid of at the moment was neither Selina nor Aiden, but Commander-in-chief Leng.

He only feared that Commander-in-chief would send him to jail.

“Commander-in-chief, don’t trust them. Trust me, please! I’ve been with Young Master for four years. If I wanted to harm Young Master, he would’ve gotten hurt a long time ago, wouldn’t he? Commander, I really didn’t do this!”

Leng Jinpeng walked over to Aiden and picked up the notebook in Aiden’s hand. There were hundreds of interface windows on the small screen.

However, as a once-powerful soldier and a hacker, Leng Jinpeng was able to trace down all the paths easily.

It did not take him long to find the transaction between Hong Gang and Wen Yi’s accounts. Even though they laundered the money through a third party, and the third party responsibly transferred the money at least ten times, it was Wen Yi’s unlucky day that he made Aiden an enemy. Aiden was no ordinary hacker—he tracked down every single cent of the money.

After returning the notebook to Aiden, Leng Jinpeng kicked Wen Yi in the face, sending him rolling on the ground with a yelp.

Wen Yi quickly got up from the ground and looked at Leng Jinpeng in fear.

This time, he really regretted it.

Looking at the terrifying group of people who were all bigshots, Wen Yi suddenly realized with trepidation he could not afford to offend any single one of them.

Therefore, without further ado, Wen Yi sold out the culprit behind him.

“Please, spare my life! I didn’t want to do it! I didn’t want the money, but I had no choice! If I didn’t take the money, they wouldn’t have let me go. Ye Hai made me do this. He’s out of jail and is now siding with someone powerful. If I didn’t agree to do this, Ye Hai would kill me.”

“Ye Hai? He’s out?” Selina was speechless.

After all, she was the one who landed Ye Hai in jail. She had personally set him up. Even if he did not receive a life sentence, it would at least be another 20 years or more before his release. How did he escape jail so quickly?

Leng Jinpeng’s expression turned as dark as the bottom of a pot. He immediately called Station Chief Wang who had taken on Ye Hai’s case in the past.

The answer he received was that someone provided evidence that the video was fake. Plus, Leng Jinpeng mentioned said that if Ye Hai could find a way to get out of jail on his own, he would let him off on account of their relationship as his adopted father. Therefore, after Ye Hai provided evidence that the video was fake, the police station released him, and Ye Hai disappeared from the public eye.

Leng Jinpeng was a little exhausted as he slumped down on a chair.

He felt...

He felt like he had committed acts of stupidity his entire life.

Leng Jinpeng sat slumped in the chair for a long time before muttered in a low voice, "This incident... is my fault."

Wen Yi perked up, but he quickly shook his head. "No, Commander, it's not your fault, it's mine."

Chapter 953: Serves Him Right

"I shouldn't have given up on Young Master when there were threats to my life. Please give me another..."

Before he could say another word, Leng Jinpeng intercepted, "It was my soft-heartedness that caused Lil Rui to keep getting hurt. This time, he may end up crippled for life. I've realized how wrong I am. From now on, I'll never make such choices out of excessive kindness again. I won't call the police. I'll leave him to you two."

Chi Yang patted Leng Jinpeng on the back.

Chi Yang had known Leng Jinpeng for many years and had been with him since they were young. Chi Yang knew him like the back of his hand.

Despite looking tough on the outside, Leng Jinpeng was a softie on the inside.

If it was not because of his hesitance, Leng Jinpeng's achievements would definitely be comparable to Nangong Shu's.

However, it was precisely because of his gentleness that allowed him to get past his overflowing resentment all those years ago. He let go of the hatred for the woman that he once called mother and forgot everything there was about her.

At that moment, the lights in the operating theater went off.

When they saw the doctor, everyone immediately surrounded him.

"Doctor, how's my son?"

When the doctor saw Leng Jinpeng's epaulet, he quickly said with a good attitude, "Don't worry. Thankfully, he was treated on time. He's fine now and will probably wake up after a few hours of rest."

"What about his hands?"

The doctor did not know that Leng Qirui wanted to be an eSports star in the future. He said, "Although his right hand suffered a more severe injury, it's fortunate that he protected it well. There were just some broken bones that have been reattached with steel nails. However, it may be inconvenient for his right hand to move in the future, but it definitely won't affect his daily life."

The doctor's words made Leng Jinpeng feel completely relieved. He also swore to station his own men to protect his son in the future.

Selina, on the other hand, was in a horrid mood.

What was the difference between that and destroying Young Brother Leng?

Selina recalled how cool Young Brother Leng looked like when he gave her pointers as she played games with Aiden—his little angry outbursts tinged with his adamant protectiveness. Selina's heart was in turmoil.

Coincidentally, Wen Yi walked over as well. He was glad to hear that Leng Qirui was alive because that meant he would only go to jail for around three to five years tops. In his gleefulness, Selina raised her leg and kicked him straight in the face.

There was no mercy in this kick—it was enough to avoid killing him with a single hit. It was much more dangerous than Leng Jinpeng's kick earlier.

Before Wen Yi could even scream, he was sent flying backward. He hit the wall with a bang and bounced back like a meat patty. Then, Selina kicked him in the thigh. Wen Yi fell to the ground with a loud crack and he fell unconscious. The doctor was so scared that his face turned pale.

However, Leng Jinpeng smiled and said, "Don't be alarmed. He's our butler. Since he's not satisfied with his monthly salary of 20000 bucks, he colluded with outsiders to send my son to the hospital."

When the doctor heard that Wen Yi was the culprit who caused the child to end up like that—not to mention he was the butler—the doctor's face instantly flushed red with anger.

"Serves him right! Such an ingrate deserves to be sentenced to death."

"Doctor, when can he come out?" Selina asked after trashing Wen Yi.

"He'll be out in 15 minutes."

Therefore, everyone continued to wait at the door.

Seeing this, Zhong Nuannuan consoled everyone, "Don't worry, I'll follow up on his treatment after he comes out. I'll ensure that he recovers before his eSports competition."

Chapter 954: Step Aside

With Zhong Nuannuan's promise, Selina and Aiden finally perked up a little.

When Leng Qirui came out and saw that both Zhong Nuannuan and Selina were there, he immediately put on a bright smile. He did not look like a person who just suffered severe injuries.

"You're all here? I'm a little embarrassed!"

Selina snapped, "If we hadn't come, you would've been dead today!"

Leng Qirui smiled awkwardly. "That's right, that's right. Thank you both. The doctor said that my hands are fine, but it might be a little inconvenient in the future. However, I think I can still compete."

He was afraid that Leng Jinpeng would stop him from joining the competition, and he was also afraid that he would not be able to move his hands freely in the future. The moment Leng Qirui exited the operating theater, he started to showcase how well he was, and his hands felt no different from before.

Zhong Nuannuan and the others did not have the heart to expose his lies. They all unanimously agreed that Young Master Leng should remain as goofy as this.

“Yes, you can still participate in the competition. I’ll also ensure that your hands are fully healed. With me around, what are you afraid of?”

Nuannuan had forgotten that Big Brother Chi Yang was still by her side. In a moment of hot-headedness, she blurted out those words said in the utmost righteousness and charmed everyone under the room.

Sensing a faint boyfriend gaze gloomily seeping over to her, Nuannuan was suddenly at a loss for words.

“Alright, since you’re fine now, Big Brother Chi Yang and I will take our leave. One month later, when the wounds on your hands are all healed up, I’ll treat you with acupuncture. In less than three months, I guarantee that you’ll feel like your usual self again.”

Leng Qirui was stunned when he heard that there was still hope for his hands. His heart was filled with relief and gratitude for surviving such a calamity.

Only God knew that when the doctor informed Leng Qirui that his daily life would not be affected by the little inconveniences even at full recovery, Leng Qirui had burst into tears in the room before coming out.

That was why the doctor told everyone to wait 15 minutes for Leng Qirui to come out.

Hearing Zhong Nuannuan’s assurance, Leng Qirui truly felt that he was the luckiest person in the world.

“Nuannuan, thank you.”

Chi Yang could not stand the way Leng Qirui looked at his wife affectionately. Although Leng Qirui no longer had that hazy look of love in his eyes, Chi Yang could not help but feel disgusted.

“Okay, rest well. Selina’s here. We still need to give your dad his acupuncture treatment, so we’ll bring him back now.”

Leng Jinpeng did not really want to leave. After all, his son had only been out for less than an hour.

“How about you guys leave, and I’ll have my acupuncture treatment tomorrow?”

Chi Yang felt that Leng Jinpeng’s actions served no use but being a hindrance.

When he should be asking and caring for his son, Leng Jinpeng ignored this popular Young Master Leng and allowed him to roam about on his own.

Now that he found someone else to care for him and did not need Leng Jinpeng anymore, Leng Jinpeng decided to become the third wheel.

What a typical horrible father.

“It’s much safer for Lil Rui to have Selina here than you. You’re not in good health, so stop worrying meaninglessly. Since he’s already a grownup, it’s time for you to stop being so wishy-washy.”

After getting lectured by Chi Yang, Leng Jinpeng understood that he had not been a good father, so he looked at Leng Qirui apologetically.

Although Leng Qirui did not possess any martial skills, he admired his father greatly. With a magnanimous expression, he said, "Dad, you can go back with Big Brother Chi and Nuannuan. Selina and Aiden are here, so you don't have to worry about me."

"Yeah, Uncle Leng, you should go back. I'll take good care of Young Master Leng."

"Uncle Leng, don't worry."

Chapter 955: Dodged A Bullet

Since nobody wanted him to stay here, Leng Jinpeng did not linger either.

He liked Selina, this future daughter-in-law, anyway and thus, handed Lil Rui over in Selina's care.

After everyone left, Selina and Aiden kept staring at him with their sparkling eyes. Leng Qirui felt a little apprehensive.

"Do you want some water?" Selina and Aiden asked in unison.

Not only did they say the same thing, they each handed him a cup simultaneously. They even caringly inserted a straw for him to drink from.

However...

Looking at both cups on each side, Young Master Leng felt a rising bitterness at the back of his throat.

"Didn't... Didn't the doctor say that I just had surgery, and I can only drink water after six hours?"

"Fruits, then."

The two of them spoke in unison again.

"I'll peel an apple for you."

"I'll peel a pear for you."

Leng Qirui, "... " Could he tell them that he could not eat anything yet because he had not farted?

However, he did not need to say anything.

Selina's temper had already started flaring.

"Aiden, can I talk to you outside?"

Aiden had always been a gentleman. Even now, he was still playing that part. After putting down the things in his hands, he followed Selina out.

"..." Leng Qirui was left alone.

If he knew this would happen, he would have asked his father to stay back.

Uh... Right, where did his butler go?

It was now that Leng Qirui finally recalled Wen Yi.

However, he was alone in his VIP room, and he did not have a phone with him right now...

Fifteen minutes later, Selina returned with a bright smile plastered on her face.

However, Leng Qirui could only judge from the color of her clothes that this was her. Currently, her face was swollen to the size of a pig's head. When she smiled brightly at him, he could not help but recall a television drama—

Sunny Piggy!!!

The corners of Leng Qirui's mouth twitched. "You guys went out to fight?"

"And I won!" Selina smiled brightly, and her gloomy mood for the past few days improved vastly.

Leng Qirui gave up on insulting her and could only smile sheepishly. "Congratulations!"

"I should be the one congratulating you!"

Leng Qirui, "...?"

"Are you willing to let him pester you all day long? He's obviously a straight man, but for the sake of a game, he's willing to go out of his way. Are you really going to wait for him to forcefully bend your sexual preference after doing that to himself?"

"Did he truly intend to do that to me?"

"Of course! Do you think he's lying? He used to surround himself with pretty girls, and you have no idea how many times he changed girlfriends. Yet, for you, he actually tried to hook up with men. Once he confirmed that he could trigger some sort of reaction in men, he came to you instead."

Leng Qirui, "...!!!"

So, all that talk about bending his sexual preference was not a joke?!

Leng Qirui dodged a bullet there!!!

He had always thought that Aiden was pulling his leg.

"So... he's not going to make me bent now?"

"Nonsense! With this girl protecting you, I'll kill anything that stands in my way. You're my one and only Young Brother Leng—I won't let anyone touch you! Not even Aiden. However, I've already promised Aiden that when we get married in the future, you won't be his brother-in-law, but his younger brother instead. If you don't even agree to this, he'll definitely take you down with him. Do you agree?"

Um, when had Leng Qirui ever agreed to become hers? Had he ever agreed to that?

Get married...

Was this woman not thinking too far ahead?

He was only a Year Three Senior!

However...

Leng Qirui looked at how Tyrannosaurus rex Selina got herself beaten up into a pulp just to defend him and realized that she looked especially adorable today.

Chapter 956: Splitting Almighty Leng

Leng Qirui nodded awkwardly and deliberately ignored the previous statement. He replied, “As long as he doesn’t insist on bending me that way. If he wants me to become his younger brother, so be it!”

Selina smiled smugly with her swollen face and sent Aiden a text message: [He’s agreed to be your younger brother. You’re his only elder brother. No one will fight with you for this identity.]

Then, Selina received a call.

“Hello?”

“Pass the phone to Lil Rui. I have something to tell him.”

Selina, “...”

“Who’s this?” Leng Qirui took over the phone.

Leng Qirui’s mouth twitched rapidly, and his internal conflict went on for a long time before finally calling out, “Big Bro[2].”

It was obvious that Aiden was rather pleased to hear Leng Qirui call him that. He nodded and said, “Selina doesn’t know how to take care of people, so you have to take care of yourself, okay? Drink more water and eat more fruits to recover faster. Big Bro will boil you an old hen to make nutritious soup when I’m done with work. I’ll bring it to you tomorrow morning. Rest well, okay?”

Leng Qirui finally understood the extent of Aiden’s addiction to his game.

He had always thought that Selina was shameless enough, but oh boy, was he wrong about Aiden.

To bag this Almighty, Aiden did not hesitate to switch his sexual preference and Leng Qirui’s. If he failed, he would make himself Leng Qirui’s big brother.

Listening to his brotherly tone—that sounded like he had always been Leng Qirui’s big brother—Leng Qirui’s mouth twitched the whole time Aiden spoke.

Seriously...

Forget it. After being brothers with Ye Hai for so long, Leng Qirui was convinced that he had developed a strong tolerance for whoever became his elder brother.

Aiden was a million times better than Ye Hai as an elder brother, after all.

Ye Hai was no match for Aiden in terms of physical strength and status.

Moreover, Ye Hai had never offered to cook an old hen for Leng Qirui.

“Okay... Thank you, Big Bro!”

Aiden was clearly in a good mood after receiving Leng Qirui's acknowledgment.

Now, he could go hang out with pretty girls again, and his relationship with the Almighty was also one of a kind.

Finally, after the fight between Selina and Aiden, the problem was completely resolved.

From now on, one of them was Leng Qirui's only woman, while the other was his only big brother.

Leng Qirui only realized later that although his life would be smooth sailing from then onward, he would easily have his legs broken if he dared to look for another woman behind Selina's back or if he dared to look for another big brother behind Aiden's back.

Leng Jinpeng only realized later too that from today onward, he would lose his right to ask about his son's well-being. This was because Leng Qirui's Big Bro Aiden had practically taken over the responsibility of everything related to being Leng Qirui's father, brother, guardian, and butler.

Many people failed to understand the reason behind Aiden's action. Why did he sacrifice so much for the game?

Aiden wanted to say that this had nothing to do with the game. It had nothing to do with the Almighty playing games with him. In fact, it had nothing to do with how far the Almighty could carry him in the games they played...

This had more to do with the fact that Aiden's idol—someone he truly looked up to—belonged to Aiden!

You read that correctly. Aiden only had one idol in his life, and this idol was none other than his adorable, smart, and uncontestably handsome younger brother—Leng Qirui!

Night fell, and the atmosphere in the VIP room was heart-warming.

Selina and Leng Qirui sat side by side on the bed, but Selina occupied two-thirds of the bed, while the tall Young Master Leng occupied only one-third of the bed.

Chapter 957: Scorpion And Ye Hai

Both of Leng Qirui's hands were bandaged, and his right hand and legs were hanging from the ceiling. He watched Selina play games with difficulty while giving her tips. His voice was no longer as irritable as before.

Since he had already accepted his hot-tempered little wife, he thought he should treat her better.

Young Brother Leng was good at this, at least.

What he did not know was that Big Bro who claimed that he was going to make Leng Qirui old hen soup was stirring up a bloody storm on this peaceful night.

The boss of Hong Gang, Tao Guangyu, was enjoying his tea while appreciating flowers at a teahouse when he received an anonymous call.

"Hello."

"Is this Tao Guangyu?" The person on the other side of the line called him by his name. It sounded like a young man.

Tao Guangyu frowned unhappily. "Who are you?"

"You don't need to know who I am. I'm just here to give you a kind reminder that you should immediately evacuate the gang members from your Hong Gang, or else the Hong Gang will be dissolved before tomorrow arrives."

"What do you mean?" Tao Guangyu asked, pissed.

"What do I mean? You can ask your younger brother. Your brother made an enemy with an in-game Almighty by the name SuperBeech, and he wants to mess with said player. Coincidentally, I too have unresolved matters with the same person, so he accepted my commission worth 10 million and brought your Hong Gang to cripple Superbeech."

Hearing that it was just a typical violence-begets-violence incident, Tao Guangyu's wariness disappeared. He scoffed, "So, this is you thinking that my younger brother did a horrible job, and you want the 10 million refunded?"

"No, as an ally, I'm just reminding you out of goodwill. That SuperBeech's real name is Leng Qirui. He's the only grandson in the Leng family, a second-tier wealthy family in Emperor District."

Hearing that, Tao Guangyu's back shot up as straight as a ruler and he raised his voice. "What?!"

After all, anyone who made it to among the second-tier wealthy families in Emperor District not only needed to be rich, but they were usually backed with a political background.

"Not only that, Leng Qirui's father, Leng Jinpeng, is Commander-in-chief of Jiang District's military base. Your younger brother crippled his only son. Do you think Leng Jinpeng will let this matter slide? So, you'd better move the battlefield somewhere else. I'm afraid that it'll be too late if you don't make your move now, so I came to warn you out of the kindness of my heart."

With that, the anonymous young man hung up.

Tao Guangyu was so angry that he smashed his phone on the ground, shattering it into pieces. He shouted, "Get Tao Guanghe here now! Inform all the hall masters to gather at the front hall!"

"Boss, what happened?" a subordinate asked nervously.

"I don't wanna hear any nonsense right now! I told you to get him, so go!"

"Yes!"

On the other end of the phone, Ye Hai hung up and his eyes were tinged with dismay.

The foreign-looking mercenary next to him spoke to Ye Hai in Luntanese.

"Are you sure Leng Qirui is at least crippled if he's not dead?"

"Of course. I have a video as proof. Do you wish to show it to Scorpion?"

"Sure."

Then, Ye Hai sent the video over to Scorpion.

The person on the other side looked at the video with a satisfied smile on his lips. "Very good, Master Scorpion will definitely reward you handsomely. Getting you out is indeed a wise choice."

"Now that something has happened to Leng Qirui, there must be a decrease in Emperor District's defenses. You can find someone to get rid of those two old men from the Leng family. That way, the Leng family will lose their pillar of support. Once the two old men are dead, the two aunts from the Leng family will definitely be coveting Leng Group. The Leng family will get caught in a deadlock, and you'll be able to purchase Leng Group's stocks as blatantly as you want."

Chapter 958: Taking A Beating

"Are you sure?"

"I'm sure. Leng Jinpeng's little sister is a brainless and arrogant love-struck fool. If your people can ambush her, you'll definitely be able to take over Leng Group's stocks easily. When you have control of Leng Group, even if Leng Jinpeng is Commander-in-chief, he'll definitely rise to the occasion. When that happens, the Chi family will also butt in to help the Leng family. Are you afraid that you won't have the chance to interact with the Chi family?"

When the other man heard that, he laughed loudly.

"Good. With this information, I have no doubt you'll catch Scorpion's eye. Becoming his follower is only a matter of time."

Hong Gang, in the front hall.

All the higher-ups had already gathered in the front hall, except Tao Guanghe.

"Where's Tao Guanghe?!" Tao Guangyu asked angrily.

"Second Young Master went out with Miss Qi. He's been informed that you're looking for him, so he says that he'll definitely rush back in half an hour. 20 minutes have already passed, so he'll definitely be back within the next 10 minutes."

"Second Young Master is back! Boss, Second Young Master is back!"

When Tao Guangyu heard one of his henchmen's agitated report, he shouted angrily, "Get him in here!"

Tao Guanghe brought his fiancée, Qi Xiaotian, in with numerous shopping bags hung all over her arms.

Qi Xiaotian was a famous young model who was quite a looker. Tao Guanghe spent a lot of money to woo her.

"Big Brother, what's wrong? Lil Tian and I were about to eat outside, but you called us back."

Although Tao Guanghe was only the younger brother of the Hong Gang's leader, they lost both their parents when they were young. His elder brother had brought him up like a father. It could be said that Tao Guangyu doted on Tao Guanghe a lot and had never lost his temper with him.

However, after Tao Guanghe said that, Tao Guangyu slapped his face. Tao Guanghe, who was about to step onto the stage, staggered and lost his balance, falling to the ground.

“Big Brother, whatever did you hit me for? Do you know how much money I made for Hong Gang today?”

Seeing how gleeful Tao Guanghe was, Tao Guangyu almost vomited blood.

“Just 10 million, no?”

Tao Guanghe was stunned. “How did you know?”

“Hehe.” Tao Guangyu laughed coldly. “How did I know... Do you have any idea how big of a trouble you’ve caused Hong Gang just from wanting that SuperBeech guy dead because of some stupid grudge?”

Tao Guanghe was stunned. “Big Brother, what... what’s wrong?”

After all, Tao Guangyu would not lose his temper at Tao Guanghe easily.

However, Tao Guangyu was absolutely roaring at Tao Guanghe right now.

Tao Guanghe could no longer remain calm.

“What’s wrong?! You idiot, has your brain been filled with sh*t because all you do is flirt all day? Do you know who that SuperBeech that you sent people to beat up is? You don’t even know who he really is, and you think you’ve gained yourself a windfall because someone offered you ten million! You...”

Tao Guangyu was so angry that he was suddenly at a loss for words. He kicked Tao Guanghe’s chest and sent him flying.

“Ah! Big Brother, why did you kick Guanghe?”

A woman yelled from below. She scattered all the shopping bags onto the ground and charged forward, attempting to help Tao Guanghe up.

However, just as she squatted down, Tao Guangyu mercilessly raised a leg and kicked Qi Xiaotian in the chest, sending her flying backward.

Qi Xiaotian did not expect to suffer such a vicious attack and was dumbstruck. She yelped pitifully and lay sprawled on the ground on her face, unable to get up.

Chapter 959: Relocate

Tao Guangyu pulled Qi Xiaotian up by her hair and slapped her a few times.

The young and pretty model had all her teeth broken, and her face was swelling so badly nobody could recognize her anymore.

“Big Brother! What are you doing?! Lil Tian is my fiancée, can’t you respect her a little?”

Seeing this, Tao Guanghe hurriedly scrambled to his feet to Lil Tian’s rescue.

“Respect?” Tao Guangyu kicked him again.

Although the Tao brothers were a pair of brothers, Tao Guangyu was born much stronger than Tao Guanghe. Therefore, Tao Guanghe could not withstand Tao Guangyu's force and was sent flying again.

"How many times have I told you that this woman is too bewitching? She's a femme fatale, but you refused to listen. Great! For a woman, you beat up SuperBeech. Do you know that his real name is Leng Qirui? Do you know that he's the son of the Commander-in-chief of Jiang District's military base?"

Tao Guanghe was stunned. His eyes widened as he finally realized something was amiss.

A few hall masters of Hong Gang knew about this, but when they thought about the 10 million bucks worth of payment, they helped Second Young Master to carry out this task without any questions.

Who would have expected their target to have such a powerful background?!

"For this model, you didn't hesitate in destroying the foundation that our parents built. Even the word 'idiot' can't describe your stupidity!"

Tao Guanghe was scared out of his wits. When he thought about the situation that Hong Gang might face, his voice trembled.

"Big Brother... are you... mistaken?"

Angry laughter burst out of Tao Guangyu.

"Am I mistaken? The person who transferred the ten million to you called me earlier and told me to relocate Hong Gang immediately, or else Hong Gang would be suppressed and disbanded. Think about it, if that person is so rich and capable, why didn't he kill that SuperBeech himself and ask you to do the dirty work instead?"

Tao Guanghe thought for a moment and shouted angrily to his subordinates, "Investigate! Check the transfer ID immediately. I want to know who exploited my Hong Gang! I want to kill him!"

"Shut up!"

Tao Guangyu was rendered speechless by his stupid brother.

"He managed to call me so blatantly and asked me to move our base. Do you think he'd let you find out about him? Idiot!"

Tao Guanghe, "..."

"Boss, what should we do about this?" The group of hall masters and the brothers-in-arms in the headquarters started to panic.

After all, they had provoked the military this time.

"Are we really going to relocate or even disband?" a hall master asked angrily.

"Brothers!" Tao Guangyu pushed away Qi Xiaotian, who was beaten up so badly that she did not even dare to cry. He bowed to his brothers who fought alongside him for ages.

"Since my younger brother caused this incident, this is my fault. I'll definitely take responsibility for everyone. However, since we have offended the military, it looks like we have to move now. Now, let's disband first. When we find a place to stay and redesign our identities, I'll notify everyone at once. Then, everyone will go to the new city that I'll be in. Our members won't change, and our finances won't change too. Even if we start anew, we'll start a giant from the start. Everyone, do you agree?!"

However, only meager responses came from the members who would usually roar excitedly in acknowledgment.

Hong Gang was considered the largest gang in Green District. Although Green District was not a central city in the United Districts, its status was second only to a central city.

Chapter 960: Leaving

All these years, everyone relied on Hong Gang to establish their own businesses in Green District. Although it was all illegal work, they had already reached a sustainable scale in their own businesses.

"We can leave, but what about the businesses that we have in Green District? Are we waiting for the military base to crack down on all our shops, arcades, KTVs, and nightclubs?"

"Boss, we've been with you for so long. Are you going to abandon the rest of us for your stupid younger brother?"

"Brothers, what do you want to do?" Tao Guangyu asked with a righteous tone as though he was ready to hear the rest of them out.

"Let the people who started it take responsibility, of course!"

"Yes, as long as you send Tao Guanghe and Qi Xiaotian to the police station and let them take responsibility for this matter, we'll pay the 10 million bucks and pay Young Master Leng's medical fees. Even if it's the military base, they won't do anything rash, right?"

Tao Guanghe and Qi Xiaotian were completely dumbstruck.

None of them expected that a player in a mere game turned out to be the son of the military base's Commander-in-chief.

"No, no, Big Brother, you mustn't hand me in! I don't want to go to jail! I'll die in there!" Tao Guanghe was so scared that he quickly knelt before Tao Guangyu. He hugged Tao Guangyu's leg and cried until snot and tears started to flow from his facial cavities.

Qi Xiaotian was so frightened that she trembled and wailed herself hoarse.

"You're the one who caused this. If you don't take responsibility for it, how is it fair to cut off all livelihood of the Hong Gang members?"

The people below roared angrily in agreement.

When it came to their own interests, no one wanted to give in.

"Everyone, can I say one more thing?"

Tao Guangyu waited for the crowd to quiet down before continuing, "This Leng Qirui that I told you about just now isn't just the Commander-in-chief's son. After all, if this is his only identity, I'll definitely send Tao Guanghe to the police and let him bear the responsibility. However... this Leng Qirui is also the young master of a second-tier wealthy family in Emperor District. Everyone can investigate the Leng family in Emperor District. They're equivalent to the upper echelons even in the entire circle of second-tier wealthy families. There's also no point for me to withhold the information that Leng Qirui is the only patriarchal grandson of the Leng family. Once crippled, even if the military base were willing to let us off, would the Leng family let us off? Even if the military base didn't confiscate our assets, would the Leng family sit back without making their move? I'm afraid that when they make their move, they'll be even more ruthless than the military base. In fact, the Leng family will most probably suppress this matter and never lodge a report. Then, they'll see to this themselves. Now, does everyone still think the best solution here is to hand Tao Guanghe over to the police?"

The hall was deathly silent.

"Then, you should still have a large amount of money in your accounts. Give us the money and we'll forget about this."

"That's for sure. However... the person who spent ten million to kill Leng Qirui said that Hong Gang may be on the military base's wanted list tomorrow. If we don't disband now, I'm afraid none of us will have the time to do so," Tao Guangyu explained patiently, trying to brush off the demand bit by bit.

"Actually, I have thought about sending the money to everyone, but who should I send the money to? Is there someone all of you trust?"

There was silence.

The reason why Hong Gang grew so well was that Tao Guangyu was skilled at manipulation. The people under him did not trust any of their own peers. The only person they trusted was their leader, Tao Guangyu.

"I'll hide from the military for a period of time. If you're not afraid of being implicated by me, you can follow me still. After all, I'll wait for everyone to gather before splitting the money. Therefore, the most important thing now is to retreat. Only..."

"Retreat? How dare you leave after harming my precious little brother?"
