“Fine. But this fight will only happen after I took care of my personal matters,” Levi informed him.

Winsor nodded at that.

In the meantime, everyone else inhaled sharply as they knew this fight was extremely important – both of them were betting on everything they had.

Hence, whoever lost would have unimaginable consequences.

Not only would their fight cause a huge commotion in Erudia, but the rest of the world would also be thrown into an uproar.

Azure Dragon and his group stared at Levi while Zar and the rest stared at Asura, all of their eyes burning with determination.

They all hoped that their boss would win the fight, but they knew that both sides were very powerful.

Thus, at that moment, no one knew what the end result would be.

After they left, Bolgun asked, “Master, how confident are you about winning?”

“I’d say it’s fifty percent,” Winsor said after pondering about it for a moment.

“Huh...” three of them muttered as they drew in a deep breath.

There was only one possibility that she could think of.

Maybe Asura was actually there to protect me.

Based on what everyone says, he wouldn't even bat an eye even if someone dies right in front of him.

He probably came forward just for me, right?

There must be a reason as to why he did it.

Did Levi arrange this?

Impossible!

Asura wouldn't even obey the God of War, so why would he listen to Levi and protect me?

It'd be impossible even if Levi was an important person.

Meanwhile, Levi and the others separated from Azure Dragon.

The latter wanted to go to the Stuart family first, while Levi planned to visit an old friend of his – Benny Quinton.

There were many people at Benny's residence, eight people to be exact, including Benny.

Very soon, the Stuart family was in a frenzy.

All of the lights in the mansion were turned on, and almost everyone in the family went out of the house.

Everyone one of the familiar faces appeared before Azure Dragon.

The cowardly parents, who let people take advantage of them, and the uncle and aunts, who liked to add salt to the wound.

The Grandpa, who revoked his right of being the heir, Basil, was also there.

The ones who came out last were Curtis and Eldora.

The woman was still in his brother's arms, showing off how affectionate they were.

After years of training, Azure Dragon's powers were at the highest level.

It could be said that he was at the point where he wouldn't even panic even when the world was falling apart.

However, now that he met his enemies, Azure Dragon couldn't keep his calm anymore, and he clenched his fists tightly.

"Huh? It really is you. What is with you? Aren't you supposed to be in jail for twenty years? It hasn't even been ten years, why are you back already? Did you escape from prison and come back here? You know you're ruining the Stuart family's name by doing that!"

Basil and the others were afraid that he actually broke out of prison when they saw him.

"Eight years ago, you were but a worm, Indigo. Do you think a stint in prison could turn you into a real dragon?"

"Curtis has always been a living manifestation of your own worst nightmare. An insurmountable juggernaut beyond your reach no matter how much you try. You ought to know better than anyone else that he has only gotten stronger since, so what makes you think going to prison has changed anything for you?"

"Take back what's rightfully yours, you say? Let me tell you this – The only man fit for me is a stud like Curtis, not a pathetic sinner like you!" Eldora Seres's words plunged deep into Azure Dragon's chest like a thousand knives.

To think that Azure Dragon was previously convinced that she was to be his one true love... He had only himself to blame for his own error of judgment.

"You've got a nerve hurling threats around here, Indigo. Don't even think about stepping through our doors. You have been warned!" Ansel then stood himself between Azure Dragon and the entrance.

"What does Grandpa think?" Azure Dragon looked to his grandfather Basil.

There was a hint of fury in Basil's eyes. "Your uncle's right. In order to preserve the honor of our family, we can no longer afford to have you here. I will provide you with a sum of money sufficient to last you a lifetime. Take it, and leave Oakland City!"

Azure Dragon then asked of his parents, "Father, Mother. What say you?"

"We..."

His parents hemmed and hawed but did not utter anything discernible.

It was apparent that they had no say in the matter.

"Leave. From now on, you are no longer a member of the Stuart family!" Basil's pronouncement was swift and final.

“Very well. I will stand by you, as always!” Levi said as he placed an assuring hand on Azure Dragon’s shoulder.

The next day at the Stuart family mansion, the entire family was dining at the table in silence.

Strict discipline was necessary to help maintain their premier position amongst the imperial families, especially during this time when they were clashing with the rest.

Perhaps they would be able to ascend into the ranks of the ancient families in time.

“Grandpa, do you think that rascal Indigo would show up?”

The silence was broken by Curtis.

No one else spoke as no one else dared to.

It was different for Curtis, who had done much to earn the privilege.

“Do you think? I reckon that it was just a bit of boisterous chest-thumping, that’s all!” Basil sneered dismissively.

Elnora laughed. “Why concern yourself with that good-for-nothing, Curtis? He would not be able to measure up to a fraction of you even if given a hundred more years!”

"Hahaha... You're about to find out what separates you and me, maggot!" Curtis snorted.
"Do it, Curtis! Bring him to his knees!" Eldora screeched.
The top scion in Oakland City had headlined the pecking order in the Oakland City's Heir Leaderboard for eight years running, and his martial prowess had only gone from strength to strength during this time.
In short, Curtis was now practically untouchable.
Thus, to the Stuart family, Azure Dragon was already a dead man walking.
"Your wish for death will be granted!"
Curtis was instantly upon Azure Dragon in a single powerful stride.
He threw out a savage fist in a bid to finish his older brother in a single blow, but his expression changed when Azure Dragon managed to avoid it completely.
All present watched with bated breath once the fight commenced proper...
The haughtiness on the faces of the Stuart family turned to astonishment and then shock as the battle ensued...

"Have you got what I've asked for, Kirin?" Levi asked.

"Yes, God of War, it is en-route and should arrive in Oakland City shortly!" Kirin replied.

Levi was about to proceed with his next move when he was interrupted by a call.

He saw that it came from Abigail.

“Hey Abigail. How did you find out about my new number?” Levi asked in surprise.

“I got to know about it through Mr. Quinton!”

Abigail had been in regular contact with Benny since her arrival in Oakland City.

“What’s up?”

“Could you come and pick me up, Levi? I’m in a spot of trouble! Have to hang up now. Please come find me...” Abigail sounded a little harried.

Levi’s expression grew somber. “Get a lock on her location, Phoenix!”

“What?” The attendees gasped.

Even though those present were of noble descent, polygamy was a thing of the past. Not even current prominent members of the imperial and ancient families partook in it.

Confidants were tolerated, but there was to be only one woman who would be granted a recognized status.

It followed that no one could be accorded the title of concubine and no exception could be made even for one such as Tyrone Garrison.

However, none present dared voice their protestations against this scion of an ancient family.

Ultimately, Conrad had a reputation as a notorious libertine.

No one knew for certain how many young lives were ruined at the hands of The Casanova of Oakland City, who was also known as the ultimate lady killer, over the years.

His body count of female conquests might have numbered in the five to six hundred, with many of being underage when they had fallen prey to him.

More than a few also have vanished right after he took them away. Neither their person nor a cadaver had been found since.

As Conrad was a true deviant, his decision to take on a concubine came as no big surprise.

When Abigail came to Oakland City to work under the employ of the Garcia family, she had unexpectedly caught the eye of Conrad, who then forcibly wanted to make a concubine of her.

None recognized the male stranger who had appeared save for Jerry, whose face turned pallid upon seeing him.

It's Levi Garrison!

Martin smirked as he slinked away into a corner to spectate the events to unfold.

"And who the hell might you be?" Conrad challenged.

"Levi, you are here!" Abigail ran towards Levi the moment she saw him.

"What's happening here?" Levi asked.

Conrad took a step forward. "Let me give it to you straight. Abigail is to become my concubine!"

Abigail nodded furiously in affirmation of his general summary of the situation.

"Why in the world is anyone taking concubines in this day and age? Who granted permission for this?" Levi glared.

“You are begging for death, boy!”

“Who dares threaten Mr. Garcia? Are you tired of living?”

Up stepped two men – Cosimo Cuvier and Clarence Trent.

They were sons of the imperial families, variously the ninth and tenth ranking scions in the city.

Both of them were lifelong practitioners of martial arts and highly competent exponents.

“Clear out!” Levi warned.

“Get him!” Conrad commanded at the same time.

Cosimo and Clarence then simultaneously rushed towards Levi.

Bang!

Levi pivoted on one foot and lashed out with the other, sending the two men flying back in the opposite direction.

Crack!

The loudness of the fighting juxtaposed against the silence of the crowd.

The two young men crashed through several tables before falling heavily onto the ground, followed by their briefly quivering bodies before they lost consciousness.

As those awful sounds died down, the stillness of the air engulfed the entire room.
