Chapter 121

Aaron drew in a deep breath after the Lopez family had left—they were safe for now.

“Whew—honey, you sure are smart!”

Aaron didn’t forget to give Caitlyn a word of compliment.

“Hurry up and go look for my brother and Pamela! Or you’ll be the one to lose a finger!” Caitlyn said as she rolled her eyes at him.

The two immediately rushed to the Mariott Hotel.

“Is there something you want for you to see us at this hour?” Pamela asked.

“Bailey, Pamela, I’ll cut to the chase then! We want to borrow three hundred million from you! We’re in need of money for our business!”

“Don’t worry about us not paying you back. You guys should know about Zoey’s project. It’s a project worth more than a billion. Three hundred million will definitely not be a problem!”

Aaron and Caitlyn went straight to the question of money.

Pamela and Bailey exchanged glances.

“We need to discuss this first!”

After half an hour, the two agreed to lend them three hundred million— mainly because Zoey’s project was guaranteed to succeed.

Caitlyn sighed. "But the problem is Zoey. If she finds out, she definitely will not agree to this."

"We'll just hide from her then and tell her that the casino is giving us a few more days. We'll trick Levi to come over and have him go in my stead," Aaron said.

"Then we'll have to call Dad and the others over to impose a little pressure on him. They've been looking for him all day, but to no avail," Caitlyn said.

Aaron quickly made the arrangements.

After learning the news of the postponement for a few days, Zoey was much more relieved, but she didn't stop looking for solutions.

When Harry heard that Levi had been found, he immediately rushed over.

Thereafter, Aaron gave Enzo a call, asking if he could let Levi take his place.

To his surprise, Enzo agreed at once.

After hanging up, Enzo called Oswald.

"Mr. Rogers, you were right. The Lopez family is using Levi as a substitute."

"Okay. Let's make it a slow and terrible ordeal for Levi. Send me the footage of his fingers chopped off tomorrow!"

Oswald's cold and crazed voice sounded from over the phone.

"I'm wondering if we can push everything on Levi," said Aaron with a frown after leaving the underground casino.

Caitlyn's expression changed slightly. "You mean to transfer the three hundred million debt to Levi and then get him to divorce Zoey and cut off all ties with him?"

"Yeah! That would be killing two birds with one stone; we don't have to pay the money back and we can send away that odious brat."

"Drop it, you. You're the one who lost the money, and you signed the agreement. How are you going to do that?"

Aaron sighed, his heart sinking. "I need to think of a way."

In the casino, Levi was brought into a small and dark room.

Enzo sat in front of him, surrounded by sturdy men.

"Your father-in-law has pushed you out to have your fingers chopped off on behalf of him, Levi Garrison," said Enzo with a bloodthirsty smile. "Are you ready?"

Enzo picked up a sharp machete that glowed under the lights.

To the side were people holding cameras in their hands, ready to film.

It was an assignment from Oswald to film the process of Levi having his fingers chopped off.

Crackle!

“Ugh...”

Despite being at the top of their class, the thugs at the casino were not at the same level as the mercenaries who had been in and out of the battlefield all year round.

They were all knocked down in less than a minute, unable to deal with James and his mercenaries’ mortal blows.

While the thugs bathed in blood, their faces disfigured, Enzo was the last man standing.

“Beat him!” Levi ordered expressionlessly.

James grabbed Enzo’s face and punched him hard. After seven to eight consecutive blows, Enzo’s face sank in and was beyond recognition.

The shrill cries like those of a pig being slaughtered reverberated in the small and dark room.

They’d never expected Levi to have so many bodyguards with extremely high combat effectiveness following him.

“Well, what did I say?” Levi scoffed, looking condescendingly at the battered thugs.

"Why is it Levi?" Zoey sobbed after learning the truth.

Caitlyn snatched the phone over and said, "Sweetie, we had no choice! It was Levi who volunteered to take your Dad's place!"

"How could you do that? You didn't even tell me! Wait there, I'm coming home now!" Zoey cried.

Shortly after, Zoey arrived home.

"Sweetie, Levi told us not to tell you!"

"It doesn't matter if he loses a few fingers anyway, but I can't lose any," Aaron said.

A sob caught in Zoey's throat.

"Sweetie, you'll have to return the money as soon as possible. That way we can buy Levi a few more days," Caitlyn said.

"But that just means he'll lose a finger with every passing day!" Zoey screamed. "How could you bear to do it?"

"It's not like we have a choice. You can't just watch your dad suffer, can you? He's still young so he can take it!" Caitlyn comforted.

"Who is this person, Grandpa?" Zoey asked.

"I don't know. But we were informed that he's someone who has pursued you before. As long as you marry him, he'll pay the three hundred million for us and he promises that the Lopez family will be worry-free for life," Harry said.

Aaron and Caitlyn looked at each other, their eyes brimming with joy at the blessing in disguise and at Zoey's remarriage to a super-rich man.

"Go on then! Mr. Enzo has changed his mind and is only giving us one day. If you're late, Levi will lose all his fingers!" Harry prodded.

Hearing that, Zoey accepted the keycard and dashed out.

Naturally, these were all Oswald's arrangements.

It was he who gave them that three hundred million check. In his opinion, it was equivalent to not spending a single cent as the money would be returned to him after the Lopez family gave the check to Enzo.

Not only could he turn Levi into a cripple and hound him to death, but he could also get Zoey; it was simply the most profitable business.

Meanwhile, as soon as Zoey arrived at the hotel, Harry received a message: You can use the check now.

Aaron headed to the underground casino with Harry.

As soon as they arrived, they were brought up short by the sight of Levi coming down from the second floor, holding a stack of documents of title deeds and so on in his hands.

Most importantly, Levi's fingers were all completely intact!

He was clean from head to toe, with not a single stain of blood to be seen.

They looked at Levi's fingers.

Perfectly intact!

All ten fingers are still there!

How is it even possible?!

His fingers were clearly chopped off from the video!

As their mouths were still wide agape with incredulity, Levi had already come up to them.

“Wait!” Zoey shouted in panic when she heard that. “I’ll listen to you only if you don’t make things hard for him! Just don’t touch him!”

“Then come on!”

Oswald opened his arms wide, waiting for Zoey to fall into his arms.

Bang!

Crack!

Then, suddenly, the French windows behind Oswald made a sound like ice breaking and it shattered.

A man rushed in from outside—it was Levi!

Bang!

With a hard kick, he sent Oswald flying out of the way.

Boom!

Oswald slammed into the wall, bleeding all over the place.

He was about to struggle to his feet when Levi grabbed his hair.

Levi gave him a sharp punch to the face, causing Oswald’s spectacles to crumble.

In Zoey’s opinion, offending the Rogers family was much more of a crisis than this.
Reckoning that they would probably exterminate the entire Lopez family for this, she told Levi everything as soon as they returned to Bayview Garden.
“Yeah, I know.” Levi nodded.
“What should we do next? The Rogers family will soon find out about this!”
Zoey was stressed out to the extreme.
“Don’t worry. You still got me.” Levi smiled.
Zoey wouldn’t have believed it if Levi had said that in the past.

However, the scene of Levi breaking in through the window today was etched in her mind.

It made her feel safe and secure, and she was no longer afraid to take on the world with Levi.

Besides, if the Rogers family were to question them, she felt she could plead with Pamela.

At night, while flipping through different news channels on her phone in bed, Zoey came across a piece of intriguing news that happened on the streets of North Hampton.

However, Glenn changed the subject soon after. "But look at my grandson. How can I stomach this?"

"As you said, the celebration is around the corner. Let's get back at Levi once it's over," someone suggested.

"Okay, we'll give him a few days to fool around, then I want him dead, no matter his background or power!" said Glenn distantly.

Then, having thought of something, he instructed, "Inform those students of mine to attend the celebration!"

Everyone felt a rush of excitement when they heard that.

Some of Glenn's students served in the war zones, and others were in politics.

In terms of age, they were about thirty to forty years old and each of them was in the prime of their life. All held influential positions, like Steven Shaw.

It would have been a magnificent sight to see such people come together for the celebration.
