Chapter 1231

It was only a matter of time for the secret room to be discovered albeit being quite hidden.

As expected, the professional assassins located the secret room effortlessly within seconds.

Screech!

Suddenly, the footage from the surveillance camera turned blurry.

That means they've found the hidden cameras too.

With that, it defeats the purpose of having a secret room.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

Hearing the noises coming from above, Zoey and the rest had ants in their pants.

We're all doomed once they get in here.

"We've found it! All that's left is to force it open."

The assassins were all geared up to intrude into the place by force.

"Hey."

Out of the blue, someone tapped the shoulder of an assassin.

The assassin turned around and saw two men staring back at him coldly.

The voice thundered through the banquet hall and jolted everyone present.

"Who? Who is it?"

Everyone looked around to find the person that had just spoken.

"Who dares to call me despicable?" Jerry sneered.

Now that he had absolute power and authority, he stopped pretending to be chivalrous.

After all, his influence had further elevated after taking over Morris Group.

So what if others know my true colors? But who's the one who dares call me despicable?

Does he have a death wish?

"It's me!" A cold voice was heard.

At that moment, two figures emerged from the entrance.

One of them was unfamiliar to everyone as no one had seen him before.

As for the other...

Levi laughed. "That's a good idea. Why don't you inform Winsor right this moment? Tell him that I have returned to Erudia in defiance of my exile. Get him to come here and kick me out."

Levi's confident demeanor shocked Jerry.

Isn't he afraid?

"Levi, I have no idea why you're still alive and why your body has fully recovered. But once Winsor finds out about this, you will be in a world of trouble. After all, he was the one that gave the order to banish you and to forbid you from ever returning to Erudia. The moment you return, you are in open defiance of Winsor and his orders," Jerry cleared his throat and declared.

In response, Levi simply chuckled.

Why would I be afraid of Winsor? This is getting interesting.

"Levi, you are someone that has lost to Winsor, he's your bane and you know it! If he can beat you once, he can definitely beat you again."

"Once you are arrested by him for causing trouble in Erudia, do you think he will let you live?" Jerry sneered.

The exact same thought crossed everyone's minds.

After all, many in Oakland City had seen with their own eyes how Winsor defeated Levi.

In their minds, Winsor was stronger than Levi and Levi's appearance was considered an open provocation towards him.

Once Winsor found out Levi was here, the consequences would be dire.

"So get out of here now! I'll let you off this one time," Jerry scoffed.

This time, too many people had sacrificed their lives for Levi.
He couldn't allow them to die in vain, hence he had to have his revenge.
The one who gave the assassination order had to be ferreted out.
"it's a pity that my recovery was too slow. If only I had recovered faster, they wouldn't have to die."
Thinking back to the gruesome scene, Levi clenched his fists subconsciously.
North Sky Lord couldn't help but ask, "Master, I have always wanted to ask..."
"You want to ask how I recovered?" Levi surmised.
"That's right. I was surprised when you recovered from that condition in less than a month.
Furthermore, I feel that you are now stronger than before. I don't understand what's going on anymore."
North Sky Lord's face was filled with surprise.

Levi recalled his memories, "Eight years ago, I was framed and sent to prison. Before they sent me in, they made sure my limbs were all broken as punishment. Just when I was at the lowest point of my life, I had a stroke of luck. I met my benefactor in prison whom I'm more than willing to address as Master."

North Sky Lord had always considered himself to be extremely knowledgeable.

For example, members of The Calamity were not known to exist in the world.

However, he was still surprised to hear about Levi's master.

A whole clan labeled as criminals the moment they are born?

Even those that come into contact with them are punished?

What did they do to deserve such a harsh punishment?

"I have not told anyone about my secret in the prison. Thinking about it now, it seems my master has saved me twice already," Levi lamented.

The world is still a beautiful place, where the good outnumbers the bad.

There are still many who are good to me including those that I hardly know.

For the sake of all those people, I have to live and get to the bottom of this.

“Don’t you plan on visiting him?” North Sky Lord asked.

Winsor's master was none other than the man that Levi was looking for – Mr. Finch.

His full name was Sampson Finch.

He was the one responsible for plotting to kill Levi.

He had Tenichi use the Blood King Palace to tempt Levi away and poisoned him.

He was also the one who ordered the assassination of Forlevia twice.

Everything was put in place by him from behind the scenes.

When Damien was fighting against Levi, the Garrison family cheated so that Damien wouldn't lose.

However, what they did was nothing compared to Sampson.

To ensure Winsor's victory, Sampson put in place many traps and even had the Four Warriors help him from the shadows.

They had to cheat in order to defeat Levi.

Sampson's objective was simple. He felt that Levi didn't deserve to be Erudia's God of War and wanted his own disciple to take on the title.

The moment Levi was awarded the title of God of War, he was already in Winsor's way.

However, it was ironic that Winsor thought he had beaten Levi fair and square.

He was oblivious to the fact that everything was arranged by his master and the fact that Levi decided to lose on purpose in the end.

In reality, Winsor's own capabilities only made up one-third of the factors for his victory over Levi.

"Master, why are you here?" Winsor was curious.

The great families owned many ancient artifacts and technologies such as martial art techniques, medical knowledge, etc.

There was nothing in the mundane world that was interesting enough for them.

Therefore, Winsor couldn't fathom why his master left their home.

Ever since he left home at fifteen, he never saw his master again.

Unbeknownst to him, however, his master had actually left their home in the beginning and was busy scheming against Levi.

"I am here to visit you. I can see that you're doing well for yourself since you are now the one and only God of War of Erudia."

Sampson patted Winsor on his shoulder.

A cold voice reverberated throughout.

The manor’s hundreds of security guards charged ahead.

One by one, the security guards were sent flying.

Two figures walked into the manor’s living hall with bodies strewn all around them.

The Garrison clan’s elite security guards fell like flies.

In the hall.

Olivia’s expression drastically changed.

Even Sampson’s entourage was shocked.

Who is it?

How dare they cause trouble here?

A moment later, two figures emerged in the hall.

Sampson stared at Levi and scoffed, "Levi, I never expected to see this side of you. Are you trying to find excuses for your own defeat?"

Levi simply smiled in response.

You're really shameless to still deny it.

Sampson continued, "Do you still want to claim that your body has been poisoned? And that you had to fight the warriors from both the Blood King Palace and Garrison clan consecutively? And that my disciple won because we cheated?" Sampson threw all the questions back at Levi.

He tried to turn the situation around by making it look like Levi was making excuses for losing.

Levi replied with a smile, "That's correct. What you have said is true. By the way, there's one more thing I need to tell you. I actually lost to Winsor on purpose because I wanted to see who the real mastermind was."

"Hahaha..." Sampson burst into laughter.

"You lost to my disciple on purpose? That's just ridiculous. Losers really are good at finding excuses. You will never beat my disciple in your entire life!" Sampson sneered.

Although that was what he said, he was actually aware of the fact that Levi was more powerful than Winsor. Or else, they wouldn't have needed to cheat.

However, when Levi claimed that he had lost on purpose, it was the ultimate insult to Sampson.

He had made massive sacrifices to scheme and plot.

But in the end, Levi claimed that it was his choice to lose.
