Chapter 1291

Winsor was only suitable to be a mighty warrior.

But Levi was beyond that; he was more of a commander.

Following that, he took the magical medicine to East Sky Lord and asked the latter to analyze the ingredients inside, hoping that it could be mass-produced.

“Did he give you any trouble?” Zoey asked Levi right after she entered the room.

“No. Instead, he hopes that I recover sooner.” Levi laughed.

Then he added, “By the way, where are your parents?”

Normally, the Lopez and Black families will try their best to cause us trouble if they know that I’m back and disabled. This is abnormal. I haven’t seen a soul after so long. Something is not right.

“Logan got into an accident. They are occupied with the aftermath,” Zoey explained.

Logan joined a street racing with his friends a few days ago and was met with an accident.

It was said that his injury was fatal and some of his organs were failing.

The Black family was busy dealing with the repercussion as he was an essential member of the family.

Therefore, they had no time to pick on Levi yet.

Everyone's eyes were gleaming upon Jennie's reminder. The silhouette of that man came into their minds.

That's right! How could we forget about him!

In fact, all of them knew about his arrival, but they couldn't be bothered by him previously.

Jennie remarked, "Levi may be alive, but he is disabled. He's wheelchair-bound. As a man who could not stand on his own, what's the difference if he has one fewer kidney?"

Meredith nodded. "That's right. The kidney is an important organ for normal people like us. But not for a crippled man like Levi. He has got no use for it."

"Yes. He's already physically challenged. An organ is not essential to him. Besides, we are asking for one kidney only, not both. It won't make much of a difference to him anyway." Robert tried his best to sound reasonable.

"I agree. Having one fewer kidney will decrease the quality of our lives. We'll become weaker and easily exhausted. But it won't affect a paralyzed man much."

"That's right. Levi is the best candidate. We shall let him donate his kidney to save Logan."

Everyone agreed that Levi should be the donor.

Dr. Chase was stunned for a moment. Then he turned to Jennie and the others and noticed their twisted facial expressions.

It was at that moment that he knew he had spilled the beans.

This person did not know a thing. It was an unnecessary question.

“He agrees! He has to! We are family! Otherwise, why would we donate a kidney?” Meredith remarked.

The others approved, “That’s right! He agrees!”

“Please begin the operation at once! You have our thanks!” Jennie urged, trying to prevent Levi from reacting.

“Who said that I agree? I don’t! I knew nothing about this! A kidney donation? To whom?” Levi bellowed.

"Okay. There's nothing to worry about. I've checked with the doctors just now. He's very healthy and his kidneys are in top condition. Lady Luck is on Logan's side this time."

After hearing the test result, everyone felt relieved and smiled.

If Levi's kidney is healthy, Logan will recover earlier.

With that, Russell made a call to Zoey.

He could do nothing to stop the family, but he thought he could at least inform her.

Zoey was aghast after hearing the news.

They took Levi away without saying a word!

Immediately, she called Meredith's cellphone but the latter did not pick up the call.

After a few attempts, Meredith answered.

Within fifty minutes, Zoey had arrived at the hospital. She was able to arrive so quickly because she had beat almost every single red light on the way to the hospital. “You are too late. The surgery had gone on for an hour!” Jennie mocked as she smirked at her. “All of you are so cruel! Why don’t you go and donate your organs then?” Zoey yelled at the crowd angrily. “Levi Garrison is now disabled. His family should be the ones donating him something, right? Besides, only one of his kidneys is being removed. It’s not a big deal because he still has one kidney left!” Everyone present ignored Zoey, who was so furious and was about to go ballistic. Initially, Levi could have recovered. However, if one of his kidneys were removed, the chances of his recovery would be drastically reduced.

“I’m not letting you do that! I’m going to stop them!” Zoey screamed.

With that, she ran towards the operating theatre.

However, she was blocked by everyone there.

As the surgery continued, Zoey could only wait in despair.

After a few hours, the emergency light of the operating theatre was turned off, meaning the surgery was a success.

Everyone was under the impression that Levi had donated one kidney to Logan.

Even Zoey thought so.

“Levi is Logan’s savior. All of you should be begging on your knees for gratitude! I can’t believe that there are people like you!” Zoey berated them.

Zoey was utterly disappointed at that moment.

They had treated Levi like a tool in order to achieve their own selfish desires.

“Why do we need to thank him?”

“That’s what he should have done anyway! He should be thanking us instead because we accepted him even though he was disabled!”

“He only did what he should have done. He couldn’t possibly think he could be a freeloader here. Who does he think he is?”

...

As expected, the Black family all echoed the same sentiments.

They all believed that Levi was obligated to sacrifice himself for their family.

“He should be honored that he has the opportunity to save Logan! Others don’t even have the chance to do so,” stated Jennie.

Instantly, the Blacks started to hatch a plan to take over Zoey's company.

They didn't dare to do it before as Zoey was protected by Dale.

However, times have changed.

"Alright. Let's think of a way to take over the Morris Group."

"Zoey will put up a strong fight. We must think of a foolproof plan to ensure that she willingly gives up the company!"

Meredith and Robert exchanged glances.

They were getting old and their only wish left were to help the Black family become more powerful.

This was their sole motive and calling.

They were willing to give up everything for their family.

Hence, they resolved to take over the Morris Group.

They were also wicked in that they had killed millions of people.

Their ancient daggers glittered and looked absolutely deadly.

Whoever the dagger touched would immediately die.

Tyrone and his gang were surrounded with such weapons pointed at them!

“What?” exclaimed Levi in astonishment as he looked at the familiar figures in front of him.

“Is this... Is this The Calamity?” Tyrone asked as his mouth widened in shock.

Although the Calamity had been oppressed by Winsor Campbell, the Garrison family was still no match for the group.

All the Garrisons were trembling in fear.

“Indeed! We are The Calamity!” Levi roared loudly.

An even more shocking scene then appeared.

Levi carried Evie and stood up from the wheelchair.

"What is it?" Tyrone asked with a hunch that Levi was up to no good.

"From now on, the Garrison family belongs to me! Everyone must obey me!" boomed Levi.

"What?" Tyrone expressed his astonishment as his face turned white.

Doesn't that mean all of us are Levi's slaves?

To give up my entire family is far worse than killing me!

"As for you, that is simple. There is a small town in Northgale that is so secluded that it does not even exist on the map. I will imprison you there for the rest of your life so you'll never see the outside world again!" commanded Levi.

Boom!

Tyrone felt like he was about to explode.

He would go crazy to be locked up in a place akin to a prison cell!

To be imprisoned in a secluded town in the desert would be unbearable for him.

They had had their eyes on Zoey for a very long period of time.

With the opportunity in their hands, they wouldn't let it slip away easily.

On that day, the Lopez and Black families called a meeting in order to force Zoey and Evie to turn up.

Although Levi had placed many bodyguards to protect Zoey, he didn't think much of it when the Lopez and Black families organized the meeting.

Zoey and Evie arrived at the Lopez family home.

Suddenly, a bunch of people surrounded them.

Every single one of them looked fierce and intimidating as if Zoey was under trial.

Zoey instantly felt that something was wrong.

Soon, Harry and Meredith arrived with a few others.

Amongst them was Logan's Grandpa and parents.

Then came the actual purpose of this gathering...

"We must thank Zoey for this meeting! If not for her, our three families rarely get the chance to meet up so cordially!" Meredith commented with a smile on her face.
