Chapter 1321

It was a nerve-wracking moment.

Everyone was curious as to who was the Crown King, especially Winsor and the enemies of Erudia.

Who would the Crown King be?

Would he be a threat or danger to us?

Thus, they couldn't wait to see who the Crown King would be.

It was time for the Crown King to go on stage.

"Presenting the royal robe!" announced the Dragonites.

The Crown King's royal robe was brought onto the stage.

A magnificent and imposing Qilin was embroidered on the robe.

It was also the insignia of the Crown King!

"Let us welcome the Crown King!"

A second later, a towering figure flanked by the Dragonites appeared on stage.

It was an event broadcasted live, so almost everyone was watching it right now.

As the sound resonated in the air, silence ensued.

The audience was silent, and everyone froze dead in their tracks.

Even the audience watching the ceremony on TV was shocked into silence.

No one had expected to see such a scene at the coronation ceremony.

After all, why would one object to the crowning of the Crown King after decades?

The Crown King had put on a mask upon his first appearance, but his imposing aura was convincing enough.

Even Winsor was willing to admit defeat.

He figured the Crown King was one of the powerful warriors from the Four Great Families.

Only the great families were powerful enough to train such a powerful and indestructible warrior.

Hence, he didn't have any objections as he knew how horrifyingly powerful the warriors from the Four Great Families were.

Still, there was someone who dared to voice their objection.

Minka had only met him once, but she thought he was the best candidate to be the Crown King.

Why? Levi wondered.

Even Winsor was rendered speechless.

How could she say Levi’s better than me? I defeated him and The Calamity!

If Minka thinks Levi is the most suitable candidate to be the Crown King, she thinks he’s more capable than me!

He refused to accept that!

Thus, he decided to challenge Levi to prove he was stronger than Levi.

Winsor immediately declared, “Minka, you’re wrong. If I’m here, why are you saying Levi is the most suitable contender to be the Crown King? I’ve already defeated him and The Calamity, which is stronger than Blood King Palace!”

He continued in a huff, “I can do everything he can. I can also achieve things he couldn’t achieve. How could you say he’s the most suitable contender to be inaugurated as the Crown King? What about me?”

Winsor had zero tolerance for people who questioned his capability, so he confronted Minka without hesitation.

The Dragonites have handed a tough problem to me.

After all, the Dragonites had their own considerations.

Right now, it was best to keep the Crown King's identity and capability a secret so their enemies would remain fearful.

Yet, Minka had forced them into a corner.

They had no choice but to place their hopes on Levi.

Besides Minka and the rest, the foreign forces would also like to know who the Crown King was.

Just the slightest bit of information would do, but Minka was insistent on finding out Levi's real identity.

"Come on! Give me a compelling explanation!" Minka barked out since the crowd had fallen silent.

Forces from all over the world were now silent as they waited eagerly for the Crown King's identity to be revealed.

Slowly, Levi slid the sword back into its sheath.

Without warning, he raised his head, his eyes gleaming like lightning.

It was a contemptuous gaze.

The exact thought crossed everyone's minds.

They were burning with curiosity. What made the persistent Enyo give up after reading it?

Minka gazed at the crowd. "It's a secret!"

The moment she got the book, she knew what the Dragonites' plan was.

"If you're curious, go ahead and read the book on the stage!" she declared.

Levi chimed in. "Yes. Anyone who refuses to admit defeat can come read it!"

His sharp gaze swept across the crowd.

Naturally, no one dared to voice their objections.

Fear overwhelmed their entire beings.

"I shall place the book here. Whoever is curious can come read it now!" Levi lowered his voice and announced.

The crowd sneaked peeks at the book, but no one dared to head up to the platform to read it.

Minka's confident words irked Winsor greatly.

No! I need to do everything I can so Levi returns to his prime.

I have to defeat him again so no one will question my ability!

Winsor made up his mind to head to the Great Family of Frostford so he could ask for the ancient medicine and medical knowledge to treat Levi.

Minka had the same thought in mind. Levi has to recover soon so he can defeat Winsor.

Coincidentally, Minka came from one of the Four Great Families—the Great Family of Southford.

The Great Family of Southford had a different legacy from the Great Family of Frostford, but their power and structure were almost comparable.

That was why Minka could end up being the only Enyo in Erudia in her twenties, for she was born into a great family.

No matter how persistent and talented the other young ladies out there were, without proper training, they would never make a name for themselves on the battlefield.

Soon, Levi appeared as the Crown King in front of the others.
Besides his own subordinates, Winsor and Minka were waiting for him, too.
Everyone was impressed by the Crown King's capability.
They couldn't wait to see how he looked like after removing the Dragon Mask.
"Kings of War, Asura, and Enyo. You have to protect Erudia from our enemies. Don't waste your time on unnecessary stuff!"
Both Minka and Winsor were momentarily stunned after hearing his words.
The others didn't find anything strange with that announcement, but they felt it was directed at them.
Just mere moments earlier, they were wasting their time and efforts on Levi.
Hence, this was clearly a warning for them.
As this had just happened a few minutes ago, they had no idea how the Crown King found out about their plan.

North Sky Lord's excellent skills in driving had allowed him to avoid the two boulders deftly. Still, the road was blocked.

Soon, a few men emerged from the darkness.

Clearly, they had been waiting to ambush Levi.

Levi was an ordinary man now, but he used to be the God of War.

Though no one in Erudia dared to offend him, it didn't stop some people who wanted to harm him.

Who is it?

To Levi's surprise, they were all Ultimate class warriors who were as powerful as Sampson.

“Mm? The Great Family of Frostford?”

They had the same aura as Winsor, so Levi was certain that they were from the Great Family of Frostford.

He parted his lips to ask, “Do you know who I am?”

The leader responded coolly, “Of course. You’re Levi Garrison, the ex-God of War.”

Since they found the culprit, they could directly kill him off.

“Based on your abilities?”

Both Levi and North Sky Lord then laughed.

“Huh?”

The members of the Great Family of Frostford were taken aback for a moment as they looked incredulously at the pair.

What? Shouldn't we be the ones saying that?

“Attack!”

They then began to take action.

Abruptly, several bolts of lightning shot out while aiming at Levi.

“North,” Levi said softly.

At the same time, he also lit up a cigarette and began to smoke.

The members of the Great Family of Frostford then began to fight against North Sky Lord.

Although both parties fought hard, no one from the Great Family of Frostford could get close to the car.

At that time, more than a dozen men from the Great Family of Frostford were investigating the matter together.

North Sky Lord immediately understood what Levi meant. Thus, he said, “Are you trying to let the Great Family of Frostford show themselves first? That way, the other dark forces will surface one by one, and it’ll become much easier to get rid of these hidden dangers in Erudia!”

Levi nodded. “Yeah, that’s the plan. We’ll get them to expose themselves first. Then, it’ll be easier for us to investigate.”

Of course, there was still another layer of meaning to his words. That was, as a citizen of Erudia, they had to accept its rules.

At that moment, he was getting increasingly suspicious that when the Dragonites spoke of the hidden dangers of Erudia, they were referring to those hidden forces.

Since they were powerful, secretive, and unrestrained, it was the easiest for them to do various things that threatened Erudia.

It was the reason why he forced the Great Family of Frostford out first when they appeared.

Because such an action would definitely pull out the other hidden forces one by one.

When the time came, it would then be easier to investigate the situation.

After all, it was his task to eliminate everyone and whatever forces were threatening Erudia.

Sometime later, Levi finally reached North Hampton.

When he got home, Zoey brought Forlevia to pick him up at the door.
