Chapter 1401

It was completely different from what they were expecting.

How could it be this easy?

Levi did not resist and even gave them the medicine willingly.

This can't be it!

What did he mean earlier?

He had been waiting for us?

Hmm...

As if on cue, everyone's pupils shrank and their eyes widened in anxiety.

Is he going to...

They all shared the same terrifying thought.

"Well? Take it!"

Levi shoved the box forcefully into one of the men's hands, and the man looked down at it in surprise.

Is he really just giving it up?

Chapter 1402

Levi was going to make a move in person this time. With the information collected from the trackers, he arrived at South Hampton with North Sky Lord. The men that they were tracking were headed into a secret training base. A man, who seemed to be in charge of the mission, wore a black mask with a tiger print.

"Did you complete the mission?" He questioned.

"Yes, Black Tiger. The mission went successfully, and here is the medicine." One of his men went forward to present him the box.

"How about Levi? Did you kill him?" Black Tiger raised an eyebrow and asked.

"We did not kill Levi... But Black Tiger, please hear me out first..."

After his subordinate finished his story, the masked man seemed pleased.

"Is that true? The mighty God of War was willing to hand this to you just so that you would spare his life? Hahaha..."

"Yes. That was also the reason why we decided to let him off since he seemed so pitiful." The men felt a boost of pride after seeing their leader's reaction. "Black Tiger, did you know that he not only presented the box with the medicine to us, but he also told us the password to it. I guess he was scared out of his wits!"

In response, Black Tiger chuckled. "This is great. You have to spread this news out as soon as possible. I want the whole of Erudia to know how the God of War has betrayed them!"

“No matter what happens, I will never be a traitor!” Logan declared.

“Levi should be hammered to the pillar of shame forever.”

“It’s too embarrassing to have anything to do with Levi! I’d rather jump off a building than be associated with him now.”

The Lopez and Black families were the masters at being rude.

Now that Levi was in trouble, they could not help but throw in sarcastic comments.

They started to comment that Forlevia would never acknowledge him as a father and that Zoey would never want him as a husband.

Most of his relatives spoke like that.

They did not care for his success and were delighted to see him fall from grace. Not only so, they were even jumping at the chance to add salt to his injury.

What happened to Levi was the epitome of how years of trust and respect could be broken down in the blink of an eye.

In fact, if Levi showed up in front of them, he would probably be drowning in his so-called relative's insults and criticism.

"No, Levi isn't someone like that," Zoey huffed in disbelief. "There must be something wrong with the news!"

Amidst the numerous criticisms thrown at Levi, Zoey tried to defend him as best as she could.

George's reply only affirmed Levi's departure.

Although he desperately wanted to fill Zoey in, he knew it was top secret and had no guts to spill it.

"Levi is a traitor!"

"Zoey, you can't clear his name this time."

Everyone else was beaming as they were delighted to see that Levi had hit rock bottom.

"I..."

The words got stuck in Zoey's throat.

She decided to remain silent for the time being, thinking that she would prove them wrong when the time comes.

Although Levi's behavior was out of the norm, she still trusted him.

He is not someone who would betray his country.

Just because he is sitting in a wheelchair, it doesn't mean that he is any less of the man that he was before. In fact, he is someone who would rather die than beg and kneel for his life.

"We should exile him from Erudia immediately! Letting him stay as a citizen would only result in the country's embarrassment." Zoey heard more scornful remarks.

"From today onwards, I shall declare that I no longer have anything to do with Levi."

"Zoey, both you and Evie should also break your ties with him. Otherwise, everyone else will see the two of you as criminals like him!"

Black Tiger and his men were overjoyed.

Not only did they have their drug, but they also managed to ruin Levi's good name.

Hearing about the numerous nasty remarks made on Levi, they were elated and felt a strong sense of pride.

They never thought things would escalate to this stage.

The nosedive effect was likely because Levi had built up such a good reputation from before.

"I guess it was a good choice that we spared his life. Otherwise, the outcome would have been different from what we got."

“Exactly! He probably wishes to be dead at this point.”

Black Tiger and a few others started chattering among themselves.

Much to their ignorance, Levi was keeping a watchful eye on them.

So, these are the culprits.

These scums from Erudia were in cahoots with those from Zarain all along.

Soon, Black Tiger brought them to a villa.

The security around the villa was rather strict, and they would likely notice anyone who was within a few kilometers from them.

Black Tiger followed Black Phoenix out of the villa obediently.

The group was being very cautious, especially Black Phoenix.

She had checked the path they were going to take to ensure that there was no danger and no one trailing behind them.

Despite so, Levi still managed to follow behind them in the dark.

It did not take long before they arrived at an upscale area in Oakland City.

Most of the residents were wealthy businessmen who came from overseas, and few people came by.

Since the area was relatively deserted, the Avengers thought that it was the perfect place to meet.

Soon, Black Phoenix and several others entered a manor and waited for Prince William's messenger to arrive.

Meanwhile, Levi and North Sky Lord had also sneaked into the place.

"Black Phoenix, Erudia has really suffered a heavy loss this time!

"Not only did they lose their precious medicine, but they also lost it to us. Prince William's men would be able to analyze the ingredients, and it'd no longer be unique to Erudia."

Black Tiger let out a hearty laugh. "Not only that, Levi's name has also taken a hit. How great is that!"

Black Phoenix rejoiced as well. "Well, as criminals to Erudia, we could not

Black Phoenix's eyes were filled with anticipation and wild excitement.

Black Tiger and the others were equally riled up.

"Is it true?" everyone asked.

"Of course! Or else, our leader wouldn't have personally gone to Raysonia. He is there to finalize the plan," Black Phoenix declared proudly.

It was obvious how much confidence she had.

"How big is it really?"

Black Tiger's eyes lit up.

Black Phoenix laughed. "If the operation is successful, it will deal Erudia a blow so devastating that their citizens would suffer a crisis of confidence..."

Gasp!

Black Tiger and the others caught their breath.

They knew that their leader's plan would definitely be massive.

But, they still didn't expect it to be this colossal.

"To be honest, we should be thanking the Four Great Families. By breaking the agreement, they allowed all the factions that have been working in the shadows to step out. And that's how we got our break."

Although North Sky Lord's origin was unknown and he had no family nor friends, he was still an Erudian at heart and loyal to the country.

Hence, he was concerned that the drug had been taken away.

Wouldn't the formula be revealed? It would deal a devastating blow to Erudia.

"It is! After all, the bait needs to be tempting enough for them to bite. Given their capabilities, they would quickly find out if it was a fake," Levi explained.

North Sky Lord sighed in resignation.

Suddenly, Levi burst into laughter. "Of course, I wouldn't be that foolish to give them the actual drug just like that. The research for the drug took a very long time. Consequently, there were tens of thousands of failed prototypes that were produced and tested. The drug I gave them was one of the later-stage prototypes. Hence, they won't realize it for the time being. By the time they complete the analysis of the ingredients and produce the drug, it would already be way too late."

It dawned upon North Sky Lord that when the Dragonites brought up the drug, it was all part of Levi's plan.

Therefore, Levi wasn't worried about the drug falling into Prince William's hands.

"North, inform East to lead his men to Raysonia and find out what is going on there. Also, get West to mobilize all resources available to investigate. If that isn't enough, use my title as the Crown King to bypass all the limits on his authority," Levi ordered.

Thierry's dramatic actions caught the Lopez and Black families by surprise.

What's going on?

Even Cora was baffled.

Meredith asked curiously, “Cora, I heard the Great Family of Westford is involved in a major operation. Is that true?”

Everyone present turned to look at Cora, causing her to catch her breath.

“That’s right. This is the first time in my life I see so many men being mobilized. It is unprecedented!”

“Cora, are we now members of the Great Family of Westford?” the crowd asked.

“Of course. What about it?”

Meredith inquired, “Shouldn’t we be part of this mission too? Why are we not involved?”

Her words infuriated Judy.

“How do you intend to participate? What can you contribute? What capabilities do you even have? How many Ultimate class and God class warriors do the two of your families possess?”

“Erm...”

The Lopez and Black families were stunned by Judy’s question.

The butler was sent by Harry to keep an eye on Levi's manor.

However, he had acted recklessly by making a storm out of a teacup, alarming Thierry needlessly.

The Lopez and Black families expressions darkened.

By panicking in front of Thierry, the butler had disgraced them.

Everyone was quaking in their boots, fearful of Thierry's anger.

Unexpectedly, Thierry asked, "Do you mean Levi the traitor?"

Given how widespread the controversy was, Thierry and Judy naturally knew about it.

"That's him! He stole many of the drugs and even sold a portion to someone else. He has betrayed Erudia!"

"I am disgusted by the fact that I know him."
