Chapter 1411

Zoey began to worry but there was nothing she could do.

If Levi is handed directly to the Crown King, wouldn't it mean the end of him?

After all, treason is a serious crime.

In fact, Levi's mother, myself, and Evie might be dragged into it.

However, we might still be safe on Thierry's account.

But, Levi would be in serious trouble.

"You should stay out of it!"

Aaron restrained Zoey.

Meanwhile, Shaun and Logan lead their men to storm the royal manor.

When they arrived, Thierry's Six Slaves were stunned.

What a coincidence!

Doesn't the Crown King live here?

As Shaun led the way, the route grew increasingly familiar to them.

Isn't this the way to the Crown King's manor?

They couldn't wait to see Thierry punish Levi and for the Crown King to sentence Levi to death.

"Move quickly! You troublesome handicap!"

Shaun and his men wheeled Levi along as they openly expressed their contempt.

"Erm..."

Thierry's Slaves grew increasingly nervous at what they saw.

He is the Crown King. Are you guys crazy?

None of them dared to imagine what was going to happen next.

When they arrived at the courtyard, many members of the Lopez and Black families had gathered.

"How dare you return? You traitor!"

"I am going to make you suffer today!"

"You are such a disgrace!"

At the sight of Levi, the Lopez and Black families reacted hysterically.

Some cursed him while others wanted to beat him up.

Meredith tried to slap him while Harry brandished a stick at him.

He was shocked by what he saw.

Levi laughed. “Mmm-hmm. It is I, Levi Garrison.”

The moment their eyes met, the air was filled with tension.

Thierry's haughty expression turned into one of utter disbelief.

As his pupils constricted, his eyeballs almost popped out of their sockets.

He could feel his knees buckled as he almost slumped to the ground.

Judy's face lost all color and turned white as sheet.

Everyone else's expression darkened.

"Huh?"

Gasp!

They caught their breath and wondered what in the world was going on.

Why are they shocked by the sight of Levi?

Judy had wheeled Levi back out.

She did so with great reverence as if Levi was someone extremely important.

“Ms. Langston, isn’t Levi going to be punished?” the crowd asked.

“That’s none of your business.”

Judy shot them a glare before leaving with Levi.

The Lopez and Black families were bewildered.

Aren’t they going to punish Levi?

However, they didn’t dare to question any further.

As for Zoey, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Nevertheless, she could sense that something was amiss.

Thierry and Judy’s reaction when they saw Levi was too dramatic to ignore.

Many others shared the same feeling but no one was able to put a finger on what it was.

"Master, what did the Dragonites say?"

North Sky Lord could no longer contain his curiosity.

"Raysonia and Keerea are planning a summit for the twenty-eight nations of Bayview. Naturally, all the countries in Bayview are invited. On behalf of Erudia, I am also invited given that I'm the Crown King," Levi explained.

North Sky Lord's expression drastically changed. "Can it be that their grand plan is to assassinate you?"

Gasp!

Everyone caught their breath.

Levi nodded. "Precisely. Just as I expected, the best way for them to weaken Erudia is to kill me."

Levi had guessed that the Avengers didn't dare carry out their plan in Erudia because they weren't confident it would succeed inside the country.

With regards to dealing a blow to Erudia, the best way was obviously to assassinate the person at its top echelons of power.

Winsor and Minka were not within consideration as just being a God of War didn't qualify...

"The Avengers are a terrifying bunch! They expect us to not only attend, but to also only send one representative."

"Only your enemy or rival know you best. Consequently, they will torment you incessantly."

Levi shook his head in resignation.

The Avengers had shown how diabolical they were through their plan.

They had openly declared their intention.

Despite knowing that it was a trap, Levi had no choice but to attend.

Erudia would be humiliated if he didn't, and there was no way he could allow that.

The Avengers had planned it this way on purpose as they were fully aware of the dilemma the Crown King faced.

Most importantly, they had restricted each country to only send one representative.

It was obvious that this was aimed at the Crown King.

Should I accept it?

If I do, I would be stepping into a trap.

If I don't, Erudia would be seen as a coward.

Many of them piled on the snide comments.

After all, the news of Levi selling out the country had spread far and wide.

"Tell me, are you going overseas?" Zoey asked as she gave Levi a reluctant look.

Levi nodded. "That's right!"

"Hahahaha..."

"You are going to flee tomorrow. Why do you need to be so melodramatic?"

"Traitor! You sold out Erudia and deserve a terrible death!"

Infuriated, everyone ridiculed Levi when they heard him admit he was going overseas.

"Trust me, I will never betray Erudia!" Levi held onto Zoey's hand.

"Pfft, no one is going to believe your lies to Zoey!"

"I really can't wait to kill you!"

Zoey ignored everyone else as she nodded. "Mmm-hmm. I trust you. I will take good care of Evie and your mother. So, don't worry and go!"

“You are on your own! Our enemies are taking advantage of the fact that Erudia needs to demonstrate its status as a superpower.”

“We have to protect Erudia’s honor even if it costs us our lives. No matter what happens, the Erudian banner must not fall.”

“If you do not return, rest assured that we will take care of your family!”

The Dragonites reassured Levi before he set off.

“Salute!”

Saluting him en masse, they watched on as Levi boarded the plane.

Having heard the Dragonites reassurances, Levi’s heart began to settle.

At the very least, he didn’t need to worry about his family.

On the plane, the Keereans smiled smugly at him.

Soon, the helicopter from Keerea landed a distance away from Mount Drago.

From afar, one could see the peak of Mount Drago piercing the clouds.

Normally, it would take one an entire day's time to scale it.

Unfortunately, Levi didn't have the luxury of time as all he had was six hours.

"Crown King, you have six hours! If you fail to reach the peak, we will disqualify Erudia."

"All the other nations have arrived except for Erudia. This is unbecoming of a superpower. Couldn't you have arrived earlier?"

"We will be waiting for you at the peak and hope to see you there!"

The Keerean envoys mocked with an insidious tone.

From their perspective, it was impossible for Levi to reach the peak where the summit was held.

Raising the Erudian banner in his hand, Levi declared with a smile, "Soon, you will see this banner fluttering at the peak."

"Hmm?"

After being briefly stunned, the crowd let out a rancorous laugh.

Can it be...

A frightening thought formed in her mind, causing her to tremble.

Can it be that Levi is the Crown King?

No! It's impossible!

Even if he has recovered his peak powers and the fact that he is the God of War, the gulf between him and the Crown King is still massive.

Furthermore, Levi is just an ordinary man. However, the Crown King has a godlike existence.

"Hmph! Daddy must be the Crown King. He will return, and I will be here waiting!"

Forlevia declared in her squeaky voice as she glared fiercely at the crowd.

She then put her hands together in prayer.

Given that Forlevia had insisted Levi was the Crown King, Zoey didn't say anything further.

Perhaps, every child sees their Daddy as the Crown King.

"Don't worry Evie, Daddy will return soon," Zoey reassured her.
