Chapter 1461

The crowd had joined Shaun in laughter.

They were delighted by the fact that Levi and his family were just embarrassing themselves further and further.

The unification ceremony was the most exclusive event in Erudia.

Even Albus did not have the authority to cancel the ceremony as he pleased.

He would have to obtain a unanimous vote with the other three leaders to go through with the cancellation.

To think that Levi could dictate his whims through a phone call?

What a delusional idiot!

“His family must be so ashamed of producing a laughing stock.”

“All right, let’s carry on, everyone.” Shaun grinned.

Soon, the reception became crowded with guests exchanging their invitations for admittance, the scene that they have just witnessed was quickly forgotten.

At that moment, a group came running out from the venue.

“Stop! Everybody, stay where you are! There will be no more admittance!” the leader shouted.

“What is it?” Shaun asked with a frown.

The crowd looked over curiously.

Both Emma and Mia also received the news regarding the cancellation of the ceremony.

All of them turned and looked at Levi expectantly.

They were waiting for his explanation.

This was too much of a coincidence!

Levi had just finished his call, and the very next moment, the celebration had been canceled.

It must have something to do with Levi.

Nobody would believe otherwise.

After all, a celebration of such magnitude would not be called off for no apparent reason.

"How did you make them cancel it? With just a phone call?" Zoey asked in disbelief.

Everyone else was also looking at Levi for an answer.

"It's simple. The place belongs to me. If I don't allow them to hold the ceremony, there's nothing much they can do about it!" said Levi.

He was right.

Levi was the organizer of that ceremony, and the venue belonged to him as well.

One word from him, and his wish would be their command.

Everybody was stunned to see them.

Why are they here?

“We’re here to attend the ceremony,” answered Levi.

“How is that possible? What gives you the right to attend the ceremony? You aren’t invited!”

No one believed Levi.

“Well, we have already come in. Why would we be needing any invitation?”

Levi sat there with a calm expression.

“Nonsense! You are not eligible to attend this ceremony!” reprimanded Shaun furiously.

Levi’s smile only deepened. “I can decide if the ceremony goes on or not. What makes you think I cannot attend?”

“Get them out of here!” shouted Jennie all of a sudden.

Soon, several guards arrived.

“What’s going on here?”

“They entered without an invitation!” Shaun said as he pointed at Zoey and the rest of them.

The leaders of the Four Great Families appeared.

Even the most mysterious Drayce Osbert, King of Eastford, had arrived as well.

Other than a grand event like the unification ceremony, no one else could get the four of them together.

They were revered by all of the ancient families.

Even the God of War feared them.

Their presence was imposing and left everyone breathless.

Even Shaun, who was right in front, got so scared that he stood aside immediately.

“Levi, look at what you have done! You have even alerted the four lords! Just wait for your death! I doubt there will be anyone who can save you now!”

Shaun and the others nearby started to gloat at Levi.

They were pretty certain that Levi was done for.

Since he had alarmed the four kings, they doubted he would be able to get away scot-free.

“What’s going on here?”

Albus and the other three kings looked utterly shocked to see Levi.

They had not expected him to be there.

Before they could say anything, Logan and Shaun immediately jumped into action. “My Lords, this man is Levi. He has come to the ceremony without an invitation. He’s here to cause trouble!”

“Yes, it’s him! He used to be the God of War. He has injured some men from the Four Great Families just because he has a little skill. He has no respect for the Four Great Families at all!”

A few of them started accusing Levi.

"Well done! The slaps were long overdue!" said Thierry.

"We saw Levi walking into the villa! Even if he doesn't have an invitation, he is still fit to be here!" said Caden Valerius, King of Southford.

The other three nodded.

"What?"

Everyone was shocked to hear that.

The four of them were aware of Levi's arrival?

"So, this is Le-"

Drayce had never laid eyes on Levi before, and he looked surprised.

"W-Why?"

Like everyone else, Meredith wanted to know why Levi was qualified to be there.

"Are you questioning our decision?"

Albus looked enraged and stared at Meredith.

Black Tiger and his team didn't look away from Black Phoenix in case they missed something.

"Because the Five Dragons of Erudia are either injured or imprisoned."

The news shocked Black Tiger and his team.

"Impossible!"

"The Five Dragons of Erudia are the strongest fighters! It's impossible to hurt them, let alone imprison them!"

"Yeah, not even the Four Great Families could give birth to their heir. Not even after they had attempted it for a century. Nobody could face the Five Dragons of Erudia and win, let alone imprison them."

Phoenix didn't mind. "Yes, nobody can win in a fair fight against them. At least not for now. But what if they were fighting among

They couldn't believe what they were hearing, and they shivered in fear. "That's the boss' last-ditch plan? To bust that demon out?" They gasped.

"What the heck? That monster's the most terrifying killing machine known to man! If we bust him out, he's gonna go on a rampage! Nobody can stop him!"

"Yeah, the other dragons lost their powers, so there's no one else who can fight him. He's undefeatable!"

"Hahaha! I can imagine Erudia shaking in terror. Rejuvenating. I bet none of you could see this coming, Dragonites."

The Avengers were whipped up into a frenzy, for that plan was exactly what they wanted. Unleashing a walking disaster on the nation was the best thing they could come up with. Even I shudder in fear just thinking about that demon's fury.

Chapter 1468

The deepest, northernmost part of Bayview's ocean was perpetually frozen, and in these frozen lands stood a forbidden area uncharted on any map.

No seafarer would dare venture these parts of the ocean, not even if that was the last thing they did, for in the northernmost part of Bayview's ocean stood its sturdiest penitentiary.

It cost a hundred billion and a century to build, but it was worth it, for it eventually became the strongest prison in Bayview. It was built far, far out in the sea, at an altitude of one thousand meters below sea level.

It was gigantic, tightly shut, and made from the toughest alloy in the world, making it indestructible. Its security level was ten, and a hundred thousand armed units patrolled it all year long. The prison was also equipped with the world's most advanced weapons, and there was even an aircraft carrier above the prison.

Ever since it was erected three centuries ago, no prisoner had ever escaped it. Every single inmate in here was feared throughout Bayview, and some by the world.

The inmates were also ranked in this prison. S-rank inmates were usually internationally wanted fugitives, SS-rank inmates were usually a threat to the world, while SSS-rank prisoners were walking, breathing disasters.

SSS-ranked inmates were the highest-ranked inmates in every nation's prisons, with each nation housing one or two at the most. However, Demon's Dungeon housed a hundred SSS-ranked inmates.

Chapter 1469

Before these people were locked up in the Demon's Dungeon, they were either King of Assassins or mercenary leaders. Right now, they were asking the Northern Demon to take over their organizations.

The last person was an old man with grey hair.

He held the Northern Demon's hand earnestly. "Northern Demon, as long as you take this card, ten percent of the wealth in Bayview will belong to you!"

Before entering the dungeon, this old man was the richest man in the Dark World in Bayview.

In fact, he was filthy rich.

The Northern Demon accepted their gifts without hesitation.

These things were useless inside the Demon's Dungeon, but they gave him an advantage in the outside world.

Kuro Dragon had informed him of the plan, which was to take revenge on Erudia.

These prisoners' resources and wealth would be his greatest backbone.

He needn't be afraid that Erudia would arrest him again.

After being locked up in the dungeon for some time, he finally realized one thing.

This is not part of my plan. Clearly, luck is on my side!

Initially, Kuro Dragon only wanted to use his remaining strength to create trouble for Erudia.

From the look of things now, the “trouble” would lead to the Dragonites’ destruction.

After all, no one could stop the Northern Demon now!

“Still, we need to be careful. What if there’s a powerful warrior among the Dragonites? For example, the newly inaugurated Crown King?” Kuro Dragon reminded him.

The Northern Demon merely scoffed, “They are no match for me. No one in Erudia can defeat me!”

He was taunting the entire country!

Of course, he was capable enough of doing so.

Kuro Dragon told him, “Sir, I’ve made the arrangements. From now on, you’ll need to follow my plan. I guarantee Erudia will pay the price for offending us!”

Suddenly, the Northern Demon’s icy gaze landed on Kuro Dragon.

They were under the sea, so it was already freezing, to begin with.

Yet, Kuro Dragon could sense the temperature around him dropping swiftly as though he was sinking into the endless sea.

“I know what you’re thinking. You’re planning to use me to defeat Erudia!” announced the Northern Demon. “Yes, I want to take revenge on them, but I don’t listen to orders. I shall kill anyone who orders me around!”
