

Pinnacle 1491

Chapter 1491

“What? Three times stronger? He’s been improving over these few decades? How’s that possible?”

“We studied the Fusion Attack based on his strength back then. We even predicted that he’d be weaker than before. Who wouldn’t thought...”

“We underestimated him! It’s an oversight on our part!”

The Eastern Hellhound and his other three associates were on the verge of tears.

All of this happened because of their misjudgment.

The Dragonites descended into silence.

They had already made arrangements for a large celebration, but it was all for naught.

Meanwhile, there was a major uproar overseas.

The Northern Demon was too powerful!

Even the Fusion Attack was useless against him.

Other than Kuro Dragon, the rest of The Avengers remained in Erudia to watch the battle.

“Erudia probably didn’t expect this to happen, huh? The Northern Demon is much more powerful than all of you have expected!”

Kuro Dragon let out a sinister laugh.

In the Lopez residence, Zoey’s face was as white as a sheet.

She initially thought the Four Basilisks would defeat the Northern Demon and bring her husband home.

Tears pricked at her eyes as she never expected things to turn out this way.

Both Malcolm and Wilton were also shaking with fright.

God you weren’t the one who went there, son! I’m telling you, no one felt relieved that they had sent Levi to die would be the ones who benefited from seeing their reactions, but there was nothing

the Ether, Heracles and the other Basilisks felt like going crazy when they realized the here. We’re no

Beast proposed to think you can leave?

Northern Demon released a battle time, he went on the Boom!
Boom!
wounded the
bad. He seems to know were dumbstruck, wondering how the Northern Demon knew them so masters studied me. Do you think “Now die!”
demon straight from hell, he slowly closed “Pfft!”
“Pfft!”
one,
place as their bodies suffered
every single move of theirs, him in wide-eyed horror as fear surfaced from the moment, they feared the Northern Demon more than “Retreat! Retreat now!”
scrambled toward the Suicide Squad, and fled, they urged the members of “Push him back!”

Chapter 1492

“Argh...”

“Argh...”

Agonized shrieks rang out through the battlefield.

One by one, the members of the Suicide Squad fell.

The Northern Demon was ruthless.

Everyone was terrified.

They were truly being sent to their deaths.

It was inhumane of the Four Basilisks to use them as a shield in order to save themselves.

They wanted to control how they died instead of dying for someone else.

All of them were frustrated, but reality was cruel and there was nothing they could do.

Very soon, half of the Suicide Squad was either dead or injured.

Even though they were dwindling in numbers, they still blocked the Northern Demon's path.

Kill!

The Northern Demon was merciless, which was befitting of his name.

There was only murderous intent in his eyes.

were able to escape with the Suicide Squad keeping the four of them couldn't defeat the Northern Demon, they were still skilled was not an moment, the

so the outside world had out and moment the Fusion Attack failed to take down the Northern Demon, the Dragonites knew that it even the situation on the felt so

Five Dragons of put everyone in danger! Look what happened. Our disciples won't make it back, and sit around and do nothing! If we wait any longer, the Four Basilisks and the Suicide Squad will be we do? Who can defeat the "Wait. There is someone..."

changed right

"Levi Garrison!"

things have escalated to this point, he's

him to carry out a rescue mission

leave The Avengers

immediately

reach him

was as though he vanished from the face of “What? Levi didn’t respond?”

incensed upon learning about he mean by this? Is he holding a grudge against us just because we chose loyal to the country? Now he hasn’t just disappeared, he’s even ignoring a direct order because

Chapter 1493

Meanwhile, the air around the Dragonites was somber.

Everyone knew how precarious the situation at the Ether was.

The fate of the Four Basilisks and the Suicide Squad was uncertain.

“Where is Levi Garrison?”

“This is all his fault!”

“If he responded to his orders, he’d be at the Ether by now!”

“Well, we can’t just sit here and do nothing! Dispatch whatever forces we have left, including the Iron Brigade!”

At the Ether, the pursuit continued.

“Sh*t! He’s catching up to us!” Heracles abruptly exclaimed when he noticed blasts of air coming from behind them.

It was clear that the Northern Demon was hot on their heels.

It was as though he went supersonic.

That was why he was able to dredge up strong air currents.

“We’re in deep sh*t! The Northern Demon is way too powerful! He’s already almost upon us!” yelled Eastern Beast.

Heart-wrenching despair surged from the depths of their hearts.

Once the Northern Demon caught up, death was the only outcome.

did not want to die

for decades, all for the sake of a bright

they wanted was to be killed before they

of

the mud if they were killed just like the four

ran as fast as their legs
more men from
we brought four to five thousand more of them, never have from the Four Great Families? This is how long they managed to done a better job than them. The Suicide Squad is nothing and Southern began to call the Suicide Squad useless for failing used the Suicide Squad as their shield so that they could escape, but here they were, blaming them for those in the Suicide Squad heard them, they would probably come deaths were waste to die for “What should we do?”
Four Basilisks panicked upon seeing the blasts veins seemed to on! We can still Western Monk was iron-willed.
a fool?
The others strongly opposed.

Chapter 1494

Even after two minutes, the Northern Demon was nowhere in sight.
Five minutes passed, and things remained the same.
Where the hell is he?
He was clearly only meters away from us just now.
How could he have disappeared so suddenly?
“Who cares? Let’s just run!”
With that, the four of them turned tail and ran like there was no tomorrow.
This time, the Northern Demon did not go after them.
Thus, they successfully made it out of the Ether.

The mystery around the disappearance of the Northern Demon remained.

But no, he did not disappear.

Instead, he was stopped by someone.

Just when the Northern Demon was about to catch up to the Four Basilisks, someone appeared in front of him.

"I'm the one you should be fighting!"

That someone was none other than Levi.

Demon remarked, "No wonder The Avengers never showed smiled. "That's right. I was the one who been busy after leading thirty or so men from the

the Northern Demon were locked in an intense battle, they

Dragon was a

though he knew how powerful the Northern Demon was, he still positioned half of the 'The Avengers' force around him as a

some time to get rid of

he rushed back

still a step too

was already went after four old fellas were the main characters, but it turns out that you sized Levi up with intrigue gleaming too shabby for a young man, but can you placed his hands behind his back and peered without giving it a

Levi chuckled.

the point? You'll only be a chance. Follow me completely unexpected that the Northern Demon had intentions to recruit sneer. "Never! As the Crown King, it is my duty to protect this country.

Even better. After I just get on with launched an attack using his power resembled the weight

Chapter 1495

“Hmph!”

The Northern Demon snorted derisively before moving both of his hands in circular motions, wielding immense power as he altered the shape of the dust particles.

This time, the wall of dust in front of him morphed into the shape of a huge mountain.

Although it was made of sand, this mountain was floating midair, like a mountain in the clouds.

This was how powerful the Northern Demon was.

Based on the extent of his powers, he could no longer be considered an Ultimate class warrior.

He had reached a level beyond that as he was able to manipulate the elements of this world.

For example, wind, fire and lightning.

Hence, shaping the sand was a piece of cake to him.

“Die!”

He threw out his hands, directing the huge “mountain” onto Levi.

The large mass blocked out the entire sun, causing Levi’s vision to go dark.

Releasing a battle cry, Levi smashed the mountain into smithereens by throwing out a fist.

Boom!

A deafening boom reverberated through the whole desert, and the surrounding training base shook.

“My God!”

The Four Basilisks were shocked, unable to process that there was someone who could hold his ground against the Northern Demon.

should go take a consensus and quietly

Levi was busy destroying the mountain of sand, the Northern Demon abruptly appeared before him and struck him with

Boom!

open as though this spot had suffered a round of rose in Levi's stomach, but he suppressed

Bang!

Bang!

Bang!

quick reflexes and was

Demon fought each other amidst the raging desert

the two had exchanged more

Ether was razed to the

as if this location had been

two men were equally

the Northern Demon's army was initially thought that their leader would be unmatched once he defeated the Four opponent had only just showed

"It's him!"

can't believe it's

"He's our hero!"

right

thirty-eight men who chose to stick with and the Northern Demon already went through been shredded and there were hideous wounds either as his shirt was stream of blood trickled out of

because he never expected to be wounded this badly

you? How

Northern Demon gaped

Chapter 1496

The Northern Demon descended upon him.

Boom!

Boom!

He whipped out all kinds combat techniques, beating Levi into a bloodied mess.

No one could survive his most powerful set of moves.

Only after he was sure Levi was done for did he cease attacking.

“You’re too young and inexperienced. Perhaps you could’ve been matched me in strength after fifty years but it’s too bad, we’ll never know now,” the Northern Demon said with a dark expression.

Even the whites of his eyes were completely black.

Levi was undoubtedly the strongest opponent he had ever encountered.

But the next second, a voice rang out. “Are you sure about that?”

Following that was the sight of Levi slowly getting to his feet.

With blood coating his whole body, he laughed coldly. “It’s not over yet.”

“What? This is impossible!”

The Northern Demon was confounded.

Where the hell did this freak come from?

How is he still alive after I attacked him with all my best killer moves?

How is this possible?

“How are you completely fine?”

but the fact that Levi looked completely fine even getting started!” he repeated what power intensified exponentially, so much so the Northern Demon could feel the energy waves

the most ancient skill there was—Reversero, which was

Northern Demon’s devastating blow only made him

“It’s my turn now!”

went on the offensive, unleashing lethal blows upon the Northern

Boom!

Boom!

the one

skills were shock, “This can’t be the oldest practice of “Pfft!”

“Pfft!”

“Pfft!”

blood to ooze out from the corners of of disadvantage, which was a far cry from his early can’t lose!” the Northern started to rise again moment, he had truly turned of humanity left in

“Die!”

launched his

“Bring it on!”

to land his
of their shockwave swept across hundreds of the sky

“Pfft!”

“Pfft!”

Chapter 1497

“No, that’s not what-”

Western Monk tried to tell the truth again, but Heracles tugged on his arm meaningfully.

Then, he steeled himself to fortify the lie. “Yes, that’s right! Together with the Suicide Squad, we finally managed to slay the Northern Demon.”

Eastern Beast spat out a mouthful of blood and lamented, “But thousands of our brothers-in-arms perished along with him. They were all good men.”

“Yes. They were indeed. At least half the credit must go to them.”

Southern Warrior feigned grief.

Ahem, Ahem...

Heracles kept coughing out blood.

“Finally, everything is over. The Northern Demon is dead!”

Western Monk swallowed back his words, forcing himself not to utter a single word.

Just like that, the Four Basilisks took all the credit for slaying the Northern Demon.

The army had arrived just in time to see the sky crack and the ground splitting open.

Also considering all the severe wounds covering the Four Basilisks and the total annihilation of the Suicide Squad, no one suspected a thing.

the Northern Demon? So how did you kill it was useless? Our masters have done a lot of research for decades to create almost to our last breaths and you're still doubting us? If we weren't the ones who killed the Northern Demon, then who

Dragon

one else present was capable of slaying

a glare at Azure Dragon. "Isn't it obvious enough for you? They were the ones he turned to the Four Basilisks and bowed deeply. "The four of you are the greatest heroes of Erudia! I am honored to be the heroes

hail the heroes of

crowd chanted

Basilisks with

Warrior and Heracles basked in the feeling of

was what they wanted,

them proudly raised their chins and for Western Monk, who lowered his accomplishment was something he couldn't

he did not have any other news to the Dragonites, so that they can welcome the heroes of Erudia back with the highest honor!" Winsor

others

the Northern definitely

his other two

on, everything would be

Chapter 1498

“Just think about it this way. We’ve also contributed in the Northern Demon’s death!”

“Yeah. Someone has to claim the glory of slaying the Northern Demon anyway, right? Why can’t that be us?”

“Agreed. We just have to get rid of all those who are privy to the truth. Then, we’re all set.”

Eastern Beast’s eyes glinted coldly.

At the Ether, the Northern Demon’s men felt powerless after watching their leader fall.

Thus, they surrendered one after another.

“Take these prisoners away!”

Most of them had just witnessed the demise of the Northern Demon, so they were still in shock.

“I can’t believe Erudia possessed such a strong fighter.”

All of them bewailed.

“Calling over the disciples of the Five Dragons of Erudia proved fruitful. They are indeed the Northern Demon’s nemesis!” Winsor replied subconsciously.

The Northern Demon’s men were momentarily stunned.

What does this have to do with the Four Basilisks?

Aren’t they deserters?

Suicide Squad as a

they were the ones who

“No, that’s not-”

of the men were about to refute when the Four Basilisks arrived at

then, the Northern Demon’s men had already figured out that the Four Basilisks

They are shameless!

glance at the prisoners of war, Eastern Beast questioned prisoners, so we’re taking them

them! All

Beast’s eyes flashed

No!” Minka immediately

Demon's underlings; a bunch of brutal, bloodthirsty psychopaths! What if they're faking a surrender and attack when we're least expecting it? Do you know how

Minka was

he said

doesn't kill them back before making a decision. After all, opposed. "No. We must kill

Swoosh!

Four Basilisks

what was going on, half of them afraid that we'd reveal the truth. That's why they want to

Demon's

it was already match for the prisoners were killed in cold

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1499

The meaning behind their words was very simple—they were willing to be the bad guys and shoulder all the blame if it meant protecting the country.

This way, it was easy to win the favor and admiration of others.

"The Four Basilisks aren't only extraordinary fighters, they're also very respectable individuals."

"Erudia is fortunate to have you!"

Winsor and everyone else gazed at the four of them with respect.

They were role models to look up to.

Little did they know that the Four Basilisks had killed the prisoners in order to keep the truth hidden and that it had nothing to do with the country's safety.

Western Monk looked down, ashamed to be given such undeserved praise.

"The Dragonites have received the news! They will welcome the four of you back with the highest honor."

"I also heard that they're planning to inaugurate all four of you as Crown Kings!"

Minka just received that news from the Dragonites.

“What? Crown Kings?”

Eastern Beast’s eyes lit up with delight, and so did his other two comrades.

was truly a people and became heroes of Erudia. And now, they might even was truly a dream

fighter, don’t worry. We’ll pray for your soul to rest sent a silent prayer up for people who had left with Levi witnessed this from the out to rejoin the group, but after watching how also understood that the Basilisks wanted to kill everyone who knew about the truth, were to reveal themselves, the Basilisks would were the ones who knew the whole truth, including posed a bigger threat than

“Run!”

we’re going to die just like those to a movement attracted the attention of part of the Suicide Squad who fled with that punk? They were means they know the

have to

to panic and quickly

“What’s wrong?”

just then, but Eastern Beast and the others knew they couldn’t use the same legitimate reason to kill the Northern Demon’s underlings,

of those

Chapter 1500

Of course, the thirty-eight men who followed Levi understood what was going on.

They were dead men the moment they came out of hiding, regardless of whether or not they told the truth.

Furthermore, no one would believe them even if they did.

As deserters, their words carried no weight.

So they could only hide to protect their lives.

Just like that, news of the Northern Demon's demise at the Ether spread.

Not just Erudia, but the entire world was thrown into an uproar.

No one expected the Northern Demon to be defeated.

The Avengers were especially shocked upon receiving the news.

The Northern Demon was defeated?

Wasn't he three times more powerful than he was back then?

Not to mention, there were so many skilled fighters with him.

Kuro Dragon had even dispatched half of the strongest among The Avengers to support him.

But he was defeated just like that?

What the hell happened?

Dragonites erupted into cheers of the decades we spent on researching didn't go to knew it. We understood the Northern were over the moon to prepare to greet the country's taking down the

every corner of Erudia, people cheered for them, calling them

of them as sacred beings,

all, this was the biggest catastrophe Erudia had to stop the Northern Demon

then on, they were seen as heroes, and even became revered

in North Hampton heard that the Four Basilisks had led the Suicide Squad to defeat the Northern Demon, all of shed tears of

Demon

Levi is

the rest were also over the moon because the merit

the Suicide Squad's

almost fainted from shock

on the other hand,

I'd be the

into

is wanted for being a deserter! If you have any information on him, you're required to report it immediately! If you don't,

Boom!