

Pinnacle 1501

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1501

This meant that in order to avoid being held in contempt, Malcolm would have to adopt an alias and would not be able to continue appearing in public as “Malcolm Langston”.

As much as his entire family despised Levi, Thierry and the others had not commented, and like The Calamity, they were all awaiting instructions from Levi.

At the Dragonites in Oakland City.

“Where’s Levi? With the defeat of the Northern Demon, the Avengers would surely flee from Erudia.”

“We’ve been unable to establish contact with him! Does anyone know where he is or what he’s doing? It’s as though he had vanished into thin air!”

“How could Levi pull such a stunt at such a critical juncture? It’s unacceptable!”

“We are far from securing total victory even with that major win we scored against the Northern Demon! Allowing the Avengers to retreat would be tantamount to letting a tiger return to its lair!”

“Huh. The thing is, Levi is holding on to all the information we have on the Avengers. His disappearance has left us without options!”

“Forget it. We should look forward to welcoming back our heroes first, and deal with Levi later!”

up either side of a car-less thoroughfare north filled with unbridled excitement as various flags and banners emblazoned with words like “The Nation’s Saviors” and “Heroes of Erudia” flapped and out in full force for this most historic ceremony of the highest order to rolled in with

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

a hundred gun salute

“Heroes!”

“Heroes!”

in unison, moved to tears as Erudia welcomed back its gallant sons with the disciples have not let us down!” cried the Five defenders of Erudia!” said the out of the vehicle and onto the boulevard to receive the adulation of the crowd and the with faces brimming with pride for having reached the pinnacle of Erudia like they aspired to, while

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1502

In the end, the Four Basilisks were complimented and lauded. They were even proposed to be made kings by the Dragonites, a decision which had to wait until they were able to get back in touch with Levi.

“What? The Avengers have not been taken out yet? The sheer outrage!”

“How could we rest on our laurels while Erudia remains under threat? We must persist!”

The Four Basilisks showily swore to eliminate the Avengers when they heard that the latter remained active.

They may have dreaded the Northern Demon but with their own considerable abilities, they should have no problems taking on the Avengers.

“If Levi had half of your virtues, the majority of the Avengers would not have gotten away!”

The crowd had high hopes for the Four Basilisks and were deeply angered by Levi, who they believed allowed the Avengers to escape when he defied orders out of spite, and disapproved of the pettiness he showed when the foursome were sent out against the Northern Demon instead of him.

“Hurry up and get in contact with Levi so that the matter of the Crown King can be resolved once and for all!”

Ether, Levi took in a deep drawl, battle, but the Northern Demon, but decidedly held back when the latter question the Northern Demon to find out how he came

Demon was out cold, and Levi was unable to rouse him no should bring him back, and see if Fredrick or Mr. Quinton has any way to wake him!” Levi said while he shook the situation and the Northern Demon no longer posed a threat to him, alive or had been flipped on him; the four deserters had become the exalted saviors of Erudia, while he negligent and guilty of matter of the Avengers was a mistake by Levi’s own admission, as he chose to confront the Northern Demon over the Avengers upon determining the former to be set him up as deserters alongside the other thirty-eight of his comrades, and also murdered all the prisoners meant to silence anyone who knew the truth, but unfortunately for them, I'm still have I met anyone more heinous than the entire

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1503

The Four Basilisks were quite enjoying the attention they were receiving, but were at the same time, restless as none of them would be safe until the thirty-nine were found and killed.

And so, the Four Basilisks pooled all their resources to locate them, and the relative powerlessness, deference and sense of duty toward the Four Basilisks meant that thirty-eight members of the Suicide Squad were rounded up fairly quickly.

"We're not deserters! We've thwarted the Avengers' ambush, and one of us even killed the Northern Demon himself!" they remonstrated.

But their efforts were only met with derision. "In the whole of Erudia, who does not know of your desertion? How dare you even try to defend yourselves?"

"Would you listen to that? That it was one of them who killed the Northern Demon? Have y'all bumped your heads so badly?"

"Killed by one of y'all? Do y'all have any idea how formidable the Northern Demon is? What a joke! He was defeated by the combined efforts of the Four Basilisks!"

"That it was your guys who killed the Northern Demon? Can't you at least come up with a cover story more credible than that?"

The captors, who had witnessed the prowess of the Northern Demon for themselves, naturally did not buy into that version of accounts and continued to lambast the men from the Suicide Squad whom they thought little of.

protest furiously. "No, we saw it for ourselves that other nine hundred over men into holding off the Northern Demon in order

when it's clearly someone else also silenced all of the prisoners of war who have borne witness to the defend their own honor, their attempts at there? Show us going to say that the Northern Demon isn't dead and would on and say it. See if we'd them began to guffaw, and looked upon the thirty-odd members of the Suicide Squad as though they were off the tongue of a bunch lot closely! Our jobs will be done as soon as the Suicide Squad started to fear for their own lives when they heard that the Four Basilisks were on the way, as their arrival would seal their deserters! It was the anything they said would be dismissed as part of their attempts to get themselves off the

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1504

Unable to withdraw himself from complicity, the Western Monk had gradually come to terms with his own predicament and aligned himself with the other three.

In order to set his own mind at ease, he sought to eliminate all of those who was a threat to him, and was thus more meticulous in this respect than his peers.

"You're right. We've almost overlooked that," the other three realized.

"Actually, that person is..."

One of the members of the Suicide Squad intuitively responded until he was stopped by another. "That's right! We're short of one who's in hiding with direct evidence of your crimes, and he'd expose you should you ever lay a finger on us!"

That was the only way by which they would be able to save their own lives.

"I don't believe you! I'll kill all of you!" the Eastern Beast said as he raised a hand.

"No!" the Western Monk swiftly intervened. "This man is a threat as long as he remains missing. We must find out who he is!"

"I assume that that must be Malcolm Langston. With me now. We must go to Westford!"

the Four Basilisks to hunt down in spite of their own limitations, the Four Basilisks were unstoppable with the might of Erudia you're the deserter!" Eastern Langston, the person who joined the Suicide Squad was Levi! He's the deserter, and I've who went in place of my son.

I'll buy that? Take him would you be in hiding if this according to the Dragonites, Levi had

Suicide

Hilarious!

Malcolm away, and halfway on the road,

“No, don’t kill me!”

have wanted to say something, but Eastern Beast gave him no chance

Pfft!

fell dead upon

Chapter 1505

2-3 minutes

“How disappointing, Levi!”

“We would never have expected that you would show up to steal credit during this time!”

“Tens of thousands of men had witnessed the Four Basilisks triumph over the Northern Demon with their very eyes, so how would you have us believe that you were the one who killed him?”

“We’ve groomed you for so long, Levi, and even made you the Crown King! To think you could come around and try to steal credit for yourself!”

Those in attendance were uproarious, and saw to it that their dismay with Levi was made known.

The notion that the Four Basilisks killed the Northern Demon became the canonical narrative ever since the four had been proclaimed as heroes by the billions of people in Erudia.

For Levi to tell them otherwise would be to fly in the face of everything that everyone had come to believe, so their perturbation and disbelief were to be expected.

“To be honest, Levi, there was only one reason why you weren’t sent against the Northern Demon, and that is that you weren’t his match. The Fusion Attack of the Four Basilisks was meant to defeat him.”

There was a moment of silence before Levi snorted.

The Fusion Attack was completely ineffective against the Northern Demon!

good you are, as you’ve already showcased your talent

you can’t show up like this ask what have you done in the battle against the Northern Demon? Have you fought, bled, our disciples who slew the Northern Demon, so how could you come in glared at Levi, aggrieved on behalf of slaying of the Northern Demon may be an unprecedented honor, but a grievous error in allowing all the Avengers to escape. Not only are you not asking young man like you? To think that I used at the

and were in a righteous fit when they overheard “Aren’t you something, Levi!” you feel self-conscious about claiming that you killed the not see you anywhere on the battlefields of the the others
I wasn’t?” Levi
“Huh?”

Chapter 1506

2-2 minutes

The Northern Demon is still alive and will come to in a short while.

Levi had already handed him over to Benny and Frederick who, in their professional opinion, have diagnosed and ascertained this to be the case.

This startling revelation had everyone else in stitches.

How could the Northern Demon have survived when scores of people apart from the Four Basilisks have attested otherwise?

Even the remaining thirty-eight members of the Suicide Squad, amongst thousand others, bore witness to it, or the Northern Demon’s followers would not have surrendered themselves.

Who else is going to believe your claims that the Northern Demon was still alive at this point?

“Levi, oh, Levi. Your story is getting increasingly far-fetched by the minute!”

“First, you claim to be the one who killed the Northern Demon, and then you say that he’s still alive. Aren’t you contradicting yourself here? Could you at least have the decency to think ahead before coming out with such lies?”

Declaring that the Northern Demon isn’t dead after failing to claim

Western Monk who was initially worried that Levi might be onto all of the Dragonites were still alive against the common knowledge of one billion people? Did you not say that “I did not say that I’ve killed him, only that I’ve gotten rid

it that was inside the Suicide Squad!”

single member and I’ve called them out myself, so there was no

in that you took the

the one who led the thirty-eight when we parted ways...” Levi went on to describe the situation informed! It is a pity that Malcolm did not have anyone go in his stead, as he went in himself! The deceive us, Levi. You’ve nothing to do with the matter concerning the

what else have you got

Chapter 1507

2-3 minutes

It could be said that not a single person in the entire world would be willing to believe him right now, and conversely, in view of his major dereliction of duty, the retention of his position of Crown King itself came into question.

Without sufficient evidence, it would be impossible for him to expose the Four Basilisks.

Furthermore, to try to pit himself against the Four Basilisks who had been hailed as heroes by everyone would be going up against all of Erudia—a tall order in itself!

“Go on, Levi! Let’s see what else you’ve got!”

“Do you think anyone would believe you?”

The Four Basilisks regarded him smugly.

“It’s better to stay grounded, young man. Don’t be so covetous,” the Western Spirit said as he patted Levi on the shoulder.

“We’re sorely disappointed in you, Levi! To think you would attempt to claim credit for yourself!”

“Alright, enough of this! We want to know why you did not go and eliminate the Avengers as we have commanded. What exactly were you thinking?”

smiling. “Between the Avengers and the Northern Demon, I saw the latter as the greater threat, were all deliberately trying to anger us by still harping on the notion that you were the one who defeated the you have failed in your duties and committed a serious error of judgement, and still you pretend to have done Erudia a service and rest of the room was quietly seething as though Levi had pissed this than meets the eye. I, Levi Garrison, ask for no reward nor Dragonites howled at Levi in rage. "This is a you realized the error of your I wrong?" Levi

you still in the you eliminated the continued to subject him to fervent I've removed the far greater threat, which is the Northern Demon!" Levi stated
"You..."
driven to a fit by Levi who

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1508

Levi closed his eyes for a rest without uttering any words. Since nobody trusts my words, I'd better remain silent. Anyway, silence is golden.

The guard on duty gave him a sympathetic glance and let out a deep sigh. "It's really not worthy of him to be stripped of his title as Crown King because of his impulsiveness!"

Many were overwhelmed to know that Levi was held captive in the detention chamber. Albus, Thierry and the others were convinced that there was something awry. They refused to believe that Levi had turned into a cowardly deserter. Besides, it was out of their expectation that Malcolm would be killed one day.

Wilton and the others grieved for Malcolm's death. They were mad with anger and claimed that Levi was the culprit. Ever since then, Wilton bore a grudge against him. If not for Thierry, he would have avenged Malcolm's death by targeting Zoey. Where is justice? How could my son become the one to be punished due to his desertion? My poor son was made a scapegoat because of him!

"Levi Garrison, don't ever think that you can escape from me just because you are held captive at the moment! Once you are released later, I will settle a score with you!" Wilton bellowed.

Meanwhile, the Four Basilisks had started to discuss the matter of Crown King. They could foresee that Levi would not easily give in and make a confession as demanded. Thus, sooner or later the title of Crown King would belong to them. By then, even Eastern Hellhound and the other three from the Five Dragons of Erudia would be revered by others as well.

trainers so they could contribute in cultivating talented new blood for Erudia. It would be a blessing for Erudia to have surviving members of the Suicide Squad, Eastern Beast and the others actually intended to finish them off. Nevertheless, Western Monk stopped him from doing so as he did not wish to commit any more sins. After all, they had nothing to fear since they were that, the Four Basilisks needed to keep them alive as witnesses who proved that they were the ones who had slain the Northern Demon. Recently, they were aware that people started to doubt their version of the story on the battle at the

the alarm bells ringing in their heads. They realized that they relied very much on the Suicide

Suicide Squad with a

the Suicide Squad members to testify for them earlier, all you still don't agree, don't blame me if I can't be assured of the safety of your family members. Ah! You have an adorable child who members gritted and cursed. They had no choice and ended up testifying for the Four Basilisks. After that, nobody brought up the topic anymore or the detention chamber. He refused to give in by admitting his so-called mistake. Even though the guard had stopped bringing him

God Of War Pinnacle

Chapter 1509

The guard advised him patiently, "This is your last chance. There are still two hours to go. Please think it through, as you might be stripped of the title of Crown King.

"I didn't do anything wrong. So, what's there to admit then?" Levi replied nonchalantly with his eyes remaining closed.

"He's really adamant!" the guard mumbled.

It was the final countdown. Within less than two hours, Levi would have to step down as Crown King.

The Four Basilisks and the Five Dragons of Erudia were waiting for that moment in anticipation. They could barely wait for the moment The Four Basilisks would soon be coronated as Crown King!

In the meantime, Fredrick, the king of the military doctors had just stepped out of a manor in Oakland City.

There was a man lying motionless on the bed in the bedroom. Out of a sudden, he opened his pairs of gleaming eyes.

"I'm still alive? Where am I now?" There was a hint of coldness in his voice.

be Northern Demon. He could remember vividly that both Levi and he ended up perishing together before he drifted into unconsciousness. So, I'm still alive? The Garrison, I'm sure you would never expect that I'm still he had sustained severe injury, he was recovering speedily after being treated by Fredrick and others. Due to his unique way of cultivation, he retrieved his ability and strength at an left the manor. In an instant, his lips curved into a creepy smile. Something malicious was apparently playing on other hand, the time was up for Levi. The Dragonites' faces turned crimson in fury as he insisted that he was held after seven days. All four of them will share the same title of Crown King! Moreover, Eastern Hellhound and the other three will be appointed as imperial trainers for Erudia at the overwhelming announcement from the council members of the Dragonites. Even so, nobody dared to object since the Four Basilisks had and the God of War were just names. He was not bothered about the titles at all.

so, he was still calm as ever. He believed that the truth would be unveiled you can still hold the position as God of just smiled and replied, still unaware of your wrong deed, continue to have self-reflection in the detention chamber then!" the council members to celebrate by hosting a grand celebration. Dragonites had assigned representatives to attend the function. Apart from

Chapter 1510

Everyone was stupefied, and their hearts thumped with fear.

Boom! It was as though his words rang out like thunder. The liveliness of the celebration was replaced by pin-drop silence in an instant. Everyone was as motionless as statues.

Slap! Crack! Bang! There was a series of sounds from the smashing of glasses and plates on the ground.

It implied how the name "Northern Demon" was sending chills down everyone's spines. Moreover, he was supposed to be dead. The Four Basilisks were celebrating in advance as they would be coronated as Crown King soon. Yet, Northern Demon is alive and reappeared?

Eastern Hellhound and the other three froze on the spot, so as the Four Basilisks as well as others. They exchanged gazes without uttering any words.

They only came to their senses gradually one minute later. "What? Northern Demon is still alive?"

voice quivered. "Yeah, Northern Demon is still alive! He's back! It's shrieked simultaneously. "Northern Demon was slain by our disciples at the Ether training base. It's impossible that he's still alive!

themselves and fumed, "Stop spreading rumor! If not, we won't let you off! We had finished him off in front of so many pairs of eyes. How could he still be alive? Watch your seemed all tensed up. What if it's true? Even though they that, they could not help but wonder why it was as though the two men's bodies had vanished into thin air at that time. Even the tiny for Northern Demon to appear again. There's a price to pay for making up a story!"

telling the truth! The third team of the Wolf squad spotted Northern Demon and fought with him.

here in Oakland City squad bumped into him?" That was indeed something is even in Oakland City now!