Chapter 1741

Zarain spent a vast sum of money to hire the old but strong warriors to fight for the country.

The desperate time had arrived, forcing Zarain to use all of their trump cards.

If Zarain couldn't turn the tide, it would feel humiliated and even lose its international status as a superpower.

As instructed by Zarain, four Rank Seven warriors were waiting for Levi's arrival patiently.

The first warrior looked like a black mist, and no one could see his figure clearly.

He was Silhouette, the leader of Obliterating God. It was an assassin organization specializing in taking out Supreme class warriors.

Besides being a Rank Seven warrior, he was a great assassin, capable of blending with any environment and object effortlessly.

Furthermore, he had assassinated three Rank Seven warriors before.

The second fighter was two meters tall and looked red all over his body.

His body had mutated, for he had been experimented with various medicines and serums by a secret organization since he was young.

Also, he was seen as an unkillable monster, for he was strong and had impenetrable skin.

Hence, he was titled Demonic Dragon.

The actions of the four warriors were perfectly synchronized.

Besides, their unique strength was utilized to unleash their potential to the max.

It was as if rescuing people and killing the man were about to be completed in one breath.

Anyone who witnessed the battle was rooted to the ground.

It's terrifying to see four Rank Seven warriors act together!

I'm afraid only Levi deserves such a treatment.

"It's clear that Zarain is determined to stop him. After all, Zarain has used all of its trump cards at one go!"

"In that case, the mysterious man has arrived at the end of his journey!"

The Dragonites were completely stumped upon receiving the news.

Those from Shield knew that the four Rank Seven warriors were the strongest warriors in Zarain and equivalent to Erudia's Eragon.

Also, the unknown secrets and masters were all in the Rank Seven warriors' hands.

Once they intervene, who will be able to stop them?

On the battlefield, the four Rank Seven warriors coordinated their strikes seamlessly.

First, Enchantress changed the environment to distract Levi.

Then, God of Lightning teleported Demonic Dragon to Levi's side to launch his deadliest attack upon Levi.

Shocking!

Zarain went silent... so was the whole world

At that point, Levi had slain a total of five Rank Seven fighters back to back, including Zarain's God of Thunder, despite the last fight being four of them against him.

It was terrifying!

Too terrifying!

Not even the aces from Shield could stop Levi!

The strength he had was incomprehensible!

He fought Zarain all by himself!

Is there any one that's still unsatisfied?

It was Bruce's absolute defeat.

How are we supposed to fight him? He just beat five Rank Seven fighters! Even an army wouldn't stand a chance!

Zarain's people were all rendered speechless.

They were all at a loss, not knowing what to do.

It was as though Levi was invincible, and no one could stop him as he marched forward after dispatching the four fighters.

At the moment, there was an army waiting for him on the other side of the mountain.

A group of men and women in suits came down of the jeep.

It looked like they were mostly office workers instead of martial artists and men with superpowers

"Who are you people?" Levi's lips curled as he asked.

"We... We bear no ill-will, our honorable guest. We're only here to talk," said a man and a woman in front of the crowd with their hands raised.

"Yes, we're just here to talk. There's no point in going on with the fight!"

"Talk? Is there a need for that? Just get out of my way and let me take these two with me!"

"Sir, please listen to us."

"Let's make a deal."

They looked at Levi cautiously.

"What deal?" Levi was curious.

“Sir, we can totally put this incident behind us and turn our hostility against each other around to become friends!”

“That’s true. There’s actually no grudge between us, so why the hassle?”

Most people there were against the proposition.

It was like a taboo to them.

“What do you guys think we should do then? There’s less than an hour left!”

“We’re going to be the biggest laughing stock in the whole world! Think about it, a super nation that can’t even stop one man from leaving!”

It was the masterpiece created from the collaboration between the mysterious lab behind Bruce and Shield.

A weapon of mass destruction.

No one actually knew what it was.

Whether it was an electromagnetic rail gun, a laser, or even something biological.

No one had any idea.

All they knew was that God Scepter was the embodiment of calamity.

Its activation meant total destruction.

No defenses in the world could stop it.

It was different from Jared’s Deicide as it only targeted small areas focusing on martial artists and superpower users.

God Scepter, on the other hand, covered a much larger area.

It would lay waste to anything within that area.

It was named God Scepter for a simple reason, for it represented divine judgment.

Safe to say, the power it possessed was beyond anything imaginable.

The much anticipated moment had arrived.

This would be God Scepter’s first activation.

The world would finally get to see the wrath of God Scepter!

Bruce was covered in sweat with the launcher in his hand, and all eyes were on him.

“Goodbye, Byron!” Bruce exclaimed and pushed the button, flopping onto the chair behind him immediately after.

At that instance, everyone there was stuck with a huge sense of relief and let out a deep sigh.

It’s finally done!

All the parties in Zarain had their fists clenched while they waited for the arrival of God Scepter.

Soon, a bunch of fighters arrived at Zarain's border and saw the broken Northern Excalibur stuck in the ground.

Seeing it stung their eyes as the sword was a symbol of shame for them.

It was the greatest proof of the humiliation they received.

"Ahhh!" A man roared and stood forward to pull the sword out.

"Wait!" The man at the front of the crowd stopped him.

"Leave it there! It needs to stay there forever! It is the symbol of the disgrace our enemies gave us! It will serve as a constant reminder of what we have been through!"

Everyone's face was red while they stared at the sword with their fists tightly clenched.

Nobody said a word as the whole nation of Zarain went into total silence.

They did almost everything they could to stop Levi but still ended up failing.

Bruce's tinkering at the end had resulted in God Scepter's unsuccessful launching and gave Levi a free pass out of the country.

The whole world was puzzled when they saw Levi crossing the border.

Is Zarain really just letting Levi go like that?

That's impossible! Why would they do that?

When they opened their phones, what await them were more horrifying news.

All their assets overseas had been emptied out, even estates, cars, as well the manor. Everything was gone.

In an instant, they had nothing left besides what they were wearing since even the place they lived in was confiscated.

At the same time, they also got notified that Zarain had officially withdrawn their citizenship.

The men immediately started attacking the two families.

Even though the people in the Lopez and the Black families were considered martial artists now, they were still no match for those men.

Zarain had sent elite fighters to deal with them.

In the end, what happened was a one-sided affair as everyone in the two families got beaten to a pulp and dragged into a big truck like they were dead.

Inside the truck were full of people that were getting deported.

After a few hours, all of them were transported to the border and dumped as though they were all garbage, including Henry and the lot.

“If you people ever step into Zarain again, it’ll be the sea next time!” Someone at the border warned them.

At that moment, Henry and the others were at a loss as they stared at the barren desert ahead of them.

They did not know where to go from there.

They had no money nor identity.

They couldn’t go anywhere.

They were in the worst situation imaginable, comparable to that of savages.

We were on top of the world just some moments ago! How did it come to this?

“I truly regret this! I should have never left Erudia in the first place!” People started bursting into tears not far away, regretting the decision they made.
