Chapter 1801

The Dragonites were dumbfounded when they received orders from The Cardinal Hall and the Eragon.

They were put in a difficult position, especially when they saw the indisputable evidence.

"I believe in the Crown King no matter what. They're saying he's evil just because they saw him practicing the demon's techniques? Who would believe that?"

"That's right. It's true that the Crown King's techniques are somewhat extreme, but has he done anything harmful to Erudia?"

Having experienced the first few incidents previously, the Dragonites were completely faithful to Levi.

None of them believed it even with undeniable evidence before them.

"There's no way we'll strip off the Crown King's title. Hurry up and send The Cardinal Hall our reply. Tell them that we won't do it. If we can't order them, they don't even have to think about ordering us around."

They were still unwilling to punish Levi.

Right at that moment, they received a call from him.

"What? You're telling us to strip you of your title and privilege?"

The person who had answered the call couldn't believe it.

Levi had taken the initiative and told them to follow the orders.

"I can't waste any more time. Hurry up and do it. Now, listen carefully..." he said, giving them his instructions.

"I understand. We'll get to it right now. This will be completely confidential."

Unbelievable!
All of Erudia was in shock.
The ancient factions who had hidden away were getting anxious.
The same could be said for the ordinary folks.
It was a disaster for anyone when a demon like this appeared.
That being said, CalaMaster had become Erudia's enemy.
More than anyone, he deserved to die.
In an instant, the news of CalaMaster killing tens of thousands of martial artists at Eastford, and also warriors of the Gem List spread like wild fire.
News that he was Levi was also about to be revealed soon.

Many of the evidence, along with the incident where criminals were following him around was revealed.

It only served to prove Levi's identity.

Soon enough, the Dragonites released that they would strip Levi of his title as the Crown King.

Erudia was in shock once again.

Now, everyone who didn't dare to do anything because of his title could kill him.

The news of it spread like water escaping from a broken dam.

Every news they received was disadvantageous for Levi. It worsened the misunderstanding about him.

This was the result desired by the forces in Raysonia.

They wanted to force Levi into a dead-end such that he had no choice but to fight back.

Then, he would be fighting against The Cardinal Hall and Erudia's martial arts world.

No matter who came out winning, Raysonian forces would sit in wait to reap the benefits.

However, the public, Raysonian forces, and even The Cardinal Hall did not expect what happened next.

People who once followed the Fiery Demon, meaning all those who strayed into the dark side, suddenly appeared in such a critical moment.

In the era of the Fiend, they followed Cyrus to suppress the righteous. They were mighty and proud then.

However, after the fall of the Fiery Demon, these followers faced persecution from the righteous sects and The Cardinal Hall.

Those that survived were forced to the corners of Erudia and into hiding. They lived in the shadows.

If not for the news about the Fiery Demon's heir, they would have to live in hiding for the rest of their lives.

After the fall of the Fiery Demon, they did not dare to reveal themselves.

Warriors tended to think of themselves as above everyone. They were used to their freedom and refused to let anyone control them.

However, that was only because no one could control them yet.

With The Cardinal Hall and Eragon's firm intervention, many ancient warriors had to obey their command.

Nevertheless, The Cardinal Hall and Eragon rarely exercise their control or intervene.

But once something was wrong, The Cardinal Hall would issue an order, and these warriors would obey without question.

Thus, throughout Erudia, people were making plans to hunt down Levi.

At the same time, ancient forces in Erudia's neighboring countries also planned to capture Levi.

After all, they would be affected too if a war broke out.

Everyone blamed everything on Levi and there was a great stir everywhere.

Next, Raysonia began to pump up their effort and triggered disputes in various parts of Erudia. They disguised themselves as criminals who followed Levi and started many fights everywhere. It led to serious loss on both sides.

Initially, it was the Raysonians who disguised themselves to cause strife.

"I have to go into hiding. What I'm most concerned about now is my family's safety! Therefore, you are to send Evie to my mother! After that, wait for my instruction!" Levi instructed.

He decided to part with Forlevia.

She would be in severe danger if she remained with him.

However, he did not wish to come to this.

Meanwhile, at Gamma Tech training base, Jared erupted in laughter when he heard the news about Levi.

"God is on my side!" he declared. "Levi, who knew you would come to be Erudia's public enemy! Haha, it must be a punishment from God!"

Jared grew even more excited.

He clenched his fists tightly, and his eyes widened in excitement.

He had accumulated a deep grudge with Levi, so he was happy to see Levi in trouble.

Furthermore, Levi was too caught up in his problem to bother Jared, so Wynona too could not do anything to stop him!

"I have obtained the permission to use Lab Number One! Therefore, I'll carry out my grand plan, and no one can stop me!" Jared said with a crazed expression.

In the past few days, he kept looking for a chance to carry out his plan.

Even though Levi stopped keeping an eye on Jared, Wynona's presence in Gamma Tech training base was troublesome.

“What happened?” a voice sounded.

Wynona turned around and suddenly noticed that Jared was standing beside her. “N-Nothing...”

For some reason, Jared’s smile looked a little creepy.

Wynona was afraid of him.

Meanwhile, Jared kept staring at her and said, “By the way, Miss Wilcox, my grand experiment will start tomorrow. Do you want to watch it?”

“No thank you. I have other urgent matters!” Wynona refused immediately.

She was sure that Jared was planning something big.

“That’s such a pity!” Jared smiled.

Then, he watched Wynona hurrying away and grinned sinisterly. “You’ll be the first to go!”

The next day, everyone in Gamma Tech training base was preparing for Jared’s experiment.

Lab Number One was the strongest lab at the training base.

Jared took into consideration the explosion that would follow if his experiment failed. It would destroy any other labs.

Jared was about to complete his horrible experiment!

Emma and Forlevia had been abducted!

Misfortunes followed those whose life was going downhill.

The situation was worse than imagined.

Soon, a group of masked men dressed in black appeared outside Zoey's residence.

Unfortunately for them, The Cardinal Hall had assigned warriors to stand guard since earlier.

"Who are you?" a warrior from The Cardinal Hall demanded upon seeing the masked men.

The masked men escaped immediately.

When the incident came to the knowledge of The Cardinal Hall, they were sure that it was the overseas forces that planned to abduct Levi's family members.

Since Levi became Erudia's public enemy, they believed that the overseas forces planned to hold Levi's family hostage to convince Levi to join them.

If that happened, it would be bad for Erudia.

That disaster was Jared's experiment.

Everyone in Gamma Tech training base was anticipating it.

Meanwhile, Wynona wracked her brain for the whole night but could not figure out how to stop him.

She had no choice but to observe the situation and act accordingly.

What if I am wrong?

What if Jared is not planning anything?

Soon, it was another day.

Lab Number One was activated for the first time this year.

Keanu and others prepared everything that Jared needed, especially the assistants.

The assistants assigned to Jared all worshiped him fanatically.

Before Jared entered Lab Number One, he arranged for someone to watch Wynona.

Wynona had the right to enter Lab Number One but only to the outermost section. There she could see the experiment through a specially made glass.

At the moment, Wynona was feeling anxious.

If she discovered that Jared's experiment was dangerous, she could only watch and had no power to stop it.

The superparticles that Jared had discovered were limited in quantity. There were only eight of those.
In previous experiments, only replicas of the superparticles had been used.
The experiment that was about to take place used the real superparticles.
"Start the experiment!"
At the sound of his command, the various machines in the laboratory had been activated.
"Three!"

“Two!”

“One!”

Boom!

The loud explosion sounded like the end of the world. Everyone was momentarily deafened.

Nobody could hear anything.

“It’s a success!”

“We did it!”

Suddenly, exclamations of joy rang out in the laboratory.

The collision of the particles was successful. They could now control that energy.

“Carry on!”

Jared gave the second order.

Another two particles started to collide.

The researchers had no time to celebrate, and they continued to operate the machines.

Even though Wynona had predicted some surprising move from Jared, that was not at all what she had imagined.

She never thought Jared would conduct the experiment on himself!

Who in the world would dare to do such a thing?

Especially when everyone had witnessed the horrifying scene earlier on.

The energy generated by the collision had completely destroyed Jared's physical body. There were no remnants of him at all!

Only he can be this insane in the whole world.

Nobody would have thought to utilize super energy to alter their own bodies.

Not to mention that the success rate would be extremely low.

Failure would result in absolute death.

Jared had been toying around this crazy experimentation for a very long time.

In the past, he had invented weapons such as the Deicide and was able to control huge amounts of powerful energy.

However, all those required him to rely on external objects and the help of others.

The power never came from within him.

No matter how powerful his weapons were, he was ultimately only a normal man!

That was why he needed a change!

He was willing to be a test subject and turned himself into a powerful being.

In order to attain his goal, the use of genetic modification or drugs had crossed his mind.

He did not mind turning into a cyborg like Byron.
