Chapter 1911

It was the moment Levi had been waiting for.

As there were no obstructions, he would be able to make up as much of it as he wanted.

Since the news of the Elites Conference was made public, Levi and the rest finally understood the motive behind the mass incapacitation of the young martial artists of Erudia.

Even the Erudians who were initially in disbelief of Levi's innocence and were under the impression that it was the doing of the Seven Fiends were finally starting to see otherwise.

Levi and his men did not have any reason to carry out all of those heinous acts.

The incapacitation of several hundred fighters followed by the disappearance of the top three fighters of the Stone List with their status uncertain suspiciously preceded the commencement of the Elites Conference.

It was obvious that foul play was involved.

Expounding on that trail of logic, they arrived at the conclusion that there was a possibility that Levi had been framed.

There is a mastermind involved.

If that was the case, Levi's position at the top of the Gem List did not bring any harm to Erudia. In fact, he had even managed to convert the Seven Fiends to lead a more righteous path.

With the announcement of the Elites Conference, the series of events that were hitherto puzzling seemed clear as day all of a sudden.

The Elites Conference was to be held at Oakland City with the entire world watching the live broadcast.

Out of all of the martial artists of the countries of Bayview gathered within the city, the martial artists of Raysonia and Keerea were the favorites.

The competitors of Raysonia and Keerea who proudly bore their flags seemed to crush the confidence of the other competitors by the swagger in their posture alone.

“Keerea is usually the underdog. How do they have that many fighters this time?”

The crowd was astonished at the sight of Keerea’s imposing group of competitors.

They were not this dominant at the previous Elites Conference!

“I have heard that the Triple Group had funded many genetic enhancements and as a result managed to produce a batch of extraordinarily talented fighters.”

“It was said that the Triple Group had combined the ancient cultivation techniques of various countries with advanced biotechnology to produce an army of fighters. The ambition of the Triple Group to win this year is indeed frightening to behold.”

“They had even gone as far as to study the alteration of the human vein. From birth, these fighters possessed superhuman talent and strength.”

“Raysonia’s line-up is frightening as well. I’d heard that the legendary veterans of Raysonia and their top disciples are all here. They look far more dominant than I have ever imagined.”

“Definitely. The royal family of Raysonia personally begged the veterans to attend the Elites Conference this year. That was why they had agreed to send their strongest fighters over.”

Even the contestants from Raysonia and Keerea tried hard to stifle their laughter at the risk of poor sportsmanship.

Erudia really does not have any worthy candidates.

Though their plan had been accomplished, Raysonia was still concerned that the tables might be turned at the very last minute.

One of the possibilities that they dreaded was the sudden emergence of a large group of accomplished Erudian martial artists.

If that were the case, all of their careful scheming and preparation would have been for naught.

Though the chances of that happening was close to zero, it was still a possibility to be wary of.

Another possibility was that the Cardinal Hall and the Eragon would send their own fighters to compete.

Raysonia had foreseen that the Cardinal Hall and the Eragon might declare that those fighters no longer belonged to the Cardinal Hall or any martial arts organization and as a result were free to participate in the Elites Conference.

Though this act of theirs would be dishonorable, to say the least, that possibility did exist.

Of course, honorable Erudia would rather lose than pull such a despicable act.

At the sight of the participants of Erudia, the foreigners heaved a sigh of relief at the elimination of the possibility that they feared.

No, we are overthinking.

Nortrom's demand started a ripple of murmurs as every eye in the stadium was fixated on him.

Before, the crowd was merely jeering and mocking without expecting anybody, least of all Nortrom, to be that outspoken in his disdain toward the Erudians.

Nortrom gazed at the Erudian competitors and gave a laugh of derision. "I can kill all of you without even breaking a sweat. If you can't send anybody worthy, just do yourselves a favor and withdraw from the competition. Why make things difficult for everybody?"

The others chimed in, emboldened by Nortrom's remark. "Don't embarrass yourselves further by sending in subpar competitors like them. They are not fit to compete against us."

"That's right. We urge Erudia to withdraw from the Elites Conference! They are not worthy!"

"That's right! Keerea requests that they withdraw from the competition!"

"He has a point!!"

The competitors of the other nations expressed their unanimous desire one after another to the shock of all of the Erudians at the stadium.

They had initially thought that they would be humiliated by having their representatives thrashed when the competition began, not expecting to endure the greater shame of not even being allowed the chance to compete at all.

These foreigners are adamant about forcing us out of the competition completely.

The Erudians were not expecting that.

Levi's voice echoed throughout the silence of the stunned stadium as tens of thousands of eyes goggled at him.

Levi Garrison?

Nobody had expected their common enemy to appear at that critical moment.

However, Levi was not there to exert himself. Rather, it was the mob behind him who were bristling with indignation and flexing their arms menacingly.

"Oh God, Pragus Yondle of South Erudia is here! He is the eighty-ninth strongest fighter in Erudia!"

"That is Naga Timorus from North Erudia! He is the sixty-seventh strongest fighter in Erudia!"

"Look! There's the fighter who is ranked twentieth!"

"Forget about him, look over there! It's the thirteenth strongest fighter!"

"The ninth strongest fighter!"

"The eighth strongest fighter!"

The crowd gasped as one.

Having gone too far earlier, Nortrom found himself in an embarrassing predicament. With his knees shaking violently, he did not even have the energy to walk off the stage.

Feeling the eyes of all of Erudia's finest on him from the bottom of the stage, he felt quite ready to give up.

"Who allows you to act this brazenly on Erudian soil?"

“How dare you claim that Erudia has no more champions to offer?”

Several hundred angry Erudian voices erupted. Their dominance was sufficient to overwhelm Nortrom.

Unable to withstand the pressure, his knees buckled and he fell over.

The other competitors were pale with fright. None of them dared utter a word.

The martial artists of Erudia are too powerful.

To the horror of the other competitors, they noticed that the recovered Erudians have gotten even stronger.

Not only have their martial veins healed completely, but their powers had also grown and some in leaps and bounds.

All of those deeds were accomplished by Levi alone.

Not only had he repaired the martial veins of hundreds of elite warriors, but he had also cured the top three warriors of the Stone List.

On top of that, he was responsible for saving Erudia from humiliation.

At the end, when the achievement report was being announced, Levi's name was not even in it!

Everything had gone to The Cardinal Hall.

In truth, The Cardinal Hall also wanted to release Levi's name officially, but he still carried the reputation of being the Fiery Demon's heir.

Furthermore, that accusation came from none other than The Cardinal Hall..

If they announced Levi's achievement, The Cardinal Hall would look like fools!

No matter what, The Cardinal Hall would have to maintain their pride and dignity.

In actual fact, several of them were feeling guilty beyond measure.

However, in order to maintain the façade, they could not reveal Levi's contribution.

However, Levi could not care less about the entire incident.

After all, it was normal for the most influential martial arts organization to want to maintain its reputation.

At the same time, Levi wanted to keep a low profile.

Levi was shocked to see that the message was sent by Josephine and Yasmin.

“Master, there is no need for you to be bothered with the two of them,” said the Seven Fiends.

“No. It started because of me. I’d better go and take a look,” said Levi.

Anyway, he felt the need to move around as well.

“It’s urgent, so I will set off right away. There’s no need for any of you to follow me!”

With that, Levi left.

It turned out that once Josephine and Yasmin got back, they started ignoring Trenton. Josephine, in particular, had expressed her wish of not ever seeing him again.

Outraged, Trenton exposed their collaboration with Levi to their backers!

Trenton even added fuel to the fire by saying that the two were Levi’s women.

None of them attended the Elites Conference in Bayview. Hence, they and the forces behind their backers had no idea what had taken place during the Elites Conference.

As far as they were concerned, Levi was still the Fiery Demon's heir.

Therefore, Josephine and Yasmin's relationship with Levi was a huge taboo.

They were top disciples in honorable clans, but they were going all out to defend a despicable being.

How can we possibly not be angry at them?

"We will give you one last chance. Do you admit to being wrong?" roared the angry community.

Josephine had her head up high and shouted at the people, "I've never committed any sins!"

"That's right! All of you have been conned. Levi Garrison can't have been the Fiery Demon's heir. We couldn't have survived if he is," chimed in Yasmin.

"Such insolence! There is no point in talking to them anymore. Burn them!" ordered the leader.

Someone set the fire ablaze immediately after!

Voom!

The smoke instantly rolled upwards...

"Which idiot called our master a demon?" demanded a feminine voice. An angelic figure descended from above.

It is the Warrior Princess, Jessica Nolan!

Her regal and pure aura flabbergasted everyone.

Josephine and Yasmin were instantly star-struck.

Their reaction was understandable since Jessica was the idol they admired the most.

"Yeah, who insulted our master?"

Two tall figures showed up as well.

They are the renowned Twin Meteorites!

It didn't take long before the top-ranking members of the Stone List came running in. Sixth, seventh, eighth...

A few hundred warriors barged into the place.

What the hell? The top fighters in Erudia have all gathered here!

"T-that's the Twin Meteorites who ranked the first and second on the Stone List! And is that Jessica, who is ranked number three on the list? Number five..."

The crowd behind Josephine and Yasmin had incredible social networks, so they recognized the more popular warriors on the Stone List.

Trenton, in particular, recognized and knew all about them.

That was not surprising since the warriors of Erudia were all his competitors.

Hence, he knew them better than anyone else.
