Chapter 1951

One by one, his teammates realized the same.

However, it was too late.

Although he looked as if he had abandoned Sherrie, Levi who was just heading in their direction suddenly disappeared.

He had switched directions and turned back.

His plan was to use Sherrie as bait and then attack once the enemy fell for his ruse.

He had managed to put Sherrie, who was relegated to being a burden, to good use as a decoy.

Half of the Raysonian samurais, Undead Warrior, and the giant samurai were launching attacks at Sherrie.

However, Levi who had just turned back appeared right behind them.

Boom!

Boom!

Undead Warrior and the giant samurai were sent flying by Levi's devastating assault.

Pfft!

Pfft!

As for the five Raysonian samurais who were weaker, Levi slit their throats with the broken Northern Excalibur in a single slash, killing them instantly.

At the same time, the giant samurai was grievously injured. Unlike Undead Warrior, he didn't have self-healing abilities.

Consequently, they suffered heavy losses from the counterattack, and that was just the beginning.

However, Levi didn't even allow them the time to react. Making a turn, he returned to face the earlier group.

He was targeting the remaining five Raysonian samurais.

That was where the real danger lied.

The moment Levi was pushed back by Armored Titan's punch, the assassins in the shadows took action.

"Swoosh!"

One by one, their figures flashed before Levi's eyes.

The next instant, Levi was surrounded by five black figures who were all charging toward him at breakneck speed.

Levi knew that they were not mirages conjured by the witch. Instead, they were very real.

In truth, they were clones created by the enemy's frightening speed.

This was Ghost Samurai's special ability.

Watching the fight, the Raysonian chieftain clenched his fists. Ghost Samurai was their ultimate trump card.

He wasn't just the best swordsman in Raysonia, he was also an excellent ninja with special skills. Combining all his knowledge, he was able to elevate his speed and techniques to an extreme level.

In fact, his ultimate skill was generating phantom-like clones.

After biding his time in the shadows, he finally found the perfect opportunity to strike.

Ghost Samurai's five clones attacked Levi concurrently.

Levi too had gotten a clear look at how Ghost Samurai looked like.

He was clad in a special black suit while his face was hidden underneath a biochemical mask.

On his back was a load of samurai swords where Levi had quickly counted sixteen of them.

Standing there, he exuded a fearsome aura.

Every time he exhaled, he would let out a terrifying sound which made him sound like a beast.

Boom!

Suddenly, there was an explosion and Ghost Samurai vanished in a pile of smoke.

Ninjutsu!

The next moment, Ghost Samurai surrounded Levi again. This time, there were eight clones of his.

Boom! Boom...

All eight of them launched a strike in unison.

This time, it was even harder to tell which was the real one as every single clone attacked with similar intensity.

It felt like all the eight figures were real.

With a consecutive sixteen palm strikes, the attacks piled on relentlessly. Every attack was stronger than before.

The Death Swordsman and the other warriors launched a joint attack and tried to crush Levi with overwhelming force.

Meanwhile, Ghost Samurai's sixteen clones looked for an opportunity to assassinate Levi.

However, Levi hadn't found a way to defeat Ghost Samurai and his clones yet.

In other words, he might be able to defeat them in a one-to-one battle with time and patience.

However, current circumstances didn't give him that luxury.

If he were unable to defeat Ghost Samurai, his life would be under constant threat.

Pfft!

Pfft!

Bearing the brunt of further attacks, Levi's injuries began to accumulate.

Although they weren't fatal, it was enough to excite Bruce and the others.

"F*ck off!"

Suddenly, Levi roared as he unleashed a burst of explosive force, pushing everyone else back.

"Don't go too far just because I'm not serious yet!"

Levi glared coldly at his enemies.

He was finally outraged at how persistent they were at attacking Sherrie.

The man that had been hiding all this while finally made a move.

He was The Dark Archer from Lab of Gods.

It was said that his arrow was able to pierce through everything in this world.

Even the aerospace-level material could not hold up against it.

In fact, Lab of Gods had conducted numerous experiments on him.

He was found from a tribe village in Adrune, and his strength was beyond imagination like no ordinary human.

As he shot his arrow, the speed was so fast that one would not even see it coming.

Not to mention, its accuracy was more spot-on than a professional sniper.

No preys which he had his eyes on could ever escape.

Not even someone as strong as Levi.

He would not stand a chance if he got targeted by The Dark Archer.

Moreover, Lab of Gods even used genetic technology and super serum to enhance The Dark Archer's capability.

As the five arrows were heading swiftly toward the direction of Sherrie, Levi immediately rushed to her rescue.

He used his fastest speed and managed to push Sherrie aside just before the five arrows reached her.

The problem was that the five arrows were not exactly fired simultaneously.

There was a tiny little time difference between each one of them.

Hence, it made Levi's rescue act more challenging. He had to be extraordinarily focused.

Yet at that critical instance, The Dark Archer fired another arrow.

Even though Levi had noticed that arrow, he had no flexibility to evade it after reacting to the first five arrows.

To put it precisely, he had to choose between letting Sherrie die or blocking the last arrow.

Without a doubt, Levi chose the latter.

Swoosh!

With that, the last arrow went directly into Levi's left shoulder.

A second after the impact, the arrowhead exploded inside his flesh.

Levi's left shoulder got blown into a big hole, severely injured at that instant.

If the arrow went into any of his organs, he would have lost his life.

Thump!

As Levi collapsed to the ground, the crowd burst into a round of cheers.

However, The Dark Archer, hiding in the dark, could not rejoice.

The arrow’s force began to spread toward the other parts of his body. By then, his life would be in great danger.

Not to mention, the highly pressurized energy in the arrowhead would explode any second.

If that happened, Levi would at least be paralyzed if not dead.

Gush! Gush! Gush!

At that critical moment, The Dark Archer fired another three arrows.

Levi was left with no choice, as he struggled to catch those three with his left hand.

“Argh!”

Instantly, his left hand turned into a mess of blood too.

He shouted in deep agony as his body staggered backward by the force from the four arrows.

There was no way he could stop them.

Not to mention, those arrowheads were about to explode.

He knew he would not stand a chance of survival against all four explosions.

“Kill him!”

The Death Swordsman would not let go of this perfect chance to take Levi’s life.

He charged toward the latter with Double Beam Swords in his hands, determined to end the latter’s life.

Levi's hands were in bad shape; his body suffered severe injury.
His whole body was covered in blood, while a big hole formed on his left shoulder.
Not to mention, there were countless minor wounds from his shoulders distributed throughout his back.
Even though he successfully killed all the enemies in his sight, he had paid an enormous price for it.
Looking at Levi, whose body was dripping blood, Sherrie's heart twitched in pain.
She blamed herself for making Levi become like this.
Nonetheless, it was hardly her fault, as it was just a coincidence that she walked into this terrible place.
And in Levi's eyes, Sherrie's existence was still worth some value.
After all, she had told Levi many secrets of Lab of Gods.
"You..."
Just when Sherrie was about to ask Levi, Levi suddenly spoke, "Shhh! Don't talk!"
At that moment, he needed to gather all his focus to search for The Dark Archer.
There was no room for any distraction or extra sound.
With that, Sherrie immediately shut her mouth, not daring even to breathe.
"We're all counting on you now!"
All the chieftains of the Raysonia forces were praying diligently at that moment.
"It'll be fine. We still have one ace card in hand. He's the one I plan to use to take Levi's life."

The Undead Warrior held onto Levi, determined not to let him loose.

If an arrow goes through me, it will hurt Levi as well! Imagine how much damage it will cause if The Dark Archer fires all of them!

He was determined to kill Levi at all costs, even if it meant perishing together with the latter.

Levi's invincibility had forced his enemies to make a desperate move as such.

With that, The Dark Archer used up all his remaining arrows, firing at them.

Even though the power was not as much after going through Undead Warrior, they still could cause massive damage toward Levi.

"Poof!"

"Poof!"

Arrows by arrows were fired.

Lab of Gods had made sixty arrows in total for The Dark Archer.

At normal times, The Dark Archer just needed to fire one to kill one enemy.

Sixty arrows were supposed to be able to last for a lifetime.

After all, he was seldom needed, sometimes only once in a few years.

But today, The Dark Archer seemed to have lost his mind as he finished firing all his arrows.

I need to kill him no matter what! As long as he isn't dead, everyone won't have peace of mind!

Never in a million years did Levi expect to find another man hidden in the dark!

What surprised him further was that there were not just one but three men!

Levi could not help but take a deep breath, as he could sense danger around him.

How on earth did I miss the third man? He’s either invincible or has remarkable camouflaging skills!

It did not matter how the man was at this point, as Levi knew he was now hanging by a thread!

Upon seeing the mysterious man emerge from the dark, a corner of Bruce’s mouth quirked up.

That man was his trump card and his most powerful warrior! Finally, it’s time to get rid of Levi once and for all!

The Raysonian chieftains, too, let out a maniacal laugh. In the past, many of Ghost Samurai and the sorts had sacrificed their lives when they tried to get rid of Levi, and now, it was payback time!

Suddenly, one of them asked, “Who is he, Mr. Johnston?”
