Chapter 1981

The destruction of the Yamaguchi Corporation left The Dark Sun completely speechless, and the eradication of Shin was driving them insane.

How is this possible? As powerful as Robed Slayer is, there's no way he can defeat those two powerhouses!

Regardless of what they wanted to believe, they had no choice but to accept the fact for what it was.

"As of now, Robed Slayer's full strength remains unknown. In fact, we don't even know if he has a trump card up his sleeve! Us remaining six forces must work together to prevent him from picking us off one by one! We can't afford to lose this battle!"

"Yeah! We can lose our lives, but we cannot dishonor The Dark Sun and Raysonia!"

"We cannot let Levi barge into our country and do as he pleases like he did in Zarain!"

"From now on, we have to stop underestimating Robed Slayer! We have to do whatever it takes to kill him!"

The Dark Sun's remaining forces banded together as per the Watanabe family's suggestion, and the five Ancient Warrior Families were a terrifying force when united.

The Solar Rankings of Raysonia were similar to the Gem List of Erudia, albeit a little weaker.

Even so, it consisted of the strongest of samurais and priests, and they had all gathered together after being invited by The Dark Sun.

The Dark Sun's own forces were pretty solid as well, with the Watanabe family, Taiin Shrine, Kitajima family, Hattori family, Nogawa family, and Kuno family in one place.

The Yagyuu family was not in participation, which was perfectly understandable as they were simply too powerful.

In fact, it wouldn't even be an overstatement to call them the strongest in all of Raysonia.

The Yagyuu family was also called the Blademasters because of their extraordinary skill in swordsmanship.

Their ancestors were all remarkable swordsmen, and they had passed down their skills in swordsmanship to the latest Blademaster, Kenkage Yagyuu.

Oh, well... I guess it really is no challenge for someone as powerful as he is! Man, I sure envy Levi... I've got to get stronger so I can act all bada*s like him and be strong enough to back it up!

"You may not know this, Mr. Garrison, but Kenkage practices a different form of swordsmanship!" Robed Slayer said.

"Hmm?" Levi paused.

"Kenkage has always frequented nightclubs and is an infamous pervert. His form of swordsmanship is also based on decadence. Most people would go on a path of abstinence, but Kenkage is the exact opposite. He constantly indulges himself in booze and sex, but it doesn't affect him in the slightest. In fact, it only makes him stronger!" Robed Slayer explained.

Levi nodded. "This guy is a different breed, I see!"

"My men have just confirmed that he's in a nightclub right now! So, where shall we go?" Robed Slayer asked.

"To see Kenkage, of course!"

As if his words weren’t shocking enough, him patting Kenkage on the cheek hit everyone like a ton of bricks.

Kenkage is the number one on the Solar Rankings and would kill anyone who rubs him the wrong way! He’s the freaking Sword Saint! He just takes any woman he likes anytime and anywhere! Even the big shots in Raysonia would avoid him whenever possible for fear of losing their life, and yet this ignorant punk has just boldly patted him on the cheeks? On top of that, he even said he’s here to kill Kenkage! Who the hell does he think he is? Does he have a death wish or something?

Being the strongest in existence, Kenkage had always done as he pleased.

As such, Levi’s actions left him speechless and frozen in shock and disbelief.

D-Did this guy just smack me in the face? I think I also heard him say he wants to kill me... Could I have misheard him or something?

“Hey, are you deaf? I asked you a f*cking question! Do you have a problem with me killing you?”

Seeing as Kenkage was still unresponsive, Levi slapped him a few times across the face.

Smack! Smack! Smack!

The slaps sounded especially loud in the silence of the VIP lounge, and everyone was on the brink of losing their minds from the madness before them.

This guy is crazy! I can’t believe he just taunted Kenkage repeatedly like that! He’s completely lost his mind!

Kenkage cursed in his head.

He and his men had recognized Robed Slayer when they came in through the door earlier, but he didn't expect for his disciple to be Levi.

Isn't he dead? Didn't his corpse get dissolved? I've confirmed his death multiple times, so how is he still alive and well?

The young men in the room nearly fainted from the shock, but Kenkage was quick to regain his composure.

"If you're still alive, then I'll be the one to kill you!"

Kenkage had long since wanted to fight Levi, so being presented with the golden opportunity got him all excited.

"You'll have to get up to do that!" Levi said with a sneer.

Those words angered Kenkage to no end as he had never been humiliated like that before.

I have to get up! I have to defeat Levi! I've never lost to anyone, and I can't afford to lose now! I'll die if I lose! I have to live on!

The Yagyuu family home was located on the empty plains on the outskirts of Edojo.

Due to the family's nasty reputation, the area around the house was completely uninhabited.

The Yagyuu family's warriors were present in the main hall as a precaution due to Robed Slayer's recent activities.

Although they had refused to team up with The Dark Sun's forces, they still decided to gather their own people.

Tenfu Yagyuu was both Kenkage's father and the patriarch of the Yagyuu family.

"Do you guys think Robed Slayer will come after us?" he asked as he sat down in front of his men.

Everyone around him burst into laughter upon hearing that.

"Heh, I bet he wouldn't dare to even challenge us!"

“Hahaha! I can’t believe you’d just deliver yourself to us on a silver platter!”

The men said while laughing at Robed Slayer in disdain. Moments later, they shifted their attention toward Levi who was standing behind him.

He seems to be dragging a body with him... Wait, why does that outfit look kind of familiar? Hold on, this is... Could this be...

A bad feeling spread through all of their hearts, and Tenfu had noticed it too.

Isn't this guy one of ours? Well, I can't say for sure from just the outfit alone. It's probably someone Robed Slayer has killed just to provoke us!

Several fighters rushed towards Levi before bursting into masses of blood from about fifteen feet away.

Yet another bunch of elites turned into a mist of blood in front of Levi.

And with that, everyone's eyes were on Levi.

He's not an ordinary man!

They were initially focused on Robed Slayer and paid no heed to Levi.

But now, he was the center of attention.

With that, no one would dare mess with Levi again.

They had a new objective. They wanted to get rid of Robed Slayer first before taking down Levi.

Hence, a fight between the fighters and Robed Slayer was inevitable.

Soon, even Yagyuu Tenfu, ranked number two on the Solar Rankings, joined in.

Meanwhile, tens of thousands of elite fighters gathered at The Dark Sun's headquarters, with technological equipment installed all over.

The remaining members of the Yagyu family all called out.

The family was on its last leg at that point.

If the elder did not come out, it would be all over for the Yagyu family.

Suddenly, there was a sharp ringing sound.

Hearing that made that the whole Yagyu family ecstatic.

The elder is coming!

At the same time, a volcano erupted not far from where they were.

The thick smog covered the sky as molten hot lava came gushing out.

Even though it was a small one, the eruption could still strike fear into people's hearts.

That said, from afar, it looked magnificent.

"The elder's coming!"

“It was rumored that the elder was suppressing the volcano all on his own. It’s actually real!”

“I wonder how strong is the elder.”

“He’s definitely stronger than Robed Slayer! If Levi was here, maybe they would stand a chance. But without him, no one can stop the elder!”

Levi knew that Robed Slayer was no match for Ikken. Even more so since Robed Slayer was on the verge of death.

He'll die if he fought him head on. Heck, he won't level up even if he didn't die. It's better for me to step in.

"Huh?"

Everyone was shocked to see Robed Slayer stepping aside obediently after Levi nudged him.

Even though Levi was able to repel the men around him, no one took him seriously as the men he fought were just some goons from the Yagyuu family. They could not even be considered fighters.

They figured he was just one of Robed Slayer's underlings.

That said, the situation at the moment seemed to be painting a different picture.

Is he really Robed Slayer's underling?

Seeing Levi stepping forward, Ikken was a little dumbfounded.

"Who are you?" he asked instinctively.

Right then, Tenfu was about to inform the elder about Levi being Robed Slayer's underling, but Levi interrupted him and announced, "I'm the one who killed Kenkage Yagyuu!"

His statement caught everyone off guard.
