Chapter 2041

“They are?”

Levi’s eyes lit up before he promptly took the document from her and started reading it.

The Lab of Gods had labs in almost every region in the world.

All of them were focused on researches regarding energy.

Those labs were the heart of the Lab of Gods.

What Levi wanted to do was to destroy all of those secret labs.

Of course, they had labs in Erudia as well. Otherwise, where could they have possibly found the sites where sunstones were at?

Therefore, one of the tasks that Levi had assigned his men to was to find out the location of the Lab of Gods in Erudia.

Those labs were of utmost importance to the Lab of Gods

Thus, they were built in remote and secretive areas. It would be difficult to find out where they were at.

Although Cryptic Stream Corporation had not kept a low profile when entering Erudia, no one had heard anything about the secret lab in Erudia.

Therefore, searching for the lab was a difficult task for Phoenix and the others.

“You?” Bruce whispered in shock as he looked at the servant.

That man was Peter, and he was from Keerea.

He was a technological expert, but he had given up his luxurious life and began working as a servant instead.

All he did was odd jobs, such as making coffee for Bruce.

What he wanted to do was to get into the Lab of Gods.

“That’s right. I have an idea!”

However, Bruce did not expect much from him as he nodded dismissively. “Yes, sure. Go ahead.”

Nevertheless, it did not hurt to hear what he had to say anyway.

“We’re looking for a needle in a haystack with what we’re doing now. The other party is targeting us, so there’s no way they’re going to leave behind any clues for us to find. However, this is a large-scale operation they’re carrying out. They’re no specters nor demons; how could they really not leave any traces behind?”

At that, Bruce’s eyes lit up as if he had thought of something.

“You’re right. As long as they make a move, they’re bound to leave traces of their footprints behind. The only reason we can’t find it is because we’re approaching it at the wrong angle. Go on, continue!”

Staring at Bruce, Peter continued, "Let me tell you the reasons. Even now, I think that this mysterious force has something to do with Erudia. After all, this only happened when we mined the sunstones in Erudia. That's why I think we should get The Cardinal Hall or the Dragonites to escort us. If we do that, we'll be able to find out if they're associated with Erudia.

It'll be the best-case scenario if the mysterious force appears. We'll figure out who they are right away. If they don't, we'll still be able to transport the sunstones back. Regardless of everything, we won't lose out on this. Moreover, from then on, we'll be able to mine for sunstones in Erudia. We won't have anyone stopping us anymore."

Peter was confident with his plan.

After hearing Peter's words, Bruce found himself more and more interested in the young man.

He's got quite a lot of good ideas.

He has solved half of our problems so swiftly!

Bruce nodded. "I was thinking of transporting the sunstones back to pressure the mysterious force into making a move too. However, I never thought of getting Erudian forces to escort them. This is truly a magnificent move! We would really be able to figure out if Erudia was involved or not."

He then instructed his subordinates, "Men, make preparations right away! We'll be transporting sunstones back the next day! Set up everything and inform Ryker about this! Contact the Erudian forces and let them send their men to escort us!"

Bruce was quick in giving out instructions.

Soon, everyone in the Lab of Gods was at their station.

Everyone was stunned.

Is he giving up, or is he going to risk it all?

But this is too risky!

It's very likely that we'll fail.

We can't let Zarain get their hands on the sunstones!

"Boss, please be honest with us. Do you have some kind of ace up your sleeve? Are you actually prepared for this scenario?"

Everyone was panicking, and they were hoping that Levi actually had an ace up his sleeve.

However, Levi looked at them and shook his head. "No."

"Listen up. No one is allowed to do anything without my permission! Anyone who goes against this order shall be dealt with!" Levi warned.

The transportation team left with a strong escort team.

Every half an hour, they would do routine checks.

After making sure that everything was fine, they would then carry on.

That was what they did until they safely reached the port.

Bruce had assigned his trusted subordinates to wait at the port. Once the sunstones arrived, they began checking them.

"All's fine!"

"Loading now!"

He had been stressed out for days.
The never ending failure was lowering his position in the Lab of Gods.
If he were to fail another time, he was certain that he would be reprimanded harshly.
Thus, he endured the most stress among the people in the Lab of Gods.
He had been holding back his frustration and anxiety.
He had to get the sunstones back.
Now, he had succeeded.
Clenching his fists, Bruce continued sobbing from joy.
Everyone was excited, and they were cheering loudly.
It was a lively scene.
“Quick, send out the message to the rest of the world! We’ve succeeded in bringing the sunstones back!” Bruce exclaimed.

He then instructed Peter and the others to take photos and videos of the sunstones.

Soon, news about the safe arrival of the sunstones from Erudia reached the ears of others.

The mysterious force had turned out to be cowardly, for they dared not do anything during the transportation of the sunstones. They could only hand the sunstones over to the Lab of Gods.

To the majority of the people, it was relatively sad news.

They were all hoping that the mysterious force would show itself so that they could get some clues to ask for a reward from the Lab of Gods.

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

The base, which was made up of eight islands, exploded.

Wave after wave of explosions made the entire place lit up as if it was the day.

Boom!

The base was one of the energy supply stations of the Lab of Gods, so there were more resources kept there other than the sunstones.

Not only would the energy resources be destroyed in the event of an explosion, but the explosions would also be so major that they would be a threat to the base.

Thus, the explosion earlier had only been the start. The moment one explosion went off, another was soon to follow, every explosion more devastating than the last.

Boom!

At the start, the explosion was on one island. Soon, it was three.

Then, it was four.

In the end, eight islands and their connecting regions all suffered from explosions.

In seconds, they were going to die.

“Save me!”

Bruce hastily pressed the help button.

Thirty seconds later, eight men with superpowers landed in front of Bruce from the sky.

Glowing shields instantly appeared in front of them to stop the sunstones’ energy from reaching them.

Whoosh!

Right then, Bruce found himself pulled away by his subordinates.

Even Peter and some others were rescued.

That was one of the rights Bruce had as the core member of the Lab of Gods.

At the time of danger, he could press the help button to receive help.

No one else in the base other than people like him had a button like that.

If Bruce were anyone else, he could only wait for death.

The sunstones needed to be transported to a specific location.

The Lab of Gods had been publicizing the transportation journey and even invited various major global forces to keep a close eye for any signs of the mysterious force.

In other words, they had told the rest of the world where their base was.

No one realized that.

Everyone was putting themselves in the shoes of the Lab of Gods; they were all thinking about how they should figure out the identity of the mysterious force.

They never thought they would expose themselves first.

They never thought that the mysterious force was looking for their base as well.

Thus, with the transportation team, Levi finally found the Lab of Gods' base.

It was a fruitful day for Levi.

Not only did he stop the Lab of Gods from getting Erudia's sunstones, he even destroyed one of their important supply stations.

Levi had dealt a dreadful blow to the Lab of Gods.

It was the most vicious counterattack that he had dealt toward the Lab of Gods as well.

The entire Erudia was thrown into an uproar when the people found out that the mysterious faction finally launched an attack.

Although they could not protect the sunstone, it did not end up with the Lab of Gods either.

In addition, they also suffered a great loss.

All the other forces were dumbstruck. The mysterious faction acted? Why didn't we see it when we have been monitoring the situation the whole time? With so many pairs of eyes staring at it, it's impossible that we didn't realize their slightest movement!

Little did they know that only Levi took an action. Since the attack did not involve other men, it was only natural that they did not notice anything.

“The Lab of Gods assumed the upper hand in this matter. Never in a million years would they have thought that the real winner behind this is the mysterious faction!”

“I get it now. While the Lab of Gods was openly luring the mysterious faction to go look for them, the latter was doing the same! They were both playing tango with each other, and one party is bound to plunge into an abyss.”

The Lab of Gods was completely devastated.

Bruce fell ill at that instant whereas Peter and gang were all injured at varying degrees. The whole team was dealt a disastrous blow. It was utterly embarrassing!

“I want to go home. I want to go home now!” The more Ryker uttered, the more frightened Jefferson had become. His first and only reaction was to request to leave immediately.

“Trash! You’re a useless piece of trash!” Ryker went ballistic.

Subsequently, he reported the incident to Jefferson’s father, who was the owner of Cryptic Stream Corporation.

As a result, his family was enraged by Jefferson’s behavior, especially his father who was extremely disappointed in Jefferson.

In such a critical moment like this, what Jefferson says about Levi is equivalent to misleading the public with untruth. He’s creating chaos and planting fear in others. I can’t let him come home. It’s best he stays in Erudia.

“I won’t return as there’s only one way to find out if Levi would appear.” Ryker smirked.

After that, there was pin-drop silence at the Lab of Gods. Ryker was patiently waiting for Levi’s arrival.

A few days went by, but nothing happened.

Ryker approached the devastated Jefferson and jeered at him, “Where’s Levi? I’ve been waiting for him for days. Why hasn’t he shown up yet? Is he still appearing in your dreams?”

Jefferson turned ghastly. “Don’t speak nonsense! I have a strong feeling that he will come soon. It was the same with Byron, Bruce’s brother. Levi kept an eye on him all the time.”
