Chapter 2141 Hell Rejected Me

Levi always had the ability to shock people. It wasn't an exception when he approached The Cardinal Hall.

By loudly announcing his own arrival, he stunned everyone there.

Levi? No one could claim not to know who Levi was. Even the elders at The Manifest Court had belittled them by saying they were insignificant compared to Levi.

That was why when his voice and name boomed through The Cardinal Hall, everyone was shocked!

Isn't Levi supposed to be dead?

How is it possible that he is still alive?

He was repeatedly reported dead, isn't he?

Oh my! He has found his way to The Cardinal Hall!

In a flash, many of the fighters of The Cardinal Hall appeared.

If one was nice to Levi, he would reciprocate with respect. However, if anyone tried to be unreasonable with him, he would retaliate tit for tat.

It did not matter who he was facing, and The Cardinal Hall was no exception.

Those fighters from The Cardinal Hall had not expected Levi to have such arrogance as to belittle them, so they were enraged, especially the four divine generals.

Whoever challenged The Cardinal Hall would not get out alive!

“Die!” DG Gemini, being the most quick-tempered, immediately charged toward Levi and launched his attack.

His punch was an eye-opener for many of his compatriots.

Within the small confined area, they could clearly feel the power of his punch. However, the most impressive thing about it was that he was able to control it such that his explosive power was directed solely at his intended target and would not harm anyone nearby.

That was a technique Levi and Cyrus had never seen before, and they too were impressed! The Cardinal Hall had indeed lived up to its reputation.

They had a huge pool of talents with superior powers, yet they usually kept a low profile.

Just a single punch from DG Gemini was enough to showcase the superiority of The Cardinal Hall.

The two were about to have a showdown, and it was obvious it would only end when one of them died.

It was the most exciting day at The Cardinal Hall for many, an unbelievably rare occasion when a commoner was bold enough to challenge one of the divine generals.

Many of the juniors looked up to DG Gemini with adoration in their eyes, glad they finally could watch him show off his skills.

It was expected to be a nail-biting clash of the titans' battle.

Just as the two men were about to go into battle, a voice sounded, saying, "Let him in!"

Boom!

That voice scared the wits out of DG Gemini, and he almost fell to the ground.

"Could you let my mother stay here with Forlevia? She could take care of her and keep her company," he requested.

It was lonely for Forlevia to stay at The Cardinal Hall without her family. His mother would be lonely and also in danger if she was left by herself. Levi felt that if Emma could stay with Forlevia, that would be the best arrangement possible for both.

"Sure, not an issue at all!" Elder Celia agreed readily.

Forlevia and Emma broke into a wide smile, pleased with the arrangement.

"Yeah! Grandma can keep me company every day! I wish Daddy and Mommy can stay with Evie too..." Forlevia pouted as she looked longingly at Levi.

"Be a good girl, Evie. Once Daddy finishes my work, I will come back and spend time with you! Mommy and your other grandma will be here as well!" he promised.

Forlevia instantly gave him a big happy smile and said, "You must honor your words, and you cannot lie to Evie! Promise?"

Levi did not spend much time at The Cardinal Hall. After all, he was not one of them, and it was not appropriate for him to hang around that place. After spending a short time with Forlevia, he turned to leave with Cyrus.

Elder Celia personally gave instructions that nobody was to stop the two men from leaving.

That was the new mission Scias gave to Jester King. He had rushed to the graveyard as soon as he received the order.

After a detailed search, he locked in on that location and started digging.

Soon, he had turned the graveyard upside down, but even after digging the whole area, he still could not find what he was looking for.

As such, he went back and dug deeper into the ground. The deeper he went, the more spine-chilling the place became.

The freaky thing was the originally sunny weather suddenly turned gloomy, and the gathered clouds had a frightening tint of red, like blood was oozing from them.

On top of that, there were frequent lightning strikes even though it was not raining.

In Erudia's cultural belief, a bloody red cloud blocking off the sun was an unlucky sign, a sign that something disastrous would be happening soon.

That belief turned out to be true as Jester King was up to no good. He was looking for an object of bad omen!

After digging to the depth of more than six hundred feet, he found an underground structure – a miniature palace!

Chapter 2146 More Mysterious Acts Of Jester King

Jester King did not leave Rodunst after that. Instead, he went to an old abandoned castle.

The castle sat in a compound overgrown with weeds, and many crows were perched on a barren tree.

The piercing calls of the crows gave one the creeps.

The moment Jester King stepped into the abandoned castle, flocks of bats swarmed out.

On that night, a blood moon was hanging dimly in the night sky, and it resembled a bleeding dying moon.

The scene was simply queer.

It did not take long before Jester King came out of the castle. Again, he was carrying a metallic coffin on his shoulder, and it looked exactly like the other one from the graveyard.

Jester King went to the airport with the second coffin but left empty-handed.

After that, he proceeded to a training base guarded by numerous fighters from the Ancient Clans.

Without a word, he went on a killing spree and butchered everyone there.

The training base was housing another metallic coffin. Unlike the previous two, the third one had multiple tubes connected to it.

It was quite obvious the coffin and its content were the subject of study and research.

Jester King successfully removed it from the training base and shipped it to Goldenport Island of Erudia.

The huge explosion rocked the cruise ship and almost capsized it.

The guests started screaming in fear and shouting, "What is happening?"

The captain and crew were caught off-guard by the unexpected turbulence.

Although they were sailing in the open seas, it was a perfect day with calm waters and clear skies that should not result in the ship being rocked so violently.

"The problem seems to come from the cargo deck, and a few of our crew were also cut off from communications..."

"Get down there to check it out!"

The dozens of crew that went to check on the cargo deck did not return nor send back any communications, worrying the captain and the rest of their teammates.

"Quick! Seal the cargo deck!" shouted the experienced captain. He instinctively knew that was the source of the problem and wanted to seal it off.

He lead a team down to the cargo deck, and when they reached there, they were overwhelmed by a nauseous scent of blood.

Just as they were about to completely seal off the section, suddenly, something charged out!

Chapter 2148 Trouble On Goldenport Island

The cargoes were meant for Johannes' family, and their people were at the port receiving the shipment.
All the cargoes were tightly sealed in crates, so the ship reached Goldenport Island safely.
As the cargoes were heavy items like minerals, rocks, and stones, no one suspected anything was wrong despite the shipment being heavier than usual.
"Truck them back!" Instructions were given, and the cargoes were trucked back to the factory, with no one any the wiser about what had been added to their shipment.

As for the disasters that were happening in Rodunst, despite the attempts to censor the news, other countries began to hear about it.

After leaving The Cardinal Hall, Levi and Cyrus wanted to head to Sacred Organization to look Zoey up.

However, even Cyrus shook his head and admitted he had no idea where Sacred Organization was. It was as secretive as the Lab of Gods, and he was unable to help Levi find his way to them.

Chapter 2149 Beyond Control

By the time the management team rushed to the factory, the dead bodies of the workers were already strewn all over the floor. It was bewildering for them as there were no signs of fighting within the factory, and the workers died an unnatural death, their bodies all drained of blood and shrunken.

There was a coffin right in the middle of the factory floor, and that alerted them to immediately back off.

"Stay away! Something is not right with that coffin! Inform the Hiltons..."

They were alert and quick, but unfortunately, not quick enough compared to the horrifying thing.

They breathed in the gas emitted from the coffin and suffered the same fate as the other victims.

The processing factory became the latest living hell...

It was a blessing that the factory was highly automated and had just a handful of staff, so casualty count was kept to a minimum.

As soon as Johannes and Sherrie received the alert from their team, they immediately rushed to the factory.

They reviewed the security footage of the factory floor, and their jaws dropped when they witnessed the strange happenings.

"Didn't the Ancient Clans show themselves? I shall release everyone and see what happens!" Scias declared with a sinister smile, as though he had everything under control. He was clad in his suit, as usual.

Jester King chuckled and changed the topic. "By the way, how's Lucifer doing?"

"He can save anyone he wants. Lucifer shall evolve after coming back from the dead!" Scias answered with a smirk.

Jester King lamented, "Well, he's the most terrifying doctor who had been involved in most of the experiments! Now that Levi is dead, no one can harm us."

Scias smiled. "Yes. They only saw a fragment of our true strength."

"I can't believe you found out where they are. They have no idea what they are going against!" Jester King exclaimed. "No one can stop the four coffins. I can't wait to see what will happen next in Goldenport Island!"

Meanwhile, all fighters had gathered around the factory on Goldenport Island, including Xenotoph and the others.

After all, Goldenport Island's survival was at stake.

Disaster had already befallen Rodunst, so they wanted everyone on Goldenport Island to be safe.

The fighters and Protectors sent over by Dragonites and The Cardinal Hall had joined forces, so it should be enough to defend themselves.

Johannes, Xenotoph, and the other important figures gave commands. "Some of you should stay guard outside. Some should head in. Everyone, stay together. Don't spread out. We shall enter together!"
