Chapter 2171 Levi After A Year Of Disappearance

One of them was a woman nicknamed Empress who began killing fighters one after another like crazy since her rise to power, including those from the Lab of Gods.

She had no qualms about killing anyone regardless of who they were, and her nickname Empress terrified countless people in just one year.

Everyone shuddered upon hearing it, and she was none other than Zoey Lopez herself.

In order to become stronger and protect her loved ones, Zoey fought countless battles and successfully gained a foothold in that era.

She was listed as one of the Fearsome Four, two of which were from Garrison Industry and Maya Industries respectively.

The last one of the four was Lucifer from the Lab of Gods.

He became increasingly stronger and bloodthirsty since his revival by Dr. Erebus, and the Lab of Gods had allowed him to go on a murderous rampage.

That was how he had become one of the Fearsome Four, and none of them have ever lost the battles they fought.

Chapter 2172 Garrison Industry Needs A Leader

The Cardinal Hall never took Garrison Industry seriously when it first began its development, and they didn't really pay much attention to the company even when they supplied them with pure energy beings.

It wasn't until Garrison Industry rose to power and surprised everyone with its achievements that The Cardinal Hall began to set its sights on the company.

That was especially the case as Garrison Industry possessed several advanced technologies not found even in the Lab of Gods.

On top of that, Garrison Industry had no actual person in charge and was instead managed by several individuals together.

According to The Cardinal Hall, Garrison Industry needed someone to take charge of its development, and Edmund had finally decided to make his move on that day.

He headed over to Garrison Industry's headquarters in person and summoned all the higher-ups within the company, including Robed Slayer, the Wilcox family, and Azure Dragon.

They began to hesitate upon hearing that.

Do we tell him or not?

Edmund had an idea when he noticed the look of hesitation on their faces. "Let me guess... It's Levi, isn't it?"

It wasn't actually that hard of a guess as the higher-ups of Garrison Industry were all closely acquainted with Levi, so it would make perfect sense for him to be their leader.

Edmund chuckled when he saw the change in their expression upon hearing Levi's name.

Okay, this confirms it, then!

"So it really is Levi, huh? That man sure is exceptional for starting a company like Garrison Industry, I'll give him that! Unfortunately, Levi has gone missing for a year now. I'm sure you guys know what that means more than anyone else, don't you?"

"Don't worry, guys! Mr. Garrison will come back if he's still alive, and we'll just take it back then!"

Everyone was furious about Edmund's actions, but they could only put up with it.

After all, Edmund was so powerful that killing Robed Slayer and the other higher-ups was a piece of cake.

They thought they would be serving Erudia under The Cardinal Hall's rule, only to realize later on that Garrison Industry was actually being taken over by Edmund himself.

The Cardinal Hall and Eragon both had a rule that had been set in stone hundreds of years ago which prevented them from taking in any external forces.

Chapter 2175 Where Levi Went

One of the individuals on the Divine Leaderboard was Southern Emperor who used to rank first on the Gem List.

He had long since disappeared from public view, but had resurfaced once at Eastford and was ranked fifth on the Divine Leaderboard.

No one knew what happened during the war at Eastford, let alone what Southern Emperor did during said war.

However, no one doubted the authority of the dark web either as it had been proven to be powerful and accurate over the years.

All of Erudia was in shock when they saw Southern Emperor being ranked fifth, especially since he had been forgotten after Levi and Robed Slayer surpassed him.

How is it that Robed Slayer, who used to rank second on the Gem List, end up not making it to the Divine Leaderboard while Southern Emperor gets ranked fifth there? Isn't that too much of a difference? Could it be that there's some kind of mistake somewhere?

Eventually, The Cardinal Hall stepped up to address the issue and stated that Southern Emperor was indeed powerful enough to rank fifth on Divine Leaderboard.

Chapter 2176 Zoey The Killing Machine

Bloodlust and murder were all that filled her head, proving that Dark Emperor's plan to turn her into a killing machine was almost coming to fruition.

A little more time and training would probably have Zoey forget everything and become nothing but a terrifying monster out for blood.

Zoey headed over to Erudia after receiving her mission.

Garrison Industry had newly invented a drug that had miraculous healing abilities, and it was being transported toward the company's headquarters in North Hampton.

As Wynona ranked pretty high on the Divine Leaderboard, they found it safer to have her escort it alongside several other fighters of equal power.

Dozens of fighters have tried to raid their vehicle along the way, but Wynona and the others managed to kill them all.

In an era where everyone fought for resources, it came as no surprise that nowhere was safe.

Despite Erudia's efforts at securing the borders, people would still manage to infiltrate the country somehow.

Right as Wynona and the others made it out of the deserted lands, a figure with an incredibly dangerous aura appeared before them.

"It's Empress!"

A murderous air hung heavily around Zoey, scaring Mia and Wynona.

So this is the power of a fighter ranked on the Divine Leaderboard? Holy sh*t.

"Take the serum and run! I'll hold her off!" Wynona shouted.

Left with no choice, Mia and the others took the serum and tried to leave, but Zoey went after them.

"You're not getting away..."

However, Wynona quickly stopped Zoey. Back when she was working with Garrison Industry, Wynona merged martial arts and modern technology to develop her body as much as she could. Thanks to that, she managed to secure a spot on the Divine Leaderboard.

However, she was still no match for Zoey, so she sustained heavy injury and was sent flying away easily.

Since she couldn't stop Zoey, Mia and the others were quickly caught on. "Hand it over and I'll let you live!" Zoey extended her hand.

The Dark Emperor didn't know what Levi had in mind, but he had time to waste, unlike Levi.

"You're still not giving in, Levi? Do you plan on staying here forever?" The Dark Emperor's voice boomed within the prison.

Cyrus had woken up, but not Levi. Levi was still living within his own little bubble. The Dark Emperor was shocked, and Cyrus shared his sentiment.

What is wrong with him? What is he trying to do?

"Fine, do as you please. But you'll never break free from this place." The Dark Emperor smirked.

He had finally given up on Levi. Now that Zoey had become the most fearsome villain across the lands, she was the only one he needed. Levi was no longer on his priority list, so he let Levi do whatever he wanted.

Josiah and his team came to see Sammy in the dungeon. Not even he had the power to free his daughter, but he could still talk to her.

"Sammy! Great chance!" Josiah shouted. "Just say the word and you'll be freed, pardoned, and taken back into the fold!"

Sammy glanced at her father, but she showed no interest in that offer.

"We're now working with Maya Industries! All you have to do is marry their heir and you'll be freed! This is your only chance! I fought hard for this!"

Sammy shook her head. "Just give up, dad. I won't marry anyone. I'll just stay here until I die."

Josiah could guess why she was saying that, so he asked, "What? You still can't forget about Levi?"

"Yes. I love him," Sammy answered.

Chapter 2180 How Long Are You Gonna Take

There were too many fighters at the moment, and most of them were more powerful than Levi was three years ago.

Some organizations even came up with a machine that could calculate someone’s battle power.

Levi used to have a power level of over nine thousand, but now he was reduced to a mere five thousand. In other words, he was just a mediocre fighter.

In fact, Levi wasn’t even above average, let alone a top fighter. Because of that, everyone said that even if Levi was revealed to have survived the ordeal, he’d die in three days, since he was a prolific troublemaker. Everyone said that anyone from the new generation could beat him flat in no time.

Even if he were still lived, that meant nothing. He was no longer the star of the new era, and nobody cared about him anymore—he was no longer the savior he used to be.

To put it simply, Levi was just a nobody and no one cared whether he lived or died.

The Cardinal Hall shared the public’s sentiments. Levi was nothing but a weakling who couldn’t even secure a spot in the new era.
