Chapter 2181 Not Even The Dark Emperor Can Break Free

It had been three whole years since then. Cyrus had nothing but loneliness to talk to. The Prison of Darkness was the ultimate torture for anyone. No matter how mentally and physically powerful someone was, it was still a living hell for them.

Even a veteran like Cyrus was at his wits' end. The despair of eternal imprisonment was driving him mad. Over the last three years, he'd go into solitary training for three months before waking up, but he would never disturb Levi.

However, he couldn't do it this time. The torture was driving him mad. He did his best, so now he wanted to wake Levi up and see if he could break them out of the prison.

I want to break free!

But no matter how much Cyrus tried, Levi still wouldn't wake up from his solitary training.

"Are you done? Hello, are you still going to keep doing this? How much longer do you need? Please don't tell me you need three more years..."

Levi didn't answer. After that punch he made in the first year, Levi spent the rest of his time in solitary training and nothing else.

“Will we be joining the fight for that sword then?” Death Fiend asked.

“Of course,” Dark Emperor answered immediately. “I’ve searched for that sword for a long time now. Of course, I’d take it now that it has finally surfaced. Once it shows up, all of you will be joining the fight, including Zoey. I’ll join the fray as well if need be.”

The Eighteen Dark Angels were surprised since they had never seen the Dark Emperor fought ever since they knew him.

His Highness is joining the fight as well? That means the sword must be crucial, or His Majesty wouldn’t be hunting it all this while.

Yes, weapons were important, more so in the current era. Aside from modern weaponry, ancient weapons were also getting dug up every day.

The tech companies’ armor and machines were too sturdy to break through, but some people could shred them easily with ancient weapons like Erudia’s blades and magical spears from the other parts of the world.

Edmund was right. Levi couldn’t have given them the resources they needed to get this far. He was no longer the star of the show. All that was left was a distant memory of him.

“I know he’s your leader, and you adore him. But none of you can do anything back when he saved the world time and again. Don’t you want to catch up or even surpass him?” Edmund asked again, and Kirin and his gang just kept quiet.

They admitted that he was right. It was despairing to see they couldn't do anything to help back when Levi needed them. Since then, they swore they'd catch up to Levi no matter what.

Matching up to Levi's power had always been their ultimate goal, and they even dreamed of surpassing him. Three years later, they achieved that goal. Now, they were standing on a pasture Levi had never achieved.

"But now you've proven yourself. You're stronger than your boss. Honestly, I really wish he could be here to see you guys. He'd be happy." Edmund smiled.

He was just saying that Levi was weak, but still, Kirin and the others loved what they heard. First, he didn't insult Levi. Not only that, he admitted that Levi was important to them. Secondly, he acknowledged their power.

"Do you still think I can't lead Garrison Industry now?" Edmund asked again.

She packed her stuff and left with her grandmother, Emma. It was a big day for The Cardinal Hall, everyone was just waiting for Forlevia to finally make her debut in the fighters' scene.

However, The Cardinal Hall kept Forlevia's departure a secret. Aside from them, nobody knew Forlevia had left.

Not even an hour after Forlevia's departure, Celia couldn't take it anymore. She had no children of her own, so she led a lonely life until Forlevia showed up. Now that the girl was gone, Celia just couldn't take it.

"I'm going with her!"

Celia was about to follow Forlevia, but another elder advised, "No. You can't keep her safe forever. She has to grow up eventually."

His colleagues glared at him. "Fine, then you stay here. We'll go!"

Apparently, everyone else had the same idea as Celia. It hadn't been too long since Forlevia had set off, but they were already like cats on hot bricks.

Cyrus was almost all out of hope, but it was rekindled when he saw Levi move, so he quickly called out to him.

But Levi didn't make any movement after that. No matter how many times Cyrus called out to him, he got no response.

Chapter 2186 The Existence The Cardinal Hall Fears

They didn't even show their true power. The leader of the ancient Garrison clan's team was Donald, the so-called top genius of the clan. However, everyone in the ancient Garrison clan knew it was just a team of young guys going out on a field trip.

They might be an ancient clan, but these youngsters were just in their late teens or early twenties. Even so, they managed to whip the Oakland Garrisons into shape in no time.

That alone was enough to tell everyone about the ancient Garrison clan's true power. They almost became a part of Eragon at one point, so that just showed how powerful they truly were.

To make things more terrifying, rumors had it the ancient Garrison clan had a powerful figure residing among them. Even The Cardinal Hall feared that person.

Oakland's Garrison clan had that entity's portrait in their ancestral shrine. However, there were a lot of portraits in the ancestral shrine, so not even Teneb and Kenny knew who that person was.

The portraits had been hanging there for a long time and some were even muddied, so they couldn't see the face clearly. Even so, nobody took the portraits off.

Kenny and the others gnashed their teeth. Levi brought nothing but destruction, and he ruined the Garrisons in the end.

If it weren't for Levi, they wouldn't have gone into decline and become a shadow of their former self.

Yes, the Garrisons didn't reflect on what they did to Levi and Emma, because that was just how stupid they were. Instead, their hatred for Levi deepened.

That was even worse for Tyrone, who was trapped within a small town because of what Levi did. Thus, their first thought was to get back at him after they gained new powers.

However, Levi was already gone for three years. He was presumed dead, so they couldn't get their revenge anymore.

Because of that, they didn't bring Levi up. Tyrone only brought that name up by chance, since he thought he had already surpassed Levi.

Chapter 2188 Levi Is Hiding Because He Is Scared

It didn’t take long for the Garrison clan to declare they’d punish Levi and his family according to the ancient Garrison clan’s rules. At the same time, they listed all the crimes Levi had committed.

The news sent shockwaves across the nation. Once again, the legendary Levi was brought into the eye of the storm.

“Hah. I knew it. The Garrisons wouldn’t let him off the hook that easily. He has ruined them after all.”

“But he’s already gone for years. Even if he shows up, he’s still just a mediocre fighter. They’re going to kill him for real.”

“I bet he won’t show up now after hearing the news.”

The Eighteen Dark Angels looked at him.

"You forgot something. Levi's daughter is a part of the Garrisons, which makes her the descendant of the ancient Garrison clan."

Realization struck the angels, and Death Fiend said, "You mean he'll attack the child using that as an excuse?"

"Yes. That madman actually went against Edmund. Now that he has a reason, he'll have no fear for The Cardinal Hall anymore. In fact, he can demand that they hand the child over."

"As long as he tells them he wants to take her back to train her, The Cardinal Hall will have no reason not to hand her over."

Death Fiend proposed, "But I hope they won't kill the child. She's talented enough for them to train. Besides, Damien is dead. A dead genius isn't as valuable as a living one."

"Probably."

Chapter 2190 Why Dark Emperor Steers Clear Of Erudia

A certain someone knew the extent of Skyward Sword’s power, and it was none other than Dark Emperor.

The reason was simple... he wielded Skyward Sword’s counterpart—Terra Blade.

Nobody knew more than Dark Emperor about the power of Skyward Sword. It was sharp enough to cut through the walls of Prison of Darkness. That alone was enough to show its power.

“The sword will make its appearance in three days. I want it no matter what, and you’ll do everything to bring it back to me. All of you can travel to Erudia now.”

Dark Emperor looked at Zoey. “Do everything you can, especially you.”

Thanks to Dark Emperor’s training, Zoey became the perfect killing machine. He erased all her emotions, leaving nothing but the desire for revenge within her.

Over the last three years, Dark Emperor pushed her deeper and deeper into the hell of vengeance. The Lab of Gods might be gone, but Dark Emperor made it look like it was thanks to his and Zoey’s efforts.
