Chapter 2301 You Resemble Me

“That’s an amazing idea. They got themselves a sleeping pod, but we can sabotage it! A sleeping pod is scarce nowadays, so let’s see how long he can survive without it.” Tyrone joined in with an evil grin.

Donald smirked. “Do you know why you’re important to me? That’s because you resemble me!”

Tyrone gave him a grateful smile in response.

His face scrunched into a vicious expression, Donald declared, “We could’ve killed Levi easily, but we choose not to do that. After all, having hope before losing it in an instant is the most horrible thing that can happen to someone. I want to see Levi die, tortured by his condition and fear!”

Indeed, they had the same idea.

Late at night, Donald appeared at the sleeping pod’s location.

Kirin had arranged for ten fighters ranked in the Provisional Leaderboard to guard the pod.

However, those fighters were no match for Donald.

He got past them and entered the training base where the sleeping pod was installed.

He was smart enough to plant a spy among the fighters who then led him in.

Thus, Donald was brought to the place where the sleeping pod was installed without any hiccups.

After opening it, he walked in.

Kirin heaved a sigh of relief. "You're overthinking. Nothing happened! Let's find out how he's doing."
They dashed into the sleeping pod.

Boom!

The sight that greeted them rendered them speechless, for the sleeping pod wasn't in operation!

"Someone switched the pod off! It has been switched off eight days ago!" Azure Dragon hollered, his voice hoarse.

Kirin froze in shock as though he had been struck by lightning.

He assumed that asking his men to guard the place was a perfect idea, but the moment he left, someone switched the pod's system off.

"Oh, no! The interior of the pod had been destroyed!" someone yelled.

"Why is boss unaffected? He should wake up the minute the pod is shut down."

"Look, the pod can't open on its own!"

"That means he has been lying inside alone for nine whole days? Even if the chemical didn't take effect, he might've suffocated to death!"

"I discovered a lot of remnants of the drug in his body! I finally understand why the chemical didn't take effect—the remnants worked to stop the chemical from striking! The drug works better than we expected," Phoenix explained.

Levi did not know what else to say to get through to her.

His subordinates forced him to take the drug every day, and he couldn't possibly vomit it all out.

Thus, he had no choice but to take the drug every day.

His body couldn't take in the external substances, so they remained in his body for a long while.

As a result, he would have to get rid of those substances once in a while.

This time, before he could get rid of them, Phoenix discovered their existence.

She mistakenly thought the drug had suppressed the chemical.

“Oh, that’s great! Boss, you’ve always been lucky! You should thank your lucky stars this time!” they cheered.

Phoenix could barely hide her excitement. “We have a few drugs and solutions. That should work to hold the poison back for some time!”

Clearly, they rushed here after learning the news, eager to share it with everyone.

“What is it?” The rest surrounded them curiously.

Even Levi came over to them, interested in what they had to share.

“We found a solution to the weapons from Maya Industries!” Sword Fiend announced, breathing heavily.

“What? You found a solution?” Everyone else widened their eyes, dumbstruck by the revelation.

They simply could not believe it!

Everyone was on the same page.

“Besides, the news just got in! I think the others will find out about it very soon. By then, we must stop those who try to get in the way! If they were to find the material before us, then it’s over!” said Sword Fiend.

Azure Dragon responded, “Hence, from this very moment, we must act before them! There is no time to waste! Let’s head out to Archulea!”

Phoenix chimed in the conversation as well, “To avoid further complications, you must follow us to Archulea, boss! Once we obtain the new material, we may utilize it immediately!”

Azure Dragon and the others had everything sorted out. On the other hand, Levi was not able to contribute to the conversation.

“Sure, let’s get moving!” the group began their journey immediately.

However, Phoenix abruptly uttered, “This is bad! There’s a new leak in the dark web...”

The group exclaimed, “What?”

Phoenix continued, “According to the dark web, the Doomsday Seed Vault in Archulea discovered a new material, a weapon that can neutralize the Maya Industries. Detailed reports and data are released as well! Everyone is crazy about it!”

Everyone’s heart skipped a beat.

How unfortunate can things be...

Finally, Levi decided to tell everyone what happened years ago.

As his brothers and disciples were willing to make sacrifices for him, Levi could not bring himself to put them at risk.

Levi didn't want to worry them.

Hence, he decided to leverage the debt of gratitude owed by Archulea to obtain the new material.

This way, his brothers and disciples could heave a sigh of relief as his health would gradually recover.

Less attention would be directed on Levi and they could proceed with their own lives.

This was Levi's thought process.

"So it was you who resolved the crisis in Archulea! Everyone thought it was The Cardinal Hall! How can they claim credit for it!" the group was shocked.

Levi confidently smiled. "That is correct. I was the one who chased away the Progenitor in Goldenport Island and Archulea! I solved their crisis! They would not have survived if it wasn't for me. They are indebted to me and my demands will certainly be satisfied!"

"That is great news! If Archulea owes you a debt of gratitude, acquiring the new material will be a walk in the park!" everyone cheered.

The boulder of stress was lifted and the group continued their journey in bliss.

Archulea would not be able to refuse their request.

Everyone sparkled with hope and confidence.

Azure Dragon and the others managed to find out what happened that year.
Indeed, Levi was crowned as a hero in Archulea for fending off the country against the Progenitor.
There was even a celebratory ceremony.

However, Levi rejected their invitation.

Hence, Archulea promised to fulfill anything that Levi would have asked for. It was made abundantly clear the country owed Levi a debt of gratitude. As soon as Levi made a request, the entire nation would help him without any hesitation.

The request of giving up the new material paled in comparison to the commitment once made by Archulea.

Even though the new material was very valuable, it was also not an insurmountable task.

Looking at Levi's condition, it would only require half of the new material to nurse him back to health.

It would be killing one bird with two stones.

On the one hand, Archulea could repay the debt of gratitude. On the other hand, they got to keep the new material safely in their vault.

It was a win-win situation.

Therefore, Azure Dragon and the others were calm and unworried.

Donald and the others broke out in cold sweat.

No one had expected how things eventually panned out.

Levi is once the savior of Archulea!

Looking at how things were going, Levi would be able to secure the new material.

At the same time, Donald was coming out with a plan to snatch away or destroy the new material.

His primary concern was the elite fighters that accompanied Levi. Kirin and the others were all there.

It would be difficult to snatch it away.

Levi glanced at Aristole and said, "The debt is long overdue! I just need two hundred grams of the new material! It's not unreasonable. With that, we can call it even!"

Everyone hopefully gazed at Aristole.

Meanwhile, Donald began to feel a wave of anxiousness.

The other powerhouses similarly slumped into a state of nervousness.

By right, the new material should belong to Levi.

Everyone with their hearts beating rapidly, looked towards Aristole and the other representatives from Archulea.

"The Progenitor is, no doubt, responsible for the danger that came after us earlier, and many cities had fallen because of him. However, that f*cking Levi Garrison is not the one who saved everyone. We are the ones who solved the problem on our own, and the Protectors from our Doomsday Seed Vault are the ones who should be praised!

"Everyone saw how powerful the Protectors in the Doomsday Seed Vault are, right? It's nothing for them to destroy the Progenitor at all," declared Aristole.

"Yes, you're right."

Everyone nodded in agreement.

They had witnessed the power that the Protectors from the Doomsday Seed Vault held.

That meant that Archulea had the strength to solve its own issues and didn't need to depend on anyone else.

"We had begged the Labs of God from Zarain some time ago for help. In the end, we didn't receive any help from them, and the danger had passed before they arrived," replied Niel.

“He’s right. We’re all witnesses to it! The people from Labs of God returned without doing anything.”

Everyone nodded.

“That is also why Levi Garrison had nothing to do with anything. Who do you think you are? What makes you think you can fool us?”

Archulea had many outstanding fighters, and some were on the Divine Leaderboard.

That elevated their power from middle class to top-notch.

However, they truly had no way of dealing with the Progenitor back then.

The entire nation was brought to its knees, and no one was able to defeat the Progenitor.

The so-called Protectors from the Doomsday Seed Vault were nonexistent.

Every fighter they had in the Doomsday Seed Vault was trained within the last three years.

They f*cking had nothing three years ago!

“Wow, okay. You lying, ungrateful ass*les with no dignity whatsoever. What a nice life you lead now, huh? I bet you learn all this from Zarain. Maybe you guys should be even more shameless. That way, you’d make a great match to the stinking worms under your feet. Oh, wait, sorry. You’re worse than that, so I shouldn’t insult those worms,” said Levi.

He suddenly thought of the story he heard as a kid. A farmer rescued a snake, but that very snake ended up killing the farmer.

The citizens of Archulea are no different from the snake.

Aristole and Niel are such f*ckers.

“How dare you insult and reprimand us, Levi Garrison? This is Archulea, and we can kill you with a snap of our fingers!”

Aristole and the others were infuriated when they heard the diss.
