Chapter 2431 Levi Knows Iron Golem Technique

All the others were likewise stumped.

What's happening here? Why are they all cracking up now? Is the Iron Golem Technique that hilarious?

Of course, the Iron Golem Technique wasn't hilarious in the least.

Instead, it was very much solemn.

However, they had witnessed Levi unleashing the exact same technique earlier, and the man even soared straight up to the highest level.

Its power and might were still vivid in their minds at that moment.

It felt as though he was going to lay waste to the world after unleashing it, and no one could stop him.

For that reason, now that Edmund unleashed Level Five of the Iron Golem Technique, it appeared to be a mere joke.

Thus, they couldn't help but laugh.

After they had finished guffawing, their expressions turned grave without a hint of interest to be found.

The anticipation that shone from them when they battled the others earlier was all but gone.

That dealt a huge blow to Edmund's self-confidence.

What on earth is going on here? I've unleashed the Iron Golem Technique, so why are they all looking bored? No, that's not right! They seem to be familiar with the Iron Golem Technique. But logically speaking, they shouldn't have known about it. They're different from someone like Donald, who's from the Ancient Clan. Besides, they were in solitary training previously. How could they possibly know about it? They should not be aware of it, no? They ought to be wearing astonished looks instead. Judging from their expressions, however, not only have they heard of it, but they've even experienced it! What's all this about?

"Of course not! Can't you tell that they're deriding us? What else can it be if not an insult when they even told me to go and learn the Iron Golem Technique from Levi?"

Edmund's chagrined voice rang out.

Verily, he thought that the Twin Meteorites and the others were disparaging him by telling him to learn the Iron Golem Technique from Levi.

"Other than me, the only person in this world who knows the Iron Golem Technique is my master!" he asserted seriously.

The hundred young talents didn't know about Levi taking him as a disciple, so Jessica immediately retorted, "That's impossible! Our master knows it too!"

"Yes, our master knows it too! Yours is nothing compared to his Iron Golem Technique!"

The two parties continued bickering.

Afraid that things would get physical, Eragon's elders took the hundred young talents away at once to continue with the closed, top-secret training.

They decided that the test could be done later.

Meanwhile, Edmund was teetering on the brink of blowing his top.

Boom!

Upon hearing that piece of news, Levi's expression changed drastically.

Even the few masters who are with Evie are in trouble? Then, it must be a colossal issue this time!

"What happened?" he immediately demanded, panicked.

"According to the message from The Cardinal Hall, Evie went all the way deep into a particular mountain in Adrune and encountered an inexplicable and forceful attack. They've lost contact with her. It isn't only her, but there's also no news from the few elders... They suspect that something has happened to them."

Zoey was on the verge of bursting into tears.

In no time, all the others rushed over as well.

"Um... Putting aside how strong Evie is, even the few elders are in trouble! What kind of rival did they meet?"

"Things don't look good this time. In this era, it's normal to have all kinds of fighters and bizarre stuff! Thus, it's only natural that the elders aren't their match! This is bad!"

Chapter 2434 Zoey Begs Levi For Help

No matter how loud he proclaims to be able to save Evie, he can't possibly bring her home! How could he do so, after all? He's just a weakling! Even the few elders have lost contact with us and had likely met with an untimely end. How could he do anything even if he goes? Well, unless he's the Daxon or ranks at least top five on the Divine Leaderboard! Then, we might believe him this once. But he's Levi Garrison, someone who doesn't know anything. Who would believe him?

Therefore, they ignored him entirely and didn't even bother sparing him a single glance from beginning to end.

It was as though he was empty air.

Zoey, who had calmed down by then, instantly nodded. "Okay! Let's go and look for her right away! Thank you for lending me a hand at this critical moment!"

"Don't worry, Zoey! We'll go all out! As long as Evie is alive, we'll certainly bring her home! We'll contact others to help out at once!"

The crowd all chimed in.

This time, The Cardinal Hall and Eragon were both mobilized.

Edmund, however, was in solitary training to train himself in the Iron Golem Technique.

Hence, there was temporarily nothing from him.

Meanwhile, Daxon merely sent some men without personally going either.

He knew that Levi would undoubtedly take action, so his participation didn't really matter.

If the matter truly couldn't be resolved, he would then step out.

Once Zoey arrived, she revealed the reason she was here.

She pleaded for Dark Emperor to save Forlevia.

Levi put on a wry smile.

Evie’s my child. Of course, I’ll save her. I’m figuring out how to find her now.

As Levi said nothing, Zoey fell to her knees and begged, “Please, Master! Save my child!”

Azure Dragon, Kirin, and the rest chimed in, “Please, Dark Emperor. You’re the only person who can save “Yes, Divine Brigadier of The Cardinal Hall refused to help. You’re our only hope as the top warrior of the

“Please help us. We’ll agree to any of your terms!”

"I don't think you can catch up with Master. Don't worry. He's capable enough of finding your daughter," Death Fiend assured her.

"T-Thank you," Zoey uttered as tears welled up in her eyes.

I had no idea Master took Evie's disappearance so seriously. She even departed earlier than us! I have to thank her! Only those who care about you will help you when you're in trouble. Master offered help when I needed it the most. She went in without knowing what will happen. Evie's masters were missing too. Perhaps they were no match for the elite warriors inside. Thus, Dark Emperor might lose her life inside. However, she agreed to help and entered the area alone without informing anyone. She adores her disciples! Levi kept saying she was a selfish person who was training me to be a killing machine, and she never treated me as her disciple. He's definitely wrong. Look, she's the first to depart to save Evie!

She wanted Levi to appear before her so she could yell, "You were wrong to say my master had been using me all the while. She offered help when I needed it the most! You're Evie's father, but she's more helpful than you! She is willing to risk her life just because I asked for her help, she isn't using me to achieve her goals! Since I became her disciple, she hasn't mistreated me!"

Alas, she had no idea Levi was now Dark Emperor!

A child's parents would be the first ones to save their child from any trouble!

It was a burnt mark caused by a powerful blaze of fire!

Judging from the ashes, it had been burnt just a while ago.

Besides, the mark seemed to be caused by a fire created by a burst of energy.

Levi continued searching, and he finally found signs of a fight.

He knew Forlevia and her masters well, as he had even analyzed the fluctuations of their energy previously.

It was clear that they had been in a fight!

The burnt mark was caused by one of Forlevia's master.

He had created the fire using his energy.

Levi analyzed the signs and simulated the fight in his mind.

Still, there was a problem.

They had fought valiantly to escape!
Alas, the route leading out of the mountains had been sealed, so they could only escape into the forests.
After analyzing the situation, he knew where Forlevia and the rest were headed.
The only thing left to do was to trace them down by heading deeper into the forest.
Yet, he couldn't help but wonder who the enemy was, for there were no signs of them.
One was bound to leave a sign behind after taking action.
It didn't seem like the signs had been destroyed.
Levi promptly sped up and headed into the depths of the forest.

Shortly later, he sensed a powerful aura in an area.

It was as powerful as Divine Brigadier of The Cardinal Hall!

The remaining aura was enough to send chills down one's back.

Obviously, Forlevia and the others had run into a powerful rival.

Chapter 2439 Claiming To Be Gods

Despair...

Heart-wrenching despair surged from the depths of Forlevia and her masters' hearts, for their enemies were too strong to defeat!

They were immune to all attacks, could move swiftly like lightning, and were impossibly strong.

If Forlevia's masters hadn't gone all out by using their divine tools and stuff, they wouldn't have held on for two days.

Alas, her masters were now already toeing their limits.

They were wounded and barely alive.

It was clear they would die any minute!

They had lost all hope.

"T-This is the strongest enemy we've ever faced! They are more powerful than the ancient clans in Erudia. Who are they? We're no match for them!"

Chapter 2440 They Are Gods To Ordinary Human Beings

Their surprise didn't stop them from taking action, though.

Even though Forlevia did her best, the strange creatures remained unfazed.

Soon, she was sent flying and lost the ability to continue fighting.

The beings who claimed to be Gods seemed to be able to control everything.

Everything was under their control.

Forlevia and the other elders were pinned, and they couldn't move at their own will.

It was as if some invincible chain had them tied up.

"I'll kill her before killing the rest of you!"

One God lifted his gold crossbow with an arrow made of special metal. A mysterious blue fire was flickering on its tip!

As the arrow was shot, the elders slumped in anguish, for they couldn't even move.

They had no choice but to watch Forlevia die before their eyes.
