Chapter 2491 Princess Of The Garrison Clan

“There is something I want to inform you—there’s no need to tell anyone else about my status as the clan leader. That way, my new status won’t disrupt my plans, and we’ll be able to take our enemies by surprise,” Levi told them.

As he had not figured out the details of his enemies yet, he could only take one step at a time by slowly accumulating the resources he needed.

Hence, he could not reveal to others that he was the head of the Garrison clan in case the enemy were to catch wind about it and formulate a plan with him as the target.

“Understood.”

Everyone nodded fervently.

“Return first. When I’m free, I’ll visit the ancient Garrison clan, with Forlevia,” Levi said.

Gabriel and the rest nodded again. “Understood.”

By then, they had all put aside their grudges against Levi and started fantasizing about their brilliant future.

With the almighty Levi and the gifted Forlevia, it was almost impossible for the Garrison clan not to rise to great heights.

Once everyone was gone, Zoey and the others returned.

“How did the discussion go?” she asked.

“Yes, I’ve already joined the ancient Garrison clan, and so has Evie,” Levi replied.

Zoey was really looking forward to letting everyone know about Levi joining the Garrison clan, especially Donald and his men.

“Yeah, Zoey is right! We need to let them know that Boss is now a member of the Garrison clan!”

“In that case, we’ll just have to protect Boss with the Garrison clan’s name...”

As Levi had swallowed his pride and joined the Garrison clan, they weren’t in a position to say much.

“All right, then. Let’s head over to Oakland City!”

Levi agreed to it as he didn’t want Donald harassing him any further.

It would make things a lot easier if he simply told them he had joined the Garrison clan.

With that, they all began their journey to Oakland City.

"A lot of people in The Cardinal Hall are calling you a babymaking machine, Levi! Looks like that really is the case!"

"You used your daughter to resolve the conflicts between us and join Garrison clan as you've always wanted to!"

"I now see just how cunning you are, Levi! You waited until all of Garrison clan's elders were here before requesting to join because you knew they had more authority and could grant your request!"

All the members of the Garrison clan, including Zoey and Azure Dragon, firmly believed that Levi was only able to join the clan because he used Evie as a bargaining chip.

Evie would become a member of the clan if he joined, so the elders had no reason to reject his request.

Donald glared at Levi as he asked, "Admit it, Levi! You've been waiting a long time for this moment, haven't you? After all, it is a great honor to be a part of the ancient Garrison clan! Joining the clan so we wouldn't be able to hurt you was a really smart move, I'll give you that! You'd better pray you don't break any of its rules or we can still punish you!"

Donald burst out laughing as if he had found the things he needed to humiliate Levi in front of others.

"He's quite a visionary man! It turns out he's coming after the technique of the Garrison clan! On top of trading his daughter for the right to join the clan, he has gotten his hands on the clan's technique!"

Members of the Garrison clan found Levi a despicable man when they heard he had traded his daughter for his personal gain.

"A shameless man like you doesn't deserve to consider yourself someone else's father! Your daughter is so unlucky to have you!"

Zoey turned around and looked at Levi in disbelief because she once thought the man she held dear in mind had succumbed to the tempting offers of the Garrison clan.

It turned out that was never the case. Instead, he had been trying his best to make the most out of the worst situation.

Although he had made use of Forlevia to get his hands on the technique of the Garrison clan, it was merely one of his many attempts to ensure he was on par with the rest.

"Alright, we'll carry on with the preparation of the ceremony!"

Donald turned around once he instructed the rest to get ready. "You need to stop getting full of yourself! I'll wait until you bow before me!"

It turned out Eustace and the elders, who were quite a distance away from the crowd, were aware of the things going on as well.

Shortly after the session, Zoey reprimanded Levi, "You need to keep your anger to yourself in spite of the grudges you're holding against them! It's impossible for you to defy them ever since the day you swore allegiance to the Garrison clan! Just forget about everything until you're on par with them in terms of strength!"

The rest of the party added in a callous tone, "Since you've made up your mind to join the clan, just stop trying anything rash!"

Levi was confused as they wouldn't stop picking on him when he was the one in charge of the clan.

Hello? I'm not trying to join the clan when I'm the freaking person in charge of the clan! They're the ones who need to show me some respect!

Zoey got in touch with Forlevia and brought her home from The Cardinal Hall in the evening to get everything ready for the ceremony.

"What's taking all of you so long? Hurry up and carry on!"

Those in the hall were in a state of bewilderment when Levi took a seat on Donald's seat. They looked at Levi in disbelief.

Similarly, Donald remained standing at the entrance of the ancestral shrine since he couldn't fathom the reason Levi had the guts to challenge him.

What's going on? Why is he sitting on my freaking seat?

When Levi glanced at those around him and found out they were still in a state of bewilderment, he repeated himself, "Hello? Stop standing around and get down on your knees!"

Immediately after they returned to their senses, they started reprimanding Levi.

"What the hell do you think you're doing when it's not your seat?"

"You must've lost your mind! Stop challenging the authority of the clan by trying anything reckless!"

"Is something wrong with your brain? How dare you get full of yourself in front of the leaders of the clan?"

Chapter 2497 You Are A Nobody

Why have the members of the Garrison clan from Oakland City gotten down on their knees? What exactly are they doing? On top of the ones outside the hall, the ones inside the hall are doing the same as well!

Someone asked, "Are they currently in a worship session or something?"

Floyd yelled, "Have you guys seen the one inside the hall?"

When Zoey heard Floyd's question, she turned around and caught a glimpse of her husband seated in the middle of the hall with their daughter standing next to him. My poor Evie looks so lost.

The confused woman couldn't fathom the reason the rest seemed to be begging for his mercy.

What is wrong with this arrogant bunch? Why have they gotten down on their knees in front of Levi? Can someone tell me the things they're up to?

It doesn't make any sense when most of them are considered superior to Levi in terms of status! There's also his freaking father amongst the many!

A short while later, Gabriel finally joined them in the hall. When Zoey and those around her noticed his presence, they kneeled in a similar manner in fear of offending those in power.

Donald was well aware of the things awaiting them since he was well-versed with the rules regulating the clan.

If things turned out to be the worst, he would've to spend three years in isolation. With that being said, it was nothing serious as it wasn't the first time he had gone through something as such.

However, Gabriel's clan had never been penalized throughout the years. Hence, they were on pins and needles in anticipation of the things awaiting them.

"A total of nine members of the Garrison clan, including Donald and Tyrone... will be expelled! In short, they're no longer related to the clan from today onwards! We'll take out the ones trying to leverage their affiliation with the clan without a second thought!"

What!

The announcement took everyone in the hall by surprise. Subsequently, everyone in the hall went dead silent as it had been a long time since the last expulsion.

Apart from Tyrone, Donald, and the ones expelled, Zoey and her party were dumbfounded when they heard the announcement. They were stunned since the elders had just made the call to expel the prodigy of the clan.

It wouldn't be much of a surprise for Tyrone and the rest to be expelled since they had gone overboard, challenging the authority of the elders of the clan.

Kenny and the leaders of the clan had their doubts as they weren't sure if it was appropriate for them to join others immediately after their expulsion.

"I'm sure Levi has something to do with our misfortune! I'm going to teach him a lesson for stirring things up behind the scenes!"

Donald couldn't stop himself from trembling due to extreme frustration. No words could justify the sort of grudges he held against Levi.

He was merely irked by the presence of the man he deemed inferior to him quite some time ago.

However, that was no longer the case now since Donald thought Levi was the sole reason for their expulsion.

All of a sudden, Gabriel repeated himself, "Have I not made myself clear? When will you learn to behave when you're in front of the clan leader?"

"Have I not behaved myself in front of you?"

"What are you talking about? I'm talking about Levi over here!"

Along with Gabriel, the rest of the elders kneeled in front of Levi shortly after Gabriel introduced Levi to the rest in the hall.

The members of the clan couldn't fathom the reason the elders had gotten down on their knees when they were supposed to be superior to most of them in the hall, including the deceased members of the clan in the shrine.

They couldn't comprehend the reason those arrogant elders would kneel in front of others until some of them linked the missing pieces of puzzles together and found out they were showing respect to the man seated in front of them.
