Chapter 2651 They Had To

After learning what was going on, he sent his men out right away to buy all the materials.

Those materials wouldn't do much good to Erudia at that moment, but it was still extremely precious.

Lab of Gods could definitely use them.

Buying a heap of materials at the lowest price and using those same materials to create weapons against Erudia.

It was almost too good to be true.

That was definitely something the citizens of Erudia weren't expecting.

Playvolume00:00/00:44TruvidfullScreen

They didn't think that Lab of Gods would be that cruel.

He wouldn't know exactly how they felt since he wasn't directly involved, but he could empathize.

A few hours later.

The men Mr. X sent over had arrived.

They paid the money that Erudia needed to replenish the National Treasury and bought the materials.

Everything from the overall damage to the number of people who died to the exact way each building in

Naturally, Digital God's strength didn't just lie in his intelligence. The technology he developed also contributed to all that findings.

He had figured out everything about Erudia and its strength.

Naturally, he also provided Lab of Gods with information regarding the combat prowess of Gods in Restricted Area 76. Matters regarding the Sacred Organization and Maya Industries were well within his grasp as well.

Every detail was made available, and Digital God input all the data into the simulation to show everyone cripple half of Erudia.

“When that happens, we will reveal ourselves. “Our army will fight from within and from outside of the country. “Since Erudia has a knack of being stubborn and fighting until their very last breath, my prediction is that it will take us between seventeen to twenty-three hours to conquer the country.”

Death Fiend and the others gathered around right away.

“What’s wrong? Are they on the move?” asked the men hurriedly.

“No, but suspicious individuals were seen lurking around the power stations in Zarain. They were acting weird and looked as though they were running some tests.”

According to the information they gathered, there had been some suspicious individuals in the region.

Those individuals were none other than Lucifer and his men.

They went over to check up on Leviathans' condition. They never thought that Death Fiend's men would be spying there.

Playvolume00:00/00:44TruvidfullScreen

Death Fiend's men, on the other hand, misinterpreted those activities and assumed that Lucifer was there to collect some data.

Erudia was still celebrating and was demanding to keep the party going for days.

Its citizens refused to go home until the sun had already risen.

Some even went as far as renting a yacht and throwing a party on the ocean.

The more ridiculous ones were shouting at the ocean. "Oy, don't you guys have Warmachines? Come at us then! Do you still have them lying around? Use them to attack us. I dare ya."

"Hah, what a bunch of losers. I will kill you the next time I see you around."

"Pfft, weaklings like those are not worthy of us wasting our time to build Shelter."

Many were arrogant, and most disregarded the threat coming at them.

That being said, their behavior was normal for citizens of a country that had just won a war.

That, unfortunately, was Erudia's mistake.

Almost everyone was at ease and partying to celebrate that win.

Regular citizens, soldiers, fighting experts... Everybody was partying.

Chapter 2656 A Sea Of Blood

At the headquarters of Lab of Gods, Dr. Erebus pressed the button.

Over a hundred devices hidden under the power stations of Zarain were simultaneously activated.

The Leviathans were already awake and in their best condition at that moment and were released.

As per their instructions, every single one of them traveled to one location, Erudia.

The terrifying bit about Leviathan was that it could dive deep into the ocean.

That travel route helped to conceal the terrifying energy and electromagnetic fluctuations they exuded.

Playvolume00:00/00:44TruvidfullScreen

Under those circumstances, the Leviathans were practically invisible.

They would be long gone by the time any radar detected a change in energy level or electromagnetism.

In fact, the Leviathan might already have invaded Erudia when the radar finally picked something up.

Those radars would basically be useless by then.

The submarine monitoring station 98 was having a problem.
Station 96 and station 97 seemed to be having the same issue as well.
They all ended the same way, failing to send any signal before getting destroyed.
Even though they were able to detect something wrong firsthand, it was meaningless.
Nonetheless, someone seemed to appear inside the monitoring station and kill all the staff.
Not a soul was spared.
The same scene happened throughout all the monitoring stations used for the sea.
One after another, the staff collapsed to the floor, dead.
With that, the signal from the monitoring stations was cut off, and the headquarters at Erudia could not get any information.
Over a hundred stations lost contact simultaneously.

It was a deed from Lab of Gods.

In truth, they had sent their subordinates to spy on all monitoring stations a long time ago, getting ready to destroy all of them once the mission took off.

Zarain was about to face the strongest enemy ever.

The threat was even bigger than Erudia.

Even though Black Hawk was released now, it was already too late.

It would be useless even if he informed Erudia.

Erudia might not even take his words seriously.

Either way, there seemed not to be enough time.

Mr. X always made sure he calculated everything.

That was the scariest thing about him.

Plus, he did not let Black Hawk go back alone. Instead, he had his men escort the latter back to Zarain.

“Something terrible happened! It’s bad!”

A few men rushed to the scene.

“What?”

Zephyr’s face fell upon hearing that.

Death Fiend heard that too.

Since the news had come this far, it meant the actual situation was certainly worse than expected.

Boom!

Zephyr’s heart fell with a thud.

“What’s going on?”

He had no mood to talk to Death Fiend anymore as he immediately questioned those subordinates.

“Our monitoring station in Erudia sea suddenly lost contact. We have no idea what happened! All of them lost contact!”

The intelligence department reported.

“Huh? When did this happened?”

Zephyr questioned anxiously.

“Around five minutes ago!”
