Chapter 2681 Annihilation Of The Undercover Rebels

Indeed, Lab of Gods had planted undercover agents in Erudia.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have had the guts to build their training base there.

Besides, they'd never be able to gain a foothold in Erudia if they didn't have someone working with them from the inside.

Lab of Gods had made sure to keep their undercover agents a secret, but now, it was finally time for them to shine.

Unfortunately, that was something Craig hadn't foreseen.

He knew someone inside Erudia was interfering with backup requests, but it never occurred to him that there'd be undercover agents or that he'd become their target.

One thing was for sure—a huge battle was about to take place.

Meanwhile, in North Hampton, a crowd had started to gather inside a secret manor which ironically wasn't even that far from Levi's residence.

It didn't take long before more than ten thousand undercover agents showed up.

That manor, unfortunately, was only one of the many scattered all over the city.

Chapter 2682 The Counterattack Begins

There was no question that Cyrus had always been a naturally talented individual.

Otherwise, Levi's mentor wouldn't have chosen to impart skills to him.

Furthermore, with him training his basic techniques diligently, it was no wonder Cyrus had such impressive accomplishments.

Only half a year had passed, and he had already undergone massive changes.

Even though he was still nowhere as powerful as Levi, Cyrus was happy that he was at least one step nearer to the latter.

If one were to call Levi a divine being, that'd make Cyrus the mountaineer who had overtaken everyone else and was close to reaching the summit.

After his solitary training, he was only more than eager to test his strength.

He might not be able to break the Prison of Darkness, but Cyrus was confident that he could at least leave a dent in it.

When Levi informed him about the undercover agents, he saw it as the perfect opportunity to give his powers a whirl.

Cyrus was, however, a lot more ruthless than Levi.

Naturally, many people were in favor of the plan.

Taking a detour was too time-consuming, and the shortcut through Limingford Mountain would cut their journey time by half.

To their surprise, the divine generals merely burst out laughing.

Eskild and Gerhard suddenly felt a chill running down their spines.

There was something amiss, and they could feel it in their bones.

The rest of the troops, however, were more confused than ever.

“So, you guys want to cut through Limingford Mountain? Even though it’s crawling with enemies lying in ambush?” DG Leo scoffed. “Those enemies are ready to swallow us whole once we cross their path!”

The news had come like a bolt out of the blue, leaving everyone shell-shocked.

But the most terrified of them all, without a doubt, were the spies in Carigrey Academy.

Chapter 2684 Battle Of Limingford Mountain

DG Leo once again burst out laughing. "Of course we do! How else would we know that Limingford Mountain's crawling with enemies?"

Malthe and the other spies were so angry to be played the fools that they nearly exploded with fury.

"Was the fight with the ancient Garrison clan also intentional?" Gerhard piped up, even though he could already guess the answer.

"That goes without saying! When the safety of our country is at stake, why would we still argue about who to take charge? Our fake fight was only to mislead you and have you station your troops at Limingford Mountain!"

It was right there and then that the spies realized they had fallen into a trap.

They thought they had set up the perfect ambush for The Cardinal Hall when in reality, they were the ones who had gotten ensnared.

"What about the ancient Garrison clan fighters?" Eskild retorted.

"If everything goes well, they should have reached the northern side of Limingford Mountain."

Upon hearing that, Malthe and his gang almost collapsed in a heap.

The Cardinal Hall had planned for this all along! They used us to give our troops' location away so they could launch a sneak attack and wipe us out! To think they even went to the extent of faking a falling-out with the ancient Garrison clan. Sh*t, we are doomed!

Malthe knew it

Chapter 2685 Iron Golem Technique

No one, not even Max, had expected this twist of events.

They knew they had reinforcements coming, but why was it only one person?

And more importantly, who was it?

Thankfully, their questions were soon answered when they finally got a good look at the person.

Their backup was none other than The Cardinal Hall General, Edmund!

He had come to lend a helping hand, and it was also perfect timing that he had just finished his solitary training.

Even though Edmund couldn't yet achieve Level Nine of the Iron Golem Technique, he was happy enough to be able to stabilize it at Level Eight.

Now that he had completed the primary stages of his mission, how could he not show up when Erudia needed him?

Craig's battalion immediately erupted into cheers.

Edmund might have come alone, but his presence alone had provided everyone with ample reassurance.

All of them were equipped with advanced armaments that were more powerful than the ones that were used earlier.

Consequently, they combined all the weapons they had and formed a firing array that carpet-bombed the Leviathans.

The bombardment was so devastating that the Leviathans were finally impeded.

In fact, some of its scales were damaged in the strike.

"Wipe out Erudia and leave nothing behind!" Mr. X ordered angrily.

Prior to the attack, they had mapped out the location of all the core facilities in Erudia, such as their military bases and airports.

Therefore, nothing in the South Warzone was hidden from them.

They knew the exact location of all its weapons and command center.

Mr. X intended to destroy all the military bases in South Warzone so that Craig's battalion would lose most of their weapons and not be able to use their most powerful weapon systems.

Chapter 2687 Why Have They Been Wiped Out

What's going on? Didn't we send the Death Harbingers to deal with them? Why are they here? This is unbelievable.

“Where’s the problem? What’s going on? How can this be?” Mr. X demanded to know but no one have the answer. The only response he got was silence.

I can’t believe Erudia is counter-attacking!

“So what if their reinforcements have arrived? Can they stop the Leviathans? Get them to rain Hell upon the enemy!” Mr. X thundered.

“Yes, sir!”

With that, the Leviathans unleashed their strongest attacks by firing all the weapons they hadn’t utilized before.

Even though Erudia’s reinforcements arrived, they still suffered tremendous losses.

They were incapable of defending themselves against the unseen before attacks.

Consequently, the Leviathans pressed forward swiftly. In fact, they were doing that faster than before.

This was also part of Lab of Gods’ strategy.

Before the enemy’s main army appeared, they would never show off the Leviathans’ true strength.

Now that the time was ripe, they unleashed all of the Leviathans’ devastating attacks to push the front line forward.

Chapter 2688 Sacred Organization Has Finally Appeared

As the spies continued to provide reports, they sent out a new group of fighters from Lab of Gods.

Although they were fringe fighters, they were still exceedingly formidable.

How did they get decimated too? I just can't understand why!

"It seems Erudia and The Cardinal Hall in particular were prepared for the attack. They must have known about the spies and used them to track us down instead. It's evident that the ambush at Limingford Mountain was discovered early on and resulted in the attack."

"Also, isn't the ancient Garrison clan supposed to have broken ties with them? Why did they provide reinforcements then?"

"This only proves that the ancient Garrison clan and The Cardinal Hall faked breaking ties to create the illusion of a falling out. In truth, they had been targeting our ambush on Limingford Mountain, and that's how our troops were annihilated by them."

Soon, everyone began analyzing the situation.

Mr. X was outraged. "Da*n it! How was Erudia prepared?"

The result had deviated significantly from their expectations.

Chapter 2689 For What

"Really?" That's wonderful!

Everyone was ecstatic when they heard that Gods of Restricted Area 76 had appeared after disappearing for such a long time.

Their wait had finally come to an end.

"It seems that part of Maya Industries and Sacred Organization is in the South, while another part is in Oakland City.

Reassured by the news, Mr. X ordered, "All right, inform Dr. Erebus to get his army prepared. Gods of Restricted Area 76 have finally emerged."

"Gods, are you? I wonder if you will be devastated once you find out that ordinary humans are your weakness," Mr. X sneered to himself.

"Nevertheless, let's watch Gods of Restricted Area 76 put on a show first, shall we? They will definitely appear behind Craig and Nicholas' battalions."

The crowd at Lab of Gods were very certain of it.

After all, they had predicted that Gods would spring an ambush upon Erudia.

On one hand, it would be in Oakland City. On the other, it would be right in front of the approaching army.

Thus, they began to wait confidently.

Chapter 2690 The Power Of Divine Tools

I don't understand why this is happening. Aren't Gods of Restricted Area 76 supposed to takeover Erudia? Shouldn't they be attacking Erudia right now? Why are they assaulting the Leviathans instead? Isn't this supposed to be a rare opening for them? Can it be that they were collaborating with Erudia the whole time? That's impossible! If they were in cahoots with Erudia, they wouldn't have established Sacred Organization and secretly expand its influence. Also, they wouldn't have planted their spies in Erudia too.

More importantly, Lab of Gods had sufficient evidence to prove the existence of Restricted Area 76 and their plan to conquer Erudia.

Even though everything made sense, what actually happened defied logic, baffling everyone.

As a result, all of them gaped as they watched what was going on from their screen.

It took them a long time before they regained their senses.

Back at the battle, the reinforcements that arrived dealt a devastating blow to the Leviathans, injuring almost all of them.

Our opportunity is here!

Craig's eyes sparkled in response.

"Suicide Squad, on my mark, charge forward and fire your weapons at close range on their wounds! Remember, try your best to minimize casualties, and do not launch suicide attacks! Victory is upon us now!"
