Chapter 2711 Courage

Mr. X was stunned to his core.

Lucifer, Jester King, and the others were on the verge of going mad.

They could not work out how the mysterious Dark Web had grasped a piece of information that they had just received from Sacroria.

Lab of Gods had been paying attention to Dark Web early on, but they failed to find out anything.

Since Dark Web did not impede their plan, Lab of Gods did not probe further.

However, things had taken an unanticipated turn because Dark Web appeared to know everything about their organization.

They had to inform Sacroria of Dark Web at once.

Sacroria were also taken aback and began investigating Dark Web as its existence had threatened their plan. In fact, they wanted to get rid of it.

The news released by the Dark web spread like wildfire.

His expression darkened.

The Lab of Gods dares to set itself up as a country and declare war against the world. It means that they were confident about their strength. Ha! I want to beat you all up, but I shall warn you first! You all better get ready! I'll destroy you!

Levi's thoughts may seem presumptuous and reckless.

In actuality, he knew what he was capable of.

After all, before he arrived, no one knew what to do about the Leviathans.

They were even more powerless against the core powers of the Lab of Gods.

Sacroria was the scariest of all the core powers.

Now, Levi would have to go head to head with them.

That was precisely what Levi wanted.

Since the Lab of Gods stopped hiding,

Levi believed that he would be meeting Sacroria soon.

No one could fully understand the torment in their heart.

"It's my fault too! If I didn't enter into solitary training, I would have been able to watch over you! Then, I could have prevented you from stopping the plan!" Levi said helplessly.

Before entering solitary training, Levi had firmly instructed them not to stop no matter what happened.

Gary was on the verge of tears. "It's all my fault! I'm useless!"

In the end, Craig could not stand it anymore.

He looked at Levi and said, "Crown King, it's all our fault! Gary did nothing wrong! We are the ones who stopped the plan and sold all the materials to recuperate the loss! Furthermore, we dismantled the defense line and opened the gates to Erudia. You have given us instructions earlier on. It is our fault for doubting your words!"

"What else? We might not fully understand the extent of Lab of Gods' powers, but the Leviathan is our biggest threat now!" someone answered.

Everyone nodded fervently to what the person said.

Levi replied, "There is no need to worry about the Leviathans! They are no longer an issue. All of you should stop talking about them!"

His response instantly stunned everyone.

They all turned to Levi curiously.

How can we forget a problem as severe as Leviathan? Why is he asking us to forget?

"No! Crown King, you may not be aware, but we have only trapped the Leviathans temporarily! I estimate that we have a few months before they manage to escape!" someone protested.

"Furthermore, the Leviathans belong to the Lab of Gods. They could get free sooner if the Lab of Gods searches for them! Therefore, we need to find a solution quickly before the Leviathans appear again!" another person added.

Everyone thought that Levi did not understand the situation and rushed to explain.

Levi rolled his eyes and said, "I know! You have trapped them in the abandoned training base under the sea! Stop worrying about them! This matter is over now!"

Everyone appeared even more shocked after Levi had spoken.

"Is... Is this doable?" someone asked.
Everyone trembled slightly and looked at Levi in disbelief.
Levi's plan had shocked everyone!
He had just told them the first part of his plan. It was to expand the defense barrier.
The proposed defense barrier would extend beyond Erudia's territorial waters.
It would surround Keerea and Raysonia's territorial waters too.
Furthermore, the defense barrier would be built on the sea and cover an unbelievably wide area.
Furthermore, it would surround the whole of Keerea and Raysonia.

Death Fiend and his team came here to help and were considered the main power.

The Sacred Organization had never revealed the true extent of its strength.

However, they would summon all their members to gather in Erudia this time.

"Thank you! We are grateful for your assistance!" Craig answered.

However, he was suspicious of the Sacred Organization.

Why are they helping? They are even pulling all stops to help us! Divine Brigadier said that they were on our side. He told us not to worry or suspect anything they do. Who is this Dark Emperor? Why is he helping Erudia? I don't get it!

"Good, if you gather everyone here, it will improve our chances! After you have gathered everyone, let me be in charge of them and wait for my instructions!" Levi said.

Levi also sought permission to take command over The Cardinal Hall and the Dragonite.

Craig was hesitant. "We can't decide this on our own! We have to ask them!"

However, DG Leo stepped out quickly and answered, "Sure, we don't have any issue with that!"

The leaders of the ancient Garrison clan also voiced their willingness to accept Levi's command.

Donald was shocked by what he witnessed.

Why would a clan as prideful as the ancient Garrison clan obey Levi's instruction? They wouldn't have cared even if Levi was the Commander.

Chapter 2717 From The Perspective Of God

The Lab of Gods set up a country in the desert and named it Diviniteria.

Everyone was shocked by its emergence.

The Lab of Gods is amazing!

Everyone could not help but exclaim in their minds.

One only had to look at the country that the Lab of Gods created and know that its technological advancement was far beyond anywhere else.

It fulfilled the other countries' vision of a futuristic world!

It was astounding!

Furthermore, the rich and the famous dreamed of living in a country like Diviniteria.

Some billionaires wanted to invest a ludicrous amount of money to create similar futuristic cities.

Once they moved into such a futuristic world, they would enjoy a higher quality of life than anywhere else. They believed that only such a standard of life was worthy of their pursuit.

It was what others could never hope to achieve.

Hearing that, there were changes in everyone's countenance.

They could not resist feeling that the Gods of Restricted Area 76 had something up their sleeves. Do they have any connection with Erudia? Why are they backing Erudia up by all means? They seem to have used up everything they have without a second thought! My goodness! They were even willing to whip out various types of divine tools previously to battle against the Leviathans!

Undoubtedly, the Lab of Gods were clueless about how many Gods were there in Restricted Area 76 and how much equipment they possessed.

Earlier on, they were in a panic as they thought almost all the mightier Gods from Restricted Area 76 had come to Erudia's rescue with all their equipment.

"Should we try to stop them?" the spy asked warily.

"It's all right. There's nothing for us to fear! I'm just wondering about the relationship between the God of Restricted Area 76 and Erudia. Besides, I doubt why the Dark Emperor and the others did not even show up under such a critical circumstance," Mr. X pointed out quizzically.

Nonetheless, who would have thought that such a noble gentleman was a cold-blooded murderer!

He was holding a scalpel in his right hand all the time! It was a black scalpel that could slash open anything effortlessly!

Almost every moment of his life was spent conducting autopsies. In other words, he was snatching countless lives non-stop every day!

Nobody knew how long he had been living in the world. It would surely send a chill down everyone's spine if they happened to find out about it!

Dr. Erebus still looked exactly like how he was when Mr. X first met him. That was already more than thirty years ago! It seemed he had never aged at all throughout the years. There was not even the slightest bit of change in him.

Even Mr. X was clueless about how old Dr. Erebus was. He presumed only Sacroria knew about the dark doctor's secret.

Everyone could not help but rack their brains. Dr. Erebus is just human like all of us, isn't he? But why aren't there any signs of aging on his face even after a few decades? How is he able to invent things which are beyond everyone's imagination?

“Huh?” This round, all the others were flabbergasted.

“Dr. Erebus, did you say all the Leviathans are dead?” someone piped out, perplexed. There was sheer disbelief in everyone’s eyes.

Dr. Erebus nodded again. “Yeah! Don’t you know that every Leviathan has its own energy capsule? It functions as a combination of the human heart, brain, and other fundamental organs! But now I sense that their energy capsules have stopped spinning. Or perhaps, I should say they were shattered. Hence, I’m confirmed they’re all dead!”

“Ah! Is that true?” Dr. Erebus’s words sent some of them into a tizzy.

Their faces turned ashen in an instant! Undeniably, they would be in a precarious state if the Leviathans were dead!

“I still can’t accept it! I bet you must be unable to sense their energy capsules because Erudia had lured them into an isolated, mysterious region. It could hinder any signal from the outer world from getting through! Even any highly advanced technology can’t be of any help! I’m sure you can’t detect any signal from their energy capsules because of that too!” Mr. X analyzed matter-of-factly.

“Ah! There’s another point! I believe this mysterious region is closely related to Restricted Area 76. However, those so-called Gods can’t defeat the Leviathans! Not to mention, you took Restricted Area 76 into consideration when designing the Leviathans, didn’t you? Even if their combat prowess or divine tool could harm the Leviathans, it’s not till the extent of shattering their energy capsules, am I right? Don’t worry! The special task force assigned in search of the Leviathans is very capable! I believe we’ll be able to track them down within seven days!” he added confidently.
