Chapter 2721

You Will Be Defeated

More and more people surrendered and joined Diviniteria. They had never been offered such attractive privilege before!

After that, a swarm of business conglomerates and influential figures joined Diviniteria one by one.

It seemed to have resulted in a wave of emotional turbulence among everyone. Even those who were undecided were tempted.

Finally, even countries started joining Diviniteria. Basically, they were all the foes of Erudia. Ibica turned out to be the first country who joined Diviniteria.

Since then, it resulted in a greater uproar worldwide. Before that, everyone was not as agitated when they heard about individuals, business conglomerates, or influential figures joining Diviniteria.

Nevertheless, everything seemed to be different right after Ibica chose to join Diviniteria. Again, it placed the whole world in a state of frenzy.

As the first country that joined Diviniteria, Ibica was given the utmost privilege and was deemed the first country under Diviniteria. Furthermore, it was renamed Ibica of Diviniteria.

The Simplest Mission

He knew too well about Levi's unrivaled power. Thus, he tried to enlighten them.

Even so, the others from the Lab of Gods turned a deaf ear to his warning. Having no fear in anything, they paid no heed to the advice.

"Well, it can't be denied that Levi Garrison is an intelligent man. I heard he even managed to obtain a lot of first-hand intelligence this round. But it was actually due to the trap that we set up earlier. Initially, we planned to take Erudia down without declaring war against them. But now, we'll rely solely on our mighty combat prowess! Regardless of how smart he is, he is still not on the same level as us. We can effortlessly ruin Erudia with our unrivaled weapons and fighters!" Lucifer boasted.

Moments later, they continued with their negotiation.

Needless to say, both the representatives from the Labs of Gods and Zarain excelled at negotiating.

They spent a long time pinpointing each others' weaknesses, playing mind games, and sounding each other out.

Zarain wanted the Lab of Gods to attack Erudia in full force so both parties would end up sustaining terrible losses. With that, Zarain would be the one standing to benefit.

Meeting Of Old Friends

Levi had never expected anyone to want to kill him.

On top of that, the person was his old friend.

They had perished together in the past.

After so many years, they were about to meet each other again.

What had Levi been up to all the while?

Obviously, he was not sitting around and doing nothing.

He focused all of his attention on the Lab of Gods.

Now that the Lab of Gods had a headquarters, the whole world knew where they were.

That made things a lot easier for Levi.

However, his focus was on Sacroria.

That future modern city might be intimidating to the world, but it meant nothing to Levi.

What worried him the most was Sacroria.

As long as Sacroria did not show up, he would not reveal his true abilities.

At that moment, he was coordinating the whole situation in the command center.

"I think I will go and take a spin around Keerea and Raysonia. I'm sure there will be suspicious activities going on in these areas!"

Levi was going to check those two places in person.

He brought along no one else other than Mutant Number Three and Fearsome Number Four.

Such Weak Gods

Right from the beginning, both parties had been laughing.

Levi asked, "Back when both of us died together, did someone save you?"

Lucifer replied with an air of arrogance, "Technically, I was being resurrected! This is not something that mere mortals can comprehend! We are Gods! Understand?"

"That's right! Levi, in the past, we were half mortals and half Gods! Now, we are Gods!" added Jester King.

In their present states, their abilities were terrifying, to say the least.

In another word, their bloodlines were getting purer. Theirs were almost comparable to those of their ancestors.

People from the Ancient Clans possessed destructive powers and various talents from the time they were born.

In the later stage, their bloodlines became adulterated, and the powers of their various abilities became weaker as well.

However, with the help of the Lab of Gods, Hell Witch and Kraken had become atavistic.

Their bloodlines began to become more similar to those of their first ancestors, and that was why their powers had become stronger.

They were about to attain the same level as the first generation of their ancestors.

That was why they dared to address themselves as Gods.

It was the same reason why the Lab of Gods was now known as Diviniteria.

Insulting God

Amazing! It was unbelievable prowess!

Lucifer was stunned beyond words, as were the other three.

They could not fathom how and when Levi became so powerful.

To the people at Lab of Gods, they had always seen Levi as a weakling, a nobody. He was so insignificant that even their newbies felt it was beneath them and a waste of their time to fight against him.

Due to their earlier impression of Levi, they found his sudden display of energy and power shocking and unbelievable.

The main obstacle in their bid to get rid of Levi had been the elites that were guarding him. When their men found out those elites were not around and Levi was finally alone, they immediately came for him.

They were expecting an easy kill but instead, found out that nothing couldn't be further from the truth.

In a flash, before Lucifer and his team could recover from the shock, Levi was already standing right in front of them.

All they could do was helplessly bear with the torment.

When Levi loosened his grip on them, they could finally utter a sound. Despite knowing it would be a futile struggle, they still went on to bark their head off.

"How dare you, Levi?"

"Do you know what is the consequence of fighting against Gods?"

Lucifer and Jester King started hurling lame threats at Levi.

“Not only am I going to fight against you, but I am also going to kill you!” Levi sneered at them in return.

“Kill us? Kill Gods? Do you have the guts to do that? And do you really think you are capable of doing that?” they shouted.

It was an abhorrent thought that a commoner could kill Gods!

They could not accept the idea that was a possible feat, despite having witnessed Hell Witch and Kraken’s demise.

Levi laughed out loud and said, “I have bad news for you then. You will not be the first God I kill. I have lost count, but there should be at least a few hundred before you!”

No Giving Up

Lucifer and his team were not back yet and did not dispatch any news to Diviniteria. Their friends back at Diviniteria were unsettled. Even Mr. X couldn't stay calm and collected anymore.

He wasn't too worried when they were late for a couple of hours, but to be delayed for five hours and not send any updates was simply not their usual style.

Looked like they had met with a mishap.

Soon, Diviniteria was rife with speculations and rumors.

"They can't possibly have difficulty in dealing with Levi, can they?"

"Is Levi so powerful that the four of them could not finish him off?"

"How is that possible? Don't we all know what Levi was capable of? Any one of them could have finished him off, let alone four of them working as a team!"

"Don't tell me something was wrong in our intelligence gathering? Could it be that instead of the news we received that Levi was alone and unprotected, he was actually surrounded and guarded by many of his fighters?"

Great Void

Great Void! Or maybe he should be addressed as Void God since everyone at Lab of God self-proclaimed themselves to be Gods!

Great Void was born with devastating supernatural power. All living things that got close to him would have their vitality and energy sucked from them until they become limp corpses.

He could even physically draw in the living things and make them disappear into his body, a body that seemed to have an infinite capacity. Soon, everyone avoided him like the plague.

It was only after he met Dr. Erebus that he saw hope. Dr. Erebus helped him gain the ability to control his power.

His superpower was similar to the power of Erudia's Divine Extraction Technique, except that his ability was not a cultivated skill but a natural inborn talent.

The gist of both Divine Extraction Technique and his talent was the same. Both enabled the person to become stronger by consuming or taking in other people's power and energy.

Great Void, with his inherited advantage of being able to take in an unlimited amount of energy, was the reason the Lab of Gods could conduct experiments to improve Karsten's biological body. Previously, Karsten had suffered badly from the side effects of consuming too much energy while executing the Divine Extraction Technique.

Levi Chickens Out

Someone is here again!

Levi had already detected the arrival of his foe, surprised that the Lab of Gods had moved so quickly and had sent another fighter to take his life so soon.

Mutant Number Three and Fearsome Number Four senses also alerted them to the arrival of an unfriendly party.

Although the heads of the few countries gathered on the island had fighters with them, those fighters were far from being elites and were still clueless about the approaching dangers.

Soon, a powerful voice boomed through the air. "Meet your end, Levi!"

The skies above the island changed instantly as if a sudden storm had arrived.

The fighters that came with the heads of the many countries immediately went into high alert mode and gathered around their respective bosses as they scanned around for the source of the disturbance.

In a flash, a dark figure appeared, darting across the air like a firebolt.

Great Void had made his appearance.

His presence brought an eerie and dark mood. It was as if a black hole had appeared and was ready to swallow everything near it.

The heads panicked and instinctively ran away from the sudden intruder.

Those left on the island could only bemoan their reaction was too slow and was left behind to face the music.

"You idiot, Levi! This son of a b*tch actually left us and fled by himself! What a great display of loyalty!"

"Is this the trump card you are talking about? You are only making use of us to stall the enemies so you have ample time to flee!"

They were mad that they were not as quick as Levi, and were left to face the vengeance of Great Void.

They reckoned they were in big trouble and could be imprisoned on the island by Lab of Gods.

All of them were cursing and swearing at Levi, and had lost all hope of being able to get away alive.

However, another surprise twist greeted them.

Great Void totally ignored them and charged in the direction of Levi's escape.
