

Pinnacle 2751

Chapter 2751 Guild And Order

Even Daxon observed with keen interest when Levi asked, for he had heard of the Xenhall clerics in passing but knew not of the specifics.

“We’ve actually looked into both variations of the legend. One pertained to the Esoteric Guild. Word has it that they were a group of theurgists who wielded powerful magical techniques! The other concerned the Xenhall clerics of the Ecclesiastic Order, who were themselves also extraordinary folks in their own rights!

Levi and Daxon both reacted with astonishment.

“Might you have any more detailed information or the likes?” Levi continued to press.

An ancient manual came shooting out of The Manifest Court, which, upon Levi’s examination, opened to reveal content exclusively comprised of mythological stories that the Manifest Court made scant effort to expound upon.

It was obvious that these were mere legends and, for the most part, unverified tall tales and hearsay.

Levi made a mental note of them and then left.

Actually, he was not sold on them either, since they were, as various sources would attest, nothing more than stories.

The only avenue of doubt he had revolved around his own mentor.

where did the seemingly do next?” Daxon was severe. “All this time, Sacroria has been exceedingly concerned about the Esoteric Guild and the Ecclesiastic Order, and the truth of their existence! For this reason, they’ve remained restrained and had been conserving their strength. I’ve even heard that the Lab of Gods is actually waiting on the appearance of the Esoteric Guild and the Ecclesiastic Order, and is gist of what Levi’s intentions use the Esoteric Guild and the Ecclesiastic Order to bait Sacroria out into the open?” Daxon may adapt accordingly! Even if it is just a myth, we something more concrete from The Daxon appeared apprehensive.

look the part but also have the prowess to match? In spite of our collective growth in strength, I’m afraid that we might still be quite far off from assessment was

of either the Esoteric Guild

in this, for I have got some tricks up and the Fearsome Four, as well as Cyrus, will come in handy. It shouldn't be difficult for them which to reel them in, and that was the

it was a site

sort

Chapter 2752 All Gone In Thirty Seconds

Morale was high owing to the overwhelming strength consolidated within the ranks of the allied forces, and the masses feared no one, not even when it was the Lab of Gods who stood opposed to them.

Initial jitters had given way to burgeoning confidence once all everyone had convened.

"Instead of buckling down in our defensive positions, why don't we seize the initiative and take the fight to them?" one of the lieutenants suggested.

"That's right. The engagement plans provided by the military strategist had everything save an offensive approach! That goes to show that no one expects us to strike first! Diviniteria, too, will never see us coming!"

"Hear, hear! We'll surely take them by surprise if we were to go on the offensive!"

Those views were seconded by a chorus of support from their other enthused contemporaries who also felt it a feasible option.

A key appeal for them was that that course of action was not open to them before.

Titan Lord found himself in agreement with that line of reasoning.

If we ourselves had not contemplated that possibility, how could our enemies? Never!

"However, the component units of the allied forces have all been stationed at their designated positions. Their cover would be easily blown if we were to redeploy!"

Someone astutely pointed out.

I shall lead my personal army lead the

Levi Garrison when put to contrast the enemy directly and only sought to withdraw, while the other led from the front and wanted to be first to charge simply no room

Commander's

lieutenants began to profess third of the reserve forces in the rearguard first signaling shot, the army led by Rumble...

eruption of combat stunned all within the allied broke ranks and took the initiative to go on the

were taken going on?

move, indeed, confounded their time round had caught

Are they really showing the element of surprise, Titan Lord's sudden onslaught did inflict significant plaudits abound within the allied camp, all awesome. Not only was he determined to battle to want to see, for

Chapter 2753 A Devastating Blow

"It'd seem to me that this lot is going to take us for pushovers unless we demonstrate a compelling show of strength."

Being underestimated for a second time had left the masses from the Lab of Gods enraged to a boiling point.

Time to unveil our trump card!

"Understood!"

At Mr. X's behest, various preparations got underway.

Diviniteria's five massive flying vessels, akin to airborne battleships, were advanced to the fore.

These flying vessels were humongous, with each one the approximate size of a small town, and their presence itself almost had the entire stretch of these waters in a blockade!

Seeing the imposing manner of their enemy's response left Titan Lord and company even more exhilarated.

"Charge! Before us is the enemies' main camp! Seize it, and we shall have clinched ourselves half the success! Ready our forces to the rear and await my command to commence the attack!"

The passion of Titan Lord and the others had reached fever pitch, with the warriors leading the line best characterizing their fervor.

Each tried to outrun the other as though fearful of missing out!
quintet of flying vessels suddenly withdrew packed and numbered in the tens of them combined for close to a “Fire!” that command, those hundred thousand sets of weaponry expunged it engulfed the entirety of the sea and every though that entire world itself had been bathed in its reddish glow, not a single sliver red energy beams were several dozen times stronger up such a powerful output. Or should it be said that its body was unable to withstand it, and the energy capsule module on it was capped with however, proved to be no obstacle for these tremendous flying vessels, for they were capable of delivering energy beams of a potency that transcended that of the Leviathan times more destructive, regardless of whether it be the fighter’s bodies, weapons, equipment, or protective gear such as armor or position in every corner of Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh! army before them was contact with the light, all of their bodies splintered Shock!
Utter shock!
two-hundred thousand men alongside their weaponry, ships, and every was so powerful that they dissolved

Chapter 2754 Titan Lord Is Scared

It was a truly baffling sight to behold.

The people who were bravely shouting about how they would win the battle a second ago had all disappeared the next.

It was the first time everyone had witnessed something this shocking.

Although so many had died in an instant, not a single drop of blood was shed.

On top of that, there were neither screams of pain nor body parts flying everywhere.

Everyone simply vanished into thin air after coming into contact with the red beam of light.

The ability to completely disintegrate everything in one's path was probably the ultimate form of power in existence.

It was so ridiculously powerful that it could very well wipe out an entire civilization in an instant.

In less than thirty seconds, the Lab of Gods had cleared the path before them of any and all obstacles.

that, and

when mere mortals

them with all that, the Diviniterian army began

while the battleships

it clear that they would fight till the bitter end, the Lab of Gods decided to stop testing the water and played entire shore was filled with the deafening sounds of engines and footsteps as were all trembling in fear had just been vaporized before their

Boom!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

red beam of light as they advanced, disintegrating in front of the battleship that Titan Lord was on were all hit by the red beam and as he had just lost his personal guards and reserve forces in the blink of an in a cold sweat, he shouted, "Retreat! Retreat now! Fire at them was at that moment that they all understood powerful for them to even damage, so fighting would only lead to huge amounts of men to open fire at the five airships that

Chapter 2755 They Remember Levi

They had mobilized such a huge amount of soldiers, weapons, and equipment, only to have them all be reduced to nothingness in the blink of an eye.

The men at the base were wondering how powerful Diviniteria was, until they saw Titan Lord and his lieutenants trembling all over.

Some of them were so scared that they even peed their pants.

This was a clear indicator of the dangers that lay ahead of them.

Although they did not witness the horrors first-hand, seeing the state of those who did was enough for them to understand that the situation was worse than they had expected.

“Now that I think about it, Levi wasn’t scared of the enemy! He told us that the Lab of Gods is way more powerful than we could possibly imagine! He said we should avoid direct confrontations and rely on harassment strategies instead!”

was brilliant! He knows the power of the Lab of Gods better than was just trying to devise a plan with the highest chance of success! He would’ve fought them head-on if when they realized the ingenuity of Levi’s them retreat, he was actually protecting them by come up with a better plan if he had enough lot of them began to miss Levi at that that Levi had left after devising a few strategies, but no one knew and his men really regretted their weapons and equipment are stuff we’ve never will feel if they see you like this! The enemy

Chapter 2756 They Fell For It

However, having witnessed the terrors of the enemy’s forces, Titan Lord was quick to view them as their lifesaver.

While executing the strategies was no guarantee of victory, it would at least buy them time to continue searching for a way to win the battle.

“Understood! We’ll get to it right away!”

Titan Lord then carefully reviewed the first strategy that Levi had proposed.

What to do if the enemy possesses ridiculously powerful and seemingly indestructible weapons? What to do if they steamroll their way in with said weapons? That’s exactly what happened earlier! The Diviniterian army destroyed everything in its path with the help of the five airships and that red laser beam of theirs! So, what exactly should we do?

Neither Titan Lord nor his lieutenants were able to come up with an answer for that question.

In fact, most of them were so terrified that they peed their pants earlier.

Fortunately for them, Levi provided the answer in the first strategy he proposed.

He had long since taken into consideration how they would handle an overwhelming attack from the Lab of Gods and their Leviathans.

Of course, they would not engage the enemy directly as they wouldn't stand a chance regardless of how many men they had.

Titan Lord then gave out the instructions according to Levi's strategy, and they were able to get everything set up in the shortest amount of time possible.

instant! Tell him I need him! We all command center all held got rid of Levi, they had resorted to underhanded means in order to they know, they ended up needing him the most and had to bring wished coward who didn't have the guts to face the enemy, only to realize he was trying to achieve victory with

Boom!

heard in the distance as the Diviniterian army darkened as the five airships blocked out the sun, and the soldiers all trembled by having mountains on both given time, so it would be impossible that they had in already completed all the preparations according him to do was engage the enemy in battle when they

the airships came within range, Titan Lord gave the order

Boom! Boom! Boom!

opened

hundred thousand weapons being used, and most of them were new to the Lab of those weapons was so terrifying that it felt like

Chapter 2757 The Use Of Decoys

The entire command center was in an uproar as Titan Lord and the others cheered on excitedly.

The reason behind their excitement was none other than the fact that the Lab of Gods had fallen for their trick.

The base that the airships had just destroyed was actually a decoy that they had set up according to Levi's strategy.

Levi knew they wouldn't stand a chance fighting against such powerful weapons in direct combat, so they would need to work their way around them.

Despite how powerful the Lab of Gods' weapons were, they didn't have an infinite supply of ammunition and would eventually run out.

Levi figured the resources required for the ammunition would be scarce as the weapons were very new, so it was only a matter of time before they were depleted.

As such, his strategy focused on how they would get the enemy forces to waste their ammunition and run out of it sooner.

way to do that was to trick them into firing strategy was to construct decoy bases decoy base was fake, including the soldiers and weapons looked just like the real thing, so it was impossible to tell advanced technology that the Lab of Gods had in possession, they could easily conduct a scan prevent that from happening, Levi's strategy involved lowering their guard of Gods would be so enraged and frustrated that they would only focus on destroying the base in front first round of attack as they needed to hit the Lab of Gods

Gods got so mad that they wasted no time destroying that base in them, the Lab of Gods

this attack was over ten times greater than the one used when Titan laser beams engulfed the area in a sea of red, disintegrating everything in its path and fired at, those weapons were the perfect tools to wipe the entire base that

Chapter 2758 The Strength Of Diviniteria

"We continue with the strategy! Open fire!" Titan Lord replied calmly.

With his order, the weapons that had been set up along the mountains on both sides opened fire on the airships all at once.

Thanks to the huge amount of resources the alliance had, they were able to set up that ambush and blast away to their hearts' content.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

This attack was at least ten times more powerful than the one they launched at the airships earlier.

Crack!

Although the airships were able to withstand most of the attacks, they weren't exactly invulnerable, so some of the secret weapons managed to cause some serious damage to them.

Naturally, the Lab of Gods didn't take too kindly to that.

After all, they saw themselves as gods from Diviniteria.

believed that mere mortals shouldn't be able to hurt them at all, so taking damage

Stella and Quintus Stella are taking damage! The entrance to the strait ahead is too narrow for all five of our airships the airships were ahead and replied with a sneer, "If this landscape is the source of their advantage, then

"Huh?"

he meant, everyone

I'm saying is, we will level the mountains on both sides in front of us! I want our airships to continue advancing side by side like this!" Mr.

gasped in shock upon on both sides? Does he have any idea how mere thought of it was so scary that they didn't dare think any further, but they had to both sides in front of us!

Buzz...

charged up their cannons

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

Chapter 2759 The Greatest Battle Of The Century

We may have successfully tricked them into firing at the mountains on the side, but... What on earth is that weapon? How is it able to level all those mountains like that? This is unbelievable! Simply unbelievable! This is a lot more powerful than we imagined! The destructive power of Diviniteria's weapons sure is on a whole different level!

The land shook as the mountains were leveled, exposing the clear skies behind them.

The water from the sea flowed across the land, turning the valley into a part of the ocean in an instant.

With such unimaginable power at their fingertips, it was no wonder why the people of Diviniteria would call themselves gods.

The men from the Lab of Gods cheered excitedly upon seeing the mountains being leveled.

“This is the power of the gods! We are capable of destroying the world as well as reshaping it to our will!”

That absolute power was the main source of their confidence as well as their sense of authority.

we have leveled the mountains, the airships are now down to ten percent power! We can only use them the mountains was certainly an impressive display of might, the such, the airships could no longer attacking with the airships from here on out. They weren’t our primary tool of offense, to begin with anyway! Begin the a halt, and countless fighters got off equipped with weapons and armor as and the others realized that Levi’s strategy was working when they didn’t really lose much. Everything in the decoy base was made out of cardboard cutouts, so it was no big deal strategy provided. We won’t be charging blindly into battle this time! Now, let us go give our enemies a warm welcome!” Titan Diviniterian army too, charged forward and engaged them in weapons were being fired everywhere, and the greatest battle of and violence soon filled in

Chapter 2760 Missing Levi

That was the best part about having superiority in numbers.

As powerful as the Diviniterian army was, it still took them a really long time to fight their way through the alliance.

Despite the severe casualties sustained in the first hour, they were able to hold their ground mainly through their sheer numbers.

On top of that, Titan Lord’s excellent usage of battle tactics also helped them to further minimize the casualties and maximize their efficiency in combat.

At the very least, they were able to keep the fight going for prolonged periods of time.

“Kill them! Kill them all!”

Due to the strong resistance they had encountered, Mr. X decided to personally command his troops and have them fight more aggressively.

Not wanting to face Sacroria's wrath, he was desperate to break through the alliance's defenses as soon as possible.

the Diviniterian army upped their game, and Titan Lord lost seven of the thirty-seven defensive bases he to worsen as the Diviniterian army assembling suicide squads to reclaim the taking the Diviniterian soldiers' lives along with their was truly pushed to desperation by the were simply far too powerful that the Erudian forces had no choice that they were able to hold out that long against the enemy was a well that keeping the fight the superiority in numbers meant nothing if all of cannon fodder to send at the enemy, and the Diviniterian army would break through their final why Levi chose not to fight them! These Diviniterians are way at winning against them! To send more men at them we can't even win! Levi had devised his strategies with the goal of achieving victory in the

when they realized devise new strategies to turn the tide around. Had Levi been around, he probably would've thought of a new plan heard from Levi yet? He might be able to come