

Pinnacle 2771

Chapter 2771 Daddy Is On His Way

There is no way to truly overthrow the tyranny of Diviniteria!

Given the inevitability of Forlevia falling into the clutches of Sacroria, the alliance began doubting their morale again.

We've given everything we have. Forlevia is going to be overwhelmed at any minute. There is no more hope.

Having still expected Levi to arrive at the last minute, the alliance soon came to terms with the childishness of their hope in the face of Diviniteria's might. They understood that it was impossible to overcome the sheer numbers and technological advantage of their opponent via scheming and battle tactics alone.

If we can't even place our hope in Levi, what can we hope for? Are we going to concede just like that?

Miles away at that very moment, the Divine Brigadier was leading a portion of his forces to observe the movements of the Zarain faction only to discover that they had been motionless the entire time.

Having learned of the state of the battle happening across the country, the Divine Brigadier felt anxious and grew impatient to join the battle. His desire was stoked to an even greater extent upon finding out that Forlevia had joined.

However, he was bound by Levi's order to remain.

Levi, on the other hand, was in close proximity of the Atlantis base.

As the battle was raging inland, he had been doing his part by imitating the Ecclesiastic Order and long time honing the accuracy of his mimicry, he was finally ready to the alliance and the forces of Diviniteria the moment he emerged stop the war, having

Sacroria in the hopes of controlling the tide

It was from the spy he had placed within the ranks of the Diviniteria forces an attack from Zarain will force their few seconds, a strategy formed in his mind. "Sacroria is afraid of the Erudian legend of the Ecclesiastic Order and the Esoteric Guild.

the battlefield, Levi became stunned as he did own against the might of an entire army! Not on my watch. Hang another unexpected development. "Mr. X and Sacroria suspect that Forlevia belongs to Forlevia remains safe!

pleased to see something going

“Relay my message...”

his mind, Levi began troops from Diviniteria. Anxious to be rid of the thorn by their side, they had been searching frantically for the Chapter 2772 Sacroria Appears

As they attempted to scramble away from the mysterious force, the entire party of thousands disappeared without a trace.

Soon after that, a silhouette appeared beneath the water.

The surveillance devices the men had managed to install before their disappearance captured the entire ordeal.

On the screen back at the central control room of the Diviniterian army, the figures that emerged in the wake of the search party's disappearance were clad in theurgist robes. Some were clad in traditional Erudian clothing. Despite the difference in attire, every one of them wore a mask.

The sudden appearance of the unsettling alien species from the ocean floor frightened the troops to no end.

With the appearance of these unknown and unexpected adversaries capable of wiping out an entire search party without a trace, the danger that we are faced with has just reached its peak.

Upon recognizing the severity of the problem, they hastened to relay the news to Sacroria by the order of Mr. X.

The scouts were permitted to bypass the chain of command to notify Sacroria at once at the slightest hint of any anomalies in the coastal regions of Atlantis.

It was important for Sacroria to be notified promptly of a problem of that magnitude. In fact, it was imperative being notified at last, Mr. X became dumbfounded with shock when he laid eyes upon the attire of the and the Esoteric Guild wear! And they came from the location where Leviathan and Great Void disappeared! Isn't it obvious awe, Mr. X relayed the message to Sacroria once more in an effort to highlight its importance before breathwork, the sooner we can identify the sorts of things. Once we capture Forlevia and hand her to him, he'll take care of situation, the aristocrats of Diviniteria were still leading an indulgent existence which was made possible by the wealth and sophistication of their nation despite being made fully time, Diviniteria will conquer the world. This is only the first battle of many. By then, we would be the elite of elites in the world's population. The Gods themselves would make

did not seem to concern

by three or four powerful-looking men emerged who exuded a grim, destructive intent as they laid waste to the Diviniterian troops fought fiercely, the capital of Diviniteria was plunged into chaos as a handful of soldiers left behind to defend it became overwhelmed by the

and decisiveness, even the most indifferent Diviniterian found himself suddenly concerned with the tide possible for them to be the ones to have carried out this assault. The possibility of Zarain launching this assault is impossible as well, seeing as we could not ascertain their location. Besides, the borders of Diviniteria have been clearly carved up by the defense barrier very question in the chaotic aftermath of the guerrilla attack as

Chapter 2773 Attack On Zarain

After Sacroria had been duly notified of all the signs that pointed to the existence of the Ecclesiastic Order and the Esoteric Guild, Mr. X was confident that they would appear soon.

However, the surprises were not over.

"They'd ransacked our armory?"

While he was still reeling from the first message, Mr. X received another alert.

"Forget the loss of our weapons! The Ecclesiastic Order and the Esoteric Guild have shown themselves!"

All of a sudden, he froze as another possibility occurred to him. "Unless they stole our weapons to be used against us?"

Feeling overwhelmed by that unsettling thought, Mr. X placed all of his hopes on Sacroria.

The theft of a large batch of weaponry is undoubtedly Levi's doing. They can only guess what horrors he has laid in wait for them.

At that very moment on the western coast of Zarain, the coast remained undisturbed as it had been over the past weeks.

The Zarain faction was not anxious to make a move. The passivity of its commanders had caused the soldiers to question their involvement in the war.

After weeks of inaction, they were beginning to relax.

drinking whiskey whilst recalling to each other rifles perched against the wall next to them, their languid of the war being fought miles away from where they stood, the soldiers fight wouldn't extend over aristocrats of Zarain, too, behaved the Diviniteria camp being assaulted barely eye on the battle, they were we've been doing is sitting and waiting. We have no officers who were still watching the battle more out of amusement than vested interest, many of them drink. "There is a ceasefire soon," others said wistfully. "No good can Boom!

into dust from a blast of blue light. The sentries who had been discussing their prospects only a moment
Boom!
the horror of the sentries stationed on neighboring harbors, the unseen weapons from across the horizon began firing in unison in and every line of defense was annihilated as the Zarainian forces were country soon their initial indifference, the aristocrats and high-ranking officials were forced to take were forced to confront
Hawk and his men were reeling

Chapter 2774 Defenders of the Galaxy

A plot is under way. I can smell it.

Before Black Hawk had managed to say a word, a scout emerged with the results of their investigation.

"The weapons are of Diviniterian origin! We had just gotten word! The weapons that had attacked us are from Diviniteria! The guns are arranged in a row to be fired upon us! They must be testing the waters before a large-scale attack. What do we do, Sir?"

Every eye in the room fell on Smythe and the other high-ranking officials to await their verdict.

Smythe became even more certain of the existence of a ploy as the enemy forces had contented themselves with an ambush instead of a large-scale attack.

Diviniteria must be afraid to aggravate the relations between them and Zarain as it would be costly if Zarain were to take up arms against them alongside the World Alliance.

As Smythe and the other officials discussed matters in low, urgent whispers, every one of them wore the same grim look.

they departed the command center in a group to confer with their moment, Black Hawk received a even knew where in the command leave the room to reply to instigate the Zarain army to go into battle by alerting the Zarain officials to of the necessity of Zarain's immediate participation in the war regardless of who already engaged in battle, it doesn't matter how powerful the Zarain Despite his appearance of being Levi's puppet, he only agreed to do so because his own interest in controlling the situation to become its the opportunity, he hastened back to the but we've seen how the World Alliance couldn't even handle themselves, how would they have the resources to attack us? The reason for returned hurriedly at Black Hawk's proclamation. "What's support of their leader, Diviniteria will have nothing left to fear to launch an all-out attack against the entire world. The attack they carried out against our coastal regions earlier was merely to test out their firepower and not know whether invoking Sacroria's name would gain Smythe's then could my goal to gain control of all three

Chapter 2775 Awaiting Sacroria

Black Hawk was impressed with Levi's foresight to invoke the name of Sacroria.

Smythe and the other high-ranking officials must have received orders to await the appearance of Sacroria before giving the command to act! Zarain will dive into battle at the moment Sacroria reveals himself. That must have been the plan all along, to fight Sacroria the moment he appears. It's all clear now!

At that moment, the attacks on the harbor had not cease.

The Defenders of the Galaxy became enraged by the provocation.

"Diviniteria does not respect us at all! They will pay for this! Defenders of the Galaxy, attack! We will smite them for their insolence!"

The Defenders began to plan a large-scale invasion into Diviniteria.

Smythe and the others stood up. "Remember to bring along the equipment we have prepared for Sacroria," they said to each other with knowing winks.

Black Hawk was stunned at the words.

that they have surreptitious text to get him to evacuate as he

At that moment, Levi and his group had order for him to lead a group of men to the were to join forces with Black Hawk with the aim to force the Diviniteria. Instead, his main aim was to mobilize achieved the goal of forcing the battle in his favor and the Esoteric Guild's involvement to play on the suspicions Diviniteria had about camp of Diviniteria was invaded in a deliberate provocation toward the assault upon the coastal regions of Zarain served to instigate the Zarain faction, a thorn in Diviniteria's side, into measures in place, it would be Galaxy took off with the vanguard's arrival on the battlefield, a roar erupted from the is here! Never before seen in the history of the world! It is

Chapter 2776 The True Power Of Super Crossbows

As time passed, the Pill of Valoroum that Forlevia took was gradually losing its efficacy.

That, in turn, made it impossible for her to control the situation since her power was getting weaker and weaker.

Against the Diviniterian fighter, Forlevia could only last for a few more minutes.

To make things worse, after lifting her head, she saw Mr. X, along with the Destroyer and the others, charging at her.

Forlevia was convinced that she was done for when she saw all five of the fighters rushing toward her.

Boom!

Suddenly, Forlevia noticed several figures appear near the gigantic crossbow behind her, and without warning, the four remaining Super Arrows were fired.

Titan Lord's men wanted to stop the one operating the large weapons, but it was already too late.

They were shocked when they noticed that a single person was able to operate the large crossbow.

they could feel a

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

through everything in its path, the attack from the four Super Arrows was unbelievably were instantly split in half, destructive force of the arrows was so powerful that no living being could stand in their way without being fast that none could react in that moment, Mr. X and the heading their way. What incredible power! I've never felt any energy as strong as this. It's almost as powerful as warning came a

Boom!

be heard as soon as the four arrows were fired from the Crash!

to be impaled by one of the arrows, which immediately injected energy into the robot, causing it to be blown after going through the Destroyer, the arrow showed no sign of slowing down as it mowed down the Diviniterian army behind arrows plunged into the other three fighters out to get

Chapter 2777 The Diviniterians Retreat

Titan Lord and the others were utterly dumbfounded. Who fired those arrows? Who in the world is capable of such a devastating assault? All four of the God class fighters were taken down in one fell swoop!

Like the Diviniterians, the alliance had no idea what had just happened.

After all, none of them even touched the gigantic crossbows.

With their capability, the alliance was well aware that none in their ranks could kill such powerful Diviniterian fighters with just a crossbow.

Not only did the assault take out four formidable fighters, but it also dealt substantial damage to the Diviniterian army.

The alliance knew that not even Forlevia, the strongest among them, could accomplish such a feat, much less anybody else. It's impossible! Who could've done that?

That person was none other than Levi, who had come to save his daughter.

Since he wanted to take all the Sacrorians down in one fell swoop, Levi decided it would be a bad idea to show them exactly how powerful he was. Hence, he hid at the back and attacked with a crossbow instead.

on the weapon he used was just a regular crossbow, with his level of power, Levi was able to back that he would four of the most capable fighters in Diviniteria. Their power was second he saw Mr. X. If he had just one more arrow, he would shoot the man down right then and hatred for Mr. X could be traced back to Bruce's Ruling Union since Lucifer was Bruce's

The alliance was still trying to figure out who here! They're here! Retreat! Retreat now!" instinctively commanded Mr. X, his face still to continue fighting. There's nothing we can do now besides retreating. The rest will be up to Sacroria. I to be a God, he feared death fate, he showed his on display for everyone to see, and the Diviniterians could all agree on one thing. How is someone like that a God? He's that Diviniteria fell

as fast as they could, leaving behind

Chapter 2778 Sacroria Is Coming

"It wasn't very clear, but we saw what happened. There were around seven or eight people, and one of them used a crossbow to fire all the Super Arrows we had left."

"We were completely shocked, so we didn't get a good look at the person. When we turned around, he or she was already gone."

The witnesses described the situation as though it was a supernatural occurrence. Still, Titan Lord found it hard to believe that mysterious beings would suddenly appear to kill the Diviniterian fighters and just vanish afterward. That's preposterous! Are they saying that justice just dropped in our lap?

He then questioned every person in charge, but none was any wiser as they all thought it was the Erudians.

However, even the Erudians had not the slightest clue what had just happened. Who the heck is responsible for the attack? It's ridiculous that nobody has any idea!

Only a handful of people knew that Levi had arrived at the scene.

Death Fiend and the others, who almost lost their lives, smiled when they finally saw their savior. Levi took out more than half of our enemies, so that must mean he's figured out a way to deal with the situation. This is good news!

As much as Titan Lord wanted to find the one responsible for the assault, his efforts were futile.

However, the Diviniterian forces had already retreated, which was all that mattered.

long sigh of relief. "We will press the advantage because I'm sure this is no scheme. They ran away out of

we have all out now!" With that, Forlevia charged forward to lead not take long for the desperate Diviniterians to retreat to the

the Diviniterians head-on, were in a pinch when they saw the alliance charging toward them from the back, so they had no intention of fighting with the scout was block any incoming attack while done to his forces, Mr. X had only one thing on his mind then: to get army could probably take the scout team on, he had the scout team was not about to just let forces until the alliance finally arrived the cascading assaults. Mr. X and his men had no choice but to core team arrived around ten minutes later, the Diviniterians knew escaping was no

they had to fight their enemies on intimidating, for they had of the country's peaceful ways, they remained as

Chapter 2779 Too Familiar With The Lab Of Gods

Sacroria informed Mr. X that they were already on their way after the man reached out to them.

Filled with hope, Mr. X was ready to command his forces to retaliate.

Since he could only focus his attack on one front, he decisively turned his attention to the Defenders of the Galaxy.

Even though Mr. X was familiar with those leading the allied forces, he dared not risk taking them on because he still had not figured out how they managed to slaughter four fighters as powerful as he was. If they unleash another attack like that, we'll be done for!

Hence, the alliance was the greater threat to the Diviniterians at that moment. Fearing for their lives, none of the Diviniterians dared to lay a finger on Forlevia and the others.

Instead, the Diviniterians' main forces targeted the Defenders of the Galaxy while their remaining fighters distracted the alliance.

An all-out war immediately broke out when the main Diviniterian forces clashed with the Defenders of the Galaxy.

Diviniterians when they saw their enemies running away, suddenly turned around to fight, the Defenders of the Galaxy paid powerful the Diviniterians were when countless men died before their times, but that was the first time the Defenders of the Galaxy pushover, for they had

Diviniterians had no experience battling the Defenders of the Galaxy, so they had no had learned to counter it, but when it came to that of the Defenders of the Galaxy, they no choice

slight advantage at first, their enemies quickly learned to retaliate and deal significant higher overall strength when compared to the alliance, when dealing with the Diviniterians. Even equipment like showed no mercy ranks pulled out the most

the onslaught initially, but afterward, they realized that they were

Chapter 2780 The Zarainian Trump Card

The loss they sustained was even greater than the one the four Super Arrows had caused.

Not only could the Defenders of the Galaxy stand toe-to-toe with the Diviniterians, but they also bested the Diviniterians.

It was then that Mr. X and his men finally understood why Sacroria feared the Zarainians.

The Zarainians were familiar with Diviniterian technology because of their technical exchange meetings three years ago.

Back then, the Lab of Gods did not realize that they were actually undermining their military effort by sharing their technologies with Zarain.

That was because they never thought that the Zarainians could anticipate their technological advancement with such limited information. Our enemies know too much about us! That's how they took out so many of us!

Then, the Defenders of the Galaxy brought out new weapons and continued their onslaught.

that even possible? Why would they have weapons more sophisticated than ours? The Lab of Gods is supposed to have the

and their dire situation had led the Diviniterians to the Destroy them all!" commanded Mr. X, who decided there was no other way but to give the powerful weapons, the Diviniterians could still hold their Zarainians would have suffered heavy losses when a dozen of his fighters took countless lives as they more advanced weaponry, the Defenders of the Galaxy lost innumerable men to capable fighters do to stop Mr. X from killing his way into the center of their inquired a them," answered Smythe, the head of Shield. "Don't and the other high-rank official seemed relatively calm, for they simply smiled as they looked in the

they had everything under are they planning? Do they really believe that they have the Diviniterians in the palm of their hand?

They must have a trump card of some sort. Black Hawk frowned