Failed Interception

Levi and Black Hawk were both rushing at full speed toward the super-spiritual ley line.

Smythe granted them unlimited authority, and they had free use of any weapons they needed from all the bases Zarain had around the world.

Black Hawk did not hesitate to make use of whatever resources they could tap on. Although they knew their tracking and interception system might not work on the two aircraft, they still went ahead to activate all their track-and-shot capabilities.

They were not about to give up on any minuscule chance.

The Defenders of the Galaxy also activated all their fighter jets and ground-to-air attack units, ready to intercept the two aircraft should their paths cross.

Zarain mobilized whatever resources they had and did everything within their means to support Black Hawk and Levi in their bid to save the world. If luck was on their side, they would be able to cross paths with the two aircraft and intercept them.

All the preparation work went on relentlessly for a while, and soon, they were less than two hours from the predicted time of arrival of the aircraft to the South Pole.

Indeed, the chance of stopping the catastrophe was almost zero. Levi and Black Hawk were simply going for the last bet.

They had no high hope of success but were willing to give their all till the end.

Meanwhile, Zoey was frantically searching for Forlevia.

The Ancient Clan left no traces of themselves after they abducted Forlevia, so she was at a loss on where she should start searching.

She did not know who took Forlevia, so the only thing that came to her mind was to contact Levi.

However, Levi had already left to save the world and she had no means to get in touch with him. All the leaders were also busy with the evacuation and no one had time to spare for her.

When Dr. Erebus got to know of the matter, he immediately contacted Zoey.

Chapter 2833 The Weapon System Jammed

The Pengornis was already giving everything it had to fly at maximum speed. In fact, this would most likely be its first and last time soaring through the sky, for every bit of its mechanical body had been pushed to its utmost limit.

Now, coupled with Levi's help, the same aircraft was shooting through the air twice as fast.

The speed was beyond imagination.

Now, it would take them half as long to travel the distance, and that meant they still had a chance.

Crack! Crack!

It didn't take long before the surface of the Pengornis started cracking.

Even the strongest metal failed to contain the terrifyingly incredible force that Levi had unleashed.

The speed was more than what Pengornis could handle.

Before anyone knew it, Pengornis's internal mechanisms started breaking apart.

It scared the pilot witless because that meant that Pengornis would explode soon and take everyone down with it.

Unfortunately, that was the only way to reach their destination in time.

A bright and hot ball of fire could be seen streaking across the air soon after.

Pengornis burned as it tried to contain the energy and travel the speed that was way beyond its limit.

"F*ck! What the hell is that?"

"Do it. Hurry Up!"

Digital God took over and operated everything himself.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

That was when Pengornis suddenly burned itself up.

The system had completely broken down, so there was no way the weapons still operated.

They made it to their destination earlier than their opponents did, but they only managed to destroy one of the aircraft.

In the end, it was all for naught.

Not only did they fail to stop the other aircraft, but the people on Pengornis didn't have much time left because they were on an aircraft that was about to blow up.

The super-spiritual ley line was right under them, and the other aircraft was firing at the ley line's entrance as though there was no tomorrow.

When the place was first locked up, the people involved used incredibly strong metal to build its door. It was supposed to be impenetrable.

However, Digital God and the others knew everything there was to know about that metal, including how to destroy it.

"Here it comes!"

As the mountain trembled and the sea shook, the opening to the super-spiritual ley line broke apart completely.

The energy within spewed right out.

It was the kind of force that could destroy anything.

Everything in its path was pulverized instantly.

It didn't matter how strong the metal was or how powerful its defensive barrier was.

Anything that came into contact with the energy was instantly reduced to nothing.

The Lab of Gods had already suffered at the hands of that energy before.

It was something they couldn't contain.

Levi, however, never took a single step back, even as the spewing energy came after him.

"Come on then!" roared Levi.

He flushed out every bit of power within him to create an invisible barrier.

In the past, no one had successfully forced Levi to go all out without holding back.

Chapter 2836 Disaster Befell

The main issue at hand was that they didn't have enough time to clear out the people and transfer the resources.

If the super-spiritual ley line in Project Atlantis became unstable as well, then Erudia wouldn't have enough time to do the transfer.

They would have no choice but to resort to their Plan B.

That was why they had to keep an eye on the situation.

Zephyr had some special arrangements made, and many workers were stationed in the facility underwater.

If anything were to happen, they would report the matter to their supervisors, who would then send the message immediately.

They were, in a way, using the traditional method of sending messages via morse code.

It was the fastest way to send the information ahead because there was absolutely no Wi-Fi or signals in Atlantis.

That was why they had to resort to communicating like that.

On the other side.

Dr. Erebus and the others had received the news as well.

In the end, they failed to stop the apocalypse.

They had reached Adrune by then and were searching for the Ancient Clan.

Meanwhile, inside the castle in Adrune, the Ancient Clan had received the same message.

Chapter 2837 Pandemonium

The entire South Pole had turned into nothing but icy shards.

The immense energy within the super-spiritual ley line had exploded.

It shot up into the sky and overwhelmed everything it came in contact with.

The sky turned dark right away.

That was when it happened.

The entire world experienced a massive change, and the earth trembled in response.

The vibration from the South Pole was so intense that it was as though someone was literally trying to tear the planet in half.

It was so crazy that the term 'earthquake' wasn't right anymore.

The vibration was way stronger, and no earthquakes had ever been so intense that the entire world sensed its movement.

The locations close to the eruption site had it the worst, but even the places far away were gravely affected.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Every spot on Earth was trembling.

Even places far away from the epicenter were experiencing something as grave as a high-magnitude earthquake.

The entire world was affected, and everyone was frightened.

Tsunamis, earthquakes, and other natural disasters struck simultaneously.

Strange phenomena were showing as well.

Chapter 2838 No One Can Survive

Some celebrated the fact that they at least had a shot at surviving.

Almost everyone made it to the Shelter and was hiding there.

The Shelter, in short, was a designated place where the fortress was built with unique materials.

It would be sealed in once its protocols were initiated.

They would be completely cut off from the rest of the world, resulting in total isolation.

That was the key feature of the Shelter.

The most impressive bit was that the materials used to build the place were carefully chosen. It could withstand anything.

At first, it was built to fight against the Leviathans and Warmachines.

No one expected that it would end up being used in a different way.

Still, all that mattered was that it had a shot at withstanding the energy from the super-spiritual ley line. If it worked, everyone inside would survive the disaster.

Death would be inevitable otherwise.

By then, many other countries started begging Erudia and asking for help.

Unfortunately, Erudia could barely keep her people safe, so it couldn't help others.

Some stronger clans had different ideas, though. They thought that the disaster was a challenge from the heaven above.

They claimed that the right course of action wasn't to hide away but to face the challenge head-on.

Chapter 2839 Misery

Black Hawk trailed off, but everyone knew what he was saying.

There was no way Levi survived.

If he were, he would continue containing the energy.

He was no longer doing that, and he couldn't have survived the explosion that came after he stopped.

In any case, a natural disaster like that wasn't something a single human being could stop.

Levi managed to hold on for over thirty minutes, and that was already beyond impressive.

He had accomplished his mission... his impossible mission.

That was definitely the right description. After all, no human was supposed to have the power to contain an energy storm of that magnitude for so long.

Levi faced the super-spiritual ley line alone and was at the epicenter of it when the explosion went off.

The energy wave he endured would be much stronger than what anyone else would have to handle.

There was simply no way he could have survive that.

Everyone mourned Levi's death.

"The super-spiritual ley line is much more powerful than I anticipated. All that's left is to see whether our protective barrier is strong enough to actually shield us," said Digital God.

He calculated the energy within the super-spiritual ley line some time ago.

At the time, he thought he had figured it all out, but the current situation meant that he actually failed to do so.

As for the equipment, nobody knew if it actually worked.

Some technology companies' brass and dignitaries took to the sky in various aircraft in order to escape

However, only the more important and privileged individuals had the means to make such an escape.
