The Blood Alteration Record

Consequently, everyone desperately tried to find an antidote for the poison.

The extent they were engrossed in the matter shocked everyone.

Naturally, Xyperia and Idrae were stunned by the response.

How can this be? Why is the whole world trying to find an antidote on Levi's behalf?

It was a result that no one had expected.

In truth, the whole world was motivated by the magical herbs offered as a reward.

It was unlike the past when Levi first asked for help. No one sincerely offered any back then.

In contrast to that, everyone else gave their all when a lucrative reward was involved.

Even if they had run out of ideas, they would still try their best to come up with more.

Meanwhile, some of the ancient royal families and factions who owned a series of ancient manuals and magical medicine discussed amongst themselves whether it was worthwhile revealing what they had.

In other words, they were wondering what they should demand in return.

A hundred spiritual energy crystals would be a massive help to Rodunst!

Any civilized person would happily turn into a savage for a piece of those invaluable stones, and now there were a hundred pieces of them!

Their purity was top-notch, too. Those that were being traded in the markets were no match for them.

Meanwhile, in Xyperia, the leaders of Idrae were having a meeting.

"It can't be! Levi can't possibly have that much of resources, can he? He would be able to go against Xyperia if he really had that much in possession."

"This is unimaginable! Where did he get them from? I'd love to deny his dominance but this is a hard fact!"

"Perhaps it's from Erudia? Erudia is rich with resources but they were barely made use of. It wouldn't come as a surprise if Levi had aplenty."

"But are we going to let the rest of the world find the remedy to her daughter's malady?"

"No! We have to stop them! We must ensure that nobody will be able to cure her!"

"I heard that the royalty of Rodunst has a technique book on blood alteration, and they are going to give it to Levi for those crystals."

"Stop them! We have to stop them immediately! Contact them and send some of our men to Rodunst right away!"

Burning The Blood Alteration Record

Those uninvited guests were neither Deities nor fighters from Xyperia. They served other organizations, and Idrae had hired them by offering handsome rewards. That was similar to what Levi did—give people what they desire, and they would take a bullet for you! These men, who had claimed loyalty to Idrae, were under that exact spell. They were there to either loot the blood alteration record or to destroy it completely! “Not in a million years! Gather up, my men. We are going to deliver this record safely to Mr. Garrison in one piece!”

There was no way that the royalty of Rodunst would want to give up that huge amount of spiritual energy crystals.

The team from Rodunst was quick to establish a formation and tried to barge their way out of their opponent's encirclement.

The fighters of Idrae reciprocated instantly with violence, and within seconds, a brawl ensued.

The eight Deities that worked for Idrae didn't have it easy. The men from Rodunst were resolute in guarding the record.

"The blood alteration record will never fall into your hands!" It was Dr. Erebus.

Boom! His mighty punch sent three Deities retreating.

On the other hand, the fight between Dr. Erebus and the fighters of Idrae slowly waned. Seeing that they couldn't progress further, the latter couldn't do anything but retreat.

Dr. Erebus and the other fighters from Robunst used the chance to rush to the meeting point.

To their chagrin, they saw the corpse and Digital God injured.

"What?"

Jaws dropped when they knew about how the blood alteration record was burned to ashes.

"Who did this? Was it Idrae who planned an ambush here?"

Speculations were floating in the air.

"It can't be! Idrae didn't bother to sneak up to us. Xyperia and Levi have always fought like a man and would never attack each other furtively." The person in charge of the team from Rodunst was certain.

"There were five Deity-level assassins and they all had their face covered. Obviously, they didn't want anyone to recognize them."

"I don't think it's Idrae. They would attack head-on and not from the shadows," Digital God added with confidence.

"I believe they will strike again to stop any possibilities of Forlevia's recovery," Dr. Erebus murmured.
"You're right!" Digital God nodded in agreement. The news of Levi granting Rodunst a hundred pieces of spiritual energy crystals had spread wide and far out.
Despite not getting what he was promised, he kept his word and showed generosity. What a way to attract more capable people to serve him!
It turned out that Levi didn't give away the spiritual energy crystals blindly.

Force You To Leave

No one could figure out how exactly Levi got so many resources.

The magical herbs and spiritual energy crystals were found in the restricted area.

Many of them were in Rank One and Rank Two restricted areas.

There were only very few items from Rank Three restricted areas.

At the moment, most countries only had enough power to search through Rank Three restricted areas.

Rank Two restricted areas were very difficult to explore.

No one even explored a Rank One restricted area before.

And yet, Levi had magical herbs that came from Rank Two restricted area and even Rank One restricted area.

Better Not Have Any Ideas

Levi really wanted to laugh. That’s certainly one way to get my support without giving me something of equal value in return. Do they think they can take advantage of me that easily? Tsk, tsk, tsk. They seem to be genuinely interested in revenge the first time they tried to recruit me. They wanted my help. But now?

It couldn’t be any more obvious that they only want my resources. To them, I’m just a key to their door of victory this time. They might as well write their plan to grab the resources in my possession on their faces. Still, among those who are trying to snatch away my resources, they’re certainly the ones with the best and most logical arguments.

However, just because our interests aligned doesn’t mean I’m just going to let them take advantage of me. I know for a fact that they’ll kick me out after they managed to funnel my resources into their organization if they feel like it. After all, a key to a treasure room has no use once the door is already unlocked.

Also, it’s almost comical that they mentioned they can cure Evie. If they came to me when she was first poisoned, I probably would’ve agreed to join them out of desperation. But, at this point, I’ve already tried all the methods and magical herbs I can find. If none of them had worked, these buffoons certainly can't save her.

"The resources in my possession are meant to save my daughter. It is not meant for vengeance! I'll repeat what I said before. I alone will find a way to deal with Idrae! They're still alive right now because I'm still trying to save my daughter! Once she's cured, they will die by my hands." He stared at those five. "You can disband your organization already! Don't cause any unnecessary sacrifices! I'll be the one to take revenge! I alone am enough to take down Idrae! The day my daughter recovers is the day they will die!"

His words stunned them.

They had anticipated that he would reject their proposal, but they didn't expect he would say the same thing as before.

A New Hope

Of course, Levi knew what they were trying to do.

They were so desperate to obtain his resources that they shamelessly asked him if they could see them.

Still, instead of intentionally rejecting them, he decided to show it off.

It didn't matter to him all that much because whoever dared to take those resources away would die by his hand.

It was also because he could get those resources very easily. He could grab as much as he wanted.

The five of them tremblingly stepped forward and examined the magical herbs and spiritual energy crystals.

"It's real! All of it is real!"

"These spiritual energy crystals are the purest ones I have ever seen in my life! And there are a couple of tons of it here!"

"This is amazing! It's basically a pile of unimaginable wealth!"

"I wish I can just take it!"

It shocked the five of them to the core.

Alas, they still had to leave, and they did so reluctantly.

“Hawen said they have an idea!” Dr. Erebus announced.

Hawen was once a very average country with a lack of advancement in technology.

They also had a lot of tribe villages.

They were basically a half-developed country.

However, the country loved fighting and warfare.

All their citizens had a pretty well-built and robust constitution. They also had plenty of secret techniques, body-refining skills, and wizards.

Their constitutions were way too powerful.

If all countries suddenly lost all their weapons one day, Hawen would be the most powerful country in the world.

As the age of technology descended upon the world, they were pushed to the corner and were rarely heard from again.

However, spiritual energy revival had caused them to rise from the ashes.

Like Xyperia, their technology wasn’t powerful enough to help them avoid the disaster when it reached their land.

Twisting The Truth

Even Dr. Erebus was confused.

When he arrived at Hawen before to conduct a negotiation, the people there were very enthusiastic.

They were so enthusiastic that they wished Levi was already there with Forlevia so they could do the exchange immediately.

That was how badly they wanted the magical herbs and spiritual energy crystals.

Now that Levi had arrived, they blocked his path instead of welcoming him and his subordinates into their country immediately.

Digital God pointed at the aircraft behind and shouted, "What you want is inside there! Open the gates right now! Are you afraid that we'll go back against our word?"

A group of Hawen citizens laughed when they heard that.

"We're not stopping you because of that! Before you all went in, there's something I need to discuss with you all," the envoy said.
