Chapter 2961

Are You Sure

Levi couldn't believe that the crown prince would have the gall to ask for three times the resources demanded by the original condition.

It was a frightening attempt at daylight robbery.

There was no other way to put it.

He didn't have that many resources compared to Hawen, the country that was ranked fifth in the entire world.

There were enough magical herbs in his storage to meet the crown prince's demand, but he only had at most two or three hundred pieces of high-purity spiritual crystals.

Three tons of spiritual energy crystals were just way too much for the crown prince to ask for.

The crown prince's attempt at extorting them was so unapologetically blatant that they could practically see greed drooling out of his mouth.

The condition that the crown prince had set was enough to push Hawen up to the third or even second spot on the list of the world's most powerful countries.

Digital God and Dr. Erebus were so furious that they almost exploded with fury on the spot. This is outrageous! They are truly shameless! I've never seen a man as greedy as him before! Human greed is boundless, sure, but this is way out of line! This is madness!

Acting Strange

Levi's smile might appear kind, but it was extremely scary in the eyes of Dr. Erebus and Digital God.

It was a sign that Levi was about to lose his temper.

Even the crown prince and the others could tell something was wrong.

The longer they stared at the smile, the clearer they sensed danger emanating from Levi's body.

Fear was penetrating into their hearts even though they didn't know why.

Even the Deities protecting the crown prince were experiencing uncontrollable fear as they looked at Levi.

All the hair on their bodies stood up in alert.

Everyone waited for Levi to speak.

"All right. We'll fulfill your condition!" Levi announced.

"Eh?"

The moment he finished speaking, everyone in the scene was stunned.

Envious

There were actually a lot of people watching the trade between Levi and Hawen.

Xyperia and Idrae were especially paying close attention to the exchange.

"Hawen is too strong! We have no way of destroying them. All we could do was watch Levi enter the country!"

"Right? They have five hundred Deities! We'll need at least the same amount to fight them! Even if Xyperia have that many Deities, I doubt they'll send them all out at once."

"We can only hope that Hawen doesn't actually have a way to get rid of the poison! The chances of that happening are pretty high because this poison is incurable!"

"Don't you think it's a bit terrifying that Levi has that many resources? He fulfilled Hawen's ridiculous condition so easily! It means that the actual amount of resources he possessed is far greater than what he's showing today! I'm so envious!"

Not only was Idrae envious, Xyperia was, too.

The other “mysterious force” that was watching the trade was the organization that wanted to destroy Idrae.

The crown prince of Hawen laughed. “It’s only fair, right? If our attempts at curing your daughter work, then you’ll have to pay us more!”

Both of Levi’s subordinates were absolutely livid and were barely holding themselves back from punching the crown prince’s face.

Dr. Erebus gritted his teeth. I’ve never seen anyone as shameless as him in my whole life! He’s still trying to add more conditions? How preposterous!

The crown prince ignored the two and stared straight at Levi. “What do you say, Mr. Garrison?”

He knew Levi was the guy making the decision, not his subordinates.

Levi declared coldly, "Sure! As long as you can save my daughter, I'll give you anything you want!"

"That's what I want to hear, Mr. Garrison! Don't worry, I'm not going to be too greedy. Just a little extra will do. If our people managed to detoxify your daughter to a certain degree, you'll have to give us five tons of spiritual energy crystal and five hundred magical herbs. And if she's completely cured, you'll have to give us double that!" The crown prince spoke in a humble tone, as though it was just a small addition to the condition.

Pfft!

Dr. Erebus and Digital God were about to spit out blood. How is that not greedy? How can he be shameless enough to say that's a small addition? He's a disgusting, insatiably greedy man! He deserves to die!

Wrath had basically overtaken both of them.

Levi stared at the crown prince and said, "Sure. It's just a simple matter. However..."

Ice Bed

Inside one of the tribe villages, there was an ice bed that had existed for an unknown amount of time.

If a person lay down on the ice bed, their body would basically be frozen in time.

When they got off the bed, they would return to normal.

To put it in other words, as long as the person continued to sleep on the ice bed, they would remain in the same state forever.

They wouldn't grow old, and their spirit would remain intact.

Theoretically speaking, a person could achieve immortality by doing that as they would essentially be frozen in time.

That was only in theory because its effectiveness was tied directly to the person's constitution.

It wouldn't work on a normal person because the ice would just freeze them to death.

A person's body had to be incredibly strong in order to endure a long period of sleeping on the ice bed.

Only then would the person be capable of restoring their bodily functions when they woke up.

The ice bed had no effect on repelling the poison, but what it could do was seal Forlevia along with her poison.

"Your Highness, there is nothing in here!" the group shouted.

Hawen's crown prince leveled a stare at Levi. "What do you mean?"

Levi let out a sneer. "Did I say there's anything in there?"

The crown prince eased his tense expression and let out a dry chuckle. "My apologies. We are too eager."

The others fidgeted uneasily as well.

They were too hasty in running after the aircraft upon spotting it.

After all, Levi had said nothing.

The crown prince stared at the first aircraft and asked with a smile, "Are they all in here then? Is this big enough to fit all of them?"

Everyone turned their attention to the first aircraft.

Not Easy

It was not an easy feat to take advantage of Levi Garrison. One had to exchange it for their lives.

Everyone from Hawen was stupefied.

They had not expected that Levi and the others would pull such an act.

As a matter of fact, they had certainly not expected to have a taste of their own medicine.

How shameless!

A number of people from Hawen lowered their heads in guilt after realizing just how impudent they had been. They finally experienced the fury of the people on the receiving end of their deceit and sham.

The crown prince was flabbergasted.

Daylight Robbery

All of Hawen had their eyes set on Levi.
Hence, they had to block all news and prevent others from finding out what was happening within the country.
They were going to kill Levi and snatch all his resources.
They swore to get their hands on the secrets of Levi's resources.
With that being said, they could not risk letting any news get out of the country.

Damn it, Hawen has started to ban all transmission of news out of the country. Something is going to happen for sure, and we have not got the faintest idea of it all!

It was a shared sentiment of a number of forces that were closely watching Hawen's every move.

Hawen had managed to block even a single fly out of its country. Hence, nobody knew what was happening within.

A number of forces and people grew anxious but could do nothing about it.

After all, Hawen was a formidable country.

Nobody would be able to breach the defense barrier should the country decide to put it up.

Levi smiled after knowing that Hawen has started its lockdown.

They were playing right into his hands.

"Garrison, you will not get out of here alive, so is your daughter!" the crown prince bellowed.

What Are You Going To Do

The people of Hawen were once again stumped.

They could not believe that Levi had just wiped out more than a dozen of Deities in one go.

It was as if the Deities were mere ants to the man.

With that being said, they realized killing the others would be a piece of cake for Levi.

"I-I-I a-agreed..." the crown prince grew anxious.

He hurriedly shouted at the others who had just arrived at the scene, "Stop! Don't move! Don't court your own death!"

Some people were not taking the order well and said, "Your Highness, we have over five hundred Deities at Hawen. Why should we be afraid of him? Yes, he might be so strong that nearly a hundred Deities were no match for him, but we could bet that four hundred Deities could subdue him!"

"Yes, this is a matter of Hawen's dignity! Let's do it!"

Some people thought that the crown prince should take the risk and let the remaining Deities go up against Levi in one go.

Levi was left with no other choice.

The crown prince let out a sigh.

He looked at Levi and said, "Crown King, please refrain from making your move. I concede- no, we concede defeat! We agree to hand over everything that you have given us, and we will also double the compensation as you have demanded!"

high-rank officials and council members of Hawen agreed to

His words sent shockwaves through the crowd yet again.

Everyone widened their eyes in disbelief at the man.

Is that to be construed as his motive? Is Levi Garrison for real? Did he just say that he would kill the crown prince simply because he's loathed the crown prince for some time already?

Even Dr. Erebus and Digital God were rendered speechless.

They thought that the matter was settled, with the two aircraft being fully loaded.

Apparently not.

"I..."

The crown prince was stumped as he looked blankly at Levi.

He had certainly not expected the man to pose such a question.

"I..." Just when the crown prince was about to say something, a cold glint flashed.

A bloody line appeared right at the crown prince's neckline.
