Chapter 3071 No Warning Necessary

Everyone was still staring at Levi in disbelief and shocked by his seemingly naive actions and speech.

“Ah! I think I know your concern! You think I don’t have what it takes to ask for the box, right?” Levi mumbled.

Whoosh...!

The next moment, a cold, blinding flash of light appeared and lit up the whole site.

The God Crusher made its appearance!

Boom!

The God Crusher emitted a horrifying burst of energy, and before anyone could realize what was happening, all two hundred Deities fell at a go, pierced to death in a single stab.

Although it looked as though they were killed by the same stroke, it was an illusional effect due to the lightning speed of Levi’s strokes.

Within a second, all two hundred Deities from Xyperia exploded into a mist of blood and disappear right before the eyes of the mysterious man.

He was stunned by the sight of two hundred Deities being eliminated at a go, a feat no one had thought was possible.

The man was helpless to do anything.

Had Levi waited for just a moment before, he would have revealed his identity.

Although the power backing him up was powerful, he was nowhere as strong as Levi.

Hence, he would be left with no choice but to reveal himself.

He probably never imagined that the act he put on would eventually lead him to be killed by Levi.

After killing the man, the secret lock box quickly flew into Levi's hands.

He remarked calmly, "I just wanted you to reveal your identity. You've only got your own arrogance to blame."

After settling everything, Levi left.

No one could have imagined that the mysterious man and the two hundred Deities would die so pathetically.

Levi was simply too fast. He had spent barely ten minutes catching up with them and killing them all.

Everyone had the illusion that Levi had just left the island, so he would have no time to catch up with them, let alone kill them.

Assumptions About The Sky Barrier

The technology and resources used for the Sky Barrier were so advanced that it was simply unimaginable. In fact, nowhere else in the world would anyone possess such cutting-edge technology.

When the Sky Barrier was activated, everyone was astonished.

It single-handedly transformed everything in that area, as if it had created an entirely independent world from everywhere else.

Even the force and magnetic fields had been completely changed.

One could only imagine how horrifying the barrier was to have such power.

No one could even fathom how much it must have cost to accomplish this.

This was not a technology that could exist in this world, even for Zarain.

Although their technology was quite advanced, they had not reached that level yet.

Now, Levi was guessing that the fuel used to activate the Sky Barrier was actually spiritual energy.

The Heavenly League Is Involved

Digital God, Bruno, Troy, and the rest were astonished.

What a coincidence! It's them?

They recognize the bunch of people as members of Erudia's Heavenly League.

Turns out they're the ones who are here to transport the resources?

This was something no one could have expected.

Erudia's Heavenly League is here to transport the resources. Does this mean that the auction was actually organized by the Heavenly League to humiliate Levi? That's impossible!

The Heavenly League was established by The Cardinal Hall, whose members were extremely familiar with Levi.

How can this be possible? It definitely isn't them! Perhaps, they had been tasked to do this by someone else. Maybe they're only here to transport the resources and nothing else. But, why is the Heavenly League dragged into this, in the first place?

Initially, they planned to capture all those people wearing masks and rip them off, exposing them. However, now that the Heavenly League had appeared, they scrapped that plan.

Chapter 3075 Is It Really Edmund

Initially, both of them thought that Edmund was oblivious to all of this. To their surprise, however, he admitted it directly, "Yeah, I arranged it."

Levi and Daxon were in sheer astonishment.

It's really Edmund!

Levi was overwhelmed by a turmoil of emotions.

Is it really Edmund? Is he the one controlling Chad? It can't possibly be him, right? But... but he admitted it!

"You... You b*stard! How can you do something like that?" bellowed Daxon.

He did not expect Edmund to actually be the person behind all this and that he would admit it so outrightly.

Never in a million years would he have expected his son to be involved in this.

Could it be that Edmund's the mastermind whom Levi was talking about all along?

Staring at Edmund, Levi asked, "Did you instruct Chad to go against me? Are you the one who organized the auction to oppose me?"

Levi could not control whether the resources were given to the Heavenly League or not. In fact, he even supported it.

However, since the other party was opposing him, he would retaliate.

Gazing at Levi’s retreating figure, Daxon and Edmund revealed a look of confusion.

I wonder who is it that’s targeting Levi? It doesn’t make sense how adamant they are about it! Besides, we know everyone in Erudia whom Levi had offended. So who else can it be?

Meanwhile, the island was in pandemonium.

Upon learning that the two hundred Deities whom they had sent out were killed, Idrae was in a fluster.

They were in utter disbelief.

Who the hell did it?

They suspected a lot of people except for Levi. Since his subordinates were all there and he had an alibi, it was impossible for him to be the culprit.

“This means that there are so many people who had their eyes on the magical medicine that the numbers far surpass our expectations. Since the people who stole the magical medicine can easily eliminate two hundred Deities from Xyperia, they are not to be trifled with.”

I Killed Those People

To them, it was a devastating piece of news—it was like the sky had collapsed.

Not only a whole crew of two hundred Deities had been killed, but the magical medicine had also been stolen.

What was even worse was the fact that no one knew who the culprit was.

Furthermore, this matter involved the most powerful force in the past and the most powerful force currently.

Both suffered great losses.

Soon, the organization supporting them issued a mission—to find out who the culprit was as soon as possible.

“Black Hawk, I need you to go and investigate this immediately! Be as quick as possible!” ordered Smythe.

All of Shield’s members were mobilized.

Although they might not be the strongest, they were top-notch in looking for information.

“Let’s find Levi.”

The first person that Black Hawk thought about was Levi.

then did Black Hawk realize that Levi's

Chapter 3078 An Independent World

“It's true that they are in Zarain, but it's just that we cannot enter their territory. They probably have their own little place that only they could see and enter. Since they are so powerful to the point where they can give Shield a piece of equipment that can transform everything in the area, even protecting Zarain from being ravaged by the spiritual energy, it's possible that they are living in an independent world separate from the rest.”

Levi thought that Black Hawk's words sounded quite accurate.

So, the organization has always been inside Zarain. However, they must have used some equipment or special methods to transform the area they were in into an independent world, such that other people could not find them or enter their territory.

In other words, they've used some equipment to change the magnetic field, gravity, and other factors in the surrounding areas.

Even if someone were to find the place, they would still be lost because the magnetic fields and other elements have been changed. Even after walking around for days, they would, in reality, be pacing in the same spot. It would be impossible for outsiders to find the place.

Perhaps, just because these elements had been changed, if someone tried looking for the place, they would just be walking at the borders of this 'independent world.' They wouldn't be able to find it, let alone enter it.

Since the organization has such amazing capabilities, it would be a piece of cake for them to conceal their world.

They'd probably created an illusion where if someone had crossed the region, they would only be walking around its borders without actually entering it in reality.

Chapter 3079 Something To Do With Eragon

Could it be...

Daxon suddenly had some kind of reckoning, and he broke out in a cold sweat.

Then again, I don't think so.

I doubt there's any grudge between them and Levi...

He simply could not imagine the reason.

Edmund was equally puzzled. However, when he saw the expression on his father's face, he could not help but ask, "Did you think of something?"

"Do you know that Eragon has been keeping a secret?" asked Daxon.

Stunned for a moment, Edmund eventually nodded. "Yes, I do! Each of their bloodlines protects a part of the secret. Once you combine all of them together, you will get the whole secret. Are you saying that the mysterious organization has something to do with the secret?"

He looked at his father in surprise.

"Yes. I can't think of anyone else, so it must be them."

Once he heard his father's affirmative statement, Edmund became even more bewildered. "Although I don't know what the secret is, what has it got to do with Levi?"

"You're right. This is also what is puzzling me. Seems like I will need to investigate further," said Daxon.

Meanwhile, Levi was still clueless about everything.

and that everyone should be obeying them.

Although they did not have much say in the previous era, in the current time of spiritual energy revival and the revival of Deities, Ospea should be the one with the final say.

After all, Ospea was the country of legends.

As such, all of the resources belonged to them, and all the Deities were to obey their commands.

Their first task was to convince Xyperia to follow their lead, to give Ospea their resources, and hand the control of the Deities to them.

Naturally, there was no way Xyperia would agree to those terms.

In fact, they even thought that Ospea was delusional and that every single one of Ospea's citizens was crazy.

Without saying anything, Xyperia killed everyone who had come to them.

Xyperia then claimed that they would kill anyone from Ospea who dared to come again.

Being a truly powerful country, Xyperia had more Deities than anyone else.

Obviously, anyone would be scared.

Although people from Ospea were sick in their heads, they were frightened of dying too.

It was evident that Xyperia would not give a d*mn whether they were sick or not.
