Chapter 3141

Unpredictably Powerful Super Deity

Levi was bored to death after waiting for such a long time.

He did manage to keep himself occupied with the arrival of the Ecclesiastic Order and Black Hawk.

Nevertheless, it was extremely boring the majority of the time, for he had nothing to do at all.

This boredom is driving me nuts!

Finally, Levi had reached the limits of his patience and felt the urge to leave.

In contrast to Levi's boredom, the wait was nothing but torture for Hydron.

In fact, the minutes and seconds that ticked by almost drove them crazy.

They just couldn't resist pestering Levi on whether he was ready even though they were certain that the latter had taken the bait and everything would go according to their plan.

However, they had run out of patience after four to five days.

The Subordinates Are More Nervous Than The Leader

With their countless Deities backed up by the presence of Super Deities, Xyperia declared a policy of demonstrating their prowess to the rest of the world.

By forcing everyone into submission with raw power, they wanted to show the world how many Deities they had and how powerful their Deities were.

The plan was to be executed within the week with further details on the exact timing to come.

Given how powerful Idrae made Xyperia, their status within the nation increased accordingly, allowing them to act with significant authority.

Not only could they gather Xyperia's Deities at will, but they also had the authority to deploy Super Deities.

Moreover, Idrae enjoyed a close personal relationship with Super Deities due to the fact that they had personally groomed the latter.

Considering how powerful Idrae had become, Hydron's ability to seek revenge was as good as none.

After producing the Deities, Idrae didn't rest on their laurels. Instead, they began to upgrade themselves immediately.

Home Sweet Home

At that moment, the seven decision-makers were not worried about Levi reneging on this part of the bargain, for they had successfully cheated him.

Instead, they were more concerned about dealing with the resources once they arrived.

After all, there was no way they could finish distributing them among their men.

On top of that, such a huge amount of resources lying idle would definitely attract prying eyes.

Since they could lose the resources just as easily as they had gotten them, it was imperative they come up with a plan to manage them.

Therefore, they intended to hide the resources all around the world once they have received them.

Furthermore, they had not only made arrangements for the secret conduits and locations involved but also readied the vehicles required for transportation.

Dramatic Acting

Subsequently, many others, including the five that invited Levi, declared the factions that they had recruited for the alliance.

In fact, they even presented their reports with comprehensive details.

Finally, Agent 1 remarked, "Mr. Garrison, despite how strong Erudia is, we have yet to speak to them about joining our alliance. Can we rely on you to convince them? After all, you're familiar with Erudia's Heavenly League."

Agent 2 glanced at both of them. "I don't know what the situation is with Zarain, but we will definitely get them to ally with us."

Agent 1 added, "On top of that, we have decided to work on dissolving the Elterton Union. That way, Xyperia will have to stand alone against the wrath of the entire world!"

"Mmm-hmm, moreover, we also have plans to strike at the heart of Xyperia, throwing their nation into chaos. By doing so, Hydron's chances of success would increase exponentially!"

Their acting skills are amazing!

Curiosity Kills The Cat

With the withered tree branch on his back, Dr. Erebus looked as if he was carrying a legendary weapon. Moreover, the weapon was going to be used in all its glory to kill everyone present.

Holding that thought, Dr. Erebus felt particularly floaty, as if he was an angel who had come to judge them.

When he saw the curious expression of those from Hydron, he couldn't help but feel amused.

Are you really curious? Don't forget, curiosity killed the cat! Whoever sees it later will be faced with death! Hahaha!

After disembarking from the aircraft, Levi scanned his surroundings.

"Not bad. This looks really good. I didn't think a bunch of rabbles who gathered here from all over the world could be whipped into shape by you guys," Levi praised them sincerely.

Hydron had developed itself by declaring that they were seeking revenge upon Idrae.

Thus, the speedy progress they made was indeed impressive.

Let Me Show You A Treasure

All of them were being overwhelmed by anxiety, for their charade could not be considered successful until they were in possession of the resources.

Grinning, Levi looked at the crowd and asked, "Why do you look so worried? With so many resources available, there's no reason to hurry."

No sooner had the words left Levi's mouth than everyone panicked as they began to speculate if Levi was suspicious of their ruse.

Or perhaps, he was beginning to worry.

Even though he might have believed their words, he would definitely be extra careful when handing over the resources.

At the very least, he would like to see how the organization functioned and if it was true to its goal of seeking revenge upon Idrae.

Only by verifying with his own eyes would he be willing to hand over the resources.

It wasn't a matter of whether he believed them or not, it was just a testament to how experienced he was.

At that moment, such thoughts were flashing through the decision-makers' minds, for they had concluded that Levi was thinking along those lines.

He had wanted to make sure they were legit before deciding on giving them the resources.

The Familiar Wooden Box

"The resources are worthless compared to the treasure?"

Levi had barely finished when the men's eyes gleamed with greed.

Did Levi bring a divine tool?

In the blink of an eye, they were no longer fixated on the resources, for Levi had brought something that he regarded as a valuable treasure.

Given Levi's exposure and his endless supply of resources, only something impressive could cause him to see it that way, which is a really rare occurrence!

With their curiosity piqued, everyone put the resources at the back of their mind.

Unable to hold back his suspense, Agent 1 couldn't resist asking, "Mr. Garrison, where is this so-called treasure of yours?"

“That’s right! What is it? It sounds really mysterious.”

“For something to have caught your eye, I’m sure it’s really extraordinary.”

“Mr. Garrison, now that you have our interest aroused, you should show it to us quickly!”

Everyone else expressed the same level of intense curiosity.

The Withered Tree Branch

Even though the majority of them didn't recognize the wooden box, some of them were still aware of what it was.

After all, the box had originated from their hands.

As a result, they found it familiar when they saw it but couldn't recall its origins.

"I feel like I have seen the box before," Agent 23 and Agent 29 mumbled together.

As for the other three who had invited Levi previously, they too felt the same way.

How could they not, for they were the ones that bought the box in the first place.

They just couldn't recognize it given how suddenly it was unveiled.

"The box looks really familiar!"

Even the seven decision-makers found it familiar although no one could recall why.

As for the ones who actually sent it to Levi, they were standing at the back and could barely see anything.

If they had stood a little closer, they would have instantly recognized the box.

Despite the box's exquisite design, it didn't look out of the ordinary for everyone else.

The Joke Of The Ten Millenium Snow Lotus

The noise subsided almost instantaneously as the crowd held their breath in stunned silence.

The appearance of the tree branch rooted them to the spot in fear as if a gust of freezing gale rushed up from beneath their feet and enveloped them in a block of frost.

What a shocking turn of events.

They were awaiting the treasure but nobody expected that to be it.

It was an outcome none of them expected.

Like A Sword

Though the day was bright and sunny, it felt to the crowd as if the sky had turned an ashen gray.

Their minds went paralyzed with shock. As a dull hum filled their ears, hallucinations of complete annihilation were conjured before their eyes.

What a frightening thought! How could that be? Hasn't that been thrown away? How does he still have it? Does that mean he has found out about the Ten Millenium Snow Lotus deception?

The crowd became even more horrified at that thought as they emitted a collective gasp.

Impossible! We were so careful! Though we all did play a role by voicing our enthusiasm for participating in the deception, Agent 3 was the one to have orchestrated it. He has always been a careful man and would not have left any clues behind. Even the people who investigated in his wake yielded nothing. How could Levi remain calm if he knew the truth? Besides, if he really is already aware, would it make sense to lie to him again? The resources were transported by us which makes it impossible that he could have known!

As the crowd had already declared their support for Levi to face Hydron, they were struck with horror at the proof that lay before them.
