Chapter 3151

Guess Who

The longer I stare at it, the more I'm sure of my answer.

The part that Levi is grasping is the hilt. Above it is the blade. The whole thing resembles a sword.

Levi's eyes glinted with satisfaction.

"That's the answer I'm looking for!"

The crowd was stunned.

What does he mean by that?

The crowd gazed breathlessly at Levi and awaited his verdict.

Agent 1 and the rest stood quivering with fear, not daring to enquire further as they listened meekly to Levi.

He waved the branch around in amusement. "That was what I thought too when I first laid eyes on it. The shape struck me so much that I kept the branch with me."

Stop Pretending

Dr. Erebus tried his best to refrain from bursting into laughter..

You fools! The price of the resources has been paid by your blood! If we bring you more resources, you won't have enough lives to spare.

Agent 1 smiled at Levi's words as if arriving at a conclusion.

"What do you mean then, Mr. Garrison?" a voice in the crowd asked.

Levi brandished the withered branch. "Don't you know where this came from? Somebody has attempted to cheat me of my resources with the Ten Millenium Snow Lotus! After the resources had been delivered, the Lotus remained to be found. Instead, they left me with this miserable branch."

"What! The cheek!"

Let Me Refresh Your Memory

None of us expected this! He just goes around killing whenever he wants!

Even Dr. Erebus was stunned.

I knew that Levi was going to act, I just didn't know when! It was so sudden. I had expected him to act later rather than sooner.

Initially frozen with fear at the grotesque spectacle before them, the spray of fresh, hot blood upon their faces started them out of their reverie.

Levi has stabbed Agent 3 with the withered branch! How is that possible?

However, the hot liquid rolling down their faces and the metallic stench served as irrefutable proof against their denial.

Blood sprayed and frothed from Agent 3's wound as Levi extracted the branch from his victim's body, who gazed at the latter with stunned disbelief.

The look of shock on his face indicated that he did not expect Levi to act.

The dull thud of Agent 3's lifeless body falling onto the ground shook many within the crowd out of their horrified reverie.

In an instant, the intermingling voices of the crowd demanding an answer from Levi erupted from all sides.

Levi swept a glance through the crowd. "Still in denial, are you? I'll start killing you one by one until you confess to your sins!"

Agent 1 turned pale. "What is the meaning of this, Mr. Garrison?" he shouted in a panic. "You've killed two of ours. What do you want? Are we just punching bags to you?"

"Face the consequences of your lies, then!"

Without another word, Levi swung the withered branch high above his head like a sword and dove into the crowd.

With lightning speed, he dashed through the crowd and left a trail of bodies in his wake that toppled over long after he had passed them.

Levi felt the need to applaud at their bravado.

All of them are wicked, short-sighted creatures. Curiosity and greed kill. Even if they have used the resources, they have been exchanged with your lives. Now that you have the resources, your lives belong to me and I have come to collect my bounty. Whether or not it is fair or if you agree, my word is the law. The price to pay for lying to me in exchange for my resources is your life. Though you may feel you have got the better end of the bargain, it will be too late for regrets later when I claim your lives.

The advantage that they have perceived had been planned by Levi all along.

Though the resources were disposable to him, it was a great offense to take them from him via deceitful means.

The ease of obtaining the resources is my business, not yours. Since you have lied to me to gain them, then something is going to happen to you.

The crowd was at that point still drunk on giddy relief.

Unfortunately, they were disappointed as Levi's placid expression did not display the slightest hint of change.

He looked as if the things that were said about him did not pertain to him at all.

He couldn't even be triggered. What a shame!

The crowd was disappointed.

What terrific self control! He's tough for not even losing his composure after being told the truth!

It's as if Levi had known the truth the entire time. That's impossible!

The crowd who had been expecting Levi to lose his temper lost their temper.

"Enough," called Levi as his laughter subsided. "There's no need to keep up your act anymore."

"Do you really think we are not aware of the death of the seven thousand? They were a group of insurgents hell-bent on revenge led by Agent 8! However, they were not killed by Idrae, were they? They were killed by you!

"Don't think that I wouldn't find out that Idrae had you slay Agent 8 and his seven thousand men as a test of loyalty!"

"H-how did you know?" Agent 1 stammered.

Turning pale, the crowd stopped laughing at once as they gazed at Levi in disbelief.

We wouldn't be as shocked as this if it was something else he knew instead of this deep, dark secret.

How the hell did he find out?

It was a closely guarded pact between us and Idrae. Nobody else knew. How could Levi know?

"That's because the resources are paid for by your life! By helping yourselves to my resources, you've consented to giving your life in exchange. Now I have come to claim what is mine!"

The crowd grew berserk at the threat on their lives.

Every one of them shuddered involuntarily as the icy fingers of death wrapped themselves preemptively around their throats.

There is a price to pay after all! Our lives!

The expression of despair that they longed to see on Levi's face was now plastered all over theirs.

"Well done for toying with us, Levi. So what? Your daughter is still no closer to being cured! When Idrae descends upon us, don't even dream of a recovery!"

The crowd, driven mad with fear and rage, hurled the words at him in an attempt to regain a shred of dignity.

"Is that so? Let me give you some devastating news."

Turning to the side, he called, "Forlevia, get out here!"

Forlevia emerged behind them from the aircraft.

Kill All Of You

Levi frowned and asked.

Dr. Erebus and the rest followed suit. "Indeed! More than a thousand Deities? Do you really think that's a lot?"

Back then, before the spiritual energy revival, only Xyperia had more than a thousand Deities.

At the same time, Erudia had no Deity at all.

Hence, the statement of a thousand Deities was quite a mind-numbing number.

Deities

had plenty of Deities, and Xyperia had even

Besides, Keerea's thousand-plus Deities were even equipped with Deity-level equipment. Their combat prowess was equivalent to over three thousand Deities. Didn't Levi kill all of them with ease? A thousand Deities are utter peanuts for Levi! Even if their organization has over ten thousand deities, they're still no match for Levi! In Levi's eyes, a thousand Deities are nothing but a joke! Chapter 3160

Levi On A Killing Spree

Upon hearing what Levi said, they started laughing aloud. Kill us? Does he think so highly of himself? Levi only managed to ambush Agent 2 and Agent 3 because they weren't prepared. Now, not only are we prepared for battle, but we also have over a thousand Deities alongside us! What can Levi do against us?

"Well, you can try killing one of us..." Before Agent 23 could even finish his sentence, Levi had already shown up in front of him.

They had no idea someone could even move around at that speed!

It was as if Levi was teleporting to wherever he wished and defying the concept of time as he was doing it.

None of them had the chance to react.

With the tree branch in his hand, Levi slashed through Agent 23's throat mercilessly.

Just like that, the bloody tree branch shot out of Agent 23's throat.

Everything was happening at an unbelievable speed. It was too fast for everyone else to comprehend the situation.

In fact, Agent 23's throat was still moving at that time because he was just about to finish his sentence when he got slashed. However, not a single word was heard coming out of his mouth.

He had died instantly.

Not only that, he still had that contemptuous expression on his face because he deeply believed Levi could do nothing against them.

Little did they know, but that was only the beginning.
