Let Me Finish

Despite Agent 1's words, Levi didn't stop massacring. He simply answered, "Let me finish killing all these people first, then we talk."

He then continued killing.

Soon, another hundreds of Deities had fallen.

None of them was capable of fighting back. The only outcome for them was death.

After taking another breath, Levi had assassinated all the Deities present.

Except for Agent 1 and the five decision-makers, all the one thousand six hundred Deities had fallen.

Not even a single of them was spared.

Levi purposely killed all the Deities before turning toward Agent 1 and the others, and he asked, "What did you want to talk to me about?"

Everyone was rendered speechless. We wanted to tell you to stop killing. What is there to talk about now that you've already killed all of them? What is this? What is this combat prowess of yours? Not even one of the one thousand six hundred Deities was capable of fighting back! Is he even human?

Killing Each Other

Agent 1, his men, and the rest were starting to get extremely worried.

Hence, they started coming up with ideas to get themselves free.

Quickly sent a signal for help! Get Idrae and Xyperia here! Agent 1 and four of his men exchanged glances and communicated through their eyes.

At the same time, Agent 1 decided to calm Levi down. "This is just a misunderstanding, Mr. Garrison! We were left with no choice! If we didn't comply, Idrae and Xyperia were going to end our lives!"

Agent 1 started to give Levi all sorts of excuses.

As for the rest, they tried to send out a signal for help.

Unfortunately for them, Levi didn't give them the chance to do so. He looked at them and shouted, "I'll give everyone a chance to live! For those who want to take revenge on Idrae, kill five of them at once! I'll spare those who come out alive. Otherwise, all of you are going to die! You can try to run away if you want to, but trust me, I'll never let that happen."

Everyone was stunned to hear Levi say that.

None of them expected Levi to use Idrae's method of forcing them to turn against each other.

When Agent 1 tried to calm everyone down, the men had already started to turn against each other.

So What If I Lied

Agent 1 and his men started sweating profusely upon hearing those words.

In an instant, they were trembling in fear.

Everyone was having a bad feeling about the situation they were in.

Their bodies shuddered unwittingly as chills traveled down their spines. Just now we didn't think things through due to the dire situation and fought them!

Upon giving it some thought, a terrifying realization had dawned upon them. However, it's not like we could've said no to his terms! It's not like we could've fought against Levi! We were no match for him!

Indeed, if they refused to fight their companions in the first place, Levi would've killed them himself.

At that moment, Levi even turned around and asked Dr. Erebus and the others, "Did I? Did I say I was going to spare their lives?"

"I don't think so. I didn't hear anything of such!" Dr. Erebus answered.

"Master Garrison, the wind was too strong just now. I couldn't hear a thing you said!" Troy replied.

"Exactly! Since it was so noisy just now, I couldn't hear anything! How did you guys manage to hear that?" Bruno asked Agent 1 and his men.

Bend The Knee

Levi flashed a smile upon seeing that.

He then slightly shook the tree branch in his right hand. Instantly, the tree branch broke into five pieces and floated into the air.

"Kill!" With a flick of his finger, the pieces of tree branch shot out in five different directions.

The five of them unleashed their last ounces of strength and instantly reached the edge of the island.

At that moment, they finally saw the ray of hope of getting out alive.

The Strength Of An Ant

They just wanted to force Levi into a dead-end and end his bluffing antics.

Hence, they gave him two options. One was to battle Xyperia, and the other was to become the butt of a joke.

By now, Xyperia's strength had reached its peak, and they were capable of defeating anyone.

In other words, they could do whatever they pleased.

They could kill anyone they wanted to.

In their minds, there was no one in the world capable of stopping them.

Even Levi, they were confident they could kill him.

However, that wasn't what they wanted. They intended to spice things up a bit.

From their perspective, they felt as though their enemies were as puny as an ant.

An Important Decision For Xyperia

At present, almost no one was bothered by what overwhelming abilities that insect might possess, for they were the gods and masters of this world.

That was not simply a matter of personal opinion, but a view that was widely accepted all over as well.

They could scarcely fathom what Levi would be able to do against them, and such was the self-assuredness they had as a leading superpower.

By nightfall, Idrae had completed its organizational restructuring.

As far they were concerned, it was too easy to forge a Deity, and everyone was already one within the group itself.

Of course, all the members within the organization had undergone a rigorous selection process and were highly competent in all aspects.

The spiritual bone of each and every one of them were of the finest, hence they could more easily become Deities.

Next up, they were even going to attempt the Super Deity project as, after all, only self-evolution was true strength.

Certainly, none would be able to surpass the present-day Xyperia itself no matter how strong one became, but through Xyperia, they could become absolute and would be able to attain whatever their hearts desire!

They would do a headcount of all of the Deities in Xyperia and the Elterton Union on the highlands of Elterton and show the rest of the world their trump card without inhibition.

Their Deity set equipment and even Super Deities were also to be put out on full display.

This time, Xyperia would be withholding nothing.

They had no fear of revealing the ace up their sleeves because they knew that even if the entire world knew what they had in hand, there was nothing that anyone would be able to do about it.

What have you got to stand against such overwhelming prowess?

The shock factor was the first strategic move they were making against the rest of the world, and then, they would go on to dominate them all, one after the other!

The Spiritual Bone Of Legend

The numbers of those who harbored that notion had only increased since, and all of them were racking their brains, trying to figure out how and when to act on it.

Azure Dragon and the others remained completely in the dark about their counterpart's devious schemes and were even more oblivious about the possibility of transplanting spiritual bones.

As these visitors appeared to harbor no ill will, they were happy to entertain approaches to have tests conducted for their spiritual bones and thought it only a good thing for everyone to collectivize their understanding of the subject matter.

On the day, they even met a couple of would-be testers who claimed to be from the Ecclesiastic Order itself.

The earlier batches of visitors seemed pretty normal, but the last group that arrived after dark decked out in black and tightly veiled were quite deliberate about not revealing their own identities.

Like ghosts, they appeared suddenly and then vanished just as quickly afterward without a trace.

That roused Azure Dragon's concerns, for he knew exactly how the others came and left, but he did not even notice when that group arrived and how they managed to vanish right under his nose.

Not The Limits Of My Power

So, their primary target had been Forlevia all along!

It would seem that their desperation for destructive prowess had led them to seek out the spiritual bones of the legendary class, which in turn, led them to set their sights on her.

However, it would seem that Azure Dragon and the rest's recent displays had them turning their attention onto them instead.

Azure Dragon and the others had doubtlessly taken a bullet for Forlevia there.

Of course, without the Azure Dragon quintet, that bunch would never have succeeded if they tried to take a go at Forlevia directly, for Levi had been extremely watchful over the girl after receiving Sonja's warning.

With that, Levi's expression changed.

Like a divine being, his aura shot skyward into the stratosphere, as though to envelop the heavens and hells within!

Everyone's breath immediately quickened, and their hearts were placed under so much pressure that they felt almost like they were going to explode.

The pressure from Levi's surge was so intense, that in his presence, they were seemingly reduced to specks of dust in his galaxy of stars.

Be it Zoey or the Azure Dragon quintet, the recently and wildly hyped members of the Heavenly League, all of them felt small before Levi because their prowess did indeed pale in comparison to his!

Dr. Erebus and the others were quite curious pertaining to Levi's true strength as well.

How strong is he, exactly?

All of them hoped that the showdown with Xyperia tomorrow would be able to draw out Levi's best!
